CONSTITUTION

The messengers from missionary societies, churches, and other religious bodies of the Baptist denomination in various parts of the United States, met in Augusta, Georgia, for the purpose of carrying into effect the benevolent intention of our constituents by organizing a plan for eliciting, combining, and directing the energies of the denomination for the propagation of the gospel, adopted rules and fundamental principles which, as amended from time to time, are as follows:

Article I. This body shall be styled the "Southern Baptist Convention."

Art. II. It shall be the design of the Convention to promote foreign and domestic missions, and other important objects connected with the Redeemer's Kingdom, and to combine for this purpose such portions of the Baptist denomination in the United States as may desire a general organization for Christian benevolence, which shall fully respect the independence and equal rights of the churches.

Art. III. The Convention shall consist (1) of messengers who contribute funds, or are elected by Baptist bodies contributing funds for the regular work of the Convention, on the basis of one messenger for every $250 actually paid into the treasuries of the Boards during the fiscal year ending the thirtieth day of April next preceding the meeting of the Convention; (2) of one representative from each of the District Associations which co-operate with this Convention, provided that such representative be formally elected at the annual meeting of his District Association, and the election certified to the Secretaries of the Convention, either in writing or by copy of the printed minutes.

Art. IV. The officers of this Convention shall be a President, four Vice-Presidents, and two Secretaries, who shall be elected at each annual meeting, and hold their offices until a new election; and the President of the Convention shall be, by virtue of his office, a member of the several Boards; and the Treasurer of the Executive Committee shall be, by virtue of his office, the Treasurer of this Convention.

Art. V. The Convention shall elect at each annual meeting as many Boards of Managers as, in its judgment, will be necessary for carrying out the benevolent objects it may determine to promote—all of which Boards may continue in office until a new election. Each of these Boards shall consist of eighteen members residing at or near the locality of the Board, and of one member for each State co-operating with the Convention. Seven members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Each Board shall elect a President, Recording Secretary, Treasurer, Auditor, Executive Secretary who may be named its Treasurer if deemed advisable, additional Secretaries and such other officers and employes as it may deem necessary for the efficient conduct of its work and business. The compensation of its officers and employes shall be fixed by each Board, but no salaried officer or employe of any Board may be a member thereof. To each Board shall be committed, during the recess of the Convention, the entire management of all the affairs relative to the objects with whose interests it shall be charged; all of which management shall be in strict accordance with the constitutional provisions adopted by this Convention, and such other instructions as may be given from time to time. Each Board shall be authorized to enact its own By-Laws, and to fill any vacancy occurring in its membership or in the office of Corresponding Secretary between the meetings of the Convention.

Art. VI. The duties of the Executive Secretary shall be in general terms such as recognized custom devolves upon executive officers of this kind, with such other duties as the Board may prescribe. The management of business shall be subject always to the authority and approval of the Board, with ultimate reference to the Convention itself.

Art. VII. The Treasurer of each Board shall faithfully account for all moneys received by him, keep a regular entry of all receipts and disbursements, and make report of them to the Convention whenever it shall be in session, and to his Board as often as required. He shall also, on entering upon the duties of his office, give competent security to the President of the Board for all the stocks and funds committed to his care. His books shall always be open to the inspection of members of the Board and of the Convention. He shall not pay out money from the Treasury except under such orders and safeguards as the Board may enact for the proper conduct of its financial affairs.

- Art. VIII. The Recording Secretaries of the several Boards shall keep a fair record of their proceedings, and of such other documents as may be committed to them for the purpose.
- Art. IX. All the officers of the Convention, all members of the Boards, missionaries and agents appointed by the Convention, or by any of its Boards, shall be members of regular churches co-operating with this Convention.
- Art. X. Missionaries appointed by any of the Boards of this Convention must, previous to their appointment, furnish evidence of genuine piety, fervent zeal in their Master's cause, and talents which fit them for the service for which they offer themselves.
- Art. XI. The bodies and individuals co-operating with this Convention shall have the right to specify the object or objects to which their contributions shall be applied. But when no such specification is made, the Convention will make the distribution at its own discretion.
- Art. XII. The Convention shall hold its meetings annually. A majority of the attending messengers shall not be necessary to make a quorum for the transaction of business. The Executive Committee of the Convention may call extra meetings if necessary, or change the time and place of meeting of the Convention when the Committee may deem it inexpedient to convene at the time and place appointed.
- Art. XIII. Any alterations which experience shall dictate may be made in these Articles by a vote of two-thirds of the members present when the vote is taken without regard to total enrollment at any annual meeting of the Convention, provided no amendment may be considered after the second day of the Convention.

BY-LAWS

In order to carry out the provisions of the Constitution, the following By-Laws are adopted for the government of the Convention:

- 1. It shall be the duty of the Secretaries of the Convention to be present at the place of meeting at least one day in advance of the annual sessions for the purpose of enrolling the members of the Convention who shall present themselves with proper evidence of their right to be enrolled; and this enrollment shall be recognized as constituting the Convention. The Secretaries are authorized to add the names of accredited messengers who arrive later than the opening day. In case of any question arising as to the rights of messengers to seats, a Committee on Credentials shall be raised to which all pertinent matters shall be referred, and report be made to the Convention. It shall be the duty of the Secretaries within thirty days after the annual meeting of the Convention to notify all members of standing committees of their appointment, and to inform chairmen of such committees of their appointment as chairmen. It shall also be the duty of the Secretaries to be present at the place of meeting of the Convention far enough in advance to aid the local committee in making suitable arrangements for the conduct of the business of the Convention. They shall see that committee rooms, places of exhibits, displaying charts and all other details shall be so provided for as to prevent disturbance of the Convention in its deliberations, and in general take such measures as experience shows to be requisite for the orderly and convenient dispatch of business.
- 2. The Rules of Order for the Convention shall be those laid down in Mell's "Manual of Parliamentary Practice," and Kerfoot's "Parliamentary Law," but in cases where these authorities differ, or for which they do not provide, the President shall exercise his discretion, subject to appeal to the Convention.
- 3. The President, Vice-Presidents, and Secretaries of the Convention shall be elected by ballot; provided, however, that when there is only one nomination for any office, the Secretary or any one designated for the purpose, if there be no objection, may be instructed to cast the ballot for the Convention.
- 4. Speeches in support of any brother's nomination for an office of the Convention shall be limited to one address of not more than five minutes in length, and one second of five minutes.

- 5. The Boards of the Convention shall be as follows: The Foreign Mission Board, located at Richmond, Va.; the Home Mission Board, at Atlanta, Ga.; the Sunday School Board, at Nashville, Tenn.; the Relief and Annuity Board, at Dallas, Texas; the Education Board, at Birmingham, Ala.
- 6. The Institutions of the Convention may be as follows: The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, located at Louisville, Ky.; the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, at Fort Worth, Texas; the Baptist Bible Institute, at New Orleans, La.; the American Baptist Theological Seminary, at Nashville, Tenn.; and the Hospital Commission.
- 7. The members of the Boards enumerated in Article 5 of the By-Laws and the Trustees or Boards of the Institutions enumerated in Article 6 of the By-Laws shall be named in the following manner: The President of the Convention, before the final adjournment, shall appoint a Committee on Boards composed of one member from each state and the District of Columbia, which Committee shall nominate at the next ensuing Convention (1) the general Boards in accordance with Article V of the Constitution, (2) the Trustees, Directors or Boards of the Institutions in accordance with their respective charters, and (3) the members of the Executive Committee as provided for in Article 11 of the By-Laws. The report of the Committee may be amended on the floor of the Convention by majority vote.
- 8. The Boards of the Convention are directed to form the closest possible connection with the State Boards, where such exists, in such a way as shall be mutually agreeable, and in other cases to secure such agency as each of the Boards may deem best, in both cases providing for the necessary expenses incurred.
- 9. The Secretaries of the Boards of the Convention are instructed to secure frequent distribution of information relating to their work by means of newspapers, tracts, leaflets and otherwise, as may be found expedient among our people.
- 10. The Standing Committees of the Convention shall be the following: (1) the Executive Committee; (2) on Baptist Brotherhood of the South; (3) on Order of Business; (4) on Social Service; (5) on W.M.U. Work Auxiliary to the Convention; and (6) on Place and Preacher.
- 11. The Executive Committee of the Convention shall consist of the President and Senior Secretary of the Convention, and one member from each cooperating state and the District of Columbia and nine members at large. Nine members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. TWENTY-THIRD ANNUAL REPORT OF THE BAPTIST BROTHERHOOD OF THE SOUTH, MAY 14, 1930

During the past year the Baptist Brotherhood of the South, through its two Secretaries, has sought to honor the church as the divine institution, to recognize the pastor and the deacon as the two officials definitely authorized in the New Testament, and has claimed that these two officials are primarily responsible for the success of the church. In harmony with this view, the Secretaries have encouraged church schools, insisting that the men, the women, and the young people should be engaged in the study of the vital interests of the Kingdom at the same time, in harmony with a unified policy and under the general direction of the pastor. The best results have been realized, however, when the men and the women have taken the study of Stewardship and Missions in separate classes. The study of the men should be directed by a consecrated and capable teacher of

Three Points of Weakness

The Brotherhood has noted three special points of weakness in the situation with Southern Baptists and has thought it wise to expend much of its energy in an effort to strengthen the situation at these points.

The Unenlisted

The first of these is the large number of unenlisted churches and members. We have considered this our greatest source of weakness. One state that has two thousand forty-one churches reports that one thousand five hundred eighty-six contributed nothing during the entire year to Missions, Christian Education, and Benevolences. In one Association of thirty-four churches, not a penny was reported for Missions in a period of five months.

Referring to the individual membership, Dr. Alldredge has recently reported that seventy per cent are unenlisted. Dr. Gambrell said a short while before his death that Southern Baptists were five hundred thousand strong and three million weak.

Budget out of Balance

The second point of weakness that needs special attention is the fact that the budget of Southern Baptists, in many cases, is out of balance in two respects: first, with the churches; second, with the states. In 1920 forty-three and one-tenth per cent of the total contributions of Southern Baptists went to the enterprises of the Co-operative Program; in 1928 this percentage had declined to eighteen and fifty-four hundredths per cent.

The Brotherhood is committed to the idea that if all the stronger states would adopt the fifty-fifty basis of division between state and south-wide interests and would strictly adhere to this policy, there would be more general and hearty co-operation on the part of the states and a larger manifestation of God's blessing on the activities of Southern Baptists. Dr. Alldredge calls attention to the striking fact that during the years that Southern Baptists gave most to Missions, Education, and Benevolences, they likewise had the largest number of baptisms.

Men not utilized in a large way

The third point of weakness is the fact that we have not yet learned to utilize the men of the churches in a large way. The Brotherhood recognizes that just here is the place it should expend its greatest strength, and regrets that it does not have an adequate force of consecrated and capable workers. It has sought to enlist not only the masses of Christian men, but has devoted special attention to those of large resources, recognizing that we have little hope of putting over big programs unless we can have the support of men who have business acumen, executive ability, and financial resources.

In dealing with these three points of weakness, the Brotherhood has used and recommended to the churches several agencies. The Secretaries have proceeded on the premise that the solution of the two problems, the enlistment of the masses and the adoption of a well-balanced budget, is realized only as the people become more spiritual and intelligent. A deep spiritual life instructed in the things of God always means an enlisted Christian.

The Association

In one Association visited, it was decided by unanimous vote that a well organized and vigorous effort would be made to conduct a school of Stewardship and Missions in every church, encourage and help each church to adopt a worthy budget, and then assist it in conducting a thorough Every Member Canvass. It was suggested that this whole proceeding be thoroughly saturated with prayer. The pastors, women, and active laymen all heartily committed themselves to this program. This work was installed in a short time after the Association adjourned. It would be difficult to suggest a better program of enlistment.

In North Carolina last September the two Brotherhood Secretaries, at the request of Secretary Maddry and in connection with some state workers, conducted an enlistment campaign of a week each in three Associations. While the weather conditions were unfavorable, especially for the rural churches, and the preparation was not thorough, yet the returns were very gratifying. The Conferences were conducted in central churches for a group of about six. In a recent report from the headquarters, it is found that these three Associations contributed to missions, education, and Benevolences during the seven months closing May 1, 1930, the sum of $4,951.69 more than for the same period the year before.

For the enlistment of the churches at large, the Brotherhood has found that the Association is the proper unit of organization and the leaders should see that a thoroughly matured plan of enlistment, including the spiritual element, is put on in every Association in the South. This has been found to be not only the most practical method of enlistment, but it will prove to be the best agency in leading the churches to adopt a well-balanced budget. Missionary teaching is the surest remedy for an abnormal budget.

Missionary Churches

In churches that have capable leadership and are considered missionary, there is need for enlistment work of an intensive order. In churches of this class, at least forty per cent of the membership give no support to Missions, and many of the contributors are far below the measure of their responsibility. Some need to give more and more need to give some. A school of Stewardship and Missions that magnifies spirituality has been found to be the best supplement to the preaching of the pastor in the matter of enlisting the full membership of such a church. In order to reach the largest number, spirited talks of five minutes, abounding in striking facts regarding Missions, should be made on Sunday morning by live speakers, among whom should be some consecrated business men.

At the close of a Stewardship and Missionary Conference, the church that was served, voted to increase its budget to the Co-operative Program for the coming year more than three-fold.

Banquets

Another agency that has been found very fruitful in strengthening the three weak points mentioned above, especially the enlistment of men, is the banquet. There is a fellowship and spirit engendered among a large company of men, when assembled around the table at an attractive banquet, that make them highly responsive to the stewardship and missionary appeal.

As a part of its preparation for the Every Member Canvass, a certain city church arranged for a banquet of its men only a few days prior to the Canvass. One hundred forty men gathered around the banquet table and each found a tithing card deposited at his plate. Quite a number, and some of them were men of large means, signed this tithing card. In this company of 140 were men of rank in business, professional, and official life, and the spirit of enthusiasm ran high. The budget adopted by this church in advance was $68,000, and the last report that reached the Brotherhood office indicated that about $85,000 had been guaranteed on their budget for 1930. The pastor expresses the opinion that this banquet had much to do with the success of their campaign.

Of the twenty-five banquets at which the two Secretaries have spoken during the year, in addition to the one just mentioned, reference is made to such an occasion in the First Baptist Church of Owensboro, Kentucky, with an attendance of one hundred nineteen men, all coming from this church; to a similar occasion in the Calvary Baptist Church of Washington City for the Baptist churches of the District of Columbia, with an attendance of three hundred fifteen men. Mr. Alton L. Miller of Boston, President of the Northern Baptist Convention, was one of the speakers at this banquet. While all these banquets were occasions of interest, reference is made to only two others. One of these was held in the First Baptist Church of Ada, Oklahoma, fifteen churches were represented and three hundred twenty-five men were in attendance. The other was in the First Church of Amarillo, Texas, when the men began the preparation for the Every-Member Canvass. This church adopted a fifty-fifty budget for 1930. The Canvass was a success. The check for Missions, Education and Benevolences is sent to headquarters each week.

Tithers

The Secretaries have thought it wise, in connection with the teaching of stewardship, to give the people opportunity to enroll as tithers. While no careful record was made of the number who committed themselves to this standard during the year, it is remembered that in one church the number of tithers was increased from fifty-seven to ninety-four, and in another from forty-two to one hundred forty. It is proper to state that this increase of tithers has afforded a solution of the financial problem in these churches.

Some of the most fruitful work done during the year has been the study classes conducted with deacons. Pastors report that their deacons have been transformed, by such a study, in their loyality and devotion to their church. Prominent among such classes were those conducted for the Baptist Churches of Knoxville, Tennessee; Owensboro, Kentucky; Miami, Florida, and Shreveport, Louisiana.

Certificates

While the General Secretary did not urge the men to qualify for the Brother-hood certificate, the records show that his office awarded four hundred twenty-five; the report from the states is not full, but seven State Secretaries report a total of two thousand eight ninety six awards given by them.

Recommendations

Your Committee would offer the following recommendations:

First, we would recommend an enlarged and more intensive work among the men. In harmony with this recommendation, the Executive Committee asks permission to employ three additional south-wide secretaries, the committee to be responsible for their salaries and expenses.

Second, your Committee would recommend that the churches give to the enterprises outside of the home community a larger share of the budget. Your Committee thinks that this would result in larger support for the local church, as well as for the outside enterprises.

There was conducted a Conference with a church during the year that decided to divide its enlarged budget equally between the current support of the church and the Co-operative Program, making provision for its educational building outside the budget. It is very significant that in the Every Member Canvass that followed, the church went far beyond its budget in good pledges to both current support and outside causes.

Third, your Committee would recommend that a thorough demonstration in the matter of enlistment be made in one or more Associations in each state. This calls for the fullest preparation, intelligent leadership, and a most hearty co-operation.

Fourth, we would recommend that the Convention authorize the Executive Committee to announce a Brotherhood Sunday at sometime during the spring, when so far as practicable, a capable and consecrated layman shall speak on that Sunday in every church.

Respectfully Submitted,

C. H. BAKER, Chairman, J. T. HENDERSON, Gen. Sec.

The report of the Committee on Survey of Educational and Sociological Problems was submitted by A. J. Barton, Georgia, and was adopted:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON SURVEY OF EDUCATIONAL AND SOCIOLOGICAL PROBLEMS

Your Committee, appointed under the resolution of Chas. H. Brough and charged with the task of making "A survey of our education, our sociological and financial problems and report back at the next convention," would respectfully submit the following report:

The resolution of Dr. Brough, calling for the creation of this Committee, has been carefully considered by your Committee. The resolution, the essence of which we have just quoted, is very comprehensive and, in the mind of your Committee, somewhat indefinite as to the exact task to be performed. After weighing the matter carefully, your Committee reached the conclusion that the task broadly outlined by the resolution would be so large in scope as to require the expenditure of a large sum of money and a great amount of time and effort.

In view of this fact and in view of the further fact that we already have so many sources of statistical information, including the reports of the Census Bureau of the United States and the reports of the Department of Survey, Statistics and Information regularly maintained by the Sunday School Board of this Convention, the Committee decided that the results to be accomplished by such survey as is called for by the resolution would hardly justify the expense, both of money, time and effort.

Therefore, the Committee has unanimously agreed to recommend to the Convention and does hereby recommend that the matter of Survey, Statistics and Information, covering all phases of work of our people be left to the Department of Survey, Statistics and Information maintained regularly by the Sunday School Board. Second, that the scope of the work of that department be enlarged from year to year as the financial resources at its command may justify and as the Sunday School Board within its discretion may think proper, so as to attain as far as possible the objective contemplated in the Brough resolution.

ARTHUR J. BARTON, Chairman, GASTON W. DUNCAN, S. P. BROOKS, E. HILTON JACKSON, E. P. ALLDREDGE.

- 46. C. P. Stealey, Oklahoma, offered a resolution concerning the remuneration of the employes of Convention agencies and it was referred to the Committee on Resolutions.
- 47. T. V. Neal, Texas, offered a resolution in regard to the payment of debts on our Mission Boards and it was referred to the Committee on Resolutions.
- 48. The Convention adjourned with prayer led by W. L. Ball, South Carolina.

THURSDAY—Evening Session

- 49. The Convention met at 7 P.M., the president in the chair, and devotional exercises were conducted by John R. Sampey, Kentucky.
- 50. The Report on W.M.U. Work was presented by Louie D. Newton, Georgia, and was adopted, as follows, after discussion by

Louie D. Newton, Georgia, and, at the request of the chair, by the corresponding secretary, Miss Kathleen Mallory, Alabama, who introduced to the Convention the general and state officers of the Woman's Missionary Union:

REPORT OF W.M.U. COMMITTEE

Whitfield and Wesley preached for sometime before the Evangelical Revival in England broke out. Wesley tells us in his Journal how the revival came:

"About three in the mornnig, as we were continuing instant in prayer, the power of God came mightily upon us, insomuch that we cried out for exceeding joy and many fell to the ground. As soon as we had recovered a little from that awe and amazement at the presence of his Majesty, we broke out in one voice—'We praise thee, O God, we acknowledge thee to be the Lord.'"

Meager results had attended the preaching of Whitfield and Wesley prior to that Watchnight Service, but after that epochal night amazing success crowded upon them. They could move England and New England now because they acknowledged the Lordship of Jesus.

In bringing to the Convention the forty-first annual report of the Woman's Missionary Union, your committee feels that the report testifies the unmistakable discipleship of our noble women in recognizing the Lordship of Jesus, and reliance upon the Holy Spirit through unceasing prayer for guidance and power in their blessed work. Their leadership in the grace of giving cannot be explained otherwise. Their effectiveness and soul-winning cannot be explained otherwise. Their genius for co-operation cannot be explained otherwise. They have "been early on the first day of the week" seeking Jesus, and they have found him. They have heard his voice—the voice of the risen, reigning Lord, and they have followed in his train.

The results for the past year are most heartening, particularly when it is recalled that last year was their ruby anniversary, with special appeals for gifts. A summary of the year's record follows:

ANNUAL REPORT OF WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION TO SOUTHERN BAPTIST CONVENTION

Covering Calendar Year of 1929

Nineteenth Centennial of Pentecost.—Prominent indeed is Pentecost in Christian thinking this spring, since it is the nineteenth centennial of the outpouring of the Holy Spirit as recorded in the second chapter of Acts. It will be recalled that in the eighth verse of the first chapter Jesus had anticipated this enduement of divine power, significantly linking it with the challenging commission: "Ye shall be My Witnesses both in—and unto!" Since both the Southern Baptist Convention and its auxiliary, Woman's Missionary Union, in their constitutions give the promotion of missions as their primary reason for existence, there is felt "the fellowship of the spirit" in rendering to the Convention the Union's report covering the calendar year of 1929. In so doing, the effort is made to emphasize the power of the Holy Spirit as manifested through prayer, study, personal service, missionary education of the young people, stewardship—these five channels for infilling and outpouring being the chief aims of Woman's Missionary Union.

"Praying at All Seasons in the Spirit."—Jesus made it clear to the woman of Samaria that "God is a Spirit and they that worship him must worship in spirit and truth." Paul explains to the Romans and Ephesians that this worship is made acceptable to God through the intercession of the Holy Spirit. Believing this and longing to "be strengthened with power through his Spirit," Woman's Missionary Union places prayer—individual and united—as the first of its five chief aims. Woven into its general constitution is prayer, a similar policy being recommended for each organization from the state Unions on through to the local society, none of which can be standard without devotional services at their regular meetings or if they fail to observe the three seasons of prayer, it being remembered that Paul encouraged the Ephesians to continue "with all prayer and supplication, praying at all seasons in the Spirit and watching thereunto in all perseverance and supplication for all the saints." It is gratifying that nearly one-fifth of the W.M.U. organizations among the young people and women observed one or more days of each of the seasons of prayer—in March for home missions, in the fall for state missions and in December for foreign missions. Gratifying? Yes, but challenging also with the thought of nearly four-fifths of the W.M.U. organizations thus failing to "receive the promise of the Spirit through faith." The call to prayer is also daily made through the W.M.U. "Calendar of Prayer," and the "Family Altar Page," in the Union's magazine, "Royal Service," which likewise carries a department entitled "Pray Ye."

"The Holy Spirit Shall Teach."—These words and the exhortation "pray ye" are doubly revered as coming from Jesus Christ. He also told his disciples that the Holy Spirit would bring to their remembrance all the things that he had said unto them. One of these sayings which John "being moved by the Holy Spirit" graphically remembered was: "Lift up your eyes and look on the fields!" That they "grieve not the Holy Spirit of God," W.M.U. young people and women are urged to study individually, in classes, in their societies and in Church Schools of Missions the wondrous story of the fields "white already unto harvest." Thus it came to pass that in 1929 there were held 7,399 mission study classes with W.M.U. young people and 15,236 with the women. Paul uses the expression "sealed with the Holy Spirit of promise"—reverently is the hope expressed that the more than 133,500 seals awarded to these students of missions will convince each of them "that on the Gentiles also was poured out the gift of the Holy Spirit" and that the "vision" will convince them even as Peter's did in the well known story: "While Peter thought on the vision, the Spirit said unto him, Behold!—Arise!—Go!"

"By the Spirit-Walk." As clear as crystal is the Scripture lesson that the early Christians were "filled with the Holy Spirit," not only "having all things in common" but also bearing the fruit of the Spirit through kindness and goodness one to another. In addition to this charity, there was obedient remembrance of Jesus' words to Nicodemus: "Except one be born of water and the Spirit he cannot enter into the Kingdom of God." Believing this, they were ardent soul-winners, as for example: "The Spirit said unto Philip, Go near and join thyself to this chariot," whereupon the story says that "Philip ran!" Certainly Woman's Missionary Union craves for each of its members that they hasten to win souls. To this end W.M.U. organizations are urged to stress individual and directed personal service, that by "all means they might win some." The past year's record shows 5,543 conversions resulting from personal service. Humanly speaking, these resulted chiefly because there were 8,852 W.M.U. organizations among the women and young people that were engaged in organized personal service, while over fourteen hundred more reported some personal service—some "love in the Spirit." The combined report shows, among many other devoted deeds, that 667 societies conducted or helped with Good Will Centers, that 435 worked in mission Sunday schools, 1,851 in cottage prayer-meetings, 374 in rescue work, 543 in Daily Vacation Bible Schools, 665 for Negroes, 1,454 in holding religious services, 8,487 in giving food, 2,275 in distributing Bibles and 5,509 in passing on other good literature. When one realizes that this represents the local mission work of less than one-third of the Union's organizations, there comes the urge to emphasize as never before the enlistment feature of personal service so that each member and every organization will hearken to Paul when he cried out to the Galatians: "If we live by the Spirit, by the Spirit let us also walk," remembering even as he told the Romans: "They that are after the Spirit (mind) the thin

"Guard through the Holy Spirit."—Literature as well as Christianity is enriched by Paul's constructive interest in Timothy, one of the most convincing evidences being his acknowledgment of the young man's indebtedness to the religious training in his home, urging him in such words as: "That good thing which was committed unto thee guard through the Holy Spirit." Will Woman's Missionary Union prove as faithful in its guardianship of the missionary education of the young people in Southern Baptist churches? Certainly during the past year much faithful fostering, much missionary instruction were given, the results in part being: 2,245 new missionary organizations among the young people in a total of 18,670 societies for them, in which there are 217,157 members. The work for and with them seems all the more "in demonstration of the Spirit and of power" that among the 24,010 Southern Baptist Convention churches one in nearly every 8 maintains a Full Graded W.M.U., by which is meant, at the minimum, five organizations as follows: Sunbeam Band for little children between three and nine years of age; Royal Ambassador Chapter for boys (either Junior, 9 to 13 years; Intermediate, 13 to 17 years; or both); Girls' Auxiliary (either Junior, 9 to 13 years; Intermediate, 13 to 17 years; or both); Girls' Auxiliary (either Junior, 9 to 13 years; Intermediate, 13 to 17 years; or both); Soung Woman's Auxiliary, 17 to 25 years, and Woman's Missionary Society. Even more heartening is the fact that of these 1,814 "missionary minded churches" there were in 1929 nearly 10 per cent which were A-1 so far as the Standard of Excellence for each of the constituent organizations was concerned. In these 161 A-1 churches there are over 100 which have been thus training their young people for more than just the one year, the record showing that 39 of them have been A-1 for two years, 31 for 3 years, 20 for 4, while a goodly dozen have been thus actively enlisted for five full years. "Having begun in the Spirit," may they and hundreds of the ot

"The Spirit of Grace."—Buoyed will one also be who believes with Paul that "the Spirit himself beareth witness with our spirit that we are children of God and, if children, then heirs: heirs of God and joint heirs with Christ." However, there is a proviso to this inheritance, the condition being: "If so be that we suffer with him." Therefore, and for countless other reasons, Woman's Missionary Union makes no apology for urging its members to "seek first the Kingdom of God, to lay up treasures in Heaven, to remember that it is required of a steward that he be found faithful, that repeatedly the Bible says that the tenth shall be holy unto Jehovah, that the year's watchword—Be ye steadfast—is linked with the general watchword—Laborers together with God—and that it has as its climax the priceless promise: Forasmuch as ye know that your labor is not vain in the Lord." Little marvel is it, therefore, that in spite of the financial depression of the past year the cash contributions of Woman's of the financial depression of the past year the cash contributions of Woman's Missionary Union amounted to $2,587,575.72. Undoubtedly a large share of this achievement is due to the fact that one in about every 14 members in W.M.U. young people's organizations is a tither and that one in nearly every five W.M.S members has formed the habit of tithing. But remembering that "God giveth not the Spirit by measure" and that the coming of Christ was made possible because "God so loved that he gave," and also realizing that "the love of God hath been shed abroad in our hearts through the Holy Spirit which was given unto us," there have undoubtedly been many free-will offerings by W.M.U. young people and women. The outstanding opportunities for such offerings—and perhaps of tithes here and there—are the three seasons of prayer for state, home and foreign missions. While this report is supposed to cover only the calendar year of 1929 it would seem almost ungrateful not to record the fact that during this past March Week of Prayer for Home Missions the Thank Offering went beyond the $50,000 goal and that by the 18th of April the Foreign Mission Board had received from the last Lottie Moon Christmas Offering for Foreign Missions $189,225, this last named offering making possible among other things the salaries of the forty missionaries whom the 1927 offering returned to their field and also the salaries and out gripe persons of offering returned to their fields and also the salaries and out-going passage of sixty other missionaries to be returned by the Board. The thrill of such thoughts is akin to that of the early Christians at Antioch who "determined to send relief -which also they did." However, the chronicle of the ingathering of that offering reveals the fact that it was not all smooth sailing—neither is it so in the Union's efforts thus to supplement the receipts of the State, Home and Foreign Mission Boards. The single budget system is to be viewed with alarm in so far as it would repress these over-and-above gifts and certainly any state or southwide financial plan is to be deplored which would make it hard or undesirable for these offerings to be so designated that they will unquestionably be kept separate from the current work of the Boards. Just in proportion as these financial plans or the urge of debt-depressed Boards overshadow the primary purpose of these offerings—namely, that they be over-and-above even as has been approved by the vote of the Southern Baptist Convention—in just that degree will the danger arise of robbing them of their real appeal to W.M.U. young people and women—an appeal which for 35 years has moved their hearts to "come and bring an offering" for home missions and for 42 years continuously to show through their Christmas Offering for Foreign Missions that they "through the Spirit by foith weit for the home of rights are read." they "through the Spirit by faith wait for the hope of righteousness."

"The Unity of the Spirit."—Some of the foregoing statements might be construed as out of keeping with "the bond of peace" but thus to infer is not warranted by facts. One of these is that the W.M.U. treasurer's report shows that the offerings so "earnestly contended for" in the foregoing statements really form a very small percentage of the Union's cash total. The report makes it clear that less than $300,000 in a total of over $2,500,000 was for these overand-above offerings, the great bulk being for the so-called current support of the various state and southwide causes. Facts also prove that in 1929 meticulous care was taken so that the expenses of the Union were kept within 3¾ per cent of the W.M.U. contributions during the previous year to the Southern Baptist Convention Boards. Another evidence of unity is the fact that the Union greatly assists in the education of the sons and daughters of the foreign missionaries and of the home missionaries residing outside of the United States. This assistance is made possible through the Margaret Fund, which for the present scholastic year has granted 71 full time and five partial boarding scholarships, the schools and colleges with remarkable unanimity granting the tuition scholarships. In the past fourteen years the Margaret Fund has aided 204 students, amounting to $162,572.31. It has interest-bearing investments to the amount of $57,159.54.

Less directly and yet eventually a great source of income to the denomination is the training by the Union of the young women in attendance upon the W.M.U. Training School in Louisville, Ky. The enrollment for this scholastic year was 130, of whom 84 were boarding students. Among these boarding students there were 6 graduate nurses, 29 college graduates and 41 who had attended college for at least one year. The graduating class numbered 50, of whom 16 were wives of students at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary—thus heeding Paul's warning, "Be not unequally yoked together." At the commencement, certificates were awarded to 48 first year students, the earnest hope being that they will return to complete the two-year course. When one contemplates the fact that practically no new missionaries are being sent out, the wonder grows that year after year the school has a similar record to the one given above and that each year the graduates and younger alumnae apply for service on the mission fields. This year found in the school 24 who are volunteers for foreign work and 17 for the home field. The school continues to place primary emphasis upon the training of missionaries but it also equips its students to serve as church secretaries, about 12 of its 1930 graduates being thus qualified. Pastors needing such secretaries are urged to write to the school.

"The Earnest of the Spirit."—The caption for this paragraph might as well have been previously used for other items, but it would seem fitting to consider under it the intensive effort which the Union makes along four missionary lines: (1) The promotion of Church Schools of Missions; (2) the editing of three mission magazines and the distribution of much literature on missions; among college girls and nurses in training, and (4) emphasis upon Standards of Excellence. Few things would be more gratifying to Woman's Missionary Union than to see the Southern Baptist Convention using its influence in the southwide promotion of Church Schools of Missions. During the past winter and spring the W.M.U. magazine, "Royal Service," was fortunate in securing excellent articles from well known pastors who had proved to themselves and their congregations the value of Church Schools of Missions. To these pastors and to the other men friends who contributed articles on the year's watchword the Union and its magazine give sincerest thanks. "Royal Service" has for years been self-supporting, though its subscription price for the twelve monthly issues is but 50 cents, only about "a half-pence" of which is profit. Of course such a close margin could not be observed except for the fact that the subscripsuch a close margin could not be observed except for the fact that the subscription list has for several years been above 70,000, the record for 1929 being 76,584 with a goal of 80,090 for this present calendar year. The other two magazines published by the Union are "World Comrades," for Royal Ambassadors, Girls' Auxiliaries and Sunbeam Bands, and "The Window," for Young Women's Auxiliaries the subscription list of these two magazines are the subscription list of these two magazines. Women's Auxiliaries, the subscription list of these two magazines at the close of 1929 being 15,398 and 5,400 respectively, which is highly encouraging especially when it is remembered that the latter is less than a year old and the former hardly eight years of age. The Union also regularly supplies material for one department in "Home and Foreign Fields," and lends its heartiest encouragement through articles and otherwise to the state denominational papers. addition to such publications, the Union continues to maintain on a strictly self-supporting basis its W.M.U. Literature Department, which is an acknowledged help to thousands of societies and individuals, especially in the conducting of their programs and in the quickening of missionary zeal. This department has also been able for several years to give tracts to Rev. Jacob Gartenhaus in his work among the Jews and also to mimeograph and mail letters which otherwise the over-worked women foreign missionaries might not have had the time or means to send to their ever-increasing list of correspondents. In addition to all this the Union distributed through the State W.M.U. offices 575,807 free leaflets, the prayer being that "through the Spirit the word of Wisdom" has been or may be shed abroad in many hearts in behalf of missions at home and abroad.

Certainly the Union's work among college girls and nurses in training is done in faith that thereby will be developed many W.M.U. leaders of the immediate future—thus, verily, such work is an "earnest of the Spirit." For its development "The Window of Y.W.A." carries programs, attendance upon the Southwide Y.W.A. Camp at Ridgecrest is urged and much teaching of mission study classes is made possible in the colleges by the southwide and state young people's secretaries.

Constantly do they and other W.M.U. leaders emphasize the Standards of Excellence, which the Union maintains for its graded system. For the W.M.S. and Y.W.A. organizations it is a Ten-Point Standard, there being 8 points for even the tiny Sunbeams. Nevertheless, during 1929 there were 2,521 organizations which reached at least four points on their respective standards; 2,613 which reached from five to six; 3,057 which attained from seven to eight, and 3,239 which were A-1. One of the most highly gratifying features of all the 1929 records is that in almost every nine W.M.U. organizations there is one which is A-1 and that almost every other one in each two organizations is on its respective Standard of Excellence.

"In the Power of the Holy Spirit."—In closing this report, there is a humbling consciousness of its inadequacy in many particulars but especially to express gratitude to God for his unfailing mercy and to the vast number of volunteer workers throughout the Union's closely correlated system. Surely in such a report and particularly in the work it seeks to promote, one needs to remember that "the Spirit searcheth all things" and that "the Heavenly Father will give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him." May "the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope, in the power of the Holy Spirit."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. W. J. COX, President, KATHLEEN MALLORY, Corresponding Secretary.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE SOUTHERN BAPTIST THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

The enrollment in the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary for the session of 1929-30 was 417, all of whom are students for the Christian ministry. Laymen and women are admitted to the classes, especially the wives of seminary students, but the Fundamental Articles of the Seminary authorize the matriculation of no person other than men who have the approval of their churches as students for the ministry. The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary was founded for the training of men called to preach the Gospel. Young men preparing to serve as pastors, missionaries and evangelists are regularly matriculated and after the completion of prescribed courses are graduated with appropriate degrees. The Seminary confers no honorary degrees; every degree must be earned by definite work in the Seminary and the successful passing of examinations. We are happy to report that during the session which has just closed 106 men obtained degrees, only fourteen of whom took the degree for which Hebrew and Greek are not required. Ninety-two of the graduates of 1929-30 go forth with a working knowledge of the languages in which the Scriptures were first written.

The Graduate School of the Seminary enrolled 104 men, many of whom hope to complete the work leading to the Ph.D. degree. We rejoice that the Seminary is equipping men to be scholarly pastors and missionaries. Some of the men studying in the Graduate School will be called to serve as teachers in Christian colleges and in theological seminaries, and it is gratifying that they can obtain their doctor's degree in an atmosphere favorable to evangelical thought and life.

The spiritual life of the Seminary during the past session was encouragingly high. The religious activities of the students in the city of Louisville were never more earnest and varied. They have carried the good news about Jesus into all parts of this great city. During the session of 1929-30, as a result of the evangelistic and personal work of the students in the Southern Seminary, 2,958 professions of faith were made, and 1,466 persons were baptized. Gifts of the students to the Co-operative Program and other objects amounted to $14,373.18. There were 2,232 who reconsecrated their lives to Christ. Harmony and good fellowship have prevailed in the faculty and student body.

The efficiency of the Seminary has been greatly promoted by removal from the noise and dust of crowded quarters in the heart of the city to the beautiful campus at "The Beeches." Persons who have heard of the beauty of the buildings and grounds, when once they stand on the campus and survey the scene, almost invariably join the Queen of Sheba in exclaiming that the half had not been told. The Board wishes to record its gratitude to God that he put it into the heart of our brotherhood to prepare such a beautiful and convenient home for young men studying for the ministry.

We would call the attention of the Convention to the importance of completing the building program by the erection of a chapel. We have instructed the treasurer of the Seminary to open an account for voluntary gifts for a new chapel, with the hope that persons of large means may turn favorably toward supplying this need of the Seminary.

We heartily approve the policy of the administration of the Seminary in applying all available resources to the reduction of the mortgage debt. During the financial year closing April 10, 1930, the amount of the indebtedness was reduced from $834,000 to $735,000. It is exceedingly important that the friends of the Seminary should pay all subscriptions for the Building Fund, in order that interest charges may not cripple the work of our beloved school. A liberal allocation from the Co-operative Program is necessary, if the agreement with the Trust Company to retire a hundred thousand dollars annually is kept. During the past two years we have lived up to this agreement.

We are grateful to God for the prosperity of the Seminary and for the warm place it holds in the confidence and love of Southern Baptists.

S. P. BROOKS, Vice-President. The report of the Treasurer is appended.

REPORT OF BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE SOUTHWESTERN BAPTIST THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

To the President and members of the Southern Baptist Convention assembled in New Orleans, Louisiana, we, the Board of Trustees of the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, beg to submit with gratitude to God the following report for the past year's work:

In many ways this has been a significant and meaningful year with our beloved institution.

1. Our Enrollment-

Resident Students
Total. 966 Duplicates 77
Net Enrollment	4

- 2. We are glad to report, as in former years, wonderful achievements by the faculty and students of the Seminary in all lines of practical Christian activity. Thousands of people have been led to Christ, into Baptist churches, many have surrendered their lives to the service of Christ, a great many training schools have been conducted, missionary programs in the churches put on, and large contributions have been made in the way of enlistment, spiritual impressions and soul winning in the churches. The whole force of the institution has gone full-length for the Cooperative Program and all the interests of our dear Redeemer's cause. Hundreds of thousands of dollars, by the efforts of the faculty and students, have been raised and put into the various channels of church and kingdom work.
 - 3. We will graduate from all the schools this year 70.
- 4. The President has gone again carefully over the entire work of the Seminary and, by reducing the force—administrative and teaching—and reducing salaries, has considerably cut down the expense of the Seminary for next year. This is necessitated by the financial situation all over the country.

- 5. We regret to report that because of the decrease in receipts from donations and other sources, we have been unable to reduce the debts of the Seminary from last year, but our report shows it has been increased $15,445.78. The administration of the Seminary has done its best to prevent this increase in indebtedness. There is an encouraging compensation in the fact that some of the Seminary's Endowment property has increased in value during the year, conservatively more than $50,000.00.
- 6. Last year our receipts from the Cooperative Program amounted to $59,-531.27. This year we have received $59,987.40, an increase of $456.13. Last year we received in donations from individuals and other sources of designated funds $48,924.58. This year from these sources we have received $40,472.86, a decrease of $8,451.73.
- 7. This year we have decreased the amount of our deficit on operating expenses to the amount of $4,294.
- 8. We note with pleasure the gift of Mrs. W. L. Williams to a scholarship endowment fund of a lot in Dallas, Texas, valued at $3,000.00 or above, and also an increase in the Student Loan Fund of $3,549, giving us now a Student Loan Fund of $15,754.
- 9. We report with great regret during the year the death of two of our trustees—Dr. W. P. Throgmorton of Illinois and Dr. R. B. Whiteside, of Missouri, both faithful and efficient members of our Board. The Board has recorded on its Minutes suitable resolutions regarding the lives of these noble Trustees, and we are asking the Convention to supply these two vacancies.
- 10. The debt of the Seminary is now $455,889.40. Some provision should speedily be made by the denomination to pay this indebtedness and relieve the institution of this heavy obligation with its interest account.
- 11. The Trustees report again the supreme necessity for a larger income to the Seminary from the Cooperative Program and from other sources of donations. It is impossible for the Seminary to do its best and most effective work without larger income. It is to be remembered that the Seminary has only about one-half million dollars endowment. It should have at least three million or more. It seems now that our only source of help in that direction is from some few whom God has blessed in large financial blessings to individually endow the institution. We ask the prayers and sympathetic cooperation of the Convention, that some of our constituency will see the value of endowing and permanently establishing this great school of the prophets. Such endowment would give the donors a partnership in one of the greatest kingdom enterprises in all the world and would cause them to share in the achievements of all of its students and faculty. The life and enlarged usefulness of the Seminary cannot be secure without such endowment. The Trustees gratefully express our gratitude to all the cooperative churches and individuals throughout the South who have believed this year in the work of this school. We were on the part of all of have helped this year in the work of this school. We urge on the part of all of our churches and leaders a larger cooperation with our Redeemer's program that this school and all the other causes of our denomination shall live and do their highest work.

The auditor's report on receipts and disbursements is attached to this report.

O. S. LATTIMORE, President of the Board of Trustees.

C. M. KING,

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE BAPTIST BIBLE INSTITUTE TO THE SOUTHERN BAPTIST CONVENTION FOR THE SCHOOL YEAR OF 1929-1930

The Baptist Bible Institute was founded when the Southern Baptist Convention met in New Orleans in 1917. The conviction which was expressed by a New Orleans business man in 1817 came to realization. After one hundred years of varied experiences, there were 1242 members of white Baptist churches in 1917. Last year the student pastors who were in school at the Baptist Bible Institute baptized 1242 into the fellowship of the churches which they served. Truly a new day has come to Baptist work in this wonderful city and in the great mission field of which it is the centre.

In 1917 we had here only six struggling churches, and there are now eighteen in the New Orleans Association, though many of these are weak missionary organizations founded and maintained by the faithful and sacrificial work of Bible Institute students. In addition to the eighteen churches there are many mission stations and preaching places, besides two Good Will Centers, and the Baptist Rescue Mission where services are held every night and where wonderful work is being done. Added to all this is our great Southern Baptist Hospital, for which we thank and praises God.

Of special interest is the work of the Practical Activities Department. Under its direction the students have met about five assignments each day, and there has been an average of one profession of faith for every service held. If these Christian workers had been paid the small salary of $25.00 per month they would have received more than $46,000. This amount per year for the thirteen years since 1917 would pay the present total debt of the Institute and leave more than $200,000 for endowment. The students have gladly done more free missionary work for Baptists in New Orleans alone than the total cost of the Institute buildings and grounds.

A great Louisiana layman living in Bogalusa says that the Bible Institute faculty and students have been an even greater blessing in the territory around the city than in New Orleans. Sixty-eight churches are being served, missionary journeys are conducted, hundreds are won to Christ, training schools are held, and the cause of our Lord is strengthened and advanced in every way.

We call attention to the unusually effective work which is being done among the French, Italian, Spanish and Jewish people of New Orleans and vicinity. We are deeply grateful that through the Acadia Academy and the Baptist Bible Institute there are such wonderful things taking place among the 500,000 French people in Evangeline Land, though there are still ten whole parishes within 125 miles of New Orleans in which we have not one Baptist church.

We are most happy to report that the Woman's Missionary Union Auxiliary to the Southern Baptist Convention have at this session contributed over five thousand dollars toward supporting or endowing in the Baptist Bible Institute "The Chair of Missions." This is in keeping with their missionary spirit and is an investment which will bring immediate and far-reaching and abiding returns in missionary results.

We believe that if God ever gave indications of his favor and placed opportunities before a great missionary people he has done so in the Baptist Bible Institute as a training school and as a missionary force. Increasingly there are evidences of the impression being made upon the city and the surrounding country. Surely God has placed this "child of providence and of prayer" in this pivotal position in order that he may give glorious evidences of his favor and ultimate victory to evangelical Christianity in this vast coast country, and that from New Orleans there may go messengers bearing the gospel message to the Americas south of us and to the ends of the earth.

The faculty at present is as follows: B. H. DeMent, J. E. Gwatkin, R. P. Mahon, E. O. Sellers, E. F. Haight, J. E. Dean, B. L. Davis, M. G. Beckwith, L. Bracey Campbell, Bessie Welch, A. E. Tibbs, and W. W. Hamilton.

Dr. L. G. Cleverdon in May resigned his position as Professor of Religious Education to enter the pastorate. Dr. W. E. Denham resigned in September as Professor of Old Testament Exposition, having accepted the call to the Euclid Church in St. Louis. Professor A. E. Tibbs and Professor B. Locke Davis began their work with the Institute in September.

The Tharp and the Layne lectures were both given this year during the Bible Conference and Home Coming Week, January 27-31. Mr. J. H. Anderson, Knoxville, Tennessee, and Dr. George W. Truett, Dallas, Texas, were the speakers, and in connection with these a School of Church Administration was conducted by Dr. P. E. Burroughs and Dr. Clay I. Hudson of our Baptist Sunday School Board. This week was one of the greatest contributions that the Bible Institute has made to Baptist life and history in this city.

The enrollment for the year is 236 with 154 of these from the four nearby states. This is twenty-six more than last year. The following states and foreign countries are represented: Alabama, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, West Virginia, Scotland, Argentina, Cuba, Hawaii, Ireland, Italy.

In keeping with the action of the Convention last year, authorizing and commending the appeal for $148,153.50, we believe that we have done our best to meet the Emergency. Aided by the example of Louisiana and Mississippi we were able to present earnest pleas to the organizations of the various states, asking for their help in similar plans throughout the Convention territory. Our approach has been through the secretaries of the states, and through visits to the state conventions, through conferences with pastors and Christian workers, through visits to individual churches, through personal solicitation, through the mails and by means of tracts and advertisements.

The Emergency amount of $148,153.50 was due the banks February first. By making substantial payments at that time, and by means of a $35,000 note signed by the trustees, we were able to secure further time on the second mortgage.

The amounts contributed by states are as follows:

- (2) That the Convention continue to urge upon people of means the placing of large gifts here in this great missionary center.
- (3) That we be authorized to continue our Emergency Appeal for the next Convention year.

REPORT OF THE EDUCATION COMMISSION TO THE SOUTHERN BAPTIST CONVENTION

MAY 16, 1930

With no salaried officer and with an expense budget of only $2,500.00 your Education Commission has labored through its second year of existence in stimulating and nurturing interest in Christian education, in gathering and organizing data relative to our Baptist schools and in giving Christian education publicity through posters, tracts, public addresses and our Baptist periodicals.

Sketch of Work Attempted

The Commission organized for the year with the election of Gaston W. Duncan, chairman; H. W. O. Millington, vice-chairman; and R. Kelly White, secretary-treasurer. The work for the year has been under the direction of the following committees: Survey and Statistics, Publicity, Reports and Programs, Standards, and Interrelationships.

Two called meetings of the Commission have been held during the year,—one at Ridgecrest, North Carolina, in July, 1929, in connection with the annual retreat of the Baptist Student Union, with thirteen members of the Commission present; and the other at Birmingham, Alabama, February, 1930, meeting conjointly with the Southern Baptist Education Association, with an attendance of fourteen of the Commission.

1. Work of Survey and Statistics.—The annual survey of Southern Baptist schools in addition to our seminaries and training schools, is presented as a part of this report. A summary of the survey shows that we have 29 academies, 28 junior colleges and 31 senior colleges, a total of 88 schools, as over against 99 reported last year.

These 88 schools have enrolled in the regular term 25,749 students. This represents a loss of 3,654 students from last year. The number of ministerial students reported this year is 1,326, which is more than 36 per cent less than the number reported last year. The values of school properties and endowments combined have decreased from $60,123,451.72 of last year to $54,892,874.87, which is 8.6 per cent decrease.

The property values of our seminaries show an increase of only $30,866.12 while their endowments increased $99,219.58. As compared with last year there were in our seminaries and training schools 138 less men and 90 less women, which combined represents a decrease of 17 per cent. The total number of men enrolled in the seminaries were 731 and the total number of women enrolled in the training schools were 376.

2. Work of Publicity.—Three tracts have been published and distributed during the year,—one on "College, the Door of Opportunity," another on "Working One's Way Through College," and the third on, "What Part Shall the Churches Play in Securing Students for the Denominational Colleges?" It should be noted that there is a growing demand for helpful tracts on Christian education.

A poster prepared the preceding year was distributed last summer and met at once with a hearty response. The Commission is sure that more posters should be prepared and distributed but the limited funds at the disposal of the Commission make the task for the present next to impossible.

Members of the Commission have made many addresses during the year on Christian education before associations, conventions, churches and assemblies. They have succeeded in having the cause of Christian education included in the programs of such meetings and have enlisted many to think and speak on this theme. They have contributed many articles on Christian education to our Southern Baptist press.

The Commission has provided a booth here at this Convention for an exhibit of our Baptist schools. The schools have responded to the task and have their exhibits here for your inspection. No messenger should leave here without taking a look-in on the exhibits of our Southern Baptist schools.

3. Work on Reports and Programs.—Suggested reports on Christian education for district associations and state conventions were prepared, and distributed through the state secretaries. Each Commissioner sought and obtained the hearty co-operation of the state workers in his state in having the cause of Christian education presented at the district associations, the state conventions and at various institutes and assemblies.

The Commission is sponsoring the preparation and publishing of a lesson on Christian education in our Sunday school quarterlies for 1931. The Sunday School Board, through Dr. Van Ness and its editorial staff, is co-operating heartily in carrying forward this project. We hope to obtain also one program on the same subject to be presented through the B.Y.P.U. quarterlies. There is a demand for a study-course book on Christian education, and the Commission has sought to have such a book prepared and published. Perhaps within a year from now such a book will be available.

- 4. Work on Standards.—A study has been undertaken to find out what efforts our schools are making to maintain high spiritual ideals and to what extent the schools are fostering the religious ideals and work of the Southern Baptist Convention. This survey contemplates the following:
- a. The religious organizations fostered on the campuses and the work accomplished by them;
 - b. Chapel services, with student and faculty attendance;
 - c. The amount of credit in courses of religion required for graduation;
 - d. The employment of student religious secretaries.
- 5. Interrelationships.—The committee on interrelationships arranged a meeting of our Commission conjointly with the annual meeting of the Southern Baptist Education Association, at Birmingham, Alabama, in February this year. A joint session of the two bodies was held, which was mutually very helpful in a better understanding of work and problems common to both.

The Present Precariousness of Christian Education in Our Hands

A study of the annual tabulation of Southern Baptist schools reveals some thought-provoking observations, and we respectfully direct the attention of the Convention to them.

- 1. The schools of one state which constitute only 10 per cent of the total number of Southern Baptist schools have 5,256 students enrolled, which is 20.4 per cent of all students enrolled in all our schools, that is, ten per cent of our schools has over twenty per cent of the total enrollment.
- 2. This same state has 347 of the 1,326 ministerial students enrolled in our schools, which is 26.1 per cent, thus showing that where our people are patronizing our schools best there the future preachers and workers are found in the greatest numbers.

- 3. This state, whose schools have 20.4 per cent of all Baptist enrollment and 26.1 per cent of all ministerial students, ranked first also in the number of baptisms reported last year.
- 4. The state that ranks second in the number of students enrolled in its schools ranks second also in the number of ministerial students and in the number of baptisms reported last year. Evidently there is a causal ratio existing as to the number of students in the schools, the number of ministerial students and the number of baptisms yearly, in any given state.
- 5. These two states have enrolled in their Baptist schools 8,061 students, which is 31.3 per cent of all students enrolled in Southern Baptist schools, and they have 533 ministerial students, or approximately 40 per cent of all our ministerial students. It seems, therefore, that education in our Southern Baptist schools is not as equitably distributed over our territory as we might reasonably desire it to be.
- 6. The average number of students per academy is 114, per junior college is 228 and per senior college is 520. We have three senior colleges with enrollments of less than 200 each and eight with enrollments of less than 300 each, while 23 of the 31 senior colleges have enrollments of less than 500 each, or a total of 7,673 enrolled which is 777 less than the number enrolled in the remaining eight senior colleges, which have enrolled above 500 students each.
- 7. The distribution of students enrolled is approximately 63 per cent in the senior colleges, 25 per cent in the junior colleges and 12 per cent in the academies. These figures show a slight relative increase in enrollment in the senior colleges, a standstill in the junior colleges and a loss of 2 per cent in the academies, as compared with a year ago.
- 8. The cost to the denomination per student in our schools is not available nor are the operating expenses and the incomes of our schools at our command; but it is true that some of our schools from lack of adequate endowment and from insufficient patronage have been forced to create deficits for the year,—and this applies even to some of our senior colleges.
- 9. While we deprecate the closing of eleven schools this Convention year, we note the fact these were not among our strong colleges and did not materially affect the net assets of property and endowment values of our schools. This readily is seen from a study of the following facts. Approximately 64 per cent of all property values are in our senior colleges, 26.8 per cent of the total property values of our schools are in the junior colleges, while only 9.2 per cent are invested in our academies. 93.5 per cent of the total endowment funds of all our schools is held by the senior colleges; 6 per cent, by the junior colleges; and only a fraction more than one-half of one per cent, by the academies. That is to say, Southern Baptists could give away every one of their 29 academies and still have left 90 per cent of the present property values of their schools and 99 per cent of the present endowment values. They could give away every one of the 29 academies and every one of the 28 junior colleges and still have left 64 per cent of the present property values and 93.5 per cent of the present endowment funds of all our schools. These figures are on the basis of no salvage being made. However, doubtless, were our Southern states to decide to abandon education in the fields of the junior college and the academy, the endowment funds invested therein would be saved intact and a considerable part of the property values would be saved to the denomination.

But we would strongly emphasize the fact that while these figures stand true as regards monetary values in our schools the percentages do not at all hold as to the educational, cultural and spiritual values contributed to Southern Baptists by our academies and junior colleges as over against our senior colleges.

The present precariousness of Christian education is seen also in other factors that affect and modify the life of our schools. The increasing number of junior colleges now being created under the state system of popular education projects a real problem into the field of our junior colleges. Their rise has been rapid since 1926, the state of Iowa having created 21 within that period. They have invaded our Southland. Texas and Oklahoma have established many. Mississippi has a dozen. Georgia has a few. Alabama, North Carolina and

South Carolina have none. The junior denominational college had its genesis as a refuge for weak four-year colleges; but now the vogue of having a two-year pre-vocational course above the high school and then on into the vocational school has given a permanency to this field of education.

The state has been quick to see and enter this field. It seems to be apparent that denominational dominance in the field of junior college work will pass soon to the state.

At the same time the pre-vocational, two-year course creates a problem for our four-year colleges. The appeal of the four-year college is now chiefly that of culture to those who wish their sons and daughters to have a full liberal education and of fitting those who have elected the teaching profession as a career. Then, too, our senior colleges have an ever-growing competitor in the appeal of the large universities. Just their bigness has a lure to ambitious youth. The large university can offer manifold advantages and a wider range of courses and specials than is possible for our senior colleges to duplicate. Their many fraternities and sororities, their freedom in discipline, their advantages for those looking forward to matrimony and their post-graduate offerings create a very strong appeal to the self-directing youth of today and make the large universities formidable competitors of our senior colleges. The Christian standard four-year college may find itself without a distinctive field in the educational world.

The most serious menace to the life and efficiency of our schools has been through all the years the difference between the funds and the patronage necessary for the maintenance of our Baptist schools and the funds and the patronage provided by the denomination. Yet it is just here that Southern Baptists have the ability to carry on. We can provide the funds that are necessary and with proper general information concerning the advantages of our Baptist schools we can provide a sustaining patronage for them.

The General Education Board sets as a standard for senior colleges an endowment of $3,000 per student. We have approximately 16,000 students in our senior colleges. This standard would require us to have a total of $48,000,000 in the endowment funds of our senior colleges. We have actually for our senior colleges endowments totaling less than $18,000,000. Therefore to meet this standard of the General Education Board we need to increase the present endowments of our senior colleges more than two and one-half times.

Looking Toward Tomorrow

The task of educating the masses of American youth is a stupendous undertaking; and were Southern Baptists compelled to provide for the education of all the youth of their own constituency, they would have to increase their schools and equipment much beyond their present holdings. Hence no religious body hopes to provide a system of denominational schools sufficient to educate the youth of America or even all the youth of its own constituency. What, then, can we hope for in our Southern Baptist educational program of tomorrow? Just this, that the majority of our future leaders in the churches and in kingdom work will be educated in our schools. The place of the denominational college in other days was one of leadership in general education. Its place in the future must be rather that of the technical school, making its appeal to those who would develop spiritual lives into efficient citizens and subjects of the King whose kingdom is not of this world.

Southern Baptists will need to recognize the necessity of our schools making adjustments in curricula to meet modern educational standards. It would be foolish to ignore utterly the trends in modern education. Certainly Southern Baptists are interested greatly in getting men to think for themselves and we are not concerned primarily whether the thinking shall be branded new or old but only that it shall be true. Our schoolmen recognize that it is not necessarily the function of education to disturb and upset the minds of students. Education that is worthy to bear the name Christian must do more for its students than to reform them, or to amuse and polish them, or to make them expert technicians in any field. It must teach its students to believe greatly in a divine pre-determined plan for their lives, teach them the duty and necessity to think always for themselves and teach them to do the will and work of the divine pre-determining One.

We are living in an age when the organizational spirit expresses itself in such words as merger, consolidation and chain. The off-standard and the inefficient go down under the passion for speeding up quality and quantity production. We need not be alarmed to find some who would apply this principle to the solution of our school problems. Doubtless kingdom funds have sometimes been put to an unwise use in trying to maintain many schools at a poor dying rate rather than concentrating on fewer schools and making the fewer schools fully what they should be. Many are asking what moral right Southern Baptists have to establish and maintain a school that is not standard in its class. We do know that the off-standard medical college is at once in ill repute and its doors closed quickly by the public protests. Surely Christians should be just as conscientious concerning their Christian schools!

Southern Baptists need a new conscience on Christian education. We can trust our schoolmen in their work that they will be guided by the spirit of Jesus. On the whole they are true to Jesus. They want their life to be a contribution to his kingdom. Therefore they are willing to make financial sacrifices in order to continue teaching in our Baptist schools. They are worthy of esteem and affection for their work's sake. They should be on our prayer lists. They know that the world needs Christian teachers. Their primary concern is neither books nor test tubes but rather the spiritual welfare of their students and the building of the kingdom of our Lord. They are working toward a definite goal and have no need to be ashamed of that goal. Such work is as sacred as that of the preacher. Their life's field offers to us a great opportunity to co-labor with them for Christ.

Baptist schools have not been perfect and have been all too poorly equipped to serve the Christian cause to the fullest capacity. Some may have been too narrow and others too liberal yet in spite of all criticisms they have well justified the cost of their existence, "in fitting the student for life itself rather than for the job that is but a part of life." Baptist schools are permeated with Baptist ideals and environed with our denominational history. Southern Baptists need to evaluate anew the kingdom values of administrative buildings, libraries, laboratories, dormitories and endowments. No matter how often nor with what insistent emphasis we reiterate the primacy of spiritual life above human culture, the fact remains spiritual forces utilize college plants, endowments and faculties in building the builders of the kingdom. The dominant field of life for Southern Baptists so far as their young people are concerned is the field of education. To fail to make religion effective in this field is to sin against the future work of the kingdom.

No astute mind is needed to foresee ultimate loss for Baptist evangelism, missions and benevolences if we neglect the field of Christian education. Evangelism, missions, benevolences and education rise or fall together. It was no mere happen so that our Baptist forbears were led to include Christian education in the work of the churches. Wherever Baptist schools have prospered there Baptists have flourished. Our schools are centers of increasing Baptist influence. Arguments that would hold us back from the doing of Christian educational work would be just as valid against our engaging in evangelism and missions. Our schools have to combat the modern passion for money-making and the covetousness entailed thereby, but the manifest favor of God has been upon them through all their checkered career and they are still helping in a great way to carry the leaven of the Christ-life and true Christian culture into all the walks of life.

We would call the attention of the Convention to the program of the National Advisory Committee on Illiteracy to wipe out illiteracy in this nation. Under the direction of the Department of the Interior this campaign will be pushed aggressively as soon as the returns of the 1930 census have been completed.

In a letter to the President of this Convention, Hon. Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior, wrote as follows:

"The Census of 1920 showed that one-half of the native white illiteracy within the United States then lived within the eleven Southern states east of the Mississippi River; the section of the country in which Southern Baptists predominate."

Mr. Wilbur continues: "It is to the credit of Southern Baptists that they have carried the Gospel into the most backward sections. I covet the support of all Baptist ministers in the effort to teach native born illiterates to read and write."

We recognize that the success of this movement to open the eyes of three millions of people verbally blind so that they may read our Bible if they wish depends in large measure upon all constructive religious agencies helping to create a sympathetic atmosphere and a passion to wipe out illiteracy. This Convention can, if it so wills, enthusiastically endorse the program against illiteracy and encourage our constituency to actively aid the educational agencies in every community in reducing white native illiteracy.

A full survey of "Southern Baptists and Illiteracy" was made by Dr. A. R. Bond and published in March, 1928. A few copies of this survey are still available.

Recommendation

We recommend the same appropriation of $2,500.00 for the work of the Commission next year.

SOUTHERN BAPTIST SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES 1929-1930

The tabulation of Southern Baptist schools and colleges presented herewith was compiled by Dr. Harry Clark, President Judson College, Marion, Alabama, chairman of the Education Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention. As compared with the report of the Education Board made a year ago, the present report shows a slight falling off all along the line, as the following summary indicates:

To the Northern Baptist Convention, Cleveland (additional): John Lake, China, and A. T. Robertson, Kentucky.

To the National Baptist Convention, Chicago: O. L. Hailey, Tennessee; Hight C. Moore, Tennessee; V. I. Masters, Kentucky; John D. Freeman, Tennessee.

65. The Report of the Committee on Preservation of Baptist History, presented as follows by A. J. Holt, Florida, was adopted:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON THE PRESERVATION OF BAPTIST HISTORY

Within the limits allowed to this report it is only possible to present the briefest statement which will stress its importance.

The available material for Baptist history would fill a vast encyclopedia. But the material which for the present is not available, which has been lost or forgotten, is an hundred fold more than that which has been preserved. From these available resources we mention only some of the prominent characteristics of these people called Baptists.

Their church independence; their insistence on religious liberty; their emphasis on all the doctrines of the apostles; their contention for entire separation of church and state; their preservation and prepetuation of the ordinances of the New Testament churches: How in every age they have been opposed, oppressed, burned, banished and imprisoned and yet how they have never once retaliated by persecuting those from whom they differed. Despite all their persecution their growth and prosperity have been the marvel of ecclesiastical history.

In this report attention is especially directed to the country preacher.

Baptists have uniformly flourished in rural districts, as well as in cities. The first Baptist preacher began his ministry "in the wilderness of Judea." He went not up to Jerusalem to preach in the majestic temple, but by the roadside and upon the banks of the historic Jordan he preached, "repent ye for the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand." Like unto his great antetype, Elijah, he laid small stress on the usages of society. His name and fame were nothing—his Message everything. He was a "voice crying in the wilderness." So have Baptists ever been and yet are.

The country preacher sallied forth afoot, on horseback, using any available means of transportation, carrying neither "purse nor script"—only his Bible. He preached under trees, brush arbors, in school houses, private dwellings, even in dugouts—anywhere the people could come together. He organized and built up thousands of churches, baptized millions of people. Like Paul he "made tents," taught school, tanned leather, pegged shoes, plowed corn—did any honorable thing to make a living that he might preach the gospel freely. He lived his singularly unselfish life, "endured hardness as a good soldier," served well his day and generation and passed to his reward unknown beyond the limits of his country churches. He was a moral hero and deserves that a bronze statue shall be erected to his memory and placed on the campus of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, engraved:

THE COUNTRY PREACHER

This is to the honor of the men who have made possible our present vantage ground—"unlettered and ignorant men" they may have been in the esteem of the world. But they were profoundly versed in the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ and they laid broad and deep the foundations of "the faith once for all delivered to the saints."

The mystery of history Is that we soon forget, The sowing of the smaller seeds, The doing of unselfish deeds, Meeting mankind's modest needs, In living—not in writing creeds.

Full many a man has launched his plan Of life along unselfish lines; Has lived his faith from day to day, Has walked the straight and narrow way; So he was right, indifferent quite To what mankind might say—or pay.

The country preacher of the past, In trials sore, in labors vast, In winning sinning, rugged men, From fiery hold of devil's den, From evil days and wicked ways, To virtue's cause and honor's laws.

These men who led the better way, From Ebon darkness unto day, Who "turned the country upside down," Who revolutionized the town, Who builded churches, fostered schools, Were neither knaves, nor fakes nor fools.

These men,—a benediction rare, Who made the home a house of prayer, These men were patriots and peers, Were civilization's pioneers. They built a people vast and strong, Who loved the right and hated wrong: Here is your Man of Mystery, That builded Baptist History.

Resolved, That the Southern Baptist Convention recommend that all our State and General Secretaries, Associational and Church Clerks, deposit with the Sunday School Board for preservation in their fireproof safes, all Baptist historical material, in the way of minutes, journals, and other papers, that will contribute to the preservation of Baptist history.

A. J. Holt, Chairman.

- 66. E. P. Alldredge, Tennessee, offered a resolution on a program of enlistment, which was referred to the Committee on Resolutions.
- 67. H. A. Smoot, Illinois, offered the following resolution, which was adopted, and on motion of Z. T. Cody, South Carolina, the secretaries were authorized to insert picture of Dr. Throgmorton in the Annual:

Whereas, Dr. W. P. Throgmorton, of Illinois, has departed this life and gone to his eternal reward during the past year.

Whereas, He led in the organization of the Illinois Baptist State Association, he was president of the State Board for fifteen years, he led in the movement of bringing the Illinois Baptist State Association into the Southern Baptist Convention;

Whereas, He was looked to and followed as the outstanding leader by Baptists in Southern Illinois, in all the above named movements, and as editor, preacher, pastor, and leader; therefore,

Resolved, That the Southern Baptist Convention do hereby recognize and express its appreciation of the great work done by this one of the fine leaders among us.

W. P. THROGMORTON

68. The following resolution, presented by John R. Sampey, Kentucky, was adopted:

Whereas, We have learned that Dr. George W. Truett, for the past three years President of the Southern Baptist Convention, intends to devote several months to an evangelistic ministry in South America; therefore,

Resolved, That we, representatives of four million Baptists in the South, commend Dr. Truett to our brethren and to all the peoples of South America as a faithful minister of Christ Jesus through whom, as the bearer of our good will, we wish to send our most cordial greetings to the peoples of the republics of South America.

- 75. The Report of the Commission on Social Service was presented as follows by A. J. Barton, Georgia, and adopted after remarks by George W. Truett, Texas:

TWENTY-SECOND ANNUAL REPORT OF THE COMMISSION ON SOCIAL SERVICE OF THE SOUTHERN BAPTIST CONVENTION

As usual your Commission limits its report to a few of the many things which might appropriately be dealt with in a report on Social Service. Necessarily the report must come within resonable limits and necessarily, therefore, many things that might be dealt with must be omitted. Only those things which, for the time being, seem most important and vital can be considered.

Broadcasting Privileges

Immediately following the adoption of the last annual report of your Commission the following resolutions were offered by John S. Ramond of Louisiana, and adopted by the Convention:

"WHEREAS, Reports in the public press indicate that the Federal Council of Churches in America announced at a recent Convention their purpose and plan to secure contracts with radio broadcasting stations and organizations whereby no church service can be broadcast without the approval of the council; and

"WHEREAS, Such control of radio church services would be inimical to our church and denominational broadcasting services; therefore, be it

"RESOLVED, That we request our Social Service Commission to look carefully into this matter and, if the facts justify, to make a vigorous protest to the Federal Radio Commission in our behalf."

In pursuance of this instruction the Chairman of your Commission took up this matter by correspondence with the Editor of the Presbyterian paper, on whose editorial the resolutions were based, and also by personal conference with one of the chief officers of the Federal Radio Commission in Washington City. The correspondence with the Editor revealed the fact that possibly the editorial was not so securely founded on fact as at first the Editor had thought. The conference with the officer of the Federal Radio Commission brought from him the statement that the Federal Commission has no control over broadcasting stations or companies, except to license them and to revoke licenses if in any case the broadcasting privilege should be abused by the use of improper or indecent language or by broadcasting matter not proper to be put "on the air"; that when a station or company is once licensed the Federal Commission has no voice as to who shall use it or as to the manner of its use, except within the limits indicated; that the Federal Commission had no knowledge or information to the effect that the Federal Council of Churches was planning such monopoly as had been suggested and that such monopoly would hardly be possible if attempted.

Greater Use of the Radio by Southern Baptists Suggested

Our experience in looking into the foregoing matter has directed our attention to the fact that our Baptist people are not making as much use of the radio as we believe they should. It is good that a very considerable number of our churches have stations or broadcasting privileges over local stations, either for all their services or a part of them. But a larger number, if possible, should "go on the air." The radio is one of the largest factors in our present day life. Instantly at any moment any bit of information, all the way from the most serious, heart-moving appeal of the Gospel to the advertisement of tooth paste, can be conveyed to millions who "listen in." Surely our churches and pastors ought to make the most of this most modern and most powerful and most appealing means of communication.

It is not the function of the Commission on Social Service to suggest plans for the general promotional work of the Convention, which work has been entrusted to the Executive Committee. With no thought of going out of its sphere your Commission would express the hope that the Executive Committee, or whatever promotional agency the Convention may at any time set up, may think it expedient and find it possible to establish a great central broadcasting station over which the work of the Convention may be broadcast, accompanied by a deeply spiritual and a mightily appealing religious service. The hundreds of thousands of Baptist homes which have receiving sets could immediately be informed of, and in large measure enlisted in, the plans and tasks of this Convention and of the progress of the Lord's work throughout the world. Surely our Baptist people would be more interested in such a program and in a "Southern Baptist hour on the air" than in the disgusting jazz and tawdry advertisements which daily pollute the air. It may well be doubted whether Southern Baptists can so well invest elsewhere the amount of money necessary for the establishment of such a station or the rental of the broadcasting privileges for an hour each day or at least two or three times a week from some station already in operation.

Industrial Relations

The partial reports which have been published of the recent United States census show that more and more the South is becoming industrialized. All of the industrial towns and cities show decided gains in population, while the purely rural and agricultural sections, and even towns supported wholly by agriculture, with few exceptions, show losses. This mass movement from the farm to the town and city, like all other mass movements, is fraught with tremendous consequences. Mass movements are not always easily understood and they are practically beyond our control. Much might be said concerning the effect of this movement on our church life, both in the town and the country and upon our whole social order. One thing is certain: We are rapidly being confronted with all of the problems of evangelization and of industrial justice which are ever attendant upon rapid industrial development and characteristic of large industrial centers.

In its annual report submitted at the last annual session of that body, the Commission on Social Service of the Georgia Baptist Convention included a section devoted to industrial relations which, in the judgment of your Commission, is so wise, sane and just that portions of it are quoted and made a part of this report. We quote from this report both because it so happily and so well expresses our own views and what we believe to be the views of this Convention and also as indicating that our Baptist people are coming to be interested and alert about these matters and are demanding that the spirit of justice and good will shall prevail in the conduct of industries. Capital and labor must each see the interests and rights of the other; employer and employee must co-operate together and serve each other in the spirit of the golden rule; the mandates of the Christian religion must prevail in our whole social order if we are to have social peace and prosperity.

We quote from the Georgia Baptist Commission on Social Service as follows:

"An underwage is a fruitful mother of poverty, disease, immorality and crime. Long hours, low wages, docile labor is an economic mistake. A man's wage should be enough to support himself and his family in reasonable comfort. A wage that will not furnish a decent living for a man and his family is a social wrong. A fair wage to the workmen who produce it is a legitimate item in the sales price of any commodity; and the consuming public is willing that it be included, as in justice it ought to be.

"This Commission recognizes the inalienable right of labor to organize, to bargain collectively, and to be represented at the council table by representatives of their own choosing. Capital and labor have equal right in organization. A lone workman is not on an equal trading basis with a big mill owner; he is helpless. The good wages that obtain in nearly all lines of industry are due to the work and influence of American organized labor.

"The religious forces of the South and of the nation are standing for a shorter work-day for mill operatives, for better wages, 'a fair day's wage for a fair day's work,' for the elimination of 'stretch-out system,' for the protection of the older children and for the gradual and complete elimination of night work for women and children.

"In this connection we are glad to note that many of the leading textile industries have foreseen the necessity and the duty of considering the rights and welfare of employees as of paramount importance in the administration of their mills. * * * * * * * * *

"We strongly commend the justice and the wisdom of generous consideration for the personal and family welfare of mill operatives. We cannot forget that the millions dependent on their labor in the mills of the South are predominantly Baptist people.

"In the most Christian spirit we urge these considerations upon our Southern mill owners. We are firmly convinced that in the long run they would be promotive of industrial prosperity and industrial justice as well."

Lynchings Decrease by One

In keeping with its custom the Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee, Ala., has kept a record of the number of lynchings which occurred in the United States for the year 1929. A letter from the President of the Institute dated December 31. 1929, gives the following statement of facts:

Ten persons were lynched during the year 1929, one less than the number for 1928; six less than the number for 1927; nine less than the number for 1926, and seven less than the number for 1925. Six of the persons lynched were taken from the hand of the law, five from jail and one from officers of the law outside the jail. There were twenty-seven instances in which officers of the law prevented lynching—three of these in the Northen states and twenty-four in the Southern states. In twenty-four cases the prinsoners were moved and special care taken to see that they were not harmed. In three other instances armed forces were used to quiet mobs. Twelve white men, twenty negro men and two negro women were saved from death at the hands of mobs. Of the ten persons lynched last year, seven were negro and three were white. The offenses were as follows: Three for raping, two for writing insulting notes, one for murder, one for wounding a man in a quarrel and two for wounding officers—one not reported. The states in which the lynchings occurred are as follows: Florida, four; Kentucky, one; Mississippi, one; Tennessee, one; and Texas, three.

We rejoice to note that the number of lynchings for the year shows a decrease of one over the previous year. But we shall not be satisfied until this foul blot is entirely removed from the garments of our civilization. Under our form of Government and the guarantees of our Constitution, both Federal and State, every individual, no matter with what crime charged, is entitled to a fair and impartial trial under constituted authority, and punishment is not to be administered except by the due processes of law. As long as this sacred and fundamental principle is violated our civilization is in jeopardy. Mob law is no law; mob law is anarchy; mob law brings utter confusion and chaos. It will be observed that every one of the lynchings which occurred in 1929, occurred within the bounds of this Convention. This very fact lays upon our Baptist people a heavy responsibility. Law must be upheld; lynchings must be stamped out. It lies largely within the power and influence of the Baptists of the South to create a respect for law and for the orderly processes of justice that will make lynchings impossible and to secure for every individual of whatever color or of whatever station in life the sacred rights which are guaranteed under constitutional and orderly Government.

Progress in World Peace

Tuesday, April 22nd, the Naval Disarmament Conference between Great Britain, Japan, France, Italy and the United States, the five great naval powers of the world, which had been in session in London for three months, came to a close and the treaty which had been agreed upon was signed by the representatives of these five powers. From published reports it appears that this conference did not accomplish all that we had hoped for, nor all that ought to have been possible, in view of the fact that all of the governments represented in the conference have ratified the Briand-Kellogg Treaty renouncing war and pledging all signatories thereto to use only peaceful means in the settlement of international disputes or differences. But war has long been rooted in the thinking of the world and it will require time to remove all feelings of suspicion and fear and securely to establish the spirit of peace among all the nations.

While the conference did not accomplish all that we hoped for, apparently it did accomplish much. As this report is prepared the terms of the treaty have not been published. But the President has given to the press a statement summarizing what he considers the results of the conference and the benefits that will come from the treaty. According to the President's statement the treaty brings a perfect understanding between Great Britain, Japan and the United States as to the matter of naval construction and removes the possibility of competition in the naval program of these three great naval powers. The President estimates that the actual money saving to these three countries will be $2,500,000,000 of which the United States will save $1,000,000,000. The President points out that under the terms of this treaty the United States will have to spend within the next six years between $550,000,000 and $650,000,000 to attain parity with Great Britain, whereas on the basis of the Geneva conference in 1927, the United States Government would have been compelled to spend between $1,400,000,000 and $1,640,000,000 within a similar period to have reached parity with Great Britain. The President points out that the removal of competitive naval construction will remove attendant fears, suspicion and international friction.

Some questions between France and Italy were left unsettled and will be matters of further conference and negotiations. But in the judgment of your Commission, the London conference marks another long stride toward permanent world peace. We can not but express the hope that the United States Senate will promptly ratify the treaty as submitted to it by the President. We are morally certain that the great bulk of public opinion in the United States utterly detests and abhors war and zealously espouses the cause of peace. In the free, frank and open discussions which are had in international conference the cause of world peace will find one of its best supports and means of promotion. It would utterly misrepresent the spirit of the United States of America if the United States Senate should fail to ratify or even quibble about ratifying any international treaty which both in its purpose and in its terms is calculated to reduce the likelihood of war and to promote the spirit of fraternity and peace among the nations of the world.

Prohibition Enforcement

The enforcement of National Prohibition is making steady progress, in spite of the news and editorial columns of the wet press and in spite of the hue and cry of the wets. The Commission on Law Enforcement and Observance appointed by the President, after months of study and survey, has made a partial report recommending the enactment of a few laws calculated, in the judgment of the Commission and of the President, to strengthen the hands of the administration and to make enforcement more effective. This recommendation was passed on by the President to Congress. The laws proposed are as follows: First, the transfer of the functions of detection and prosecution of prohibition cases from the Treasury Department to the Department of Justice; Second, a measure to provide relief from congestion in the courts; Third, extension of Federal prisons and a more adequate parole system and other modern treatment of prisoners; Fourth, reorganization of the border patrol in order to consolidate various agencies so as effectually to prevent illegal entry both of aliens and goods; Fifth, an adequate prohibition enforcement law for the District of Columbia.

On April 28th the President sent a special message to Congress, reciting the progress made toward the enactment of each of these measures and appealing to Congress for speedy enactment of the proposed legislation. It ought to be considered the least that Congress could do to enact promptly all legislation necessary to aid and make effective the efforts of an administration honestly seeking to uphold and enforce the constitution and laws of our nation and to conserve the best in the economic and moral life of our people. Your Commission would express the earnest hope that Congress may heed this special appeal of the President and speedily enact the desired legislation.

Let the States Do Their Duty

The one great hindrance which has handicapped National Prohibition ever since its enactment ten years ago has been the attitude of the states. States which already had state prohibition, immediately upon the enactment of National Prohibition, slackened their efforts for the enforcement, even of their own laws; other states that were wet assumed the attitude either of non-cooperation with the Federal Government or of open defiance. This too, in spite of the concurrent power clause in the Eighteenth Amendment. As citizens we should see to it that the dry states do their duty, both in the matter of enforcing their own laws, in the exercise of the concurrent power conferred upon them by the Eighteenth Amendment, and in co-operation with and support of the Federal Government. If the states which were already dry will do their duty the Federal authorities will be free to devote themselves mainly to the enforcement of the law in the rebellious wet states. In this contest between the Government of the United States of America and those states which have set up a modern "whiskey rebellion," it is earnestly to be hoped and confidently to be expected that the Federal power may prevail and that our system of National Government under which the Federal constitution and Federal law are supreme in all matters with which they deal, shall not break down. Our system of Government is now undergoing a test, if not a crisis. If the authority and powers of the United States may be openly challenged and defied by any state when the constitution of the United States has been amended in the regular and orderly way and by the exercise of the sovereignty and power of each state acting in its own capacity through its own constituted legislature, as provided in the constitution, then our union of states will fall to pieces and we shall have confusion and ruin.

"Good Fighting All Along the Line"

In the language of the Confederate officer to the Confederate soldier of whom the lamented J. B. Gambrell, one of our greatest soldiers in this war-fare and many years a member of this Commission, used to tell, "There is good fighting all along the line." It may well be doubted whether the forces of law-lessness have ever before been so rampant, so defiant and so insolent as they are at present. They are multiplying organizations and amassing huge sums of money. They are openly defiant of law and the officers of the law; they are insolent toward all constituted authority; they stop at nothing and scruple at nothing in their efforts to destroy law and order and to besmirch and blacken the names of public officials, of ministers of the Gospel, of the churches, of the Anti-Saloon League, of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and of all other individuals and organizations standing for law enforcement and law observance. If any of our people were lulled to sleep or carried away with the delusion that the fight against liquor was all over and that the lawless element would quietly submit to the will of the people and to the authority of Government, they have had a rude awakening and a sad disillusionment. Perhaps more than ever before we have come to a time to try men's souls in this cause, which has its countless martyrs and may have many others before the day of final victory.

Open Defiance Advocated-Armed Rebellion Hinted

As illustrating the extremes of unreason, fanaticism and desperation to which the advocates of liquor are now driven, we cite two instances:

Representative James M. Beck of Pennsylvania made an address in New York on April 13th. He is quoted by the press as saying, "That revolt against the Eighteenth Amendment 'involves no disrespect to the constitution of the fathers.'" In other words, a member of Congress of the United States, sworn to uphold the constitution of the United States, declares openly for defiance of the constitution. In this Mr. Beck is only one of a type and represents the attitude of the defiant liquor element in Congress and out.

Henry H. Curran, President of the Association against the Prohibition Amendment, on Wednesday, April 16th, testified before a committee of the Senate investigating the lobbying activities of various and sundry organizations. In reporting the testimony of Mr. Curran, a Washington dispatch says, "Asked if he would favor 'armed revolution' against the prohibition law. Curran replied that 'we will cross that bridge when we come to it.'

"He added that there already was 'armed revolution' so far as some of the prohibition officers were concerned."

Thus it appears that Mr. Curran and his organization have in their minds armed rebellion as an ultimate step which they may take in their fight against the constitution and laws of the United States and that Mr. Curran regards the faithful and sacrificial efforts of law enforcement officers as on a plane with "armed revolution." We can not believe that in this Mr. Curran represents a majority of American citizens who for one reason or another are opposed to National prohibition. Of one thing we are certain, if it should come to that and if the constitution and laws of our Government could not be vindicated and upheld in any other way than by force, the spirit of American patriotism would not fail.

Wet and Dry Hearings

The wets always seize upon the meeting of Congress as a time and opportunity favorable to agitation and propaganda, because when Congress meets the ear of the people is turned toward Washington. Many bills are introduced in Congress for the modification or repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment or of the National Prohibition code, for which bills the proponents have no hope of their ever being reported out of Committee, much less of their being enacted into law. These bills are introduced solely for the purposes of agitation and propaganda. Many such bills have been introduced in the House of Representatives of the present Congress and referred to the Committee on the Judiciary. The Chairman of this Committee, Mr. Graham, a dripping wet, without the authority of the Committee or any action by the Committee, ordered public hearings to be held on these bills. In a thoroughly unjudicial and partisan address in opening the hearings in which he denounced prohibition, Chairman Graham said it was proposed in these hearings to give those opposed to prohibition an "open forum" in which to present their side of the case to the American people. Such a conception of the purpose and function of high legislative committees need not be commented upon. The hearings lasted from February 12th to April The wets made their usual amount of noise. It is enough to say that every argument presented by the wets was answered overwhelmingly by the drys and that, in addition, a great array of facts, scientific, industrial, commercial and moral, was presented by the drys in the support of the existing order. The hearings were staged by the wets as a means of wet propaganda. It is sufficient to say that they received much more than they asked for or desired.

Straw Ballots

One of the approved methods of the wets for keeping up agitation is the straw ballot. It may be that some engage in this sort of thing without distinctively wet motives; if so, they are misguided and their methods none the less irresponsible and foolish. The most pretentious and extensive effort in this field has recently been put on by an enterprising public journal which vehemently protests its own impartiality; and yet many of the comments made by this periodical on the figures of its poll seem to have a wet slant. The whole method is foolish and subject to serious question. Perhaps the highest motive that could be accorded such a performance would be to say that the journal saw an opportunity for a nation-wide advertising scheme and circulation campaign and was willing to commercialize a great moral cause for its own financial profit. To ask people to vote on whether they would have our laws so changed as to allow what the constitution plainly forbids is to ask them to vote on nullification and this is no compliment to the patriotism of the American people. The compilation of three or four million anonymous straw ballots from chosen lists, mainly in big wet centers, can not in any degree be regarded as expressing the solemn conviction of the American people on a great question of public policy on which they have repeatedly expressed themselves at the ballot box. It is sufficient to add that in 1922, this same public journal took a straw ballot on prohibition and almost immediately following that several of the states which had been listed as dripping wet by this journal gave overwhelming dry majorities in the regular election.

Concerning the futility and ineffectiveness of such straw ballots, we quote the Atlanta Constitution, which, like many of our papers in the large centers, has recently been fighting prohibition tooth and claw, and which recently attempted to put on a straw ballot itself. In an editorial on Wednesday, May 7th, the Constitution says, "Whether the people are a majority for the policy of the amendment, or want a new treatment of liquor problems, cannot be assumed from straw votes, or even from court decisions. Hence the country must accept the congressional elections as the best barometer of public sentiment. As long as congress is dry by decisive majorities in the Senate and House, one must believe that the people want prohibition and want it enforced to the limit."

Others may have their straw ballots; the friends of prohibition, sobriety and good government will have their ballot at the ballot box in November and will elect senators, representatives, governors and other public officials unhesitatingly committed to the perpetuation and enforcement of our prohibition laws.

"The National Prohibition Survey"

A young man came down recently from New York to Atlanta and took elaborate offices under the name of "The National Prohibition Survey." He has announced that the organization is backed by impartial men in New York and Chicago; that the plan will be to send a questionnaire to every voter in the United States; that the survey is to be entirely neutral and impartial and will cost the modest sum of seven million dollars. Apportionments have been made, or will be made, to each state, which will be expected to raise its quota; Governors and others prominent in public affairs, will be asked to serve on the advisory board; Georgia's quota is $45,037.60.

The character and objective of this organization can readily be seen by the questions to be submitted and by the fact that gentlemen in New York and Chicago come to Atlanta, the largest city in the Southeast and in the heart of the dry south, to put on their benevolent and unselfish campaign in the interest of humanity. Among the questions to be submitted to the voters are these: "11—Would you approve a National Referendum after a presidential election? 12—Do you believe in state's rights on the liquor question?" If these gentlemen were reasonably well informed as to the principles of our Government they would know that there can be no such thing as a National Referendum on this or any other provision of the constitution and laws of the United States. Doubtless they do know this and know that all talk about a National Referendum is intended to undermine one of the most fundamental principles of the Government of the United States. The Government of the United States is not a government of direct powers in which the voice of a popular majority controls; it is a government of states; it is a government of derived or delegated powers. All of the hue and cry about a National Referendum has as its motive the desire to give New York, Chicago and other centers of drink and crime the power to break down state's rights and state sovereignty in determining all questions of constitution and law under our Federal system. And yet in the next breath those who raise this hue and cry extol "state's rights." We already have exercised state's rights in the settlement of the liquor question. The highest expression of state's rights is the act of the sovereign states in amending the constitution of the United States. The states have acted and in their sovereignty they have said that the commercialized liquor traffic shall be banished forever from this Republic.

Our people will not be fooled or trapped by "The National Prohibition Survey," Or any other of the so-called neutral and impartial movements devised by our friends in New York and Chicago "to find a satisfactory solution of the liquor problem." There is no neutral ground in this war. It is "war to the knife and the knife to the hilt" between the forces of sobriety and orderly Government on the one hand and the forces of liquor and lawlessness on the other. A safe rule is to ignore all irresponsible straw ballots and movements and not to be over much influenced by what appear to be the returns of such ballots or movements, but to do full duty at the polls and see to it that nobody but patriots are on guard.

The Policy of Intimidation

The policy of intimidation is now one of the choice weapons of the wets. If they can browbeat and intimidate the preachers and churches; if they can successfully and securely brand as "lobbyists" and political corruptionists groups and organizations of good citizens who seek the enactment and enforcement of laws for the suppression of evil and the promotion of public morality, they expect to have easy sailing in their efforts to defy and break down all such laws. If we are a set of cowards we will yield to their onslaughts and surrender before their attacks; if we are men and patriots we will assert our rights, repulse their attacks and courageously and successfully defend the cause of good government and of laws enacted for the promotion of the peace and moral welfare of the people.

The Right of Petition vs. "Lobbying"

Concerning the right of petition vs. lobbying we quote a statement issued a few weeks back by the National Conference of Organizations supporting the Eighteenth Amendment. This statement is prepared by the chairman of your commission and expresses the conviction of your commission and the conviction we believe of our Baptist people in general and of all good citizens. It is as follows:

"The improper use of money or influence in any form by selfish and sinister persons or organizations for corrupt ends with the public servants of the people, whether legislative, judicial or executive, cannot be too strongly condemned or too promptly uncovered and punished. On the other hand the right of petition and remonstrance is happily and securely embodied in the bill of rights, is one of the prime marks distinguishing a democracy from an autocracy or oligarchy, and is one of the foundation stones and safeguards of our Republic. To characterize the exercise of this right as 'lobbying' in no way alters or abrogates the right as one of the guarantees of our liberties. Honest, patriotic, public-spirited citizens, both as individuals and by groups and organizations, have the inalienable right to make their will concerning any matter of public policy known to their public servants.

"It will be a sad day for us and will mark the day of the decline if not the doom of our government when our public servants are too weak to resist the corrupt and corrupting lobbyist who would turn them aside from the path of duty and right, or when they are too proud to hear and consider the judgment, will and desires of good and honest citizens and organizations properly and appropriately expressed

"Citizens and organizations of worthy, patriotic and unselfish motives and purposes, who seek the good of the people and of the Republic have nothing to cover or to conceal and nothing to fear from the search-light of publicity whenever turned on. Let those who would turn on the search-light be sure that it so directed as to reveal the activities and organizations which are openly committed to a course of defiance of and rebellion against the established policies of the government and who would make barter of the health, happiness and prosperity of the people."

Real Lobbying-Including an Attack on the Supreme Court

While the lawless liquor element are seeking to brand preachers and churches and all other supporters of law and order as "lobbyists," they themselves persistently carry on their nefarious, under-cover work and engage in lobbying of the worst and most offensive and corrupting character. At a recent session of the Senate Lobby Committee there were produced and read three letters which were written in 1929 by Thos. W. Phillips of Pennsylvania, a director of the Association Against The Eighteenth Amendment. In an editorial headed "An Astounding Story," the Religious Herald of May 1st comments on this episode as follows:

"Two of these (letters) were addressed to Justice Stone, of the Supreme Court, and a third to the late Justice Sanford, the letters to Stone, dated April 2 and 9, and the one to Sanford March 30. They consisted largely of an attack on the prohibition law. Mr. Phillips is represented as saying that the Association Against The Prohibition Amendment had nothing to do with his letters, but Mr. Henry H. Curran, President of the Association, declared that he approved them.

"Senator Robinson, of Indiana, said: 'It is the most amazing thing I have ever heard of. You are lobbying directly to the United States Supreme Court, apparently to influence that great court in its decisions. I have never heard of such a thing in a good many years of the practice of law.' Some notion of the impropriety of the correspondence may be gathered from this paragraph which occurs in the letter to Justice Sanford: 'I have but little doubt that if the judiciary lies down on its job and follows the mob along the lines of least resistance our form of government is doomed.' Or from these paragraphs addressed to Justice Stone: 'It is indeed unfortunate that so many men in public life, especially those who have served for years and years in Congress, in executive positions and on the bench, become for all practical purposes out of touch with the busy workaday world. * * * In order to give you perhaps a new slant as to how some men are thinking and talking, a few days ago in the course of my conversation with an exceptionally keen young attorney, I ventured to remark that there were very many serious and far-reaching constitutional questions relating to the Eighteenth Amendment and enforcement measures that have never been submitted to the Supreme Court.' His comment took the form of a question, "Do you have any idea that the Supreme Court as now constituted would have the moral courage to go into this question thoroughly?"

"The fact is that the whole business of the Association Against Prohibition seems to be in the control of a group of very rich men, and their representatives and associates evidently act under the impression that nothing that they do is likely to be called into question. We confess that we are not intimately acquainted with the rules of procedure which obtain between outsiders and our courts, but we had always supposed that any attempt to influence the decisions of our judges, save through the prescribed methods and under due legal form, was a grave impropriety. But of course these extremely wealthy gentlemen are beyond the reach of the law, as they imagine, and the men whom they hire are similarly arrogant. Up to this time certainly the wets are fully welcome to all the results which have followed their attempt to bring their affairs to the attention of the public."

Meetings and Work of the Commission

Your Commission has had one meeting during the year, aside from the meeting held in New Orleans for the approval of this report. In keeping with the instructions of the Convention the Sunday School Board has defrayed the necessary expenses of the Commission, for which we are deeply grateful. Throughout the year, as heretofore, the chairman has given as much time in the field of Social Service as he could do without neglecting his regular duties. Much of this has been possible without expense to the commission because of the chairman's connection with the Anti-Saloon League of America and the National Conference of Organizations supporting the Eighteenth Amendment.

Work Ought to be Enlarged

It is perfectly clear to your Commission that, in view of the present tense situation in our fight for the permanent and complete success of prohibition and in view of the many other things which need to be done in the field of Social Service, we ought to enlarge and strengthen our work. Several times in the past the Convention has authorized the Commission to make personal approach and appeal for funds adequate for a reasonable Social Service budget and to employ someone to give all of his time to the work. The Commission has hesitated to take this step because of the pressing needs of other interests and the crowded condition of our denominational program. At one time the Convention took specific action instructing the Promotional Commission to put a percentage in the budget for this work. But in the press of things the instruction of the Convention was not carried out.

Many of our people have funds that they would cheerfully and gladly contribute to this work, but which they will not contribute to anything else. Some way should be found by which your Commission could have at least a modest budget adequate to the establishment and maintenance of permanent head-quarters and to the employment of a wise and capable man to give all his time to the work, to the employment of necessary stenographic help and to the creation of a leaflet literature that would set out the work of Social Service in harmony with our Baptist views and interpretations of the doctrines of the New Testament.

Recommendations

The Commission recommends that the Convention make the following declarations:

I. Concerning Industrial Relations:

- 1. That we recognize the right of labor to organize and engage in collective bargaining.
- 2. That we recognize the right of laborers who may not wish to join a labor organization to employment.
 - 3. That we believe in a fair living wage for all who toil in factory and mine.
- 4. That we favor a day of not more than nine hours and a week of not more than forty-nine and one-half hours.
- 5. That we are opposed to the employment in factory or mine of children under fifteen years of age and we are opposed to all night work for women and minors.
- 6. That we favor good sanitary housing conditions for all factory and mine workers, such as will properly protect both the health and morals of their families.
- 7. That the teachings and spirit of the Gospel ought to control in all industrial relations and that they offer the only happy and peaceful solution of all our industrial problems.

II. Concerning Law Enforcement and Observance:

- 1. That the President of the United States, the Governors of the several states and all other public officials, executive and judicial, are entitled to the unwavering support of all citizens in all their honest and faithful efforts for the enforcement and observance of all law.
- 2. That we hereby pledge such support on our own part and appeal to all of our fellow Baptists and fellow citizens to give such support to all faithful public servants.

III. Concerning Public Office and Elections:

1. That we declare public office to be a public trust, to be held and administered only in the the best interest and for the highest welfare of all the people.

- 2. That no person is worthy of public office who is not socially-minded and does not believe in the enactment of such laws as will promote the moral welfare of the people, or who does not believe in the enforcement and observance of all laws.
- 3. That we recognize the right of all to advocate a change in any provision of our constitution and laws, but, in the language of the President, which we quote with approval, "Our whole system of self-government will crumble either if officials elect what laws they will enforce or citizens elect what laws they will support. The worst evil of diregard for some law is that it destroys respect for all law. For our citizens to patronize the violation of a particular law on the ground that they are opposed to it, is destructive of the very basis of all the protection of life, homes and property which they rightly claim under other laws."
- 4. That we are in no sense concerned with party politics nor with the fate or future of any political party. But in all great moral questions we are deeply concerned, both as citizens and Christians, no matter how they may become related to politics or questions of Government.
- 5. That, as we have frequently done heretofore, we declare our intention and purpose not to support for President of the United States, Senator, Representative, Governor, or other officer of high and responsible position any candidate who is hostile to or does not openly and frankly support our present prohibition laws, but to seek the defeat of any such candidate no matter what party label he may wear.

IV. Concerning Pending Legislation:

That your Commission be authorized to urge upon Congress the speedy enactment of the several legislative measures recommended by the President in keeping with suggestions of the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Law Observance.

V. Concerning the work of the Commission on Social Service:

That your Commission be authorized to confer with the Executive Committee of the Convention to see if some plan can be worked out by which your Commission can by quiet, personal approach call out funds to enable the Commission to establish permanent headquarters and employ a capable man to give all of his time to the task of representing the Convention in the field of Social Service; and if such plan can be worked out the Commission be authorized to proceed accordingly.

According to the Convention's action (see 1929 Convention Annual, page 87), the $25,000 allocated annually for payment of principal and interest of the Bond Issue for New Mexico is a preferred item, we therefore recommend:

That the $25,000 included in the 1930 Home Board for New Mexico be transferred to the Executive Committee; and

Any deficit left from the 1930 payments be made up by a bank loan and the $25,000 plus the bank loan be made a preferred item in the 1931 budget, and thereafter the $25,000 item be made a preferred item, until the obligation is discharged.

The Report of the Executive Committee as amended and approved seriatim was then adopted as a whole as follows:

THE THIRD ANNUAL REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Austin Crouch, Executive Secretary, Nashville, Tennessee, 1930

Your Committee is deeply grateful for the co-operation it has received, especially on the part of state boards and of Southwide agencies, in the performing of its arduous duties, and for the sympathetic attitude on the part of the constituency of the Convention.

Promotion and Publicity

1. Resignation of Mr. Burkhalter. In September, the Executive Committee suffered a great loss in the resignation of Mr. Frank E. Burkhalter, to accept the position as head of the Department of Journalism of Baylor University, Waco, Texas. Mr. Burkhalter had been the Publicity Director for the Co-operative Program since the beginning of the Seventy-five Million Campaign. He is a citizen of the highest type; deeply interested in all the causes fostered by the denomination, and fully informed concerning all denominational affairs. Mr. Burkhalter is an earnest, prodigious worker. And he proved, while Publicity Director, that he is thoroughly familiar with all lines of publicity. Your committee predicts for Mr. Burkhalter a brilliant career in his new work. It also expresses the hope that he may train hundreds of Baptist young men and women to become effective journalists and publicists and that he may instill in them the same high ideals that he cherishes.

Since the going of Mr. Burkhalter from Nashville, the Executive Secretary has, in addition to his other duties, carried on the work of publicity.

2. Publicity. Included in the publicity of the office of the Executive Committee during the past year has been the publication and distribution of tracts. These tracts have been distributed in the usual manner through the various state offices, each state paying for whatever literature it ordered. Approximately 600,000 copies were thus distributed.

The office published and furnished free to pastors 16,650 copies of a 64-page hand-book on "How Baptists Work Together," and four issues of the Baptist Program, a total of 44,650 copies. Articles have been furnished the denominational papers from time to time. Many speakers before the district associations and other gatherings have been furnished with suggested reports, outline of addresses, and other special data as they have called for such assistance. The office has continued with gratifying results its syndicated weekly church bulletin service that goes to about 250 churches, representing every state in the Convention's territory. We issue an average of 50,000 copies of this service weekly, featuring brief news articles and illustrations concerning the various phases of work embraced in the Co-operative Program, stewardship, personal devotion and other messages calculated to deepen the spiritual life of the readers.

Promotion. Several conferences have been held during the year. These have been with state boards, state secretaries, Southwide agencies and others. These conferences have been profitable in many ways.

The Executive Secretary or other representatives of the Committee attended the various state conventions and spoke in the interest of the Co-operative Program. The Executive Secretary has also spoken during the year on a variety of occasions—before assemblies, Sunday school conventions, pastors' conferences, Woman's Missionary Societies, missionary rallies and in churches.

Matters of Promotion

1. Interpretation of the Convention's Action. The Convention last year, upon the recommendation of the Promotion Committee, adopted the following: "That the Promotion Committee be discontinued and that the responsibility for the conduct of the promotional work be entrusted to the Executive Committee."

Your Committee's interpretation of this action is: (1) That the Convention entrusted to it only that promotional work which had formerly been done by the Promotion Committee.

- (2) That the Convention by its action did not relieve its various agencies of their responsibility for promoting the interests of the causes which they represent. Based on the above interpretation we recommend that the Southwide agencies in accordance with By-Law 9 of the Convention be authorized and instructed to mobilize and use forces that in their judgment will be adequate to promote properly the interests committed to them, and that such promotion be worked out in conference with the Executive Committee.
- (3) That the Convention by its action did not either assume the responsibility for conducting all the promotional work for the Co-operative Program within the various states or in any way to interfere with the right, privilege and duty of the State Boards to make and carry out their own plans for promoting the Co-operative Program. Your Executive Committee should, and plans to, work out co-operative promotional problems in the various states in conference with the several Boards and Secretaries.
- 2. Problem of Enlistment. Your Committee believes that one of the greatest problems confronting our denomination is the problem of enlistment. After making a careful survey, Dr. E. P. Alldredge makes the startling statement that only 30 per cent of our people have been enlisted in the support of denominational causes, thus leaving 70 per cent unenlisted.

This great company of unenlisted Baptists have a "like precious faith with us." They have been redeemed by the blood of Christ, regenerated by the Holy Spirit, and have confessed Jesus Christ as their Saviour and Lord. Therefore, they constitute a mighty potential missionary force. They need only to be made to see their duty and to feel their responsibility. And it is the duty of somebody to carry out in their case the last part of Christ's great commission: "Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you."

3. Goal in Enlistment. The ultimate aim in promotional work is to enlist every individual Baptist in supporting every phase of the Master's program. The individual is the ultimate unit in religious activities. He is responsible to Christ in all things, and must render an account of his stewardshp unto Christ. Money for the current expenses of churches and, also, for the support of denominational causes, does and must come from the voluntary offerings of the individual members of churches. Every Christian should earnestly consider his obligation to support the work being done to further the Lord's cause and he should do his full duty. In this matter, the plan of Paul is a safe guide, namely, "Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him."

- 4. Administrative Expenses. Inasmuch as it has been brought to the attention of this Committee that among the states of the South there is a wide diversity of opinion as to the items that may rightfully be chargeable to co-operative funds before the distribution of the same, we recommend that the Executive Committee be instructed to take this matter up with the State Boards and Secretaries and seek to arrive at a more nearly uniform and equitable basis for such charges.
- 5. Spring Campaign. That in those states where there is a disproportionate distribution of funds to state and southwide causes we earnestly seek the cooperation of those states in making special campaigns for southwide causes in the spring months.

A Co-operative Program of Promotion

In the opinion of your Committee, Southern Baptists have an adequate number of general and special organizations for promotive and administrative work. And they are well adapted to our church and denominational policies and to the genius of Baptist organizations. All that is needed in the matter of enlistment is for them to formulate a co-operative program of promotion, determining what lines of publicity and promotion should be done by each organization. We, therefore, submit an outline of such a program and make some suggestions as to how it may be made to effectively function.

1. Churches and Promotion. The church is the ultimate, essential, organized unit in the furtherance of the cause of Christ throughout the world. It is a divine institution. To it has been committed by the Lord himself certain duties and functions which it is to perform and for the performance of which it is responsible to him, and to him only. While it is self-governing and independent of all human authority in the conduct of its affairs yet it may, as it may determine. co-operate with and give its support, financial or otherwise, to any movement which is advancing the cause of Christ. Most missionary, educational and benevolent work beyond the community where the church is located is thus supported. Very few Southern Baptist churches do or could carry on independent work along these lines. Most of them are interested in and are supporting the denominational Co-operative Program. Every church should earnestly consider its responsibility in this important matter, and make every effort possible to fully meet its obligation. Its full obligation cannot be met until every member has been enlisted in doing his duty.

To enable the church to have a worthy share in advancing the cause of Christ, we make the following suggestions: First, that the pastor endeavor to keep the fires of evangelism burning, seeking to reach the lost of the community; that he preach on distinctive Baptist doctrines, showing the necessity for giving them to the world; that he preach frequently on the various phases of the worldwide purpose and program of Christ, laying upon the hearts of the people their duty as followers of Christ. Second, that the church adopt a double-budget, namely, a budget for current expenses and a budget or goal for the Co-operative Program. Third, that the church make a thorough everymenther canvass, securing if possible a pledge from every member to each object. Fourth that the church send promptly and regularly all funds for the Co-operative Program to the state board. This should be done at least once a month. Some churches are now making weekly remittances. Fifth, that it take two special offerings a year for the Co-operative Program, one in the spring and another in the autumn, or one for Southwide causes in the spring and one for state causes in the autumn, if that is the plan of the state where the church is located. The purpose of these special offerings is two-fold: (1) To secure offerings from the members of the church who are not giving regularly to denominational support, and (2) To give an opportunity to regular givers to make an extra offering if they desire. Many regular givers do not pledge at the beginning of the year all that they are able to give.

2. District Associations and Promotion. We realize the important place occupied by the district associations in the life and activities of the denomination. Therefore, we make the following suggestions: First, that adequate time be given in the program of the annual meeting of the association for the discussion of every phase of our denominational work. Second, that the Executive Committee of the association actively function throughout the year in promoting the Co-operative Program. The Executive Committee of the association should hold frequent meetings. And it should make out a worthwhile program for its work. Third, that there be discussions of denominational affairs at fifth Sunday meetings, or other general meetings held during the year. Fourth, that a church-to-church campaign be made at least twice a year, giving information and securing co-operation, and in non-budget churches offerings should be secured for the Co-operative Program.

- 3. State Executive Boards and Promotion. The Executive Board or Executive Committee of a state is the main promotional agency within the state for the Co-operative Program. Therefore, the Board or Committee should give much thought to the work of promotion. It should consider the interests of the various causes, determine the best methods of publicity and promotion, and work constantly and persistently at the task of enlisting churches and individuals in full and hearty support of the whole denominational program. The state board should work out in detail a program of promotion but a mere suggested outline of the work that the state can and should do along this line would unduly cumber this report.
- 4. Southwide Agencies and Promotion. We consider it the duty of each agency of this Convention to promote its interests in the following ways: (1) Prepare literature setting forth an account of its work and needs; (2) Furnish informing articles to denominational papers from time to time; (3) Carry on speaking campaigns as it thinks best, especially furnishing speaker when requested to do so, for Assemblies, Conferences and Church Schools of Missions; (4) And to use any other method of promotion that it finds helpful, provided that nothing shall be done by an agency that will conflict with the interests of any other cause included in the Co-operative Program.
- 5. The Executive Committee and Promotion. Herewith is submitted a brief outline of several methods of promotion that have been used by the Executive Committee and that it should continue to use in the future: (1) Confer with Southwide agencies, with state boards and with other agencies concerning matters of common interest, especially looking toward a co-operative program of promotion; (2) Prepare for the states all literature of a general character that they may desire to use; (3) Publish and send free to pastors the Baptist Program as often as it finds advisable; (4) Prepare from time to time articles for the denominational papers on different phases of denominational work; (5) Continue to furnish a church bulletin service for churches desiring to use it; and (6) Use any and all additional means and methods that it may deem advisable to promote the Co-operative Program.
- 6. The Women's Missionary Union and the Baptist Brotherhood and Promotion. While we cannot go into detail, yet we desire to testify to the great value of the work being done by these organizations. Their educational work produces results of untold value in giving information concerning all denominational causes, in deepening an interest in them, and in developing a conscience in the matter of individual stewardship. And their activities bring in hundreds of thousands of dollars into the treasury of the Lord. Beyond doubt, these organizations will continue to have a large part in the success of the Co-operative Program and of the various causes included in it.
- 7. Denominational Publications and Promotion. There are certain denominational publications which are wholly given to the task of advancing the interests of denominational causes. While not endeavoring to make a complete list of these publications, we call attention to the following: "Home and Foreign Fields," published by Sunday School Board; "Royal Service," "World Comrades," and "The Open Window," published by the Woman's Missionary Union; and "The Baptist Program," and "Church Bulletins," issued by the Executive Committee.

In addition to these, there are a number of other denominational publications, while not specifically for the promotion of the general causes of denomination, yet, which have done and can do much along this line. We refer particularly to the various publications of the Sunday School Board.

We call special attention to the value of the denominational papers; both the denominationally-owned and the privately-owned ones. The denomination should be grateful to them for the fine service they have rendered during the past, and look to them for the same fine service in the future. But it should not stop with an expression of gratitude. It should do more. Most of our denominational papers, because of comparatively small circulation, are laboring under heavy financial burdens. These burdens can and should be lightened. One way (and other ways, doubtless might be found) to do this is for all who are interested in the welfare of the causes fostered by the denomination, to lend a hand in helping to increase their circulation. Much thought and effort should be given to this vital matter, vital alike to the papers and to the denomination. A wide circulation of the denominational papers is the best and, also, the cheapest method of keeping denominational affairs constantly before the people.

8. Pastors' Conferences and Promotion. The Baptist pastors, in the various cities and larger towns throughout the territory of the Convention, have weekly meetings. Your committee believes that much good would result if they should give one program a month to the consideration of denominational affairs. Such discussions could be made both interesting and profitable. And surely, twelve programs out of fifty-two should be given to the consideration of matters which are so vital to the pastors, the churches, and to the whole denomination. We further suggest that, at such meetings, each pastor report the amount of money given during the preceding month by his church for denominational causes.

In many associations, the pastor holds monthly conferences. It would be well, in our opinion, for them to give at least four meetings during the year to a consideration of denominational affairs.

Your committee expresses the hope that the various Pastors' Conferences will seriously consider these suggestions.

Matters Referred by the Convention

- 1. Unfinished Business of the Convention. The only unfinished business of the Convention that we discovered was failure to appoint a "committee on Missionary Education" as provided for in recommendations on Schools of Missions. The committee was to consist of "a representative from the Foreign Mission Board, the Home Mission Board, the State Mission Boards, the Sunday School Board, the Woman's Missionary Union, and the Men's Brotherhood." This committee was appointed as follows: I. J. Van Ness, T. B. Ray, J. B. Lawrence, J. T. Henderson, Miss Kathleen Mallory and R. B. Gunter.
- 2. The Baptist World Alliance. The action of the Convention is as follows: "As the Baptist World Alliance deals with questions and relationships beyond the proper sphere of the Sunday School Board, therefore we suggest that the Convention refer this matter to the Executive Committee and that the Committee be authorized at its discretion to draw upon the Sunday School Board for an amount not to exceed $2,500 annually for the purpose stated."

Pursuant to instructions, the committee has drawn on the Sunday School Board for $2,500.00 and has forwarded the same to the office of the Baptist World Alliance, London, England.

3. Baptist Bible Institute Emergency Appeal. We quote the action of the Convention: "That the Convention authorize an emergency appeal by the Baptist Bible Institute, the amount of the emergency fund required and the method of raising the funds to be determined in conference between the administrative officers of the Baptist Bible Institute and the Administrative Committee of the Executive Committee."

The committee, in conference with the President of the Baptist Bible Institute, passed the following resolution:

"1. That the minimum amount of the emergency appeal shall be as follows August 1, 1929, Trustee's Notes (Balance)	:
February 1, 1930, Bonds Maturing
February 1, 1930, Second Mortgage Note
Total$148,153.50

- 2. That in conducting the emergency appeal the following principles shall govern:
 - (1) That no organized collecting agency shall be employed.
 - (2) That individual representatives may be employed when necessary.
- (3) That the work be done in each state in conference with the secretary or the board of that state, seeking as far as possible to conform to their plans.
- (4) That any other details of the emergency appeal be left to the administrative officers of the Baptist Bible Institute."
- 4. Allocation of Southwide Funds. Concerning this matter, the Convention's action is as follows:

"The Convention also urges that the states, in the interest of exercising the spirit of co-operation, in the interest of the Co-operative Program and all our Southwide causes, leave the percentages of distribution of undesignated Southwide funds to this Convention; and that the Executive Committee of the Convention be instructed to confer with the several states for the adjustment of this matter."

Your committee took this matter up with the various states, except Arizona, and with the District of Columbia. All of the states except four are at this time dividing Southwide funds according to the percentages of this Convention.

- 5. Committee on Arrangements. Hight C. Moore, George E. Hays and J. Calvin Moss were appointed as Committee on Arrangements. They have worked with the local committee of the entertaining city, New Orleans, Louisiana. The Convention is now enjoying the results of their labors.
- 6. Bond Issue for New Mexico. In answer to an urgent appeal from New Mexico for the Southern Baptist Convention to come to the financial relief of the Baptist Convention of New Mexico, the Executive Committee made the following recommendations which were adopted by the Convention last year:

"In response to this appeal the Executive Committee recommends that the Convention procure and provide a minimum of $35,000.00 per year and a maximum not to exceed $40,000.00 for work in New Mexico, and instruct such agency or agencies as it may elect to make such appropriations from year to year, as may be necessary in carrying out the will of the Convention herein expressed, and that the exact details be worked out by the executive secretary of the Executive Committee of the Southern Baptist Convention, the secretary of the New Mexico Baptist Convention, and the secretary or other representatives of such agency or agencies as may be required by the said Executive Committee to co-operate in providing the sum herein referred to.

"We further recommend that the president of the Convention appoint a committee of three or more to draft and present to this Convention an enabling resolution giving force and effect to these recommendations." (Page 64, 1929 Convention Annual.)

The president appointed a special committee of five to draw up "an enabling resolution." The Convention adopted the recommendations of the special committee, which are as follows:

"Resolved, That the Convention empower and instruct its Executive Committee to carry out the will of the Convention as expressed in its action providing for the New Mexico program, as set out in the general report of the Executive Committee made to this Convention, and that said Committee be, and is hereby empowered to provide or to instruct such other agency or agencies, as it may elect, to borrow in the name and behalf of this Convention the sum of not more than $250,000.00 for the purpose of refinancing the present indebtedness of the New Mexico Convention and to procure and provide in cash an annual irrevocable sum of not less than $25,000.00 out of the total sum provided for the whole New Mexico program and that such annual sum shall be hypothecated to the service of the principal and interest of such loan.

"That the Executive Committee cause said loan to be secured by a first mortgage on college property of the New Mexico Convention valued at above $500,000.00, as appraised and set up in the auditor's report. The loan to be secured by said mortgage to extend over a period of not more than fourteen years.

"That the Executive Committee through its proper officers be and is hereby instructed and empowered to execute, in the name and as the obligation of the Southern Baptist Convention, any and all bonds, contracts and agreements necessary to give this action effect in the solution of the New Mexico problems." (Page 87, 1929 Convention Annual.)

Pursuant to the instructions of the Convention, the Executive Committee negotiated a bould issue amounting to $250,000.00. The bond issue was floated through Bitting & Company, of St. Louis, Mo., with the St. Louis Union Trust Company as trustee. The bonds are "First Mortgage Six Per Cent, Serial Gold Bonds," and are the obligation of the Southern Baptist Convention. The bonds were sold at ninety-two dollars on the hundred dollars.

The results secured from the proceeds of this bond issue, are, according to the statement of T. V. Neal, Program Manager, as follows:

"Complying with your request for total amount settled from proceeds of $250,000 credit advanced to refund old obligations of New Mexico Convention on account Montezuma College, prior to November 30, 1928; when we were asked to take charge as Program Manager, and worked out plan with creditors. We are pleased to submit the following for your information:

Paid on old Bonded Debt to Canal Bank, Principal, Interest, Call

Premium and Collection Costs	8.75 5.00
Total on old Bond Account	6.38
Total
Net amount settled from loan, by payment discount, donation, on account and offset	7.53

"With reference to the above we call your attention to the fact that settlement obtained has the effect of causing bonds to yield the equivalent 101½, or a premium of 1½%, so far as Southern Baptists are concerned, and more than confirms our statement that refunding would be so handled as to cost Southern Baptists nothing. Since they were willing to make an allowance for cost of refunding we would prefer to have same applied on much needed improvements as part of our present $100,000 Citizens Campaign!

"We call your attention to the further fact that the saving by virtue of the difference in interest rate on handling the business as now undertaken by the Convention will produce a net saving during the life of the contract of above $30,000. This in turn will make the average annual increase of appropriation to the whole New Mexico mission field less than $2,000 under the new plan, per year, over the average annual appropriation made in former years."

According to the Convention's action (see 1929 Convention Annual, page 87) the $25,000 allocated annually for payment of principal and interest of the Bond Issue for New Mexico is a preferred item, we therefore recommend:

That the $25,000 included in the 1930 Home Board for New Mexico be transferred to the Executive Committee; and

Any deficit left from the 1930 payments to be made up by a bank loan and the $25,000 plus the bank loan be made a preferred item in the 1931 budget, and thereafter the $25,000 item be made a preferred item, until the obligation is discharged.

Affairs of the Education Board

The Executive Committee has not yet asked for a legal transfer of the affairs of the Education Board. The delay has been caused by the finding of some complications in connection with the titles to the property at Umatilla, Florida. We are, therefore, asking that the members of the Education Board be reappointed.

1. Umatilla. (1) The Committee found it necessary to have an abstract made of the Umatilla property. The abstract revealed certain defects in some of the titles to the property. Most of them, however can doubtless be cleared up without much trouble or expense.

There is a mortgage of $9,375.00 on the property upon which the Assembly buildings have been erected. This mortgage was against the property when taken over by the Education Board, but our understanding is that the Education Board did not at that time know of the mortgage. The mortgage bears eight per cent interest and has been running for about four years. The buildings and equipment of the Assembly cost about $62,500.00. Some $50,000.00 of this amount was given by people, Baptists and others, upon the solicitation of representatives of the Education Board. For this property to be sold under the mortgage would occasion the loss of the buildings.

- (2) According to an agreement with the Education Board, the annual Winter Assembly at Umatilla, Florida, has been conducted, for the past two years, by the State Board of Missions of the Florida Baptist Convention. This has been done, so we understand, without expense to the State Board of Missions, the freewill offerings of the people attending the Assembly having paid all expenses. It is the purpose of the Executive Committee to make, if possible an agreement with the Florida State Board of Missions to continue this arrangement for a period of years, unless instructed otherwise by this Convention. vention.
- 2. Ridgecrest. The Southern Baptist Assembly at Ridgecrest, North Carolina, was, according to agreement, conducted by the Baptist Sunday School Board. Under the agreement, the Sunday School Board will conduct the Assembly this year and next.

3. Nuyaka. The management of the Indian School and Orphanage located at Nuyaka, Oklahoma, was, by action of the Convention last year, transferred to the Home Mission Board.

4. Debt of the Education Board.

Bonds	notes)	18.252.48
Notes Payable at Bank		69,392.13
		$403,644.61

5. General Statement. The funds provided for the Education Board through the Co-operative Program have been received and expended through the office of the Executive Committee. The receipts and disbursments are set forth in the financial statement herein submitted. These figures demand careful considera-The Executive Committee has charged no expense for operation against the funds allocated to the Education Board. All of the expenses, except for abstract, incurred by the Executive Committee, traveling expenses, attorney's fees, etc., have been paid by the Committee out of its operating budget. It has been necessary for your committee to borrow from time to time funds to meet the obligations of the Education Board imposed upon it by the Convention. At the present time we have notes payable at the bank amounting to $69,392.13.

Out of the funds received for the Education Board, we have, according to the instructions of the Convention, paid $2,500.00 to the Education Commission.

The New Financial Plan

The new financial plan of handling funds adopted by the Convention last year has been in operation only four months, from January 1, 1930. And let it be remembered that the new financial plan is a plan for handling funds, and not a method for raising money.

As is doubtless true of all new methods, there has been some little confusion, growing out of certain details, in getting the plan in perfect operation. But there has been no real friction and, so far as we have heard, very little criticism on the part of the agencies involved, either state or Southwide. The Committee here expresses its gratitude to the state boards and to the Southwide agencies for the fine spirit of co-operation which they have manifested.

All of the states, except two, are now sending all, or certain of their funds for the various Southwide agencies through the office of the Executive Committee. Some of the states send designated funds direct to the agencies. But we hope that this matter of detail will soon be satisfactorily adjusted, so that there will be, on the part of the states, uniformity of procedure.

Within another year, we believe that the constituency of the Convention will recognize the wisdom of the new plan.

How Funds are Handled by Executive Committee

- 1. Upon receipt of check for Southwide causes, a receipt is sent the remitter, showing amount going to each cause out of the check.
- 2. All checks and money orders received are stamped for deposit in bank handling the particular account.
 - 3. A carbon copy of all deposit slips is kept on file in the office.
- 4. All bills are paid by check, and all distributions are made by check, signed by treasurer and counter-signed by bookkeeper. Checks are supported by vouchers, examined by two parties before presented for signature.
- 5. Distribution of Southwide funds is made twice a month, the fifteenth and last day of the month, clearing the books each time.
- 6. When a check is sent an agency it is accompanied by an itemized statement showing source from which the money is derived. In case of special designation, this is reported according to information furnished our office.
- 7. All designated funds are sent to agencies for which they have been designated.
- 8. All Co-operative Program funds are distributed according to the percentages of the Southern Baptist Convention.
- 9. The books of the Executive Committee are balanced at the end of each month. Three copies of the trial balance are made—one for the treasurer, one for the Executive Secretary and one for the files of the bookkeeper.

- 10. A monthly statement of receipts and disbursements is made on the tenth of each month, and a copy sent the editors of denominational papers, the state secretaries and the heads of Southwide agencies.
- 11. Loans for all money borrowed are negotiated through one bank, and all notes are signed by the treasurer and by the Executive Secretary.
- 12. An Investment Committee, appointed by the Executive Committee, does all the buying and selling of securities.
- 13. All trust funds are maintained intact and securities representing investment of these funds are kept in a locked box in the vault of a Trust Company. The box can be entered only when two parties are present, they having been specifically appointed by the Executive Committee.
- 14. A record of all securities, with full information concerning each security, is kept in a book specially prepared for that purpose.
- 15. The books of the Executive Committee are audited annually by certified public accountants who make a complete verification of all transactions of the Committee, including a confirmation of receipts from the state boards and an actual count of all securities held in trust by said committee.

Trust Funds Handled by Executive Committee

1. Dorothea Van Deusen Opdyke Fund. The income from this fund is to be used in assisting young people of the mountain districts in securing an education. This year ninety-one young men and young women, in each half-term of the school year, have been thus helped. But we shall not be able to assist so many this coming year. Last year we had on hand an accumulation of interest.

We recommend that the fund this year be administered as heretofore, permitting the Executive Committee to make any change in minor details that it may find advisable.

A financial statement of this fund, and of all other trust funds, will be found in the report of the auditor.

2. James Edloe Stout Fund. From the sale of property in Washington, District of Columbia, we have received this Convention year $2,145.44, the sale of the property having been authorized by the Convention. The fund now amounts to $3,281.44 principal and interest. By action of the Convention, the interest accruing from funds in the savings bank was to be added to the principal upon the final settlement of the estate. The proceeds from the sale of the property located in Washington, District of Columbia are, we are informed, "in full settlement of the interest of the Southern Baptist Convention in the estate of James E. Stout, deceased."

Bearing upon the purposes for which the income from this estate must be used, we quote from the will of James Edloe Stout, dated December 29, 1922: "Of what shall remain I give one-half in trust to the Southern Baptist Convention to be apportioned and appropriated to the various causes whose interests the Southern Baptist Convention promotes."

We recommend: First, that, in harmony with its action, the Convention instruct the Executive Committee to set up the James Edloe Stout Fund in the sum of three thousand two hundred eighty-one dollars and forty-four cents ($3,281.44); second: that, in conformity with the terms of the will of James Edloe Stout, the Convention instruct the Executive Committee to apportion and appropriate the income from the James Edloe Stout Fund to the various causes whose interests the Southern Baptist Convention promotes, according to the percentages of allocations which it establishes year by year.

3. The Jefferson Herrick Fund. Mr. Jefferson Herrick, of Atlanta, Georgia, left in his will, property "consisting of twelve acres more or less" to the Southern Baptist Convention with instructions "to sell at not less than twenty-five thousand dollars and reinvest in real estate that will bring in the best possible income and at the same time be likely to increase in value." From such income, each of his two sisters were to be paid $50.00 per month during life.

The Convention declined to accept the property on the conditions stipulated. An agreement was entered into by the two sisters and the representatives of the Southern Baptist Convention to the effect that the property be sold and that the proceeds from the sale be divided equally among them. The Executive Committee, on behalf of the Southern Baptist Convention, has received from the estate of Jefferson Herrick the sum of $2,569.68, principal and interest. We are informed that there is a note for about $5,000.00 outstanding given by the purchaser of the property. The Southern Baptist Convention will receive one-third of the proceeds of the note when collected.

Concerning the income from this estate, Mr. Herrick expressed his desire, in his will dated July 1, 1912, as follows: "It is to be used in such a way as will best promote the winning or bringing of souls to our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ."

Your Committee asks for instructions concerning the use of this fund.

[The Convention instructed that distribution be made as of the James Edloe Stout Fund.]

4. Miscellaneous Trust Funds. The Executive Committee holds for the Convention sixty (60) shares of stock of the Nashville, Decatur Railroad Company, total par value $1,500.00, twenty (20) shares of stock of the Covington-Cincinnati Bridge Company, total par value $2,000.00, and two (2) one thousand dollar bonds of the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, total par value $2,000.00. All of these were given to the Convention.

The income from these stocks and bonds is distributed according to actions of the Convention.

Miscellaneous Items

1. Seal for the Southern Baptist Convention. So far as your Committee knows, the Southern Baptist Convention, Incorporated, has never adopted a seal. From time to time it is necessary either to affix the seal of the Convention to legal documents, or to have an attorney draw up a legal statement to the effect that the Convention has no seal. We, therefore, recommend that the Convention adopt as its seal the diagram and wording as shown below.

- 2. Every-Member Canvass. We recommend that the annual Every-Member Canvass be put on simultaneously as far as possible, in every state and church from November 30 to December 7, 1930, and that this be preceded by at least two months of thorough preparation and organization.
- 3. Expenses of the Executive Committee. The expenses of the Executive Committee, according to the instructions of the Convention, are borne by the Sunday School Board. Last year the Committee was allowed a budget of $30,000.00, but we have drawn on the Sunday School Board for only $22,500.00. The expenses of the Committee will be larger next year than this year. We, therefore ask for authority to draw upon the Sunday School Board for a total sum not to exceed $30,000.00.

4. Report of Auditors. That a verified audit by certified public accountants be made of the books of all agencies of the Convention as of December 31 of each year; and that along with the submission of the certified statement for the calendar year each agency in its annual report to the Convention submit a statement of receipts and disbursements from January 1 to April 30, for the information of the Convention.

- 78. The request of L. R. Scarborough, Texas, that the same privilege be granted to the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary as to the Baptist Bible Institute for securing funds to cover an emergency deficit in running expenses was, on motion of H. L. Winburn, Arkansas, referred to the Executive Committee.
- 79. W. L. Ball, South Carolina, presented the report of the Committee on Time, Place and Preacher as follows and it was adopted:

We recommend that the 1931 Convention be held at Birmingham, Ala., May 13, 7:30 P.M.; that Dr. J. W. Phillips, Mobile, Ala., preach the annual sermon or the alternate, Dr. J. L. White, Miami, Fla.

The Committee would recommend that the program committee in conference with the local committee shall provide for special services on Sunday.

80. T. Clagett Skinner, Virginia, submitted the report of the Committee on Resolutions and it was adopted seriatim and as a whole, the Convention rejecting the resolution as to debt-paying campaign and as to annual meetings of the Boards:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS

Resolution I

WHEREAS, We are in great financial distress, making it necessary to call upon all our people to live and give sacrificially, and

WHEREAS, We believe that the vast majority of the brotherhood would be greatly impressed with the sincerity of the call, if our leaders are placed on a basis of support more nearly in accord with that of the average supporters of our program. And,

WHEREAS, As the called of God we should not measure our value in terms of dollars or cents, but rather in service. Therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the maximum salary for the executive officers of our boards, institutions, commissions, brotherhoods and committees, supported in full or in part, by the Convention, shall not exceed $5,000 per year. And further, the maximum salary of other employees shall not exceed $4,200. Adjustment to be made as of July 1, 1930, or if legal difficulties should arise, as soon thereafter as possible.

Recommendation

Your Committee recommends that this resolution be referred to the various boards, agencies and institutions of the Convention for their consideration.

RESOLUTION II

WHEREAS, Our Home and Foreign Mission boards are paying large sums of interest on their indebtedness, and that this indebtedness should be paid in full, at the earliest possible moment, and

WHEREAS, the Sunday School Board, by the sale of periodicals and other religious literature used by our churches and Sunday schools, has been enabled to carn large profits, therefore be it

RESOLVED, (1) That all the net profits accruing to the Sunday School Board for the years 1930-1931, be given to the payment of the debts of the Home and Foreign Missions Boards. That the amounts to be given these boards be determined by the action of this body, and in the absence of such action, then by the Executive Committee.

(2) That we commend the Sunday School Board on its efficient business management.

Recommendation

Your Committee reports unfavorably on the resolution, but recommends that the Convention instruct the Sunday School Board to consider the wisdom of aiding the Mission boards out of its annual income.

RESOLUTION III

Realizing that the Southern Baptist Convention was organized primarily to promote and foster missions and realizing that we have been losing ground for the last several years in spirit, interest, contribution and accomplishments in our program of world missions, therefore, be it

RESOLVED (1), That a committee be appointed from this Convention, during this session, by its president, composed of ten of its members, four of whom shall be laymen, four pastors, and two women, and that we instruct this committee to make a thorough re-study of the whole mission situation as it relates itself to Southern Baptists and world missions at home and abroad, giving special consideration to conditions as they are on foreign fields at the present; to the conditions that hamper work on each mission field; a careful study of the fields in the light of modern progress and invention; a careful study of the changed attitudes in the minds of the people on our foreign fields; a careful study of modern mission methods, motives, appeals, and approaches; and a most careful study of the attitude of our people at home toward missions in general; and recommend to this Convention a program for future activity such as they feel will remedy the present situation at home and abroad and create a new interest on the part of our people, issue a new challenge to our churches, and outline a program that they believe will mean greater victory for our workers on the field, and more support from the churches.

RESOLVED (2), That the committee shall advise as far as possible with missionaries, mission secretaries, Mission Board member, and Mission Board employes, but that no missionary or mission secretary or Mission Board employe shall be a member of the commission.

RESOLVED (3), That this committee be asked to report its findings at the next session of this Convention, and that they publish in the denominational press any portion of their report that they deem wise to give out before the next meeting of the Convention.

RESOLVED FURTHER, That the expenses of the Commission be provided for by the Sunday School Board of this Convention, and that this committee meet as often and at whatever place they deem expedient in order to carry out the wishes of this Convention as expressed in this resolution.

Recommendation

Believing that the matters indicated in these resolutions belong properly to the Executive Committee, your committee recommend that the resolutions be referred to the Executive Committee with power to act.

RESOLUTION IV

RESOLVED, That this Convention hereby authorizes its Executive Committee, in co-operation with the Home and Foreign Mission Boards, to designate a month in the coming Convention year as Liquidation Month, and that the forces go afield to raise a minimum of $500,000, in cash, to be applied, half each to the Home and Foreign Mission Boards, to apply on present indebtedness, and thereby make it unnecessary to reduce mission operations at home or abroad in order to satisfy creditors of the Boards, or to show satisfactory progress in debt reduction.

Recommendation

Your committee reports unfavorably on this resolution, and in lieu thereof, we recommend that all of the agencies and institutions of the Convention put their full strength into the Co-operative Program.

RESOLUTION V

BAPTIST WORLD ALLIANCE OFFICES

4 Southampton Row, London, W. C. 1

To the Members of the Southern Baptist Convention, in Session at New Orleans.

Dear Brethren: May I, as General Secretary of the Baptist World Alliance, offer hearty greetings to the Assembly which represents the largest constituent of the Alliance? I anticipate that President MacNeill will attend, and that he will so effectively voice the feeling of your brethren throughout the world, as to make any lengthy communication on my part needless.

The one matter regarding which I would earnestly appeal to my Southern Baptist friends is the situation in Russia. Yours was the first great Baptist Convention at which I had the responsibility of reporting the very serious developments of repression in that land. The whole world now knows what was implied in the changes of the law and constitution of Soviet Russia which took place last year, and were accompanied and followed by an intensified attack upon religion, which has put a stop to evangelisation, led to the imprisonment and banishment of more Baptists than at any earlier period, and involved enormous suffering to individuals. The whole world is coming also to understand that these evils are due to the unwavering resolution of the Communist Party, which in Russia has the monopoly of political power, to eliminate every form of religion. There is no remedy short of the granting of real religious freedom in Russia. While this is withheld, any temporary slackening of pressure represents a mere change of tactics.

May I venture to quote in full the appeal solemnly adopted last year by the Baptist World Alliance and circulated with the signature among others of your beloved and honoured President, Dr. George Truett: The words are as follows:

"The Executive Committee of the Baptist World Alliance, assembled in Detroit, U.S.A., on Friday, May 17, 1929, appeals to Baptists of every race and tongue, and to all other lovers of religious freedom in all parts of the world, to offer continuous and united prayer for their fellow-believers in Russia, and for all others who in that land in this twentieth century are denied religious liberty, and exposed to disabilities and persecutions because of their loyalty to their conscience and their Lord."

In my deliberate judgment and that of others closely acquainted with the position, this call to continuous and united prayer remains urgent as ever. Southern Baptists, I am certain, will not fail to hear and respond.

I trust that the presence and power of God will be manifest throughout your assembly!

Yours in the service and fellowship of the One Lord, J. H. RUSHBROOKE.

Recommendation

Your committee recommends that the Convention express itself as in fullest sympathy with the appeal, and that this letter be referred to the Foreign Mission Board with instructions that the Board give to it the greatest possible publicity.

RESOLUTION VI

LAUNCHING A SOUTHWIDE ENLISTMENT PROGRAM

By E. P. Alldredge, A.M., D.D.

Secretary, Survey, Statistics and Information, Baptist Sunday School Board Nashville, Tennessee

To the President and Messengers of the Southern Baptist Convention:

I wish to offer certain resolutions looking to the setting up of a great Southwide program of enlistment; and I beg the indulgence of the president and messengers of the Convention for the privilege of presenting such facts as will make clear the vital urgency and necessity of taking this step at this time.

The Vital Urgency of a Southwide Enlistment Program

I do not wish to suggest that much has not already been done along the line of enlistment. On the contrary, in soul-winning, in contributions to missions and benevolences, in Sunday school, B.Y.P.U. and W.M.U. work, and in the building of new houses of worship, wonderful things have been accomplished by Southern Baptists within the past ten years. The tragedy of it all is, that practically 70 per cent of our forces have had no part in all these achievements and have remained substantially untouched by all these forward movements.

Soul-winning: Let us look, for example, at the soul-winning work of our churches during the past ten years. It is true that we have baptized over 2.000,000 souls in the last ten years—more than any other two and almost as many as any other three denominations in America—but all of us know that we could and should be baptizing a million every year; whereas we reported 183,020 baptisms in 1928!

Why? Well, 6,587 of our churches reported no baptisms at all; and 1,453 churches made no sort of report! That is to say, 8,040 churches, or one-third of all our churches, did not report a single baptism! And 1,473 other churches reported only one baptism each! Moreover, fully 10,000 other churches just played at the task, winning, all told, less than 50,000 persons to Christ! Whereas 5,107 of our churches won 130,000 souls to Christ in 1928! In short, 5,000 of our churches are on the job in this great matter of soul-winning; more than 8,000 of our churches are doing nothing at all, and almost 11,000 of our churches are playing at the job! God knows we need enlargement in soul-winning among Southern Baptists!

Gifts to Missions: It is the same story in our gifts to missions—some of our churches leading almost everything in the nation; some doing very little and many doing nothing at all, and the whole situation crying to heaven for the remedy which can only be given through a great, well-planned, Southwide, constructive program of enlistment! Here is the record of 1928, as best we can ascertain the facts:

Churches giving nothing to missions, etc	7 060 (20 13%)
Churches giving less than one-fourth of their total budgets
to missions, etc	12,137—(50%)
Churches giving more than one-fourth but less than one-half of their budgets to missions, etc	4,583—(18.87%)
to missions, etc.	485—(2%)
, , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , ,	400-(2/0)

Let us note also the following facts:

Two hundred sixty-six fewer churches gave to missions and benevolences in 1928 than in 1926.

One thousand two hundred sixty-seven fewer churches gave wholly through the Co-operative Program in 1928 than in 1926.

Our mission and benevolence gifts have fallen off an average of $400,000 a year, since 1925, until 1929 they showed a gain of $238,000.

Is it not time, high time, to launch a great constructive program of enlistment which will call in the help of that great army, comprising 70 per cent of our forces, which, year in and year out, has no appreciable part in the great work of this Convention?

Sunday Schools: The same condition obtains in Sunday school work. Southern Baptists have made greater Sunday school progress within the last twelve years than any other denomination in America—in fact, almost as much as any other two great denominations in the nation. But here are some facts which indicate all too clearly that we have really made only a wonderful beginning:

62 per cent) are not in Sunday school!

At most, we have 150,000 trained officers and teachers in active service at this time; whereas our present Sunday schools require 550,000 trained officers and teachers; to say nothing about the officers and teachers needed for a great advance. Ought not the whole army of Southern Baptists to be called out in a great Sunday school enlistment campagin?

B.Y.P.U.: If there is any parallel to the progress of the young people's work among Southern Baptists since 1918, I have been unable to find it; but the following facts indicate that the real task of the B.Y.P.U.'s of the South has also just begun:

Only 48 per cent of our 24,010 churches have B.Y.P.U.'s, 52 per cent, or 12,675, of our churches have no sort of organized young people's work of any character in them! That is to say, of the total 1,550,864 young people in our churches of the B.Y.P.U. age, 1,050,300 of them are unorganized, undeveloped and untrained in any sort of church work! In B.Y.P.U. work we need a great enlistment and enlargement campaign!

W.M.U. Work: It is the same story in the W.M.U. work of Southern Baptists! In its plans, program and progress we know of no woman's work in the nation which compares favorably with the W.M.U. work of the South. On the other hand, only 11,628 (47.8 per cent) of our churches, approximately, have any sort of organized woman's work in them; whereas 12,646 (52.2 per cent) of our churches are wholly without any kind of woman's work! And, although the churches having no organized woman's work in them are rural churches, we estimate that more than 600,000, perhaps 750,000, women are members of these churches having no woman's work in them.

Church Houses: Southern Baptists have been severely criticized for putting so much money, in recent years, into new and remodeled church houses. The facts do not justify most of this criticism, as the following summary will show:

 The per capita investments of Southern Baptisits in church property is now $60; that of Roman Catholics is $61; that of the Campbellites is $77; that of Lutherans is $84; that of Methodists is $93; that of Presbyterians is $187; that of Episcopalians is $188; and that of Congregationalists is $206. That is to say, Baptists still have the lowest per capita investments in church property of any main religious group in America.

Then let us note these further facts:

Southern Baptists, in 1928, had 2,787 churches without any sort of houses of worship!

Moreover, of the 21,491 church houses reported in 1928, fully 65 per cent of them were the old-time one-room houses (13,969) and 15 per cent (or 3,224) of those which had more than one room were inadequate; whereas not more than 20 per cent of the church houses of Southern Baptists were really adequate to the work of the churches in 1928.

Some Encouragements toward a Great Enlistment Program

If these facts illustrate the vital urgency of a great, constructive, Southwide enlistment program, there are many equally challenging facts which lend encouragement to such an undertaking. Let us look at some of them:

For one thing, Southern Baptists have never before had a Co-operative Program which was so manifestly fair to all interests, so wise and business-like in its operation and so easily understood by the great masses of our people as we now have. If we ever expect to enlist our people in a great co-operative, worldwide service for Christ, surely this is the time to strike! For, while the records show that only 11,267 of our churches supported the Co-operative Program in 1928, they also show that in nine-tenths of our churches which did not support the program, no one had ever effectively presented this great matter to the churches and pressed it home on their hearts. In God's name, let's give the Co-operative Program a chance; for in so doing, we will give Southern Baptists such a chance to do great things for God as they have never known!

Again, the marvelous things accomplished by Southern Baptists with 30 per cent of our forces enlisted constitutes the greatest possible encouragement to work out and follow out a great enlistment program which will awaken, arouse and call into battle at least 70 per cent of our forces!

For example, we have baptized over 2,000,000 souls within the last ten years with 30 per cent of our forces working at the job! What could we do, in the next ten years, if we had even 70 per cent of our forces enlisted in this great task?

We gave $17,720,781.26 to missions and benevolences in the five years before the 75 Million Campaign (1914-1918); whereas in the last five years of the Co-operative Program (1925-1929) we gave $39,365,743.46 to missions and benevolences—a net increase of $21,644,962.20, or over 122 per cent! This is a marvelous achievement and leaves no ground for any sort of pessimism, but what sort of gain could we have accomplished, if we had had even 70 per cent of our people enlisted instead of 70 per cent unenlisted?

We have added a round million to our Sunday school enrollment in the last twelve years, in spite of the fall-down in 1929, and the percentage gains of Southern Baptist Sunday school enrollment has been practically twice that of all other denominations. But this gain was made in face of the fact that 62 per cent of our white church members are not yet even enrolled in Sunday school! What could we do in the next ten years, yea in the next five years, if even 75 per cent of our church members could be enlisted in this great task of teaching and studying together the Word of God!

Finally, the time seems opportune for laying our hands to this great task of enlistment. I make the statement without the fear of successful contradiction: Southern Baptists were never more harmonious and agreed on all the great essential matters than they are today. There is no other great interest or cause before our denomination at this time. We have all the machinery or organization we need to work out and follow out a great Southwide enlistment program—without a single new feature. Much has been and is being done by our various agencies along this line already. Is not this the time to call together representatives of all our estates—churches, associations, state conventions, Baptist papers, Southwide Boards, etc.—and sit together and counsel together and plan together a great, constructive, Southwide program of enlistment?

A Suggested Way Out

Now, with 70 per cent of our forces unenlisted, I hold that it is a crime for Southern Baptists not to come together and counsel together and find a way to meet this difficult task and master this challenging situation. And I insist that the remedy is to be found not by the Southern Baptist Convention assuming the whole burden of this task, for the churches as such have a large part in this task, the district association likewise must have a large part in this task, and the State Conventions, of course, must shoulder great responsibilities, if we are to successfully deal with this great problem. And since all our agencies and estates have their part in this task and, since the Southern Baptist Convention, as such, not only has its part, but in addition should give moral leadership to all Southern Baptist forces and undertakings, why may not this Convention call a Conference on Enlistment, comprising representatives of all our estates and all our boards, which conference will come together at an early date and work out a Southern Baptist Enlistment Program, covering especially the work of the churches, the associations, the state conventions and the Southern Baptist Convention; and let the several parts of this program be so co-ordinated that the churches and district associations may know what is expected of them and the state conventions and the Southern Baptist Convention may know their respective responsibilities?

It is not necessary that any extra organization be set up; we only need to work out a great constructive and unified program of enlistment and then let the churches do their part, the associations their part, the state associations their part and the Southern Baptist Convention its part; but all agencies, in their several spheres, work together with all the others, until this great task is accomplished.

We are not proposing a new campaign with new, overhead management; we are proposing the working out of a great, co-ordinated, constructive program of enlistment and the leaving of the several agencies to do their own work in their own spheres. We can work together as we are, if only we have a great, constructive, unified program or standard toward which to work. Let "us have a program of enlistment that will call out and challenge and use all our forces—the W.M.U.'s, the B.Y.P.U.'s, the Sunday schools, the Men's Brotherhood, the churches, the associations, the State Conventions and this Southern Baptist Convention.

Resolutions on Enlistment Conference

Looking to such conference, composed of representatives of all our estates, which will work out such a co-operative, constructive program of enlistment, I move the adoption of the following resolutions, viz.:

Resolved, First, That this Convention appoint a Conference on Enlistment Program, consisting of the following groups, viz.: (1) The president, recording secretaries of the Convention, and representatives of the boards and institutions of this Convention; (2) the state executive secretaries and the editors of the State Baptist papers; (3) the executive secretaries of the Men's Brotherhood and of the W.M.U. of the South and the W.M.U. of each state; (4) the Sunday school and B.Y.P.U. and Brotherhood leaders in each of the states; and (5) not less than twenty others who have done special enlistment work, either as pastors, state missionaries or associational missionaries.

Resolved, Second, That this Southwide Conference on Enlistment Program be called to meet at Nashville June 3-5, 1930.

Resolved, Third, That this Conference on Enlistment be instructed to work out and publish a unified, co-ordinated, constructive program of enlistment, covering the work of the churches, associations, state conventions and the Southern Baptist Convention.

Resolved, Fourth, That the report and program of enlistment worked out by this conference be referred to the churches and the executive heads of the various agencies of our associational, state and Southwide work for such action as the churches and these several agencies may deem wise, and that a report of this conference be given to this Convention a year hence.

Recommendation

Two members of the Resolutions Committee recommend that this matter be referred to the Executive Committee.

RESOLUTION VII

Resolved, That we instruct the boards of the Convention to hold their annual meetings at their headquarters where all their files and records will be available.

(Not adopted.)

81. The Convention adjourned with prayer led by C. T. Taylor, Virginia.

FRIDAY—Evening Session

- 82. The Convention met at 7 P.M., John R. Sampey, Kentucky, commented on John 13, and led in prayer.
- 83. The Report of the Hospital Commission was presented by Secretary Louis J. Bristow, Louisiana.

The chief of the medical staff, members of the Commission, and nurses of the Baptist Hospital, New Orleans, were introduced to the Convention, and Chief-of-Staff Dr. J. P. O'Kelley presented diplomas to the thirteen graduates this year.

After an address by F. S. Groner, Texas, the Report of the Hospital Commission was adopted:

SIXTH ANNUAL REPORT OF HOSPITAL COMMISSION

In making its Sixth Annual Report the Hospital Commission is pleased to welcome the Southern Baptist Convention to New Orleans. Historic in career, strategic in location, abundant in opportunity for service, "America's Most Interesting City" is a challenging mission front to evangelical Christianity. For more than a century Southern Baptists have been a feeble folk in New Orleans, but now the dawn of a new era is tinting the Eastern horizon. And the Southern Baptist Hospital is an agency which is contributing mightily toward bringing in the new day.

Statistical figures are not capable of setting the true situation before the Convention. The mere recital of stories of healing—broken and deformed limbs adjusted, blind eyes opened, weakened bodies made strong, depressed minds enlivened, anxious hearts calmed, sin-cursed and despondent souls given new hope in the Saviour—the mere recital of actual facts cannot fully reveal either the type or volume of service rendered by the Hospital.

The Auditor's Report which is attached indicates the financial status of the Hospital. As a business enterprise it is operating successfully, showing a net balance at the close of the year. All bonds maturing were paid, and substantial payments were made upon the outstanding notes. Receipts from the Co-operative program fell short of paying the interest by more than $5,700; and from its earnings the Hospital paid that balance, and also every dollar that was paid on the principal of the debt.

Free Work

The Hospital received from individuals, churches, etc., direct $5,030.94 for charity; while the free service given cost the Hospital $36,133.19. We direct special attention to this feature of our work. To put upon the Hospital the double burden of paying the capital debt and caring for its charity work is an impracticable and impossible task. We think the denomination should pay for the plant and its equipment, and thus enable the Hospital to make necessary replacements and enlargements.

The following figures exhibit some pertinent facts:

Days of Service Given 46,313 Days of Free Service Given 4,309 Days of Part Free Service Given 3,968 Cost of Free Service $36,133.19 Less Gifts Received from charity 5,030.94

More detailed figures will be found in the report of the Auditor and that of the Statistical Secretary of the Convention.

A Standard Hospital

The Southern Baptist Hospital ranks high among American institutions of healing and teaching. It has been approved by the American College of Surgeons for its scientific work. It has been approved by the American Medical Association for the training of internes, giving graduates from Class A. Medical colleges their fifth year of teaching. It has been approved by the Board of Nurse Examiners for the teaching and training of nurses. There is no higher authority than these bodies to pass upon the excellence of the Hospital's work of healing and its qualifications for teaching doctors and nurses.

A Christian Institution

The Hospital is Christian in its organization and life. It is a distinctly Christian contribution to suffering humanity, primarily set for the healing of diseased and injured bodies of men. And many are the testimonials by patients and others to the Christian attitude of doctors, nurses and others.

Each day is begun with a chapel service of worship and prayer. While Christian, there is no sectarianism in its service, but Protestant, Catholic, Jew or other may have on an equal footing with Baptists each his own pastor, priest, rabbi or other minister; and we promptly and cheerfully call such upon request; and in some cases, upon our own initiative. The influence of the Hospital for good is inestimable and at the same time its influence in enhancing Baptist prestige and making for goodwill is very great.

Southern Baptist Hospitals

Hospitals form a major branch of Southern Baptist activity. There are 28 such hospitals in the South, having 3,576 beds, with 1,355 student nurses and a property value of $16,069,891.68. The total volume of business done last year was $4,225,812.19, exclusive of denominational payments on capital investments, which amounted to $429,060.05.

These hospitals cared for 109,291 patients, giving them a total of 1,777,188 days of service, of which 246,981 were days of free service at a cost to the denomination of $649,456.08. Add to this the value of the services of physicians and surgeons given these thousands of poor folk free of charge (which is a sum not easily computed) and we see that our hospitals are doing as Christian charity a stupendous work for the sick and suffering. Truly we are in a great and worthy ministry and are following in the Saviour's steps when we are engaged in "healing humanity's hurt."

El Paso Sanatorium

During the year the Home Mission Board again approached the Hospital Commission with the request that the latter take over the operation of the Tuberculosis Sanatorium in El Paso. Committees were appointed by both bodies to consider the request. While we are not unmindful of the action of the Convention when the Hospital Commission was created to have both the Convention's Southwide hospitals under one management; we cannot see how a transfer of responsibility can be made unless and until adequate provision is made to take care of the annual deficits in the fiscal affairs of the Sanatorium.

Conclusion

We make no specific recommendation: but direct your attention to the report of the auditor and request that in fixing the financial plans of the Convention for the next year adequate provision be made to care for the capital debt of the Hospital, and the interest thereon, from denominational funds. This is becoming noticeably necessary with the annual depreciation of the property and the correspondingly increasing cost of replacements.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CONFERENCE WITH THE NORTHERN BAPTIST CONVENTION

To the Southern Baptist Convention:

Dear Brethren:

We, your Committee appointed to confer with a like Committee from the Northern Baptist Convention on the matter of the two Conventions holding their annual sessions in Washington, D. C., on consecutive weeks, would report as follows:

Dr. J. B. Lawrence represented this Committee at the Northern Baptist Convention in Denver. The matter was referred to the Executive Committee of their Convention.

The chairman, Dr. M. E. Dodd, has conducted considerable correspondence with the Executive Committee and with our brethren in Washington, D. C.

Owing to the meeting of the Baptist Young People of America in Washington during 1931 and to the two hundredth anniversary of George Washington celebration in 1932, it is deemed best to postpone the recommendation of such meetings for our Convention until 1933.

We, furthermore, believe that such meeting in 1933, which is the year for the next meeting of the Baptist World Alliance, will best serve our Baptist interest throughout the world. We recommend that this, or a similar committee, be continued to complete final arrangements for such meetings in Washington, D. C., during 1933.

M. E. DODD, Chairman, J. B. LAWRENCE, GOVE G. JOHNSON. 95. The Report of the Committee on National Baptist Memorial was presented, as follows, by B. D. Gray, Georgia, and after remarks by Gove G. Johnson and James Sharp, District of Columbia, it was, on motion of J. T. Watts, Maryland, referred to the Executive Committee:

NATIONAL BAPTIST MEMORIAL

On account of the financial stress of the year, it has been impossible to make any payment on the $70,000 still due the Memorial on the $175,000 promised by the Convention and we recommend that the Memorial be assured of the Convention's purpose to pay the balance as soon as possible.

The Northern Baptist Convention paid their $175,000 some time ago and that should be an additional incentive for the speedy payment of the balance due by us. This will help the Memorial to go forward in the prosecution of their plans for additional facilities to meet the growing demands of their great work.

Respectfully submitted by two of your Committee,

B. D. GRAY, T. C. SKINNER.

96. The Report on the American Baptist Theological Seminary was presented by General Secretary O. L. Hailey, Tennessee, and the report of the treasurer of the Commission on the Negro Theological Seminary was presented by Treasurer I. J. Van Ness, Tennessee:

THE REPORT OF THE AMERICAN BAPTIST THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY O. L. Hailey, General Secretary.

In presenting this report it is intended to incorporate two distinct features, one of which is the report of the Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention on the American Baptist Theological Seminary. The other is a report from the Board of Directors which they feel should be presented by them directly to both the Southern Baptist Convention and the National Baptist Convention. These reports have been formally adopted by each of the several bodies in regular session.

FOR THE COMMISSION

We are presenting the report of the American Baptist Theological Seminary which is closing its sixth year of work with an encouraging record and outlook.

For detailed information concerning the Seminary and its work we refer to the report of the Board of Directors which we are submitting at the same time.

We also submit our financial report which is a part of this report and bringing our request for the Seminary Budget. The budget which we submit is as follows:

SIXTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE AMERICAN BAPTIST THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY, NASHVILLE, TENN., BY THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

While the Seminary has been in operation six years this is the first formal report that we, the Board of Directors, have presented to the two co-operating bodies, the Southern Baptist Convention and the National Baptist Convention. Heretofore the affairs of the Seminary have been reported to these conventions through the Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention. But we deem it proper and expedient that we, the Board of Directors, to whom are committed the management and control of the Seminary under the terms of the charter, shall report directly to the two conventions which appoint us and which foster the Seminary.

The founding and building of the Theological Seminary is a slow and laborious process. This has been found to be true, we believe in the case of all Theological institutions. It is more difficult to found a Seminary, even than a college. This is true mainly because of two facts: (1) A Theological Seminary appeals to a limited constituency so far as available students are concerned; (2) Seminaries charge no tuition fee and hence have greater problems in finding adequate support than do colleges.

The work of our Seminary has made slow, but we hope steady, progress for the past six years. We feel that the Seminary is now in a better way to command a somewhat adequate support than it has been heretofore.

The Year Just Closed

At the annual meeting of the Board held in April, 1929, Dr. W. T. Amiger, who had been serving as President, owing to the impaired state of his health, was relieved of the heavier responsibilities of the office of President and made a Professor. At that meeting Dr. J. H. Garnett was elected Chairman of the faculty and Administrative Officer, the Board deciding that it was better for the time not to fill the office of President. Soon after commencement 1929, Dr. Amiger died after a week's illness. His death occurred on May 20, 1929.

On Augut 18, 1929 Dr. P. James Bryant of Atlanta, Ga., died. He was a valued and efficient member of the Board. Rev. R. C. Barbour, D.D., was elected by the National Baptist Convention to fill Dr. Bryant's place.

On October 10, 1929, Dr. E. M. Lawrence of Nashville, Tennessee, died. He was an honored member of the Board and had served as Treasurer of the Board for some time.

Dr. E. W. D. Isaac was elected to succeed Dr. Lawrence as Treasurer and Dr. J. B. Mullins was chosen by the Board to fill Dr. Lawrence's place on the Board until Dr. Lawrence's successor is duly chosen by the National Baptist Convention.

Two other teachers, Dr. F. L. Sanders and Dr. R. C. Barbour were elected. Mrs. J. H. Garnett was elected Matron of the Dormitory and as Tutor, to teach some under graduate subjects. With these associates Dr. Garnett organized the school for the year and has conducted it with very commendable success, when we consider the difficulties of the situation. There have been enrolled during the year forty-four students; seven of these were enrolled in the night classes which were taught in the building of the Sunday School Publishing Board of the National Baptist Convention, and three of these have been women studying missions. With all the adverse denominational conditions it has been a difficult year to finance the institution. But more people, white and colored, have manifested their interest in this school than ever before. A larger number of people have made contributions to the Seminary though none of these has been large. The white churches of Nashville have shown their sympathy by giving "pantry showers" to the dormitory, which have made it possible to maintain and operate the boarding department and to care for the students. The Woman's Missionary Society of the Immanuel Baptist Church of Nashville has given ten dollars a month to the Student's Aid Fund of the Seminary. The Board would express the satisfaction and encouragement which come through these manifestations of interest on the part of white Baptists of Nashville.

Organization for Next Year

At the annual meeting of the Board held Tuesday, April 8, 1930, Dr. J. H. Garnett was elected Dean and Acting President for the next year. Two colored pastors of Nashville, F. L. Sanders and R. C. Barbour were elected as half-time professors and it was decided to elect another full time, resident professor. Mrs. Garnett will continue her services. This will give us the most adequate teaching force that the Seminary has had and we look forward with hope and confidence to next year's work, so far as the organization of the faculty is concerned.

In addition to the work done by the professors, Dr. O. L. Hailey, General Secretary of the Seminary, delivers occasional lectures, and special lectures are provided by visiting pastors, both white and colored throughout the year.

Sources of Financial Support

For its sources of income the Seminary relies mainly upon the constituency of the National Baptist Convention which, by our working plan, agrees to contribute two-thirds of the funds necessary to maintain the Seminary, and the constituency of the Southern Baptist Convention through its Commission one-third of the amount necessary, not to exceed $7,500. The amount supplied by the Southern Baptist Convention is indicated in the report of I. J. Van Ness, Treasurer, Southern Baptist Commission. Some interested and sympathetic individuals make contributions also.

The income of the Seminary from the National Baptist Convention for the year just closing is, as shown by the Treasurer's report, $11,580.74. While this is an inadequate income, it is better than we have been able to report heretofore and we feel encouraged to hope and believe that each succeeding year will bring an increase of interest on the part of our Baptist people, both white and colored, and also increasing contributions to the Seminary's treasury.

The financial report is attached to this report and made a part of it. The report of Dr. E. W. D. Isaac, who is Treasurer of the Seminary and who handles all the joint fund contributed by the constituency of the two conventions and by other friends of Negro Theological education. Let it be kept in mind that this report covers the expenses of running the school and of this alone.

Facing the Facts

The question of education is one of vital concern when the Negro race or any other people are under consideration. In 1928, the United States Department of the Interior made a careful survey of Negro schools in which they had the co-operation of the Department of Education. We are here using some data taken from that report. We have also called upon the Department of Survey, Statistics and Information of the Southern Baptist Convention and upon the Statistician of the Northern Baptist Convention, Dr. Chas. A. Walker, for help.

Percentage of Illiteracy

From the information received from the aforesaid sources we conclude that of white native-born Americans there are 2.5 per cent illiterate; of foreigners and their children 13.1 per cent illiterate; and of Negroes 22 per cent illiterate. The average illiteracy of the people in the United States is 5.9 per cent. Considerable effort is being made at this time on the part of many states and on the part of the Federal Government to reduce these illiteracy figures.

In January, 1930, the General Secretary of the Seminary wrote to every school, white and colored, in the United States where it was supposed there would be Negro students for the Baptist ministry. This included the schools, both white and colored, in the North and the Negro schools in the south.

In Schools

White people have in their high schools and colleges ninety individuals out of every ten thousand of their population; Negroes have in similar schools only fifteen out of every ten thousand. It is a well-known fact that the Negroes do not have as favorable opportunity for educating their youth as do white people. But they deserve the highest commendation for their heroic efforts and prodigious sacrifices for education.

Educating the Preacher

The Negro preacher is still the most influential leader among his people. But with changed and changing conditions, it is not difficult to see that the untrained preacher can not long hold his place of leadership; indeed, he is already rapidly losing his place of leadership, in many communities and in some he has already practically lost it. This is bringing a real crisis to many of the colored churches and communities. We must place increased emphasis upon the education of the Negro minister, both as to his literary and his theological education, if this great mass of twelve million Negroes in America are to have worthy and efficient leadership in their social, moral and religious life.

Demand and Supply of Negro Preachers

Those who are in position to judge, tell us that one thousand trained Negro preachers are needed annually in the United States. In our survey of Baptist schools mentioned above we have been able to find hardly one thousand Negro students for the ministry in all the Baptist schools, North and South. Of those not more than 25 per cent would be reckoned as further advanced than the eighth grade of our public schools, many of them below that. And from the above information it appears that only about seventy-five to one hundred might be expected to graduate from Theological schools this year. It is perfectly apparent, therefore, that if in anything like a worthy and adequate way we are to meet the demand for a well trained Negro ministry, we must have for this Seminary a larger support, both financial and in the number of students.

Student's Aid Fund

It has been manifest that some assistance must be given to the students who desire to attend the Seminary. The General Secretary, O. L. Hailey, was asked to devote attention to this subject. The Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention agreed to supplement this fund on the same basis of percentage as that which they give to the Maintenance Fund. The Board of Directors is giving the matter of helping the students special attention.

This fund has already rendered considerable assistance to the students. It is being administered most carefully, in co-operation with the Business Committee and the Board of Directors. The General Secretary himself is under bond. The balance in hand to the credit of this fund is $651.28. It is recommended that the Student's Aid Fund be given very favorable consideration by the friends of the Seminary.

The Stiteler Memorial

Mrs. Kate Stiteler McKie, a member of the First Baptist Church, of Corsicana, Texas, has given to The Student's Aid Fund of the American Baptist Theological Seminary, $5,000.00 to establish a permanent memorial of her honored father, Rev. Jacob Beverly Stiteler. Brother Stiteler was a Baptist preacher who was deeply interested in the education of the Negroes. He was one of the early teachers in Baylor University at Independence, Texas.

This fund has been invested upon the approval of Mrs. McKie, and the proceeds are to be used in helping worthy students in the Seminary while they pursue their studies.

The gift is greatly appreciated and it is hoped that others may be inspired to make permanent gifts to the endowment of the institution.

Promoting the Seminary

In order to conserve the limited fund available the General Secretary has not traveled as widely as heretofore but has covered some 25,000 miles during the year attending churches, societies, Sunday schools and conventions and speaking for the Seminary as opportunity allowed. He has conducted a more active correspondence from the office and has printed and distributed a large number of tracts which have aroused attention all over the field so that the outlook is really better than it has been before.

The Board of Directors joins the Commission in making the following Budget:

Suggested Budget for Commission on American Baptist Theological Seminary, May 1, 1931—April 30, 1932

Salaries$	4,300.00
General Expense	600.00
Traveling Expense	600.00
Seminary Expense Fund	3,000.00
Insurance	500.00
Emergency	1,000.00
Student's Aid Fund	2,000.00
Total$1	12,000.00

Conclusion

In presenting this report to the two conventions by which we are elected and whose servants we are, we appeal to the National Baptist Convention upon which the major responsibility rests, both for furnishing the finances and the students. We appeal to the pastors and churches composing the constituency of the National Baptist Convention, that they shall take the Seminary more seriously to heart; that they shall pray for it; send their students to it and furnish their portion of the funds necessary to maintain the Seminary. We appeal to the Southern Baptist Convention to continue its support and to match in a worthy way the efforts of our Negro brothers.

The above report was adopted by the Board of Directors in regular session on April 8th, 1930.

After remarks by O. L. Hailey, Tennessee, the report was adopted.

- 98. The report on Baptist Papers was presented by E. C. Routh, Oklahoma, and it was adopted, the Commission being continued:

REPORT ON THE DENOMINATIONAL PRESS

At the Memphis Convention last year the total circulation of the Baptist state papers in the territory of the Southern Baptist Convention, as reported by Dr. Alldredge, was 198,759. The total circulation this year, with reports received from all the papers, is 182,326, or a net loss in circulation in the past year of 16,433. This is not a healthy condition. While Southern Baptists are gaining in total membership, a total net gain of 64,769 being reported for 1929, the total circulation of the state denominational papers is decreasing year by year, in about the same ratio as the decline in receipts to the Co-operative Program. With one or two exceptions every Baptist paper in the South reported a loss last year in circulation and a deficit in financial operations.

These facts reveal an alarming condition. There are several contributory causes, the principal ones of which are: (1) The materialistic and rationalistic spirit of the age; (2) The vast and ever increasing number of attractively printed publications, many of them filled with a very low order of fiction; (3) The strenuous life with little time for Christian literature—not even the Bible; (4) The appeal of the automobile, the radio, and moving pictures; (5) The neglect of, and in many cases, the apparent indifference to, the circulation of the denominational papers, by pastors and churches; (6) The failure of the denominational papers themselves to meet the needs of our people and to grapple with the peculiar problems of this age.

In studying the serious problems of the circulation and support of denominational papers, there are two phases of their work which must be considered: (1) The business and (2) the editorial.

1. The business side of the paper is concerned primarily with the circulation and the advertising. It is difficult to increase the circulation where there is either little conscience on the matter of getting Baptist papers into the homes of our people, or little demand for constructive Christian literature. It is wellnigh impossible to build up the circulation of a denominational paper without the hearty, practical support of churches in placing the denominational paper in the homes of their people, either through individual solicitation or through the church budget. Only once in recent years has there been any general determined effort in the territory of the Southern Baptist Convention to increase the circulation of the Baptist papers. In 1919, in preparing for the 75 Million Campaign, the circulation of the Baptist papers in the South was doubled. We are not taking seriously the task of distributing Christian literature. We are playing at the business of informing, indoctrinating, and inspiring the people through the ministry of the printed page. Southern Baptists could in one week double the circulation of their papers if they would make up their minds to do it. That done, and our offerings to missions and benevolence would be more than doubled.

We must give more attention to publicity. The president of the National City Bank of New York City stated recently that his bank spent $100,000 last year to publish their bank bulletin which was sent all over the world. That amount of money was not considered a deficit. It was good business. The returns justified the expense. The denominational papers bring far more money to the denomination, not to speak of the lives enriched through their ministry, than they cost the denomination.

What about advertising? Why do not the denominational papers carry more advertising? The Christian paper is an excellent advertising medium; it reaches a class of people above the average in business integrity and in potential buying power; it is essentially a home paper; it is read more closely than almost any other publication; it is preserved in many homes for future reference. denominational paper in the country, whatever religious belief it represents, carries any appreciable amount of what is generally termed national advertising. Every effort has been made by religious papers, individually and collectively, to secure this class of advertising. Let the largest advertising agencies in the country tell us why we have not been successful. In gathering material for this report we wrote twenty-eight of the best known and most reputable advertising agencies. We received courteous, and in some cases, lengthy replies from fifteen of them. Their reasons for not advertising in denominational papers may be classified as follows: (1) Class publication. "The advertisers cannot attempt to segregate people into groups of Baptists, Methodists, Masons, brokers, etc. "The fact that a publication exists, or its organization is anxious to get advertising to pay its way, is no reason for a national advertiser using the publication." "A manufacturer of a product that can be sold to the general public even in a restricted class, finds it difficult to utilize a publication that will reach only a portion of even that class that he desires to reach." (2) The denominational papers offer small units of circulation. The combined circulation of all tional papers offer small units of circulation. The combined circulation of all of the Southern Baptist state papers, 182,326, will not interest seriously those advertisers that deal in units of a million, with more than a score of magazines, each offering from one to three millions in circulation. The combined circulation of magazines, each offering from one to three millions in circulation. They offer neither the local circulation nor the national coverage to attract such advertisers. (3) The duplication of advertising effort, although there is much duplication in magazine (4) The relatively higher advertising rate of denominational "Other classes of media generally bring better results for every dollar invested in advertising than the religious publication." (5) The difficulty of getting information from denominational papers concerning their circulation and the nature of that circulation. Will the subscription lists of all denominational papers bear the same inspection by the Audit Bureau of Circulation as will the best known daily papers and magazines? Not one evangelical denominational paper in the land submitted an "A. B. C." list to Ayers Newspaper Directory last year, and only one Baptist paper submitted a sworn circulation statement. (6) The carelessness of business managers of religious papers in following advertising schedules, in returning cuts, and in giving definite information sought by advertising agencies. (7) The lack of uniformity in advertising rates quoted to various advertising agencies. (1) The lack of uniformity in advertising rates quoted to various advertisers or advertising agencies. (8) Lack of standardization in page sizes, column widths, etc. (9) The lack of interest by the religious people in their own publications. One agency writes: "Members of the Christian Science Church seem to be organized to give credit to the Monitor when they purchase any product or service advertised in it." (10) We quote one letter: "When I was a lad, all the folks whose homes I went to, mostly took at least one religious paper. Right now, for the life of me I can't think of a single home where I see a religious paper represent on the old center table. The church home where I see a religious paper reposing on the old center table. The church that actually had a waiting list for its pews, now waits for some one to come and use them. We who were brought up in the good old way, can't laugh these things off. So we come to the conclusion that religious papers have lost their grip. It may be a wrong conclusion, but it's a stony road to try and convert our customers. There are smoother roads, so we take them."

It is difficult to interest outside organizations in advertising in denominational papers when our own denominational interests and institutions are advertising very little. That well-written display advertising run regularly by the various boards and institutions pays such boards and institutions in increased income or patronage has been demonstrated beyond question. If the various denominational interests will use the denominational papers as advertising media and put into them the money which is expended in other forms of publicity, not so effective, perplexing problems will be solved both for the papers and for the boards and institutions. Let all the boards and institutions make larger use of the denominational papers and pay for that service.

We may add that Baptists themselves must magnify their papers more before they can expect others to use them. Instead of using interdenominational papers or syndicate bulletins, let the Baptist churches use their own denominational papers, put them into the homes of their people, and otherwise so reinforce our own papers as to enable them to serve their Baptist constituencies more widely and more effectively. They can even make it practicable for the state papers to publish church or associational editions with one or two pages for that particular field. That would be cheaper, in many cases, than inter-denominational publications, or church bulletins.

What about the editorial side of our denominational papers? Letters were sent to a large group of representative pastors and laymen soliciting frank suggestions concerning possible improvement of our denominational papers. Here are some of them: (1) Do not use so much syndicate matter. Too much space is given to syndicate denominational appeals. (2) Put in more material that will interest laymen, young and old, and not preachers alone. (3) Strike out along new lines of policy. Most of the papers have not changed much the last (4) Make papers more devotional and more inspirational for mis-(5) Let each paper use more human-interest articles written especially for that paper. Deal with questions that project themselves into the every-day life of busy men. (6) Give the paper a good appearance. (7) Make editorials shorter, more spiritual, and more vital. (8) Let the propaganda of the various boards and organizations be shorter and more strikingly presented. Much of it is not read as now written. (9) Have a full page in the paper given each week to Bible exposition. (10) A broader outlook in editorial policy and a thoughtful, Christian treatment of events and movements which interest and affect the whole world. Give space to a wider field than they are accustomed to cultivate. (11) Magnify the news section of the paper. (12) Give more attention to the country churches. (13) Do not give so much space to departments which no one reads except those who are directly interested in them. Let the leaders of W.M.U., Sunday School, and B.Y.P.U. work furnish more human-interest material on concrete achievements in their fields, relating what is done, how it is done, and who is doing it. (14) Bring from week to week actual upto-date information from the field as to the work being done. Give the people information. (15) Let each state paper aspire to be a state paper and do its work well in that state, instead of striving to be a national paper.

All of these men appreciate the fact that the papers are struggling under heavy handicaps and that most of them, if not all of them, are compelled to make brick without straw. It is difficult to secure interesting sketches, stories and other inspirational material without paying for such material, but where is the money? The paper needs to be more attractive, but the same difficulty is faced again. No editor in the Southern Baptist Convention is satisfied with the paper he is publishing from week to week. But we can all do better and should do better along some of the lines already indicated. Let us strive more earnestly to make a paper that Baptists will want to read—will want to read because it is interesting and deals with vital achievements, tasks, and problems that affect every-day living. As. Dr. Gambrell used to say, "Let us keep the readers rather than the writers in mind."

Our brethren, throughout the South, are pretty well agreed, so far as we can learn their sentiments, that the denomination must do more than it has done to place our Baptist papers in the homes of the people, through the budget or otherwise, and that we need a more sensitive conscience on the question of the denominational paper than we now have. Only one state, Louisiana, had succeeded in placing the paper in the church budgets. Next to Louisiana comes South Carolina.

In the communications that have come to us there are divergent opinions on two points: (1) Whether or not state denominational papers should be denominationally owned or privately owned; and (2) whether we should have one Southwide paper, possibly with state editions. A considerable group of laymen and preachers advocate a return to private ownership, also one attractive Southwide paper.

On the first point there are advantages and disadvantages both ways. We see the same reason for denominational control of denominational papers as for denominational control of denominational schools. Both are molders of opinion and both have wide influence in determining future policies of the denomination. The editor should be free to follow his convictions in shaping the editorial policy of the paper, but the denomination should in some way be assured that the principal medium of its publicity shall at all times promote the highest interests of the whole denomination and not of any individual or group of individuals. For this reason it should have intimate control of such publicity medium so as to be able to correct any hurtful editorial policies that might develop. This control carries with it the obligation to support and utilize the denominational paper.

Another view closely related to this is that the convention of each state publish regularly a bulletin or house organ, giving full information to the people but leaving to privately-owned papers the cultivation of a fuller and richer cultural life. Let these house organs do one thing and one thing only—give information concerning the work of the Convention. This bulletin would cost money, however; probably more than the conventions are now putting into the denominational papers with a wider and more varied appeal.

We find with certain honored brethren the conviction that the present state papers should be superseded by one Southwide paper, with possibly two or four-page sections for each state. This would insure a more attractive paper and duplication of expense would be eliminated. The precedents of other general denominational papers of high editorial and mechanical merit do not give much encouragement. For instance, the Baptist, the official organ until recently of the Northern Baptist Convention, covering the whole territory of that Convention, has less circulation (15,000) than has each of several of our state papers in the South. The Christian Advocate of Nashville, covering the territory of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, has, according to Ayers Newspaper Directory, a circulation of 16,108. The Christian Advocate of the Methodist Episcopal Church, New York City, with special pages for the various sections in the United States, has only 48,045 circulation. The Watchman-Examiner, the great Baptist weekly of New York City, has a circulation of approximately 25,000, and continues to render faithful, effective service only because of the contributions of a few friends who are interested in the work which it is doing. We doubt if one Southwide paper would have one-half the circulation that the various state papers combined now have. The Home and Foreign Fields, our own attractive mission journal, with the whole South as its field, has a small circulation and reported last a year a deficit of $9,408. Moreover, with our Baptist polity, there is nothing to keep individuals, churches, associations, or state conventions, any time, from starting papers in the various states; and the local paper nearly always has a stronger and more intimate appeal to its constituency than has a more remote publication, however excellent it may be. A great educator east of the Mississippi, writes: "A Southwide paper could never have the affections of our people in the way that a separate state paper has."

These suggestions are passed on to Southern Baptists with the hope that such suggestions will stimulate thinking along this line and that Southern Baptists will in some way, for their own sake, and for the sake of a lost world, be more aggressive in their activities in enlarging the circulation of the papers which, in an era of jazz literature that is weakening the moral fibre of the people, hold up Jesus Christ as the Light and Life of the world. We do not make recommendations beyond those already embodied in this report, for the reason that, unless the Convention should consider the publication of a Southwide paper, this is primarily a question for the respective states; and for the further reason that more serious consideration should be given to the questions involved in the publication of denominational papers, before this Convention is ready to vote on any detailed recommendations.

99. The report on Evangelism was presented as follows by L. G. Broughton, Georgia:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON EVANGELISM

Your committee appointed by the last Convention to consider the question of Evangelism growing out of a resolution offered by Len G. Broughton at the last session of the Convention, beg leave to report as follows:

We regard with sacred importance the primary place of Evangelism in the New Testament. If we would follow the New Testament order, we must ever give the soul-winning propagation of the gospel first place in all our Baptist enterprises and work. We are well assured that any lapse in our efforts in this direction cannot do less than lead to failure in all else that we may attempt to do.

II.

It is also the conviction of your committee that our Baptist people in the South at the present time share with other Evangelical bodies the danger of passing from the old evangelistic order of the apostles, which was in the main that of congregational or mass Evangelism, depending upon the power of the Holy Spirit, moving effectually in the hearts of the people. Many are passing from this new Testament Evangelism to what is now called "Cultural Evangelism," or "Hand-picked Evangelism" or "Gum-Shoe Evangelism." By this method they intend to discredit our practice during all our history of mass or church revivals. We would, of course, encourage all effort in the direction of individual soul-winning. In fact, this has historically been most fully done by those who also preached Christ before the multitude. We cannot refrain at this time from sounding a note of warning against any propaganda that would cast a damper upon, or seem to place in secondary position, our old Baptist custom of church revivals.

III.

Your committee feels deeply conscious of the need at the present time of a great evangelistic awakening in our churches in the South. We, therefore, urge upon this Convention that it send forth a united appeal to the churches that they prayerfully bend low before Christ and receive the enduement of his Spirit and that they go forth like a mighty army with banners reviving the tens of thousand of back-slidden and almost forgotten church members; and in so doing we may confidently expect to bring in for kingdom's service the greatest harvest of saved souls that we have ever known from the millions now lost. We feel perfectly assured that a great forward movement in Holy-Spiritempowered Evangelism will carry within its sweep success in all the Godordained lines of church enterprises. On the other hand, we cannot escape the conviction that continued lukewarmness or indifference in this line will inevitably result in shrinkage and failure.

IV.

Viewing the situation carefully, your committee is profoundly conscious of the present need of fresh emphasis upon and devotion to Bible Evangelism, in which there is much preaching of the great Scripture doctrines of sin and salvation by and only by the atoning cross of Christ. There is testimony from many quarters, including responsible denominational workers, that there is a broad-felt hunger on the part of many, both old and young, in the churches for a fuller knowledge of the Bible which they are in many cases not receiving at the present time. No revival conducted on any other basis can contribute anything of a permanent value to the spiritual life of the church, nor can it win lost souls.

V.

Having called attention in a general way to this need—the need that lies beneath and conditions our ability to supply any and all other needs—we desire to lay before you the following recommendations:

- 1. That we earnestly urge all our pastors of Baptist churches throughout our Southern territory to earnestly strive to bring about in their churches and fields of labor, an unprecedented spiritual revival among their people.
- 2. To aid in this direction, we further urge that associations, state conventions, assemblies, Sunday school and B.Y.P.U. training schools and W.M.U. gatherings, provide as a part of their regular program a definite place and plan for the presentation of the primacy of scriptural Evangelism as compared to any and all other phases and forms of church endeavor; and we urge our denominational papers to do all in their power to foster this work and to teach our people its surpassing importance.

3. In surveying the whole situation that confronts us, your committee regrets that it cannot now go as far as it would like in suggestions of methods by which to meet our evangelistic opportunities and demands. Yet feeling as we do the importance of real Bible revivalistic Evangelism, both to quicken the back-slidden churches and to reach the unsaved, we recommend that the Home Mission Board at once inaugurate a program of Evangelism which shall include the following:

First, a Commissioner of Evangelism with the following duties:

- (1) To co-ordinate and co-operate with all our Baptist evangelistic forces, both independent evangelists and those employed by various Baptist agencies.
- (2) To carefully investigate, tabulate and publish all evangelistic and spiritual movements that may tend to encourage and strengthen our people along distinctily evangelistic and spiritual lines.
- (3) To aid pastors in every way possible in bringing people back to the regular services of the church, viz.: the morning and evening preaching service and the week night prayer, praise and testimony meeting.
- (4) To conduct evangelistic conferences with pastors and laymen, and students in our three Baptist seminaries, and in our other institutions of learning.
- (5) To attend state conventions and Baptist assemblies for the purpose of fostering a greater evangelistic spirit.
- (6) To keep a list of evangelists, pastor evangelists, and singers and their engagements, so as to furnish information to pastors.
- (7) To provide for the production of a more specific evangelistic literature, especially of tracts for circulation and distribution among the churches.
- (8) To report annually on the state of Evangelism to the Southern Baptist Convention.
- (9) To conduct evangelistic conferences at the sessions of the Southern Baptist Convention and where possible the state conventions, in co-operation with the state forces.

We further recommend:

- Second, (1) That as rapidly as possible, the Commissioner of Evangelism in co-operation with the Secretary of the Home Mission Board, and subject to the confirmation of the Board, shall appoint general evangelists and evangelistic helpers who shall serve under the direction of the Commissioner of Evangelism in carrying out the policy herein expressed of Convention Evangelism.
- (2) Recognizing that the present straitened condition of the Board's finances do not permit of any large added expenses at the present time, for engaging general evangelists, we recommend that for the present, only a partial organization be undertaken to the extent of the engagement of the Commissioner of Evanglism and then such other departmental evangelistic superintendents as the Home Board feels it can now undertake, who shall be assigned to territorial divisions of the Convention to conduct Evangelism through their own preaching and through the organization of evangelistic campaigns.

LEN G. BROUGHTON L. R. SCARBOROUGH W. W. HAMILTON

After discussion by L. G. Broughton, Georgia, and J. H. Anderson, Tennessee, the following resolution offered by R. A. McFarland, South Carolina, was adopted, and the report thus amended was adopted:

Resolved last, That the said Commissioner of Evangelism be not employed until the Home Mission Board finds its way clear to provide in some way for his salary and such other incidental expenses as are therewith connected.

APPENDIX A

EIGHTY-FIFTH ANNUAL REPORT

of the

FOREIGN MISSION BOARD

of the

1930

With profound gratitude to God for his blessing upon our work in foreign fields, and to our Southern Baptist brethren who have stood so loyally behind it during the year, the Foreign Mission Board presents its Eighty-fifth Annual Report to the Southern Baptist Convention.

ORGANIZATION

At the annual meeting of the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention held in Richmond, Virginia, June 12, 1929, the Board organized for the year by electing the following officers;

President, R. E. Gaines; Vice-president, Joshua Levering; Recording Secretary, W. A. Harris; Auditor, Basil M. Gwathmey; Attorney, Hill Montague; Treasurer, E. P. Buxton; Foreign Secretary, T. B. Ray; Field Representatives, W. D. Powell, T. W. Ayers.

At a full meeting of the Board held October 2, 1929, T. B. Ray was elected Executive Secretary, and a committee was appointed to recommend a man for Home Secretary.

After months of careful study this special committee at a regular monthly meeting of the Board, held March 13, 1930, recommended that Rev. W. Eugene Sallee be elected Home Secretary. This report was adopted unanimously.

The new Home Secretary is here with us. He is already widely known and loved by Southern Baptists. We believe the brotherhood will unite heartily with the Board in welcoming him to this new service. Let us all give to him that full co-operation and support which will make his service count for the most in developing our beloved foreign mission enterprise.

LOSSES BY DEATH

The Messenger of Death has invaded our missionary ranks this year and has taken from our presence three missionaries.

On July 25, 1929, Mrs. J. R. Mashburn died in San Angelo, Texas.

Mrs. Mashburn was born in Brownwood, Texas, March 16, 1896. She graduated with A. B. degree from Howard Payne College in 1922, and was also a graduate of the Southwestern Training School. She was married to J. R. Mashburn in August 1922, and she and her husband went out to service in China in the fall of that year.

Mrs. Mashburn's health gave way in China and they returned to America in 1927. Her service in China was brief, but effective. She had a pleasing personality and rendered a good account of her stewardship.

John Hansford Rowe died August 11, 1929, in Gotemba, Japan. He was born in Achilles, Gloucester County, Virginia, November 13, 1876. He graduated from Richmond College with A. B. degree in June 1903. In may 1906 he graduated from the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary with Th. M. degree. He was appointed missionary of the Board in 1906, and sailed for his field in the early fall of that year. Most of his service has been rendered in Kokura and the region round-about. He was a missionary of splendid parts. He did field evangelistic work, and when occasion called, he entered into school work. His major activity has been along the field evangelistic line.

He was a wise counselor, a zealous preacher of the gospel and a missionary of most dependable character.

W. E. Entzminger died at Petropolis, Brazil, January 18, 1930.

He was born at Blythewood, S. C., December 25, 1859. He was a graduate of Furman University, and of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. He was appointed missionary in 1891. His first field of labor was at Pernambuco, North Brazil, where in the face of bitter persecution he made a great contribution towards the establishment of our work.

In 1900 he moved to South Brazil where, in Rio, he began the publication of our Baptist weekly named "O Jornal Baptista." Along with the Jornal Baptista he developed the Brazilian Baptist Publishing House, now known as the Carroll Memorial Baptist Publishing House. With occasional intermissions he has been connected with this institution during his entire twenty-nine years of service in South Brazil.

While he devoted the chief part of his energy to the Publishing House, he was quite active in building up churches. Several churches in Rio owe their existence very largely to his zeal and capable leadership. Few men have made a greater contribution toward the spread of Christianity in Brazil than this great-hearted, peerless and untiring missionary.

REDUCING THE DEBT

It makes us very happy to be able to report a further reduction of our debt. The progress we have made in reducing the debt is shown by the following table:

Debt	January	1,	1928.									$1	,145,000.00
Debt	January	1,	1929.		 	 							961,200.17
Debt	January	1,	1930.			 							737,864.32
The o	debt May	1,	1930	is		 						$	615,137.32

The debt was reduced $187,423.56 during the year closing May 1, 1930.

We state again that our plan of reducing our debt is to apply to it 10 per cent of all receipts from the Co-operative Program, all special gifts made for this specific purpose and all moneys received from the sale of properties owned by the Board which are not now being used for mission purposes.

We have sold during the year only one small piece of property and applied the receipts to the debt. Other property is for sale.

We would express our profoundly grateful acknowledgment of the great gift of $190,130.81 made by the Woman's Missionary Union of the South in their Lottie Moon Christmas Offering taken December 1929, out of which $86,130.81 were applied toward the reduction of the debt. The Board never received a gift which it appreciated more or which brought to it more relief.

We are also very grateful to all others who have made special donations to this debt-paying fund. May their tribe increase. While everybody knows that in pursuing our debt-paying policy and plans, we are compelled to cut down appropriations to the work abroad, yet we hope to see the debt so reduced soon that our people, realizing the feasibility of wiping it out entirely, will rise up and do so without delay.

FACING THE FACTS ABOUT OUR INCOME

We must ask the Convention to give serious and specific consideration of our Board's financial condition and instruct us as to what we should do. Our receipts during the year just closed were $1,222,287.30. This was $206,369.61 less than the amount received last year. Such a falling off in our receipts at this time when the appropriations of the Board have been reduced already to the lowest amount upon which it seems possible to sustain the work at all, is appalling and raises the gravest questions about the course we must pursue. We call attention also to the sources of our income. The Board received from the Co-operative Program last year $802,065.00, and from designated gifts $568,867.00. This shows that our designated gifts comprise over 40 per cent of our total receipts. Therefore, any diminution of our designated receipts not compensated for by increased receipts from the Co-operative Program will quickly and disastrously affect the very existence of the Foregin Mission Board.

While we have been and still are crippled by a heavy debt, we have pointed out recently that the debt is not our chief trouble. Even if the debt were paid we should still have the chief problem confronting us, namely, that Southern Baptists are now not giving enough to maintain our present work on the foreign fields. Unless the receipts of the Board can be increased, we must incur either a larger debt or we must abandon some of our fields.

During the last three years we have suffered a net loss of 100 foreign missionaries. During that same period we have lost 600 native missionaries. Shall we now be forced to incur the further loss of some of our fields? The Board recognizes vividly that this would be nothing short of a calamity, and it would contemplate taking such a step only as a last resort.

The Board is the servant of the Convention. Its business is to administer such funds as Southern Baptists give for world-wide evangelization. We can do no more mission work than that for which Southern Baptists provide. The Board, therefore, comes to the Convention now with the question, What must we do?

In answering this question it must be borne in mind that in the nature of the case we cannot contract our work suddenly, because it is spread all over the world. We cannot cut it down much more without ruining it. Our receipts last year were about the same as in 1919 when the 75 million Campaign was launched, while we have 100 more missionaries now than then, and the work in all ways has been expanded by at least one half. We emphasize that the work cannot be contracted immediately. It will require time in which to bring missionaries home, and to close contracts with the native missionaries.

We should also take into account the spiritual values involved. What would it mean for us to say, "Come home," to missionaries who believe they are called to foreign service? Shall we say to them, "We believe God called you to go but Southern Baptists are calling you to come back."

Furthermore, we should take into consideration the solemn obligations we have toward meeting the needs of the unevangelized multitudes in the regions beyond. We believe our Baptist message is the message best calculated to meet the needs of this awakened age. The effect of our present faltering support of foreign missions is to raise questions about whether we really believe in the adequacy of our Baptist message. Will not the course we are following almost give countenance to one of the most seductive heresies of our time, namely, that any religion will do? What profit to the world is it for us to believe that "In none other is there salvation: for neither is there any other name under heaven, that is given among men, wherein we must be saved," if we then hide that Name in our own bosoms and in our own borders?

THE EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT

In reviewing the work of the Educational Department for the past year, it is gratfying to note that progress has been made in many lines. One of the most noticeable features is the increasing interest of the young people in mission study classes.

Mission study has become an integral part of Southern Baptist life. This is evidenced by the wonderful growth in the number of church schools of missions. Testimonies have been received from pastors and leaders in churches where church schools of missions have been held, telling of the value and helpfulness of these schools. The department will be glad to furnish literature on this subject to those who write for it.

We are pleased to announce that the Educational Department is bringing out a new mission study book entitled "Healing and Missions," by T. W. Ayers. We invite your orders for this and other mission study text-books, general mission books, maps, charts, pictures. We can supply anything published on the subject of missions. Free tracts will be sent upon request.

HOME AND FOREIGN FIELDS

We would call especial attention to Home and Foreign Fields, the mission magazine published by the Sunday School Board, Nashville, Tenn. This great magazine is freighted every month with articles, discussions and news notes on missions. It is a treasure trove of missionary information. We consider the wide-spread circulation of this magazine to be of the utmost significance and importance to our Foreign Mission Board. Pastors, program makers and general readers will find in this magazine every month up-to-date information about mission work both at home and abroad which they need. We commend Home and Foreign Fields most heartily.

LOOKING UPON THE FIELDS

We hope Southern Baptists will catch the inspiration of the throbbing life of our work in foreign lands. This year has been marked by great revivals in many fields. Over thirteen thousand were baptized—a thousand more than ever reported in a single year. Progress along all lines has been made in all missions.

In order to demonstrate the substantial growth of our work we present here a table showing its magnitude at present in comparison with what it was in 1919:

We give also a summary of the outstanding events that have occurred on the various fields during 1929. The power of the gospel has been demonstrated everywhere. Even in the face of great difficulties, as in China, his grace and power have triumphed marveously. We have learned afresh that periods of great upheaval and opposition sometimes offer more rewarding opportunities than times of indifferent peace. By observing the wonders of his grace in foreign mission fields we may deepen our confidence in the conquering might of the gospel.

Africa. The church at Sapele is now erecting the fourth church building in a period of fifteen years. In each case the growing congregation made a new building necessary. There are other churches being built and financed by the local congregations. There is a great demand for churches and preachers. Many churches with money in hand for the payment of pastor's salary have been unable to find the men. There were thirty requests for the eight graduates from the Theological Training School last June. Ten girls graduated from the Girls' School at Abeokuta. There is an encouraging increase in the number of boys who go from the High School at Abeokuta to enter the college at Ogbomoso to take training for Christian work. There was a great revival in the Lagos school which resulted in the conversion of over one hundred students in the upper grades. Among these, twenty-five were Mohammedans. The hospital and college at Ogbomoso had the greatest year in their history. The Nigerian Baptist Convention made fine progress. It has now over 200 churches in its membership, practically all of which are self-supporting. Churches from adjoining countries wish to come into the membership of the Nigerian Convention. The mass movement toward Christianity grows and embarrasses us with its importunity for teachers and preachers.

Argentina. The Argentine Baptist Convention was founded in 1909 with five churches. It now has 55 churches with 3,332 members. These churches gave last year a total of $41,083.00. Other churches are now ready to join, some of which are German and Slav. These new churches added, would bring the number of Baptists in Argentina up to 4,068. The River Plate Baptist Institute at Buenos Aires has three departments, primary, young woman's Bible School and the Theological Training School. The young woman's department was started last year with eleven students. There was a total of seventy-five students in all. The Publishing House prospers. It brought out last year the translation of Dr. W. J. McGlothlin's Church History. It published 1,520,000 pages of tracts. The work of the Mission is divided into districts with a foreign missionary supervising each district. There are nine of these districts including the one in Montevideo, Uruguay. God blessed the labors of the workers last year. There were 380 baptisms. The native Baptist mission board has been conducting mission work in some of the backward provinces of Argentina and a foreign mission enterprise in Paraguay.

North Brazil. During the last ten years the work in North Brazil has grown from 120 churches, with 6,203 members to 149 churches with 8,348 members. Ten years ago there were 215 baptisms during the year, last year there were baptized 876. While there are fewer foreign missionaries in the North Brazil field now than ten years ago, yet the number of Brazilian pastors has increased three-fold. About thirty-five Theological students are in the school preparing for the work of the pastorate. The religious life in the schools was strong during the year. The schools have become firmly established in the confidence of the Brazilian public, and are receiving hearty support. There were 510 students in the College and Seminary at Pernambuco. This school has a vigorous religious life. It has five B.Y.P.U. organizations and an A-1 Sunday school. It has reduced its debt from $8,000.00 to $2,400.00.

South Brazil. 1930 marks the fiftieth anniversary of the opening of Baptist work in Brazil. Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Bagby were appointed in December 1880. They are still in active service and are located at Porto Alegre in the far south. There is now organized a National Brazilian Baptist Convention which fosters a foreign mission board with work in Portugal, a home mission board, a relief board for the widowed and aged. One of the greatest revivals ever conducted in Brazil was held during the year in Rio College. One hundred and fifty made profession of conversion. In Minas Garaes State there are 24 churches which maintain three times as many preaching stations. At Goyaz, one of the newer states, there are three churches with a total of only 80 members, which maintain twice as many preaching stations. The visiting nurses in connection with our work at Victoria, render a remarkable service in the homes of the city. There is a large foreign population in Sao Paulo and the states to the south. Amongst the foreigners are found Letts, German, Hungarians and Russians in great numbers. There are as many foreign Baptist churches as Brazilian Baptist churches in that territory. In the Campos field in the State of Rio, there are 80 churches, all of which are self-supporting. This field supports a Baptist Hospital, and is now organizing an orphange.

Chile. Chile is the newest field the Foreign Mission Board has entered in Latin America. There were special evangelistic meetings held in every church in the country with fine results. The school at Temuco, where both boys and girls are taught, and which has also a Theological Training School department, had a good year in all departments. There were 265 in attendance. Missionary Hart held a special meeting in the school in which a splendid group of young people surrendered to Christ.

Central China. The medical work at Yangchow was reopened partially by Dr. Pierce and Miss Teal, trained nurse, in the fall. They opened a woman's and children's clinic in the unoccupied nurses' home. The hospital building is still closed. A note of great interest in the Chinkian Field has been the number of government school students attending the evangelistic meetings. A great many of them enrolled as inquirers in the Bible classes. The opposition was more intelligent and was, therefore, more easily met. The Associational Evangelistic Band met with fine success in this field. There were many baptisms. The Soochow field had the most encouraging year it has ever experienced. The minds of the people were more open to the gospel than ever. One hundred and seven were received by baptism, and many more are awaiting baptism. Yates Academy at Soochow had an enrollment of 293. It experienced a good year in spite of some trouble it had with the Kuomingtang Party early in the session. There was a great revival in this school in which 42 were baptized and 114 were in Bible classes. In the Wei Ling Girls' School at Soochow there were 233 students, nineteen of whom were baptized and thirty more enrolled as inquirers. At Shanghai splendid meetings were held in the North Gate School and Church. There were 150 inquirers, 23 of whom have been baptized. In Grace Church, Shanghai, there were 41 baptisms. At the Cantonese Center there were 21 baptisms in the school, and 30 inquirers. In this school were enrolled 471 girls. The evangelistic services in progress in this school in which 32 had asked for baptism and 39 others were enrolled as inquirers, were being bought to a close when a fire broke out and destroyed the school building. This occurred on December 6th. The school is now in rented quarters. At the Paoshing Road Compound center the Ming Jang Boys' School enrolled 248 students, and the Eliza Yates Girls' School enrolled 240. A revival was held in this center in which 97 were baptized. At the opening service of this reviva

Interior China. In spite of great confusion in and around Kweiteh on account of the presence of soldiers and bandits, one new church was organized and two others are waiting to be when the missionary can get to them. The region around Chengchow was also greatly upset by soldiers. This caused many refugees to come into the city. The opportunity was seized by the missionaries to establish kindergartens and special teaching services for women and children. There was a wide distribution of Christian literature. The hospital at Chengchow was open part of the year under the management of Chinese doctors, but is now closed. The six churches in and around Chengchow formed themselves into a Baptist Association. In the Pochow field an evangelistic campaign was carried out in one district in which it was aimed to have preaching of the gospel in every village. Five hundred and sixty villages were reached. Many thousand gospel portions were sold. There were 228 professions of faith in Christ. The Boys' School and the Girls' School at Kaifeng had a good year, though with a reduced number of students. There were 80 scholars in the Girls' School and 90 in the Boys' School. The Boys' School is the only school of any denomination in operation in the whole Province of Honan. Evangelistic work was done in the country round-about. Many tent meetings were held with fine results.

North China. Shantung Province, in which the North China Mission is located, suffered perhaps more than any other province during the year from disturbed war conditions. A decisive and bloody battle was fought at Hwanghsien in May. Lawlessness prevailed in the country round-about. This fact brought hundreds of men and women to our compounds and to the church property, which in turn presented a wonderful opportunity for the preaching of the gospel. Throngs attended the meetings held in the gospel tent. The seminary students organized into preaching bands and did splendid work in town and country. The North China Baptist Institute at Hwanghsien experienced many difficulties from soldiers and from some of its striking students. The number of students in this institution was reduced to about 500, whereas ordinarily 1,000 are in attendance. A large portion of the students came from Christian families. The hospital at Hwanghsien was over-run with soldiers.

There are 72 beds in the hospital, but at times there were over 200 sick and wounded receiving treatment. Every space was filled and mat sheds were built in the court-yard. Ninety-five became Christians while in the hospital. There was a great revival in the Boys' School at Chefoo. Forty-two were converted. Practically every boy now in that institution is a Christian. The Laichowfu Hospital did not experience as strenuous a time this year as it did last, but it treated many soldiers. The Oxner Memorial Hospital at Pingtu at one time had a great number of soldiers. The Effie Sears Girls' School at Pingtu had 280 students, which is the largest number in the history of the school. The work at Manchuria experienced a difficult but profitable year. Things were very much upset on account of the threat of war between Russia and China, but this afforded opportunity for service. Three relief expeditions were led by Missionary C. A. Leonard, as a representative of the American Relief Committee. These expeditions carried relief to the Chinese, Russians and Koreans.

South China. There were about 600 baptisms in the South China field, which represented about a ten per cent increase in membership. There were 100 baptisms in the Kweilin field, the furthermost station in the southwest. There were forty baptisms in the Shiu Hing station, where the Bible women are looking after the work while Miss Shumate, the missionary, is away upon furlough. Wuchow was raided by airplane, but the missionaries stayed to minister to the people. There are thirteen hundred members of the Tunsghan, Canton, Baptist Church. Fifty-three were baptized at one service in this church, and smaller numbers at other services. The educational institutions had a good year, though frequently disturbed. Pooi To Girls' School celebrated its fortieth anniversary by the opening of a new building, which cost $40,000.00. This building was given entirely by the Chinese. The Pooi To Girls' School students conducted two schools for poor children. In one there were 32 scholars, and in the other 103. There were 52 baptisms in these two schools. The Leung Kwong Hospital was built and is supported entirely by the Chinese. There were 1,580 patients treated in this hospital, and 19,698 patients in the dispensary. The Stout Memorial Hospital at Wuchow is now entirely self-supporting. It treated many wounded soldiers during the year.

Hungary. Hungarian Baptists have grown in ten years from 7,000 to 12,000 members. They baptized 763 last year.

Italy. Since the reconciliation between the Italian Government and the Vatican, ministers of non-Catholic churches are recognized by the State as legally authorized to perform marriage ceremonies. Religious discussions are now free in pulpit and in press. 1929 was the best year in Italian Mission work. Four churches made considerable progress towards self-support. Three propose to build chapels at their own expense. One individual has given 30,000 Lira towards a church building, and another is building a chapel at his own charges in his village. This last named man has a son in the ministry in Italy, for whose call he prayed before the boy was born. Three new churches were founded. There were 294 baptisms, an increase of 49 per cent. There was a 30 per cent increase in the amount contributed to the support of the work.

Japan. Our Publishing House in Japan had a record year. It published 1,750,000 tracts; 250,000 books, making a total of 66,576,000 pages. This means double the number of tracts, three times the number of books and nearly five times the total number of pages published in 1928 by the five publishing houses conducted by our Board. This increase was made possible by Toyohiko Kagawa, a Japanese Christian writer and evangelist, who wrote for our Publishing House one book and a series of evangelistic tracts with an appeal strong enough to enlist the interest of most of the Christian community in Japan. There were 700 students in Seinan Gakuin, the Boys' School at Fukuoka, fifty-three of whom graduated from the college department and three from the Theological Seminary. There were forty baptisms amongst the students. Another notable event was the erection of a new gymnasium with floor space of 4,500 square feet, the money being given entirely by the parents of the boys, and local friends. The Girls' School at Kokura had 400 students, graduating annually from 30 to 40 Christian girls. There were 67 converts amongst the student body during the year.

Jugo Slavia. Three new chapels were added during the year. The Jugo Slavia Baptists have grown from 600 in 1922 to 1,148.

Mexico. Great interest was shown at the National Baptist Convention in reports of the work being done in behalf of the Indians in South Mexico. This work in behalf of the Indians is fostered by the Home Mission Society of the Mexican National Convention. This Convention also maintains its own paper, La Luz. The Theological Seminary was moved from Saltillo to Monterrey, on account of a law against conducting preparatory schools in connection with a seminary. There were fourteen students in the seminary, three in the graduating class. The seminary is supported jointly by the Northern Baptist Home Mission Society, the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention and the Mexican Baptist Convention, each one of these organizations appointing two trustees of the institution. The other schools, the Girls' School at Chihuahua, and the school at Culiacan were disturbed somewhat by the revolution, but were able to carry out a successful year's work. There are now twenty normal school graduates of the Chihuahua School. A few are employed in the school, and the remainder are taken by the state schools. A very creditable new chapel building was erected at Rosita, through the aid of the Sarah Hale Church Building Loan Fund.

Roumania. The Building for the Woman's Training School in Bucharest is so nearly completed that it was possible to use the building during the latter part of the year for the opening of the school. The school opened with fine prospects. Persecutions have almost ceased. However, there were local infractions, but the new law grants recognition and liberty to Baptists. There were 4,925 baptisms. This is the largest number ever reported to our Foreign Mission Board from any one of its fields. Ten years ago Roumanian Baptists numbered approximately 15,000, they now number 43,763. This rapid growth raises serious problems on account of the lack of trained leaders. This lack is being met with a good degree of success by the Theological Training School at Bucharest.

Spain. A chapel was built and dedicated at Carlet, Valencia. This was built largely by the Spanish brethren. The Spanish Baptist Convention was organized at Barcelona, and held an enthusiastic meeting. It decided to raise money with which to support two workers. This was a great step forward. The Spanish Baptists are beginning to realize their responsibility towards evangelizing their own country. They had 107 baptisms, thus bringing their number of members up to 955.

Thus reads, like added pages of the Acts of the Apostles, the story of our work in foreign lands. Out among the countless hosts of lost men our Father has set his seal of approval and blessing upon the labors of our missionary messengers. He has kept his promise to be with those who GO. The needs of the unredeemed world, the command of our divine Saviour, the favor of our Heavenly Father marvelously manifested upon our labors in all fields, should speak with irresistible force to Southern Baptists "that they go forward."

ANNUAL REPORT

By George Green

THE AFRICAN MISSION

Eighty-four years ago the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention resolved to undertake mission work in Africa. Liberia on the West Coast was the sphere of this early missionary endeavor. Eighty years ago Missionary T. J. Bowen came by way of Liberia to Abeokuta in Yoruba land and opened up our Mission in what is now known as the Colony and Protectorate of Nigeria.

The Colony and Protectorate of Nigeria is no mean colony, but one of the most important of the non-self-governing colonies of the British Empire. has an area of about 370,000 square miles and a population of more than eighteen and a half million people. This large population represents more than two hundred forty different tribes, differing in physique, physiognomy and degree of civilization, differing also in their religions and forms of worship. The southern part of the colony and protectorate is largely pagan, the northern provinces are mostly Mohammedan, but among the pagans of the south there are many Mohammedans, and living in the large Mohammedan emirates of the north are scores of pagan tribes, varying in size and stage of development. This then is the possible sphere of our African Mission, but in no way can our Mission yet lay claim to any very large part in the Christianizing of this large and diversified population of Nigeria—yet with gratitude we are able to see that the effectiveness of the African Mission is considerably increased by its association in the larger fellowship and with the larger opportunities of the Nigerian Baptist Convention. This Convention represents more than two hundred Baptist churches and congregations in Nigeria. These groups of Baptists are distributed largely through the pagan areas of the southern provinces, but the northern provinces are not entirely devoid of the Baptist witness and influence, for at least eight churches and congregations are functioning there.

"Nigeria for Christ," is the motto of the Nigerian Baptist Convention-a Christian Nigeria. That is beyond any shadow of doubt the ideal and the desire of our Lord and Saviour, and surely that of his followers and messengers should be no less.

Twelve large districts represent the sphere of activity of Baptists in Nigeria. These districts may be named as follows: Lagos, Abeokuta, Oyo, Shaki, Ogbomoso, Ibadan and Iwo, Ekiti, Yagba, Sapele, Benin, Niger Delta, and northern Nigeria. In the north we have stations at Kano, Kaduna, Jos, Minna, Zungeru, Lokoja, Bida. Take a modern map of Africa and of Nigeria in particular and locate these towns and districts. This will afford an interesting and instructive map drill in the geography of missions. The Mission stations and out-stations of these districts represent work among several tribes, chief among which are the Yoruba, Ibo, Itsekiri, Benin, Sobo, Ijaw and New Calabar speaking people. It does not mean that these tribes are evangelized, far from it, but it does mean that from among the pagans of these tribes a certain number of the people have turned from the worship of idols, and that they gather together regularly for the worship of the true God.

In one or two of these districts it may be truthfully said that there are congregations who have not yet been visited by a white missionary or a fully accredited native Baptist minister. How do these congregations start? A man has gone from his home town to a distant town or city; there he heard the gospel, became a Christian. He returns to his home town, relates his personal experience and thus becomes a messenger of the gospel. Soon a number of people join with him and a congregation is formed for worship, a plot of land is obtained from the chief of the town, and a small grass-roofed chapel is built, and thus the work begins.

They are zealous, they do the best they know, they follow in their meetings and their services what they have seen or heard others are doing; very few can read the Bible. The result is that in some instances their methods of procedure are not all in accord with Baptist practices. They are as sheep without a shepherd; scores of the people are needing and seeking someone to guide them into the teaching and understanding of the Holy Scriptures. (How like the story of Philip and the eunuch is this.) How great is the need for a large company of men and women, messengers of Jesus Christ, both white and native, to shepherd and minister to these seeking, enquiring multitudes all over this colony. We need missionaries, we need native workers; in some respects this latter need is the greater need, for how great is the lack, the immediate need of native workers, pastors, teachers who love the Lord and who love their own people, evangelists, Sunday school teachers. We are deeply grateful for those whom we have, and for the splendid work they are doing, for their loyalty and their co-operation, but we could use a hundred more today if they were available.

Twentieth century ideas and methods in the realms of commerce and transportation have reached Nigeria. The youth of the land has caught the spirit of change and progress and is seeking to know book (African phraseology) because of the pecuniary advantages and positions open to young men and women possessing a government certificate as to the work they have done in the elementary and secondary schools, and the teacher-training colleges. (This would about correspond to the work of the public and high schools and the Normal school in the United States.) This urge of the young people for book learning, for public and high school education, is gathering strength, and like a stream fed by streamlets and freshets is becoming a mighty force, capable of being harnessed, trained and directed for the good and the well-being of the land; or failing to be properly controlled and directed may prove to be the undoing of the colony. This awakening is great in possibilities for the weal or woe of the colony. The gospel of the kingdom, with its Lord, his message and influence, is the ballast, the reinforcement, the power, to make of this great awakening a regenerating, transforming, stabilizing, Christianizing movement in Nigeria.

The churches, the schools, the hospital and the dispensaries are the agencies through which this gospel of the kingdom is being proclaimed by the African Mission and the Nigerian Baptist Convention.

I. The Churches. The news from the churches is in many respects very encouraging. Sunday services are well attended—large numbers of people are being baptized, some districts report one hundred, two hundred and more baptisms for the year; new preaching stations and out-stations are being opened up, evidences of a growing missionary spirit; increased offerings and contributions for the support of pastors and teachers and the upkeep of their church buildings, all this points to progress along the lines of "self-support, self-direction, and self-propagation." This seems to be an era of church building in Nigeria. From all parts of the colony comes the report of activity in the erection of church and school buildings. The Baptist church at Sapele is now erecting its fourth church building in a period of less than fifteen years, in each case the growing congregation has made the new building a necessity. I know personally of ten churches engaged in building projects, the erection of these buildings being financed by the local church and congregation. The Baptists of Nigeria are gradually realizing their strength and ability to do things for themselves; that is as it should be, but here as in the homeland there is the necessity of developing the sense of responsibility and the privilege of doing things for others in the regions beyond their own community and their own tribe.

Along with the reports of numerical and financial growth, the progress of self-direction and self-propagation, come the heart-breaking appeals for pastors, teachers, leaders. One church in the Ogbomoso District reports that already there is money in the treasury to pay a teacher's salary for a year if they can only have a teacher, but not one is available this year. Oh the difficulty of trying to locate eight workers when thirty requests are before us! That was the situation of our executive committee, January, 1930. This present stage among the churches presents a call to our wisest and experienced missionaries and native workers—two hundred Baptist churches located in pagan areas of Nigeria! These churches with a converted, trained and zealous membership would mean two hundred centers of Christian influence, which, like the good seed in the good soil, would be multiplied many many-fold.

II. The Schools. The school system of the African Mission and the Nigerian Baptist Convention includes primary and elementary schools, academic and high schools; a girls' school which includes domestic science in its curriculum; an industrial school; a training college for teachers; and a theological seminary. All education except that given in the theological seminary is under the direction of the Education Department of Nigeria.

Reports from the schools directly under missionary supervision indicate that a high grade of work has been accomplished during the year, favorable reports from the government inspectors representing the Educational Department show that our Baptist schools are at least the equal of the schools of like grades carried on and supervised by other missionary societies working in Nigeria.

Our Mission Schools, to accomplish their main and highest purpose, must be evangelizing and Christianizing agencies. Most heartening and gratifying in this connection is the report that comes from several missionaries of conversions among their pupils, also of students in the high school surrendering their lives to Christian service. These reports are so inspiring and so provoking of gratitude that I feel impelled to quote verbatim from the reports before me. Miss Anderson, of the Girls' School, Abeokuta, reports as follows:

"One hundred and eleven girls attended last year, ninety-six of whom were boarders. We had no revival services during the year, but there were secret prayer circles, praying definitely for unsaved girls in the school, and on the last Sunday night of the session at the close of a service led by one of the teachers from the Boys' High School ten girls stood quietly and accepted Christ as their Saviour, and later that night two others came, saying they, too, had accepted him. The past year has taught us more than any one year of our lives that God is a prayer-hearing and a prayer-answering God."

Hear Missionary I. N. Patterson, of the Boys' High School, as he reports:

"Perhaps the most hopeful phase of our school work at present is the fact that quite a number of our brightest and finest boys are volunteering for Christian work and are going on to the College and Seminary at Ogbomoso. Up till two years ago practically all our Christian boys who finished school sought employment with the government or with trading firms; but at the beginning of 1928 our hearts were rejoiced by the fact that six of our finest graduates of the Abeokuta Baptist Boys' High School went on to the College. Since that time there has been a steady stream of our boys going to Ogbomoso for training as Christian workers, so that now we have thirteen of our students there. When these young men complete their course of training they ought to help relieve the shortage of workers in this district, though we cannot expect that all of them will be sent here to work."

Rev. L. M. Duval, of Lagos, sends in his report this most interesting and inspiring paragraph: "The most encouraging part of the school work was a revival that took place during the last examinations. For a week the students in the upper grades went into the church for an hour each morning to some special meetings. During the services over one hundred were converted, among them twenty-five Mohammedan young men in the upper classes gave themselves to Christ. This would be about half of the Mohammedans attending the upper classes. They all showed a keen interest in the gospel, even those who did not give themselves to Christ. I believe this is the greatest result of any work done among the followers of Mohammed (at least as far as I know); here is a great opportunity."

How true it is that the gospel is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth.

Principal George W. Sadler, of the Baptist College and Seminary, reports as follows: "The Baptist College and Seminary closed on December 9th its best year thus far. There were fifty-two students in attendance, nine of whom completed the course and went out as teachers. The acting assistant director of education visited the college in June. Among other things, he said, 'The tone of the college is high and the manners and keenness of the students admirable.'

"Since my wife and I were the only Americans working in the school during the most of the year, I shall speak only of the African members of the staff. It is a pleasure to be able to say that the loyalty and effectivenss of these native brethren was of a very high order. My opinion is that it would be difficult to find in any land, in a school of this size, a finer group of men. It might interest those who read this report to know the names and qualifications of these young Africans. At the head of the list stands Nathanael D. Oyerinde, B.A., B.D., of Virginia Union University, graduate student of Chicago University; Eyo Ita, Intermediate Arts, University of London; A. O. Latubosun, first class certificated teacher (Old Code); Oladele Agboola, first class certificated teacher (Old Code). Of them the acting assistant director said, 'Eyo Ita is a sound teacher with a quiet and effective manner—Ladele Agboola has, in my opinion, improved and is an alert and an effective teacher, who knows his subjects well and is never at a loss. The two remaining members of the staff are capable and keen.'

"In addition to the work of teaching and preaching, in which a number of the students engage on Sundays, the regular open-air services were conducted in various parts of the town on Wednesday afternoons.

"The annual track meet was held on our grounds and our boys won the shield for the fifth consecutive time. Two games of football were played against St. Andrew's College at Oyo (the Church Missionary Society's college); both games resulted in a tie.

"We face the future with high hopes for a good year in 1930."

III. The Medical Work. This phase of our Mission work includes the hospital at Ogbomoso and the dispensaries at Oyo, Iwo and Shaki. Through this two-fold ministry of evangelism combined with the healing of the body, thousands of people have heard the gospel preached when they came as patients attending the clinics at the hospital and the dispensaries. This ministry of healing as practiced in our medical institutions has proved to be a great boon to the thousands who have come from all parts of the southern provinces for the advice, help and treatment we have been able to give. The sick in body have been healed; those injured in motor accidents have been attended to; hundreds of men, women and children who needed surgical operations and treatment have received the best skill and care we have been capable to give. Many persons almost blind have received a large measure of sight. Scores of mothers have been helped in their hours of emergency. At the weekly baby clinic hundreds of babies have been weighed, their physical growth and development recorded, they have been prescribed for in times of sickness, and their mothers advised as to the feeding and care of the babies. A number of young men and women are being trained to become nurses, hospital assistants and orderlies, thus making it possible in the future to extend this kind of Christian service to other towns and communities, all with the expressed purpose of making Jesus Christ known to the people, and to demonstrate both by practice and precept the practical teachings and blessings of the gospel of Jesus Christ.

We, the staff of the hospital at Ogbomoso, are deeply grateful to the Woman's Missionary Union of Arkansas, Illinois, Oklahoma and Virginia for the practical way in which they have shown their interest in this two-fold ministry of preaching and healing. The W.M.U. of Arkansas and Illinois have contributed toward our supplies of drugs and surgical dressings. Through the generosity of the Oklahoma W.M.U. needed repairs have been built for the storage of rain water, thus adding greatly to our water supply which has to carry us through the long dry season, which usually lasts from November to April. Electric light is now being installed in the hospital. This is made possible by the generosity of the W.M.II. of Virginia. sible by the generosity of the W.M.U. of Virginia.

May the Lord's blessings rest upon the Woman's Missionary Union of these and all our Southern states.

In Conclusion. The influence of Baptist work in the Colony and Protectorate of Nigeria is spreading far and wide, really overflowing beyond the borders of Nigeria. Baptist people in Sierra Leone are asking to be allowed to affiliate with our Nigerian Baptist Convention. Baptist churches are being formed in other colonies along the West Coast of tropical Africa, in the Kru Coast, the Ivory Coast, the Gold Coast and the French colony of Dahomey. The growth of the kingdom through our Baptist churches calls forth our heartfelt gratitude to our heavenly Father; and at the same time this growth is one of our present problems, How shall these churches be trained, their energy rightly directed and their possibilities for kingdom service realized?

We share with the churches of our Southern Baptist Convention our joys, and our successes, we invite you to join with us in the expression of gratitude; we also invite you to participate in the solving of our problems and in the pressing forward the work of the kingdom, that Nigeria may become Christian, and that Jesus Christ shall be crowned King in the hearts of a great company of people gathered from the twelve score and more tribes of Nigeria, both pagan and Mohammedan.

ANNUAL REPORT

By Robert F. Elder

This year marks the coming of age of the River Plate Baptist Convention. In March, 1930, the 22nd Convention will be held, but it will be twenty-one years since the Convention was formed.

Five small churches were represented in that first gathering in 1909. One of them was later merged into another church which joined the Convention later, although it had existed before. Five years later, in 1914, there were nine churches with 578 members, who contributed the equivalent of $4,034.75 American dollars to the work. Ten years later, in 1919, there were 24 churches with 1,330 members. Twenty years later, in 1929, the Convention was made up of 55 churches with 3,332 members who contributed the respectable sum of $37,-928.56 American dollars, corresponding, of course, to the year 1928.

There are at least six churches now ready to join the 1930 Convention, and with them there will be 3,586 members. Besides these, there are some German, Armenian and Slav churches not affiliated, which if included would bring the membership up to about 4,068.

Only two churches are entirely self-supporting, although ten of the other churches do not receive any help from the Board. Almost all of the churches contribute towards pastoral support and some of the others would entirely support their pastor were it not that they are paying off loans on buildings. Thirty-five churches meet in their own church buildings. Twenty-five of these have been secured during the last ten years. Nineteen of the thirty-eight ordained pastors have taken the full seminary course, whilst eight others, most of whom had some previous preparation, have taken part of the course.

The following comparison of growth in the last five years shows that things are steadily moving forward. In 1924 the contributions from the churches amounted to $24,045.90 American dollars, during 1929 their contributions rose to $41,083.80. In 1924 there were 28 church buildings, at the end of 1929 there are 35. In 1924 there were 79 Sunday schools with 3,164 scholars, at the end of 1929 there were 100 with 4,489 scholars. In 1924 there were 26 Women's Societies with 635 members, in 1929 there are 48 with 1,210 members. In 1924 there were 17 Young People's Societies with 464 members, in 1929 the number had increased to 36 with 1,073 members.

To this must be added the increased efficiency of Sunday school teachers and workers. Over 200 teachers have taken all or part of the Normal Course for Sunday school teachers. This has meant incalculable advance in the work of the Sunday schools.

THE EVANGELISTIC SPIRIT

The dominant note of all our preachers is evangelism. All may not have the gift of an evangelist, but all are evangelists at heart. The winning of souls is their chief concern. There are seven tents being used in evangelistic work. Public halls have been rented for special meetings so as to reach new people. Of course, some of these special efforts have been sowing without much reaping as yet, but in other cases there has been the joy of harvest, too.

THE WORK OF THE WOMEN

The work of the women in Argentina is more evangelistic than educational and social. The Women's Societies on the whole are organized in order to evangelize. Very few of them are organized on exactly the plan of the W.M.U.'s in the United States. The women are working out their own plans, but at the same time are adapting some of the methods used elsewhere.

One method of working that seems to be becoming pretty general is for the society to have only a monthly meeting in the church, for prayer, Bible study, the presentation of reports and administration. Groups are formed which take charge of meetings in private houses. In this way two or three, and in one case even six, meetings a week are held. The lady of the house where the meeting is to be held does the inviting and generally goes from house to house with Christian literature and invitations. In this way many new women have been reached with the gospel. Others adopt a similar method, but confine themselves more to those who are members and they meet for mutual inspiration and Bible study. Others gather together for work as well as spiritual profit, forming a Dorcas Society, where they make clothes for the needy or articles for sale to help the funds of the church. Two societies pay most of the expenses of out-stations in this way.

Following is what one pastor says: "They have furnished a church and a guest room to provide hospitality for visitors from other parts; they visit the sick, hold meetings in private houses as well as in the branch works and provide teachers for the Sunday schools."

At the last Convention in the meeting held for women it was unanimously decided that the Women's Societies connected with the churches should be constituted into a Women's Baptist Convention. This important event will take place during the forthcoming River Plate Convention.

THE WORK AMONGST THE YOUNG PEOPLE

Nothing in the work of these River Plate republics is more inspiring than to see the fine young men and women who are growing up in the churches. The fruits of Christian homes and Sunday schools are now being gathered. Several of our most effective preachers and pastors were converted as boys and have been trained in the Sunday school, the Y.P.U. and the theological seminary. Enterprising young men and women, alert, attractive, spiritually minded, are running many of the Sunday schools and are officers in the churches. They are introducing a new atmosphere into some of our churches. In a few cases they are prospering in business and several have just finished or are taking a university course. Successful professional and business men will raise the social status of the churches, and provided deep spirituality is maintained, will mean much.

Much of the work of the Y.P.U.'s is still in the experimental stage. It has not been found feasible or advisable to work the Y.P.U.'s on exactly the same lines as in the States. Adaptation and not adoption of home methods has been the rule.

A lay preachers' association has been formed in Buenos Aires, made up of young men who are members of several of the churches. They have monthly inspirational and study meetings, conduct services as opportunity offers, speak at open-air services and have arranged a weekly radio service at which a choir from one of the churches sings and someone preaches a sermon.

The coming to their own of the young people is improving the congregational singing and in several churches choirs have been formed. Some of them are learning to sing and not to yell.

EDUCATIONAL WORK

Missionary G. A. Bowdler, who is general director of the educational work in Buenos Aires, reports as follows:

"The school year just past has had some problems, but through them all has had great blessings. It has been a year of organization and adjustments. We are now styled 'the River Plate Baptist Institute,' and under unified administration are serving our constituency in three departments thus far: Primary, women's Bible training, and seminary. If the Lord gives us funds we shall relieve one of our direst needs—that of building accommodation—and be able to open a secondary department. The same handicap reduces our boarding department to very limited lines. Last year we could take in only ten primary grade pupils, four seminary students and four young women. The last had to be taken into the director's home if they came at all. Of the day pupils in the primary school, there was an average attendance of about 75.

"In the seminary there were four students taking the regular four years' course. Three others are preparing themselves for entrance. It is interesting to note that of these seven, one came from Uruguay, one from Paraguay, one from Spain, and the remaining four from Argentina. This is a distribution typical of the national, continental and overseas elements we are serving, and should awaken us to our immense opportunities and responsibilities.

"The young women's department made a most promising beginning. They represent a power we have too long neglected. In the classes their presence has been an inspiration to all. Some come poorly prepared, but their eagerness to learn and their willingness to work for the opportunity, is putting a new spirit into our student body. Eleven were here last year. Eight went right through the year's work and received the corresponding certificate.

"Our night classes also had a very good year. We organized them this last time for a long period. The six months' work was a great blessing to the thirty-odd who stuck it through. Long distances and the daily work and distractions of a bustling city have to be reckoned with.

"One could not have wished for a better spirit among teachers and professors. Their sacrifices and splendid co-operation guaranteed a good year under any circumstances. We were happy to welcome Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Quarles who came over from Uruguay to take the places of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Matthews who retired from the Mission."

The school in Godoy Cruz has had a good year with an average attendance of about 100.

PUBLICATIONS AND COLPORTAGE WORK

Missionary J. C. Quarles, who is in charge of this work, reports that the economical situation of the River Plate republics has affected both the sale of books from the depot, as well as the work of the colporteurs. No new books have been published because the previous year's account had been overdrawn. The Publication Board, however, bore part of the expense of the publication of a translation of Dr. W. J. McGlothlin's Church History, which work was carried out by Mr. N. Bengtson in Barcelona, Spain. The publication of this book has meant an exceedingly valuable contribution to evangelical literature in Spanish.

The sale of books went beyond the figures of 1928 by $1,150.53 Argentine currency, the actual sales during 1929 amounting to $22,529.90 Argentine currency. The hymn book is an unqualified success. All of the Baptist churches have adopted it and churches of other denominations are also using it. The music edition has been selling satisfactorily. The second word edition, published in December of 1927, has been nearly sold out in two years and a third edition is now being prepared.

The other publications of the Board are going continually to all parts of the Spanish-speaking world.

In co-operation with the Baptist Publishing House in El Paso, Baptist Sunday school literature has been placed not only in the Baptist Sunday schools but in a good many of the other denominations.

The denominational paper goes into practically all the Baptist homes as well as to many others of other connections. Senor Daniel Daglio, who devotes part of his time to literary work, is proving most capable in editing. Don Pablo Besson, in spite of his 82 years, continues to write his wonderful articles on doctrinal, critical and historical subjects. He is the doyen of evangelical journalists in Latin America. During 1929, 1,520,000 pages of tracts were printed and distributed by the churches. The tract publication is entirely self-supporting.

Five colporteurs are employed by the Board and are under the oversight of Mr. Quarles. Senor Nicolas Blasco lives in a suburb of Mendoza and works in the northern part of that province and parts of San Juan; Senor Silverio D'Amico works in the southern part of the province of Mendoza; Senor Eduardo Ferreira, in Rosario de Santa Fe and surrounding territory; Senor Andres Landsiedel, in the southwestern part of the province of Buenos Aires and the Territory of La Pampa; and Senor Luis Marinelli has his headquarters in the city of La Plata, but during the past year has rendered excellent service in many places. During the winter months he made a trip through the north, going as far as Asunción, Paraguay.

SOME FACTS ABOUT THE MISSIONARY DISTRICT

BUENOS AIRES, NORTHERN DISTRICT

In Charge of Missionary S. M. Sowell

The four churches in this district have nine out-stations which are attended to by members of the churches, in one case by a seminary student. The total membership is 392. There were 23 baptisms during 1929. In 12 Sunday schools 528 scholars are being taught Bible truths. Six Women's Societies with 188 members are "the right arm of the churches," to quote one of the pastors. Four Y.P.U.'s with 124 members are developing some fine young people. There was an average contribution of $8.22 American dollars per church member.

Perhaps the outstanding fact on the district was the ordination of a member of one of the churches, Senor Mauro Scardigno, for missionary work in the Chaco Territory under the Mission Board of the River Plate Baptist Convention. He is a graduate of the seminary. This church, called "Rey Jesus," has thus the distinction of having two of her sons and two of her daughters working as missionaries under the local Mission Board.

BUENOS AIRES, WESTERN DISTRICT

In Charge of Missionary R. M. Logan

The six churches in this district run five out-stations, and have a membership of 493. During 1929 there were 59 baptisms. There are nine Sunday schools with 593 scholars. Seven Women's Societies have 166 members and five Y.P.U.'s are preparing 168 young people to be efficient church members.

The contributions averaged $16.66 American dollars per church member. Perhaps the outstanding progress made during the year was the erection of a church building at Nueva Chicago. With almost adventurous faith this young but vigorous church made great personal sacrifices first, then secured a loan and built a useful church. A new church, which is a daughter of the South West Church, was organized and will be known as the Floresta Church. It meets in the Boys' School and has Missionary Lemuel C. Quarles as pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Logan, who were on furlough during 1929, have just been welcomed back.

BUENOS AIRES, SOUTHERN DISTRICT

In Charge of Missionary R. F. Elder

There are ten churches in this district with 725 members, which have 13 out-stations. There were 78 baptisms during 1929. In 23 Sunday schools Biblical instruction is being given to 980 scholars. Nine Women's Societies with a band of 261 members are engaged in extending the kingdom of God. Five Y.P.U.'s with 167 members are developing the pick of the congregations. The contributions averaged $11.94 American dollars per church member for the year. New works were started in Gerli by the Constitution Church, in San Vicente and Llavallol by the Adrogué Church and in Brandsen by the Chascomus Church.

SANTA FE, SOUTHERN DISTRICT

In Charge of Missionary M. S. Blair

The six churches in Brother Blair's district have 423 members and work six out-stations. There were 58 baptisms during the year. In ten Sunday schools 690 scholars are being taught. Five Women's Societies have 136 members, and five Y.P.U.'s do a splendid work with 188 members. There was an average contribution of $12.72 American dollars per member. The First Church in Rosario is self-supporting. Wonderful progress has been made in two years in the Echesortu Church, Rosario, in that time the membership has gone up from eight to 92 members and they have just finished a new church building. The Arroyito Church, Rosario, is also launching out on a building scheme. I hope I shall not appear immodest if I quote something Brother Blair wrote about this church. He says: "The Sunday school of this church has prospered notably the past year under the superintendence of Mr. R. Owen Elder, son of Missionary R. F. Elder, who has been pursuing his medical studies in Rosario."

Two new works have been started in Rosario by Mr. Blair in co-operation with the First Baptist Church. One of these meetings is held in the Blair's house and 14 baptisms have been the result. Tent campaigns have been a prominent feature of the work during the year.

THE ANDES DISTRICT, MENDOZA AND SAN JUAN

In Charge of Missionary F. J. Fowler

In this district there are five churches with 334 members and eight outstations. During 1929 there were 37 baptisms. In eight Sunday schools 510 scholars are being taught. Five Women's Societies with 122 members are doing excellent work. Seven Young People's Societies are preparing for more efficient service with 173 members. Two of these societies are made up of young women. The average contribution per church member was $14.39 American dollars. The Godoy Cruz Church has nearly reached the self-support goal. A W.M.U. Convention has been organized by the Women's Societies of the district.

SANTA FE, NORTHERN DISTRICT

In Charge of Missionary T. B. Hawkins

Missionary T. B. Hawkins returned to this field in August after furlough, and with commendable spirit decided to undertake the personal oversight of some country works that national pastors seemed to shun because they were small and difficult. There are four churches in the district with 326 members, who work eight out-stations. During 1929 there were 50 baptisms. There are six Sunday schools with 198 scholars, four Women's Societies with 103 members and two Y.P.U.'s, with 77 members. The average contribution per church member for the year was $7.13 American dollars. The Santa Fe Church is self-supporting.

One of the main features of the work was a fine tent campaign held in the town of Las Rosas. The result has been that a promising new permanent work has been established. In Rafaela the church acquired a good lot and with a loan built a good church and pastor's home.

CORDOBA DISTRICT

In Charge of Missionary M. S. Blair

The four churches of this district have 178 members and four out-stations. There were 17 baptisms during the year. Five Sunday schools are teaching 200 scholars. There are two Women's Societies with 34 members and only one Y.P.U. with 27 members.

The average contribution per church member was $6.62 American dollars. The San Francisco Church has secured a good building site and is seeking ways and means to build. The First Church, Cordoba, has built a hall in the Talleres district, which it will work as an out-station.

THE ENTRE RIOS DISTRICT

In Charge of Missionary Z. P. Freeman

This district has 11 churches, five of which are German-speaking and two of which are sort of polyglot because the pastor preaches in three or four languages as he goes his rounds. There are seven out-stations and a total of 408 church members. Thirty-five baptisms have been reported, but the returns are not complete. The average contributions per church member came to $10.45 American dollars. There are 14 Sunday schools which have 384 scholars. Three Women's Societies with 74 members co-operate with their churches. Five Y.P.U.'s are helping 98 young folk to a higher and more efficient life.

Mr. Freeman returned to his field in August after furlough. A tent campaign held in the town called Federación attracted good crowds of new people and a permanent work has been started there as a result. The German-speaking churches in Alcaraz and San Justo have built churches and in Galarza the land and most of the materials are purchased for a similar purpose.

THE BAHIA BLANCA DISTRICT

In Charge of Missionary E. Swenson

This is the newest district in the Mission. Of its four churches two are German-speaking. There are 95 members and four out-stations are being worked. The German-speaking churches are in what has been a drought-stricken zone for two years. Crops have failed entirely and animals have died of starvation. At one of the places the poverty has been so great that the members have been unable to contribute anything, the women had prepared articles for a sale of work but no one has any money to buy them. The average contributions in the district per member, notwithstanding this, amounted to $9.10 American dollars. In their seven Sunday schools 173 scholars are being taught the way of life. There are three Women's Societies but at present no Y.P.U. exists.

At the time of writing this, Mr. Swenson, accompanied by Mr. F. Cave, of the British and Foreign Bible Society, is on a colportage and evangelistic trip south and west in his Ford car.

MONTEVIDEO DISTRICT

In Charge of Missionary B. W. Orrick

There are three Baptist churches in the capital city of Uruguay with 124 members and two out-stations. During 1929 there were seven baptisms. The average contribution per member was $6.98 American dollars. There are four Sunday schools with 131 scholars, two Women's Societies with 49 members and one Y.P.U. with 28 members. One of the pastors has been seriously ill most of the year. One of the seminary students who has just graduated has become pastor of the new church organized in 1928. Some very fine meetings have been held in Mr. Orrick's tent.

Missionary L. C. Quarles had set out on pioneer work on the eastern side of Uruguay and had started a work in Minas. In July, however, he accepted the invitation of the Missionary Conference to become warden of the seminary. His place was taken by young Edisto Tinao who had recently graduated from the seminary. Mr. Orrick has recently been up with him co-operating in a tent mission. It is expected that very soon a church will be organized.

THE MISSION BOARD OF THE RIVER PLATE BAPTIST CONVENTION

During 1929 there have been no baptisms in the Corrientes and Asunción churches working under the auspices of the local Mission Board. In Corrientes and the places reached from there a number have professed conversion and in Asunción some new people have been reached, but the missionaries report that the moral conditions are such and the entanglements of some of the converts so involved that time must be taken to straighten them out. Deep moral consciousness is not always developed in a month after conversion. Deeply rooted habits not considered wrong by any except the evangelicals are not abandoned in a day. Precipitation in baptizing has already necessitated more expulsions than ought to have been. For this reason Missionaries Galizia and Ermili report that they are going slowly.

Gospel seed has been sown with a full hand. Brother Galizia has published a paper adapted to local conditions of which 6,100 copies have been distributed free. The expenses are met by the church and by profits on the sale of Bibles and books. One hundred twenty-four Bibles, 240 New Testaments, 2,746 Gospels and 250 evangelical books were sold during the year and 18,300 tracts distributed.

The visits made to the Chaco Territory have opened up new centers in such a way that the Mission Board decided to send a new missionary to that field. After graduating from the seminary Brother Mauro Scardigno went up there at the beginning of January of 1930.

NORTH BRAZIL MISSION

ANNUAL REPORT

By W. C. Taylor

We record in sadness the death of the lovable physician and surgeon, James Lionel Downing, who loved to preach as well as any human we ever knew, and was three times missionary in Bahia, once in Para, once in Pernambuco, and helped the mission in Corrente. He left behind many original prescriptions for tropical ailments.

Also we record the winging heavenward of the baby spirits of Robert Clinton Jones and of Robert Stanley Jones, infant sons of R. S. and Mary Ruth Jones.

Their infant forms rest in the British Cemetery of Recife, dates of burial early in 1929 and 1930. Cause of death meningitis and congenital asphixiation of heart, respectively. Never were babies more deeply mourned.

At the dawn of a new decade we pause to take stock. In 1920 there were 120 churches in North Brazil, 142 in South Brazil, 262 in all; 6,203 members in North Brazil, 16,203 in South, 22,969 in all Brazil; 251 baptisms in North, 591 in South, 842 in all Brazil; $30,583.87 was contributed in North Brazil; $69,276.25 in South Brazil; $99,860.12 in all Brazil; 6,203 Sunday school pupils in North Brazil, 16,766 in South Brazil, 22,629 in all Brazil.

In 1930 there are 149 co-operating churches in North Brazil, 253 in South Brazil, 402 in all Brazil, besides 73 other Baptist churches, North and South, in separate groups, and various foreign Baptist groups whose strength is unknown. We know of 475 Baptist churches in all the States and territories of Brazil, 85 per cent of them co-operating in the Brazilian Baptist Convention and with the Foreign Mission Board of Richmond. These 402 co-operating churches gave in 1929 $191,548.00 or $5.75 per member, as there are in the co-operating churches in North Brazil 8,348 members, 24,939 members in South Brazil and 33,287 in all Brazil. The North Brazil churches advanced over 50 per cent in per capita gifts. In the other churches there are probably enough Baptists to make the total around 40,000. Many of these statistics are of 1927 and 1928, so that 40,000 Baptists in 500 churches is a conservative estimate.

There were over 876 baptisms in North Brazil, and over 2,000 in South Brazil. Sunday school pupils total 29,463 of whom 7,264 are in North Brazil.

Glancing backward, for comparison, the number of Baptists has doubled, the number of churches grown from 262 to 475, the per capita giving from $4.20 a member to $5.75 a member, and the baptisms quadrupled. We have fewer missionaries on the field than then, probably, but the number of Brazilian pastors is probably three times what it was then and there are in the two Seminaries 100 students and half as many more in the State Baptist Schools.

In this decade there have come into being five regional mission schools, of which one is suspended, and many parochial schools maintained by the churches, and the College and Seminary have entered a large sphere of usefulness. The whole educational system is largely self-supporting in its operating expenses.

Our mission schools have had a great year in 1929. Their commencement exercises were in November. The religious life of the institutions is stronger than ever before. The Alagoas school is about to obtain its rented property, through private gifts. The Jaguaquara school has on a campaign among its friends and by careful administration has been able to remodel to some extent its buildings. Our school in Bahia City has discovered some fine teachers, and has had a splendid year's work. Peace reigns in our far inland center at Corrente, so, in spite of the forced absence of Brother Terry a good part of the year, they have forged ahead under the guidance of Mrs. Terry and young members of the famous Senator Paranagua's family. Our schools were never so firmly established in the confidence of the Brazilian public. A notable feature of the situation is the growth of an ever larger Baptist constituency, able to educate their own children and eager to do so. Of the 510 students in Pernambuco College and Seminary last year the following was their alignment according to religious belief: Baptists 243, Presbyterians 8, Congregationalists 9, Lutherans 4, Anglican 1, Roman Catholics 204, Jews 20, Spiritualists 5, no preference 16. Up to a few years ago the Roman Catholics were in a large majority. Now five vigorous B.Y.P.U.'s and splendidly organized Sunday school classes in an A-1 Sunday school create the dominant evangelical atmosphere of the school life The significance of this in the elevation of the believing element in the population and in the spread of the gospel among all classes is worthy of note. It is one of the most heartening signs of progress.

Eight new conventions have been organized in the North in this decade, one of which died. Church buildings erected wholly without foreign aid have increased to the value of $125,000.00 in North Brazil and $750,000.00 in South Brazil.

Much money has been given also in Brazil for educational plants. Brazilian Baptists have opened a wonderful mission work among the Indians and immigrants, and their foreign mission work in Portugal has taken on rapid strides.

In the realm of Christian literature, our Seminary has prepared many of its needed textbooks this decade, and we have a 12-page weekly paper and a book store with some 20 or 25 colporters in nine states.

Baptist Church property in Brazil is worth one million dollars.

Under Vice-President Jones, the College and Seminary had a wonderful year, deeply religious, and so successful financially that the deficit on running expenses was reduced from $8,000.00 to $2,400.00.

SOUTH BRAZIL MISSION

ANNUAL REPORT

By Rosalie Mills Appleby

ON THE EVE OF A GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

The Southern Baptist Convention this year at New Orleans marks fifty years since they definitely took steps to send missionaries to Brazil. Gen. A. T. Hawthorne, who had been in Brazil after the Civil War, returned to America as representing the Brazilian Government to interest more of the Southerners during the Reconstruction Days to colonize in Brazil. While in America, he was converted and a radical change came in his life. He desired to send missionaries and made a plea for several years to this end. It was he who brought in the recommendation that the Foreign Board be authorized to appoint missionaries. The Convention met that year in Lexington, Ky., May 6-10, 1880. It was the following January before the Bagbys went out to the Land of the Southern Cross.

Pioneering requires faith and patience. One of the hardest crosses is to labor in laying the foundation without seeing results. After ten years there were only seven churches and 382 members in spite of the increased missionary force, but "he that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him." What harvest has been reaped in these fifty years? Would that every Southern Baptist could get an air view of just the visible result, to say nothing of the invisible story that will never be told here. It would be a picture of thousands of Christian homes all over this fair land, of churches that hold up a living Christ, an organized Foreign Mission Board carrying the gospel back into the mother country, Portugal, a Home Mission Board pointing the "Jesus Way" to the red man and foreigners, a Relief Board to care for the widowed and aged, state academies in the better organized states, day schools and three superior schools that are among the leading institutions in the country. Add to that picture the deeper currents of influence that the gospel exerts on the thinking people who never accept Jesus but are moulded by the good that flows out from the gospel—the silent stream of righteousness that even a minority group of Christians sets in motion, the unknown and unseen deeds of love, the joys of those who walk in the light of the Lord.

The Latin American Conference is approaching us also, and marks a new day in the thinking of Brazilian Baptists. There is dawning a day of larger things, enlarged vision, a world view.

Progress marked the past year's work—development in self-support in native leadership.

Another soldier fell during this year that is gradually thinning the lines to the breaking point. Dr. W. E. Entzminger left the field of battle January 18, 1930, after almost forty years of service at the front. His monument is the Casa Publicadora (Publishing House) that he founded and the Jornal Baptista—the national Baptist paper of which he was the first editor. The songs he wrote and books he translated, besides other things, will go on in service. At the time of his death, he was book editor of the Sunday School Board.

The College and Seminary had a great revival during the year that deepened the evangelistic spirit. They enrolled 723 pupils in 1928. The Love Building has been finished on the outside and some classrooms added to the girls' school.

The Girls' School in Sao Paulo enrolled 492 of a dozen nationalities in 1928. (No report this year past.)

The Carroll Memorial Publishing House moved to other quarters this year. Unfortunately, the Sunday school, B.Y.P.U., W.M.U. and headquarters for nearly all our boards and Baptist interests are in a crowded down town section, while the printing office is located in the suburbs of the city. The Publishing House owns a large lot in a good location and awaits a denominational headquarters building adequate for the ever growing work of our denomination in Brazil. This great Publishing House puts out the Baptist literature for Brazil and Portugal—all Sunday school, B.Y.P.U., W.M.U., Vacation Bible school, distributes Bibles, leaflets, prints the National Baptist paper, furnishes headquarters for the Home Mission Board, Relief Board, Church Building Loan Board, mission treasurer and nearly all Baptist interests. How we need a building worthy of the Brazilian capital and the needs of our growing service.

An outstanding need is for more missionaries. The lines thin each year with no reenforcement. Six missionaries have died since 1923 and some resigned. Some of the strongest missionaries are at the breaking point and need rest. Pray the Lord of the harvest to send forth laborers.

The Brazilian W.M.U. has its work organized in thirteen of the twenty states in Brazil, also in the Federal District. We feel that 1929 was one of the Lest, if not the best, year that we have ever had. It was voted at the beginning of the year in the general meeting to make "Evangelization" the key-word for 1929. The watchword chosen for the year was, "E o levou a Jesus," or "And he brought him to Jesus." Annual reports were received from twelve of the fourteen organizations and it made our hearts rejoice to know that the number of evangelistic conversations were more than doubled—32,000. News came from an interior society in the state of Bahia about the great sacrifices on the part of some of the members of that society to do evangelistic visiting. Some of the women spent whole days walking from house to house and sometimes had to spend the night away from their homes because of the great distances. The president of that society is sixty years old and lives six miles from the church, but did not miss a single meeting during the year. Her society won the state banner." (Minnia Landrum.)

Parana-Santa Catharina Field. This field has gone forward in the absence of their missionary during the year, eleven of the twenty-three churches are now self-supporting. Many of the churches take in only tithers, which eventually means self-support. The natives gave very much more for the ongoing of their work than the Foreign Mission Board. They have fifty thousand dollars worth of Baptist property on a relatively new field, made possible by the Junta Patrimonial. Dr. Deter tells the following to illustrate the high esteem with which the Baptists are held because of their high standard of church membership: "Ernesto Zamit is a butcher. He went to a Greek merchant in Paranaguá last week and asked for a place in his butcher shop. The Greek, Nicolau Miguel, looked him over and told him that he had nothing for him. Antonio Pinheiro, a Baptist, who knew the merchant well, said, 'This man is a Baptist.' Miguel said, 'Is he? I need a man and if he is a Baptist he can begin work tomorrow.' He added that all Baptists are honest. I would to God he had said the truth, but we are going forward as fast as the lives of our people tell the story of regeneration."

Minas Geraes with its seven million people is a large interior state rich in native resources but fanatically Catholic. The one missionary left on the field this year, J. R. Allen, reports a deepening of the evangelistic spirit and development in liberality of giving. Twenty-four churches reach out a helping arm to three times as many preaching points and there are 38 Sunday schools. Several outstanding visitors promoted the work in the field this year. The secretary of the Home Mission Board, a Brazilian evangelist who had been a missionary to Portugal, and the saintly ex-priest Hypolito de Campos held a meeting in the First Church of Bello Horizonte. This ex-priest has prayed through the years that he may give as many years to preaching TRUTH as he gave to leading people in ERROR. God has given him this request. He is now very old. There were 136 baptisms in Minas for the year. This vast state is a challenge!

Goyaz is another interior state larger than Minas but not so populated. Because it is not so priest-ridden, the possibilities are large. In this territory, larger than several of our Southern states combined, we have only 80 Baptists with three struggling churches, but the fact that they maintain twice as many preaching points is evident that they are reaching out and growing. They have no missionary. Mr. J. R. Allen says of Goyaz, "It has a great future and Baptists ought to begin there in a worthy way and grow with the state." The last work of the "Wandering Jew," S. L. Ginsburg, was to open this new field for the Lord.

The Federal District is the national capital and its suburbs. The second center for the opening of Baptist work in Brazil was in the capital city by the first missionary. The First Church of Rio was organized in 1884 and is today probably the most magnificent evangelical church in Brazil. The work is splendidly organized with their citywide training schools and evangelistic efforts. Then they hold Vacation Bible Schools through the vacation and maintain permanently an orphans' home. There are 2,480 Baptists in Rio and last year two hundred were added by baptism. Our largest "Collegio Baptista" (Baptist College) and Seminary are located in the capital. The twenty-one churches and twice as many preaching points give ample opportunity for the seminary students to do field work.

Victoria Field in the Holy Spirit State (Espirito Santo). Coming into one of the most beautiful ports in Brazil, you can see the Baptist headquarters on a hill overlooking the city. Surely there are few places where a limited amount of money has accomplished more. In the state academy in Victoria, they prepare their teachers to go out into all parts of the state to teach in twenty day schools connected with the churches. Nurses leave the headquarters each morning to touch homes where there is sickness and suffering, to help mothers and care for little children. There are forty-two churches with about 4,000 members.

Matto Grosso or Thick Woods lies to the interior with the problems and advantages of interior life in Brazil. They report eight churches with 220 members. The outlook for this relatively new field is bright for the future.

Sao Paulo State is one of our greatest opportunities with its large foreign element and its splendid location. No state has made greater progress in material things and in education. There are about as many foreign Baptist churches as Brazilian among the Letts, Germans, Hungarians, Russians and other nationalities. The liberal spirit of the people in Sao Paulo makes the gospel progress easier. Twenty-two churches report a membership of 2,057 one year ago. The great girls' school in Sao Paulo is doing much to reach the best people in the city.

Rio Grande do Sul is our state fartherest to the south and consequently in a cooler clime. It is largely of foreign population—Germans, Lettish and other nationalities. There are foreign Baptist churches in this field. There are two academies with a total matriculation of 473 pupils. Eighteen churches report a membership of 576.

Rio State or the Campos field. This is a small state but has been organized longer than most of the others and the work is splendidly organized with 80 churches all reported as self-supporting and a membership of 8,329 members. They maintain a hospital and saving funds for an orphans' home. Some of their churches have 300 or 400 members. This state leads out in self-support and native leadership.

RIO BAPTIST COLLEGE AND SEMINARY J. W. Shepard, President

The year 1929 was one of substantial growth and progress in the work of our college and seminary in Rio. It was a successful year from the material, intellectual and spiritual standpoint. The matriculation reached a total of 709 in all departments. There was a considerable increase in the number of students in the high school and junior college departments and substantial results were obtained in the work in these departments, as also in the preparatory schools for boys and girls.

From the financial side there was an increase of income over the previous year of approximately six thousand dollars. This surplus was taken up with the natural expansion and growth of the institution calling for larger expenditures. Considerable improvement was made in the material equipment, especially in the addition of 300 splendid seats and a good piano for the chapel, as well as two pianos for the musical department and a new car. Practically all of the sixty-odd teachers of the institution were present and about their tasks. The commercial department entered into a new phase of development by becoming chartered by the Department of Agriculture, Industry and Commerce, thus receiving the prestige of the best commercial schools in Brazil. In this department there is a fine opportunity for training Christian young men for business in the commercial circles of Rio and other places.

The seminary had over fifty students and the work done by this institution was up to the high standard maintained by it through several years.

The department for girls matriculated 149 in the preparatory and higher classes, 25 of whom are studying to be Christian teachers.

A basis was laid during the year for building four new classrooms which will be ready for use in the current year of 1930. This is the first time the school has ever undertaken to build on its own responsibility. The total income of the institution during the year reached approximately ninety thousand dollars. There was a total of seminary and normal school students of about 90. These students receive free tuition and half board on the basis of a self-help plan.

During the year we had a series of evangelistic services in the two departments which resulted in about 150 decisions for Christ. The spiritual atmosphere of the institution was splendid.

In the boarding department there were over 300 students. The graduating class of the year was composed of 24 young men and women from various departments. Of the nine graduates from the normal school, five will remain to work with us in this institution; one goes to Bello Horizonte, two to the state of Paraná to open a new school, and one is employed in business in the city of Rio. There were 14 who took the Bachelor's degree from the college, four who graduated from the commercial department, and two from the seminary. The institution made progress in the better organization of its forces, and the prospects for the new year are bright.

ANNUAL REPORT

By Marjorie Spence

EVANGELISTIC WORK

The year 1929 has been a year of progress in every phase of our work. This was the largest attended Convention in the Mission's history, and the best in spirit. Our hearts were made glad at the attitude some of our pastors and laymen showed toward self-support, which has always been one of our biggest problems.

During the spring months an evangelistic campaign was put on in all the churches, so that for about four months there was a meeting in one or more churches. The reports from these were most gratifying. Many new people became interested in the gospel and a goodly number converted.

Evangelistic and publication work were awaiting Mr. and Mrs. Moore upon their arrival in October. Mr. Hart visited and looked after the Bio-Bio district in their absence.

EDUCATIONAL WORK

Our school in Temuco grows in influence and power each year. since grown to the capacity of our buildings and teaching force. Though the matriculation last year could not be greater than that of the previous year, yet the attendance was more than ever—265. We had six preparatory grades and four of the six high school classes according to the government system of education.

We always consider our annual revival the greatest event of the year, for it is then that we see the real harvest of the term's work. We praised the Lord for the fine group of boys and girls who surrendered to the Master during the meeting which was conducted by Mr. Hart. We are expecting great things from these young people.

Miss Laseter went home in November for a much-needed rest. We miss her.

The school in Malco, conducted by one of our native pastors and his wife, has just closed another successful year's work.

The most significant work among the Baptist young people of Chile, in general, was the B.Y.P.U. Convention, under the direction of Mr. Maer, held in Temuco last March. About a hundred and fifty young men and women attended. They showed a fine, enthusiastic spirit and went back to do better work in their own societies.

W.M.U. WORK

The women were happy to welcome back Mrs. Moore, their general secretary. The special emphasis during the year has been on tithing. The women are enthusiastically leading the way in this, and many of them convincing their husbands of the rightness and possibility of it. There were reported 49 women tithers. They have also experienced great blessings in the observance of the Weeks of Prayer during the spring.

CENTRAL CHINA MISSION

ANNUAL REPORT

By Mrs. R. T. Bryan

The statistics for the year 1923 show the largest force of missionaries Cen-The statistics for the year 1925 show the largest force of missionaries Central China has ever had. Each following year, through 1926, shows growth in the work on the field. In 1927, because of war conditions, missionaries and their work suffered much. Many missionaries returned home. It was necessary for most schools to close. It was a sifting time for the churches and few new members were added. This sifting has continued which is the cause of the decrease in the membership totals. Since 1927, while missionaries have decreased, the work has not, but on the other hand has shown a pleasing growth.

The Central China missionaries are now divided into seven stations as follows: Yangchow, Chinkiang, Wusih, Soochow, Shanghai, Shanghai College, and the China Baptist Publication Society.

When asking for reports we suggested that stations might like to compile their own. Some have taken this suggestion, so we will arrange this report under these seven heads.

THE YANGCHOW STATION

There are no men missionaries living in Yangchow now and have been none since the war in 1927. School work has not been opened up but the missionary women have done much evangelistic work and training of church members.

During the year Miss Jeffers has gone home on furlough. Miss Hazel Andrews has gone to her heavenly home.

The following is taken from our 1929 Reference Book:

IN MEMORIAM

Mary C. Demarest

L. Hazel Andrews was born in Nashville, Tennessee, January 27, 1883. Her mother died before she was three, and about two years later her father married the woman who effectively filled her mother's place. Since a Baptist church was the most convenient one, she went there to Sunday school and church services, and was converted at the age of ten. Her father insisted that she wait until she was older to be baptized. In spite of the fact that her grandfathers on both sides were Methodist preachers, she was immersed at the age of twelve and became an active worker in Immanuel Baptist Church.

Her father died quite suddenly just after she graduated from high school and the support of two people devolved upon her. Her step-mother had already had one operation for cancer. Six years later she died after the second operation. Through all these years Miss Andrews taught in both day and night schools to provide the money for needed medicines and delicacies for the invalid. After her step-mother's death, Miss Andrews taught for eight more years in the city schools of Nashville. Then in an evangelistic meeting under Dr. Luther Little, she realized that the Lord wanted something more of her. She immediately resigned her position and entered the Training School at Louisville. At the end of first year of study there she was sent to China to take up the work of Miss Julia Mackenzie who died in America the very day Miss Andrews arrived in China, September 15, 1916. After only one and a half years of language study she took charge of the school. Under her aggressive leadership the new building was erected and the school name changed from the Yangchow Baptist Academy to Julia Mackenzie Memorial School. Slowly but surely the enrollment increased until the time when all of us had to leave Yangchow in March, 1927.

Miss Andrews went back in July, lent out for safe-keeping much of the school furniture, packed up and sent to Shanghai our personal belongings and hurried back to Shanghai after watching the next set of machine-gun men take possession of our premises. On September 22, 1927, she returned to Yangchow to live—the only foreign missionary in Yangchow for a few weeks and the only member of our Mission resident there until January 14, 1928. She proceeded as soon as possible to take possession of all mission property and of all personal belongings of our missionaries. At the same time she was instrumental in getting regular religious services started again in one of our buildings. During her last months she spent much time in giving out tracts and in quiet talks with individuals and small groups about the gospel and the plan of salvation. After a brief illness, her spirit left her tired body, March 2, 1929.

Miss Demarest writes:

The year opened with a series of evangelistic meetings at which Mr. J. S. Flacks, converted Jewish evangelist, spoke to us. The first six meetings were held in the auditorium of the Julia Mackenzie Memorial School at 3 p.m. each day, the next seven in Hsien Liang Kai Church at 10:30 a.m., so as not to interfere with the services of the Week of Prayer. During this second week Mr. Flacks gave his life story and some other talks at the C. I. M. Training Home from 6:00 to 7:30 p.m. Several English-speaking Chinese attended those with us. We felt that Mr. Flacks "opened our eyes that we might behold wondrous things out of the law."

Our first acquaintance with Mr. Lin Hong Bing, who teaches at Gee Nan University and preaches on the side, began when Mr. Olive brought him to Yangchow on January second. Mr. Flacks agreed to give him an hour of his time and he took two. He was with us again during his spring vacation and a third time when the Yangchow Baptist Association had its annual meeting in October. He is a John-the-Baptist style of preacher, fearlessly pointing out faults and failings even in "the elect."

The departure at the end of June of Miss Jeffers and the Blackmans for their well-deserved furloughs and of Miss Tatum for summer on Kuling left Misses Moorman and Demarest "monarchs of all they surveyed," and some more besides. Miss Moorman had her Bible classes at her home all summer except when she went to Shanghai "to cut some teeth," and Miss Demarest had a little coaching and Chinese studying to while away the time. Trips to Kwong Ying San in July during the yearly pilgrimage to give out tracts to the worshipers, mark that section of the summer. The return of Miss Tatum from Kuling at the end of August and of Mrs. Pierce, Miss Teal and Dr. Ethel Pierce from America in September brought new hope and inspiration. One of the unoccupied houses once more has occupants and a clinic for women and children is open once more. Slowly the tangled threads are being untangled and prepared again for the weaving. May it be fully in accord with the Master's plan this time!

If it were not for Mr. Marriott's helpful oversight it might be said that the out-station pastors and preachers had fallen into unskilled hands. Mr. Marriott and the evangelistic band have visited each church at least once during the year. In spite of low salaries for the preachers, famine conditions, and bandits, the Word is being preached. One evangelist is being dismissed, one evangelist has died and one evangelist has spent five months on Kuling for relief from tuberculosis. Services have been held once or twice a month at the churches of the two latter by a pastor and evangelist who are near enough to reach them. A former school teacher is helping to revive the church at Chinglan where the evangelist resigned for health reasons last year. The church members at Siennumiao are in the process of purchasing, by the aid of the Building and Loan Fund, a tea-house to replace as a house of worship the big place which the local Nationalist Party has insisted upon sharing with them for the past three years. And at Kiangyien poor farmer church members gave money they were saving to buy seed for next year's crops in order that an increase in the security money for their rented building might be met. The financial problem is serious for each of these out-station evangelists and pastors, for not one of them is receiving from the Mission enough to support those dependent upon him.

Under the care of a committee of Chinese and foreigners from the two Yangchow churches three little sprouts of schools have been nourished for three months in the hope that they may not be blighted by "the east wind" of the local Bureau of Education but may develop once more into Christian schools.

Miss Moorman writes:

"One great note of encouragement has been the friendliness of my former pupils. They haven't forgotten God's Word that was taught them. I have so much to praise him for in the 'all things.' There are shadows, but the sunshine of his presence overbalances them, only to show us the cool retreats of communion with him in the heat and weariness of life's journey. May we in the coming year realize moment by moment the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ. The face of love, suffering and power. As we look unto him, may they be lightened with the coming glory. One of our number, Miss Andrews, unable to bear this tabernacle of clay any longer, left it to find an abundant entrance into the 'home of many mansions.' Our hearts were made glad in the homecoming of Mrs. Pierce, Dr. Ethel Pierce, and Miss Teal. We are praying for a time of refreshing from the Lord, and we know 'prayer changes things.'"

Miss Teal says:

"On the 16th of September, 1929, I reached Yangchow, after an absence of three and one-half years.

-"During this short time, since my return to the field, my work has been mainly training new servants to care for the hospital and the wilderness in which we beheld it, and to help in the clinic.

"I have met almost daily with the servants in morning worship, and I have been able to work considerably among the Christians, which at this present time is a much-needed field.

"I am happy in realizing results because of the personal work in witnessing for our Lord.

"I am glad to report that a number of our nurses and helpers have made a special effort to call upon us, and to express their regret over the devastation of the hospital work. It has given us a great opportunity to witness for our Lord, and we believe that because of their suffering, they have been brought nearer to God.

"Occasionally, there are those who have never before seemed in the least interested, who voluntarily tell us they are sitting up at night studying their Bible, and that they are having family devotion."

The report of Ethel M. Pierce, M.D.:

"Arriving in Yangchow in the latter part of September, 1929, I found that the hospital was so well ransacked and swept clean of all equipment that at present it could not be used. Fortunately the nurses' home, which was built a little over three years ago, was in very good condition—and we decided to use part of it for a clinic for women and children. Miss Teal secured the services of a Chinese graduate nurse, who has been a great help to us. At present our patients are few due to the fact of unsettled conditions, the unusually severe weather during the past month and a half, and the fact that it is not generally known that the clinic has been opened.

"I think it will be some little time before we can have the clinic we had before the troubles of 1927. Two great needs confront us: money to repair our splendid hospital plant before it is rendered in a worse condition, and a qualified, experienced surgeon to take charge.

"Of our helpers in the work, six are Christians and two are not. One of these is the hospital carpenter and the other is a new servant who never heard the gospel before coming to us.

"To all the patients we distribute tracts, and talk about their soul's salvation, praying that the seed sown will bear fruit, and remembering that the Lord said, 'My word will not return unto me void.'"

THE CHINKIANG STATION

This station has had only a few workers living in it for the past few years. At present there are two families and one single woman on the field.

Mr. Marriott reports as follows:

"In undertaking a report for the year of 1929, I am glad to say there are many signs that are encouraging. In the first place, there is an increasing disposition on the part of the masses to hear the gospel, manifest in all of the eighteen places where we were enabled to hold revival meetings during the year. Secondly, there is now a more intelligent and open opposition to us than we have witnessed heretofore. This is such that it can be met and intelligent replies can be given. Thirdly, we are able to note that the people are beginning to see in the message of the gospel the explanation of all the changes which have occurred in this country in the last few years. Fourthly, our churches and workers are getting a clearer understanding of the meaning of the gospel than they have ever before shown. Fifthly, there is at the present time a movement on among our preachers to institute a series of conferences and study courses to better equip themselves for their work. Sixthly, there is a consciousness of the need felt by many of the churches for a more extensive and intensive propagation of the Word by every lawful way.

"Our missionary force has been greatly strengthened in the last year by the return to the field of the Olives and Miss Phillips to Chinkiang.

"The most outstanding characteristic of the work of the past year in the different places has been the attention of the students in the government schools. The last meeting we held was largely attended by students from the school of that place. The only visible results we had of our meetings there were from the students, many of whom enrolled as inquirers and joined themselves into Bible study classes under the leadership of the evangelist of that place. In other parts it has been a noticeable feature of every service. The reason for this movement on the part of the students, in my mind, is a revolt or a protest, unconsciously it may be, to the attitude that the teachers in most of these schools are required to take toward Christianity."

Miss Phillips writes:

"Miss Lucy Yao and I have been engaged in evangelistic work this past year, and it has been a very happy year indeed. Our first trips were out in the real country where the gospel had never been preached, and it was such a joy to tell such eager listeners about Jesus. Some days we had as many as four services. We went from village to village. People from near villages would hear about us and come to invite us to their home to hear us. One lady heard us and said she wanted the people in her mother's village to know about Jesus, and pleaded with us to go there. It was a long walk for Miss Yao, and a longer one for the one who escorted us, for she carried a baby and had bound feet, but we were glad we went, for the people were so happy to see us.

"Our latest efforts have been in four of our out-stations on the railroad and at the church here in Chinkiang. The women's work had never been touched in these out-stations and when we began the pastors discouraged us or tried to by telling us it wouldn't do any good, but we kept right on and have already organized two Sunbeam Bands and are ready to organize one W.M.S."

Mr. Olive writes:

"One of the most hopeful signs is the spirit manifested by our preachers in their last meeting. In one way their spirit was most discouraging. They seemed to look to the Mission for everything, and failed to lift their eyes up. I feel that spirit came about largely on account of the revolution. On the other hand, they realized they had to do more studying, and had to have more to study with. So instead of having the old quarterly meeting as we have had for years, they decided to meet twice a year for ten days each time and spend the time in study and prayer. They seemed to feel hungry for spiritual food.

"The first church at Chinkiang called Mr. Wu G. Djung, a graduate of Shanghai College, and one of our own boys, to be our preacher. He had a touch of tuberculosis while in the college, and so he decided to go to the mountains for a few months to get well. The doctor told him he would have to stay there at least one year. That was quite a blow to the church, yet the church showed a very fine spirit about it. They got a substitute until Mr. Wu is able to come to us. The church invited Mr. Tsai to come and help us. Our work in the church is not what we want it, but it does show some sign of improvement. The revolution shook the church severely.

"It was with deep regret that we were unable to open our schools last year, yet there is hope that we may be able to do so later. We opened a little day school in the fall and it was quite a success."

WUSIH STATION

P. W. Hamlett writes:

"Owing to the absence of our senior missionaries, Mrs. Hamlett and I have had to give much more time than we otherwise would to miscellaneous duties connected with the material development and upkeep of the compound. I always begrudge this time from my main work of preaching and teaching the gospel, but it seems necessary at this stage in the progress of the station.

"Our small staff of city workers, including the two missionaries, have been putting most of our time and energy on the development of the city church, in co-operation with the pastor, and on intensive evangelistic work through the city chapel.

"The city chapel work is encouraging. Regular day and night services for five days in the week have been conducted with some degree of faithfulness throughout the year, with fair results. For a long time the bad boys in the community gave us no end of trouble. They did pretty nearly everything they could devise to hamper the meetings, such as stealing personal property, taking locks off of the door, and smearing them with black, dirty grease, and throwing things through the windows during services, and using all kinds of abusive language in front of the door. It looked for a long time as if we should have to change our location in self-defense, but every time our workers considered it, something would happen to convince us that it was unwise, and so we have kept up the fight in the face of all sorts of hindrances. Now, the children are not only not giving trouble but are among our best friends, and some of them have come out and confessed Christ as their Saviour.

"A weekly Bible class for inquirers has been one of the leading features of the chapel work. It has been very well attended considering the difficulty we have had in getting people to study the Bible, especially adults.

"The two Bible women and Mrs. Hamlett have given much time and energy in interesting the women of the church through the Woman's Missionary Society. They have also carried on regular semi-monthly gospel meetings for factory women and girls. They have worked up these meetings by regular visitation and personal work, and have been successful in getting a good attendance.

"Mrs. Kao, the pastor's wife, has done good work with the Sunbeam Society, as was shown at the Christmas celebration when a class of boys recited beautifully a passage of scripture, and were awarded prizes for faithful attendance.

"The reports from the out-stations are hopeful, and some of them are very encouraging. The best news comes from Faung Jao, where I had the privilege of baptizing eleven candidates. One of these was a woman, the first to become a church member in this village church.

"Our Associational Evangelistic Band has done a remarkable work all over our association, including the out-stations in all three country fields, Wusih, Soochow, and Shanghai. A number have been baptized as direct results from these meetings, and a large number have confessed Christ and enrolled as inquirers. Several thousand Gospel portions and tracts have been sold and given away, in addition to a large number sold and given away by the local evangelists and colporteurs. The director of this work reports good interested crowds, and emphasized the surprising fact that there wasn't a single bit of opposition in any one of the protracted meetings."

THE SOOCHOW STATION Compiled by Mrs. C. G. McDaniel

During 1929 our station was neither depleted by death nor augmented by birth; nor were there any new recruits from the homeland. In April our youngest missionary family went home on its first furlough. In August the senior family returned from the third furlough.

In January, 1929, our newest single lady underwent a major operation from which she has not yet sufficiently recovered to resume her duties in the station. The health of the rest of the station throughout the year has been uniformly good. We are all busy and happy in our work.

Evangelistic Work

Brother H. H. McMillan writes:

"From the standpoint of visible results the year 1929 was one of the most encouraging years we have known. The minds of the Chinese generally are more open to the gospel than in former years. Though there is opposition from social and political groups, yet the multitude hear him gladly.

"In the Soochow field we are very thankful to report a total number of 111 received into our churches by baptism. There are a number in our country churches ready to be baptized as soon as the weather moderates sufficiently for them to receive the ordinance in the open canals.

"Out-station Evangelism. There are five churches in the Soochow field located in cities and large towns outside of Soochow. An evangelist is located at each of these places under the supervision of the Home Mission Board. Mr. Johnson is pastor of two and I am pastor of three country churches. We make a trip to each church at least once each month, when the Lord's Supper and baptism are administered, and the business side of the church looked after.

"Evangelistic Band. In addition to the evangelistic work fostered by each local church in the country field, the Home Mission Board employs a traveling evangelist who gives his full time to holding meetings in the Shanghai, Sochow and Wusih country churches. Mr. Lieu Zeu Hwo is now most acceptably filling this place. Mrs. Dzung, a Bible woman, assists in many of these meetings, working especially among the women and children. One can hardly appreciate the telling work done by these Chinese workers. The mornings are devoted to preaching and testifying in the tea shops, on the streets, and in the homes. In the afternoon the church members meet in the church or chapel for Bible study and prayer. In the late afternoon volunteers go on the streets and announce the night meetings. Sometimes this is done by a band of children, marching through the streets and singing gospel hymns and carrying banners announcing the meeting. As a result the small gathering place is crowded with eager listeners. Names of those who will stand up and acknowledge Christ are secured and given to the local evangelist. He is supposed to give them special instruction, and it is from such groups that the membership of the church grows. When the missionary pastor visits the church he does special work with the inquirers as well as with the church membership.

"Church Building. At one time all of our out-station memberships worshiped in rented buildings. As rapidly as possible the churches are encouraged to secure their own houses of worship. The Church Building and Loan Fund, fostered by Rev. J. H. Ware, makes this possible in many cases. Under the supervision and direction of Rev. W. B. Johnson, a chapel was erected at Tsang Zien and dedicated on December 16. This village is in Mr. Johnson's field. Though the number of Christians there is small, yet the work has taken on new life and there are a goodly number awaiting baptism.

"City Evangelistic Work. The Zia Nga Zien Church is in a healthy spiritual condition. Last January we regretted to see Pastor Tsok resign to accept a call to a church in Sangchow, but God had a younger man in preparation to take over this most responsible church.

"Pastor Zang Be Tsz, of Soochow, who was serving as general secretary of the Home Mission Board, was called to the pastorate of the Zia Nga Zien Church and began his work in May. By education and experience he is well fitted to pastor our church. He is energetic and earnest, and a diligent student of the Bible. The congregations have grown steadily since he became pastor. With the help of the missionaries living on the compound, and the Christian teachers associated with the two academies, all the organizations fostered by a Baptist church are functioning effectively.

"The B.Y.P.U., under the direction of Miss Blanche Groves, meets on Sunday nights. It is doing a splendid work in training for church leadership the fine young men and women in our academies.

"The Woman's Missionary Society is operating encouragingly, and a young woman's circle is being nursed into life by Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. O. S. Feng."

"The pastor of the Bing Hwo Jao Church resigned in January. During the summer Mr. Tai Tien Loh was called to be evangelist with the view of being ordained later. Mr. Tai is a graduate of Yates Academy, and has had two years of ministerial preparation in Shanghai Baptist College. He is planning to finish his remaining two years in Soochow University while carrying on the church work. Last spring he was married to an earnest Christian girl of Shanghai.

GOOD WILL CENTER

This institution is known by the name of the Sing Ming Center. Nineteen hundred twenty-nine has been the most encouraging year since its organization in 1920. We are putting the emphasis on education and evangelism. There are 188 pupils in the day school. The night school, for the youth who have to work during the day, has been well attended. Not only are they taught the rudiments of an education, but they are taught the Bible and the way of salvation.

Mr. Chang Kong Tsih, who is at the head of this institution, is a graduate of Yates Academy and is a graduate of Shanghai Baptist College as a ministerial student. He is one of our best prepared preachers and has unusual heart power. He has had to drop out the last half of this year on account of ill health.

YATES ACADEMY

Mr. Tstsu E. Chen, Principal

Nineteen hundred twenty-nine was my first full year as principal of the school. During the first part of the year Dr. McDaniel was in America on his regular furlough. In the main, we got along very peacefully. I thank God for his great wisdom in guiding us through all sorts of difficulties which have increased our experience and faith.

This term we have reached a total enrollment of two hundred and ninety-three students—the largest in our history. There are one hundred and fifty-one students in the Senior Middle School, and one hundred and forty-two students in the Junior Middle School. There are fifty-five students in the Business Department, thirty-five students studying Science, and nine in the literary group.

The Chinese and foreign teachers are all working together most harmoniously.

Following a very successful commencement in June the local Kwomingtang gave us some trouble extending over two months. At our commencement we graduated twenty-seven young men, sixteen of whom have entered college.

Although we have made religious instruction voluntary since the fall of 1927, yet it has not been neglected. During this time of political unrest it has been our policy to use every opportunity to propagate Christianity in our school. After this short experience, while we prefer the other method, the voluntary method of giving religious instruction cannot be said to be a failure. We have been quite encouraged by the spiritual fruits harvested throughout the year. In the spring term Pastor Tsung held evangelistic meetings for our students for one week. In the fall term a week of revival services led by Mr. Ware was followed by another week of evangelistic meetings led by Pastor Kiang. As a result of these special efforts, forty-two students were baptized.

Mr. T. S. Lea, our splendid religious director, works faithfully among the students. He has organized the Christian boys into a Christian Fellowship Band to help in the personal work. There are 72 students in this band.

Thirty-eight of our students are members of the B.Y.P.U. One hundred and fourteen of them are studying the Bible; while One hundred and eighteen are enrolled in Sunday school classes. A large group of our students belong to the church choir.

All of this is voluntary and it is no mean showing. Much of the Christian contacts cannot be tabulated.

WEI LING GIRLS' SCHOOL Miss Dorothy Wang, Principal

The encouraging feature has been the spirit of sacrifice and co-operation on the part of the staff and the fine attitude of the student body. The troubles that counted during the year were due to sickness in our teaching force and the increasing pressure of the government upon Christian schools. Miss Lanneau says:

"Early in the year the school work began to encounter afresh perplexing and embarrassing difficulties. Although the schools went on to a successful commencement in June, the close of the term was the beginning of a more anxious summer. Enemies tried all through the summer to injure our principals and to close and seal the schools.

"It was God's grace which kept up the courage of the Chinese and the missionaries, and enabled us to open school again in the fall with students swarming instead of dwindling away, and with even finer spirit than ever."

From the full report of the principal we cull most of the following facts:

The total number of students during 1929 was 233.

We have endured crowded conditions throughout the year. We are deeply grateful for the appropriation of three thousand dollars, Mex., to rebuild the primary school in 1930.

Throughout the year Miss Lanneau has been the one full-time missionary working in Wei Ling. The illness of Miss Lea has deprived the school of the other one.

The morning watch has been observed by our Christian students this year. Two revival meetings were held in the church, one in the spring, and one in the fall. Most of our students went voluntarily and listened attentively. Fourteen of our girls were baptized during 1929, and as many as thirty became inquirers. The B.Y.P.U., Y.W.A., G.A. and Sunbeam organizations have kept in operation throughout the year. The members have rendered some real service to the church and the community.

Bible study is required in the elementary school.

The Middle School students take Bible as one of their electives. In spite of the fact that Bible study has been put on a voluntary basis, yet the majority of our students have chosen Bible instead of civics and ethics. Excluding the kindergarten, about 85 per cent of our students are studying the Bible.

More than one-fourth of the Middle School and about one-tenth of the Elementary School students are Christians. A large number of our students are too young to join the church.

THE SHANGHAI STATION

The Shanghai Station is divided into five centers and we will so report them.

The Old North Gate Center

At the Old North Gate is the First Baptist Church with 507 members, Tsing Duh Girls' School with 256 pupils and Ming Duh Boys' School with 380 pupils.

The missionaries most closely connected with this work are Misses Kelly and Johnson, Miss Parker and Mr. Rogers have also been helping there this year.

From Miss Kelly's report we give the following:

"We have had two meetings of several weeks' each at the North Gate, and about one hundred and fifty inquirers, but only twenty-three were baptized. We trust that this year of 1930 may see many results of these meetings. On the last Sunday of this past year, nine were baptized, while it was snowing and sleeting outside. All nine of these were brought in by one member, Wong Ts Zien. He has been having cottage prayer meetings at his own home and these nine came into a knowledge of Jesus through these meetings. The life story of this man is a most wonderful and faithful witness of God's marvelous and mysterious power to transform lives. Once a riksha coolie in Soochow; now a teacher of a large Sunday school class at the North Gate Church. Not many years ago, a riksha coolie one rainy night, cold and weary, put down his riksha shafts and went in to the well-lighted and warm chapel at Bing Hwa Jao, Soochow. There he heard for the first time the story of Jesus (preached and lived by the faithful missionary, T. C. Britton). He was converted that night and began to come regularly for teaching. He soon learned to read, and was baptized. After a year or so, he planned to come to the metropolis of China, and leave his riksha behind. Here in Shanghai he rented a small stand on the street and went into the junk business. He united with the North Gate Church and continued to study. Now he is a prominent member, known and respected by all, known for his piety, respected for his integrity. He has brought more people into the church than any other church member. What would have been his lot, had not the faithful missionary opened the chapel that rainy night?

"It has been most interesting and encouraging to see the Christians at work. Much could be written about those who are brought in through their efforts. One woman who was baptized gave up all her idols and other heathen practices, and most significant of all, she brought her Mah Jang set, and said she was afraid to keep it in her home for fear she would yield to temptation, and that she did not want her only son to grow up with such an evil in the home. We did not even know that she played this pernicious game. Her son was also baptized down at Ming Jang during a recent glorious meeting.

Miss Johnson says:

"The major part of my time during 1929 was given to the Tsing Tuh and the Ming Tuh schools. Early each morning I climbed the long flights of steps up to the fourth floor of our Old North Gate Baptist Church where the Junior and Senior high school girls stayed. Happy were the days up there with those girls. Like one big family were we, working together and playing together, our serious moments shared one with another and our joyous ones as well. There in Senior 3 room we drew nearer to one another and to the heavenly Father through our weekly prayer meetings. There, together, we sympathized with the one whose father was persecuting her so severely. There the fun-loving girls played their pranks on one another and sometimes on me, quite as much to my delight as to theirs. There I corrected their compositions and red-penciled their mistakes in sentence making. There we read together some of the great English classics, and there we studied together the precious Word of God in our Bible classes, learning important lessons therefrom.

"Every day from Monday to Friday, I went down to the third floor to teach English and Bible in the Ming Tuh School to three grades of boys there. In two of these grades it was my privilege to tell the wonderful Bible stories,—and some of these little ones had never heard them before! A breathless stillness often fell over the room of nearly fifty boys as they listened eagerly to the stories. Especially was this true when the Christmas story was being told. With wonder the little ones listened, some saying, 'I never heard that before.' Looking into their bright, eager faces, I rejoiced that the blessed opportunity was mine of telling this story to them.

"Inspiration came from the Y.W.A. girls through the year, especially during the summer months. Usually the meetings were not held during the summer, but this year the girls decided to have the regular weekly meetings through the two months of vacation. The attendance kept up very well indeed. The mission book we studied was 'Ann of Ava,' and one interesting thing connected with that study was the fact that the fathers of two of the girls picked the book up to see what their daughters were reading and became so interested that they read it through before they put it down.

"Sundays were my busiest but happiest days. On Sunday afternoon came the most satisfying work of the whole week, I believe. A group of six or seven of us went each Sunday afternoon out to Fah Hwo, a little village just outside of Shanghai, to hold a service there. There were several reasons why this work was the most satisfying. The first was the joy I got out of seeing those young people at work for the Master. Everyone seemed to truly love the work, and to find a real joy in telling the story of Jesus and his love to those who had not known even his name a short while ago. The faithfulness of these young people as they went Sunday after Sunday through summer heat and winter cold was a real inspiration and joy."

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers have been living in Frenchtown in the same compound with Miss Kelly. He reports his work as follows:

"A list of my activities might be put down as follows: Pastor of Quinsan Baptist Church, which takes every first Sunday.

"Preaching at Fah Hwa once a week.

"Preaching at Jessfield village once a week.

"West Gate Chapel four services a week. This is the most promising work among the chapels that we are doing.

"Teaching the teachers' class at North Gate, and also a fine class of young men in the Sunday school.

"I have English and Bible classes in the North Gate Boys' School, and Bible classes in the North Gate Night School. In the higher classes in the Cantonese Girls' High School I am enjoying the teaching of Bible and Chinese history.

"Every Friday night I have a splendid class of Japanese young men, ten or twelve, who come from Teng Wen College to my home, a distance of some three or four miles, to study the Bible. "I am on the Board of Managers and treasurer of Ming Jang and Eliza Yates. This would be utterly impossible were it not for the splendid assistance of Mrs. Rogers."

Grace Church Center

This center has the church with 132 members and Grace School with 325 pupils.

Miss Sallee has given several afternoons each week to this work, helping in the women's meetings and Y.P. organizations. She has directed the Sunday school music and worked in the Sunday school. She has also been the school treasurer and counsellor.

Pastor Fong reports as follows:

"During the year our church has received many blessings from God. The members have been zealous in their attendance at the church services and in church work, and in helping with the expenses of the church. Every Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock we have our Sunday school which is organized with all departments. The average attendance was 200. Every Tuesday we have had Bible study courses for both men and women. The women have been under the capable leadership of Miss Sallee, and the men have been taught by the pastor.

"Wednesday we have had our G.A.'s, R.A.'s, and S.B.'s. They have done very good work. The students have been very zealous in helping out with the church work. Both girls and boys have sung willingly in the choir. We have also had a good orchestra to play at our church services. This year the school has bought one piano. We have put in equipment worth more than $500. The school has 17 teachers, all church members except one.

"The Lord has been especially good to us this year in giving us 41 baptisms."

Cantonese Center

Miss Marlowe has had almost the whole responsibility of this work from the missionary side.

The church reports 467 members and the Shung Tak Girls' School 636 pupils.

Miss Marlowe reports for them as follows:

"Early in the year saw a heart-moving sight when 21 young ladies from our school were buried in baptism. More than 30 others had become earnest inquirers. From the church constituency seven others came into the church fellowship and the spirit of revival extended to all departments of the church.

"But God led us shortly afterward from the mountaintop into the valley of trial. For in June our loved pastor, Rev. Y. S. Lau, left us to take the pastorate of the Chinese Baptist Church in San Francisco. He had given us nine years of faithful, consecrated leadership and we are lost without him. Truly we have been, these six months, like sheep without a shepherd. God has now directed us to Rev. T. C. Chiu, who will come early in January to help us. In the interval we were without a pastor Dr. R. E. Chambers has served as pastor on Sundays, and Rev. W. H. Tipton and Dr. J. T. Williams, also busy men of our Baptist Publication Society, have been of invaluable service. These men, though tied down to the innumerable tasks of their work, have given willingly of their time and strength. Mrs. R. T. Bryan has been a blessing to the church with her musical talent and to the English Bible class of young men and women whom she has led so efficiently.

"Mr. Princeton S. Hsu, the efficient principal of Shung Tak, left us for a year's study in Peabody Teachers' College. We feel his loss sadly, but know he'll be coming back to us after a year and a Master's degree is added to his name. Miss Marlowe, whom the added duties of principalship were thrust upon, feels his absence most keenly, for this work added to her already heavy duties made the year a hard one.

"Our church had a successful six weeks' Daily Vacation Bible School with more than 60 children attending.

"Our girls' school opened in September with an enrollment of 471 girls. Never before in the history of the school has there been such an earnest searching after the truth. We have a Personal Workers' Band of 40 Christian girls who have been a blessing to their missionary. They have met regularly every week for study and prayer. The glorious revival which came in late November was largely brought about by their efforts and consecration.

"Another joy of the year has been a Sunday school class of 19 young ladies who chose for their class the name of the 'Faithful Believers in Christ.'

On December 6, we were bringing an evangelistic campaign in our school to a close. Already 32 girls were asking for baptism and church membership, and 39 others had been saved. About 90 girls, which included the above number, and the Personal Workers' Band were gathered in a special prayer service at 9:30 on the morning of the 6th.

"Suddenly our meeting was interrupted and our hearts chilled with the cry of 'Fire!'

"Our church and school building was on fire!

"There were minutes of extreme danger and tension, but all of the 500 in the building were soon out safe, without even one being hurt.

"With breaking hearts we stood and watched the angry flames destroy our only building, our church home and school!

"Our work is paralyzed. True, we're trying to hold together all the work. The common loss has knit us together, missionary and Christians, with ties of love and we're pledging the Father to do our utmost to save this his work.

"At present we're worshiping in a rented building a block and a half away from the three small temporary buildings in which we hold our Sunday school services. Our school is likewise housed.

"The hardships of carrying on under these conditions are trying indeed. Rent is also expensive.

"The church members are giving sacrificially and bending every effort to raising money to rebuild. We must have a church and a separate school building."

The Baptist Compound Center

This center has the Sallee Memorial Church with 215 members, the Ming Jang School with 248 pupils and Eliza Yates School with 240 pupils.

Dr. Bryan has been pastor of the church. He has also served on the board of the two schools—and with Mr. Rogers has spent much time and thought over school matters trying to get the schools on a proper running basis.

Mr. Jackson has taught in both schools. Mrs. Jackson has been adviser for the Junior B.Y.P.U. Mrs. Ware has taught some Bible in Eliza Yates School, has worked hard with the Sunbeams and has had charge of the Primary Sunday school department.

Miss Sallee has taught some in both schools and has done some work in the surrounding villages, besides helping at Grace Church. Mr. Napier and Miss Olive Lawton came in to the schools after Misses Echols and Hundley left on their furloughs. Their help in church and schools has been a great blessing and we do not see how we could have gotten on without them.

Mr. and Mrs. Britton are still on the compound. He is improving. She works among the wives of our teachers and helps to keep up the W.M.S. and the women's Sunday school class.

Mr. Ling, our Chinese principal for the two schools, has been ill for months. He is a man of prayer like his adopted father, Mr. Britton. Some of us who are so busy every minute sometimes wonder how much our compound blessings are due to the sick ones whom we know are spending much time on prayer for us and the work.

Dr. Bryan says: "As the pastor of the church it has been a great joy to work with others. We held a two weeks' meeting for the workmen on the compound and the country people; around twenty accepted Christ and arrangements were made to have them taught the way of the Lord more perfectly.

"In November the church decided to invite Brother H. H. McMillan, of Socchow, to hold a meeting with us. We talked about the meeting and prayed about it and plead for personal work in our Wednesday afternoon prayer meeting. Much work was done in and out of the two schools. Brother McMillan came on November 17, 1929, and we used the first service to greet him with 20 baptisms, the result of previous preparation. He certainly is a good and loving gospel preacher, but those 20 baptisms preached a better sermon than he could have preached. The orchestra and choir also did some attractive and good preaching during the whole meeting. Personal workers were busy, too.

"On the third day of the meeting some school girls came to the pastor and said, 'When are you going to let us join the church?' Brother McMillan agreed to give them a chance after his sermon. When he opened the doors of the church, 52 boys and girls came forward. The next morning the pastor waked up with fever and did not attend any more of the nine days' meetings. The meeting moved quietly along to the close. There were 10 additions to the church by letter, and 97 baptisms. It is the greatest meeting ever held in the Central China Mission during the more than 80 years of its history."

Ming Jang School

Never have we seen a finer spirit in Ming Jang than during the last term. The boys have been unusually well behaved and studious. They have not seemed to rebel against any school rules, including required Bible study and religious services. They have made no requests for extra holidays, something very unusual. They have made a good record in church and Sunday school attendance. The weekly prayer meeting is voluntary but they have been present in large numbers and some of them have voluntarily led in prayer. The young people's societies were also voluntary. The meetings were held on Saturdays at 8:15 a.m. All who did not wish to join these meetings went to a regular chapel service where they heard an evangelistic message. There were three groups in the school. The senior group had thirty boys in it, all Christians. They called themselves "Ling Sieu Way," meaning Baptist Spiritual Training Union. It was a joy to watch these young men develop. They were learning how to speak for their Lord, to lead in prayer, to preside over meetings, and to do personal work. More than ever before the promising talented boys are considering seriously giving their lives to Christian work, some for the ministry and some in other needed lines of Christian work. Several seem to have their hearts set on Christian music for a life work. They are already quite good players of the violin and seem at home with all the instruments now used in our orchestra, and sing solos when requested. They have helped us discover that our hymns can be played on Chinese musical instruments.

During our meeting in November sixty-seven boys were baptized. Five had been baptized in the spring term, so the total number for the year was seventy-two.

Eliza Yates School

Eliza Yates School is along at the top among mission girls' schools in Shanghai and Central China. Her present student body is composed of a fine group of young girls who stand high in school work almost without exception.

Our fine school spirit is due largely to our strong outstanding Christians. They are daily personal workers—among their classmates. They are active in the young people's organizations and liberal givers when appealed to. They have rented rooms in nearby villages to hold evangelistic meetings. Many have been faithful in Sunday school and church attendance and the large number at prayer meeting each time has continued to surprise us. Twenty-four graduated from the school in June. Two girls also graduated in piano, gave their recital and received their diplomas. Every morning the two schools met in Sallee Memorial Chapel for school prayers. At this service the orchestra, composed of from 20 to 38 students and teachers from both schools, have played for the boys and girls to assemble and leave the chapel, and accompanied the singing. The orchestra also played for Sunday services and the choir, composed of some senior pupils from each school and teachers, rendered a special number each Sunday. At Thanksgiving and Christmas times they sang cantatas, the practice of which they enjoyed and the rendition of which their audience each time seemed to enjoy.

Thirty-four girls were baptized during the year.

Eliza Yates Alumnae. The picture of some former Eliza Yates girl is often seen in the picture section of the Shanghai papers, always with the school name attached. Our present dean, a dignified, beautiful young woman, is one of our own graduates. Eight of our own graduates are now teaching in the school. The head hostess at Yengching University, Peking, is an Eliza Yates School graduate. The wife of the president of Nanking University was an Eliza Yates girl.

Eliza Yates School has furnished wives for some of the most prominent doctors in Shanghai—for the mayor of Nanking and his head secretary, for the mayor of Greater Shanghai, for the mayor of Hangchow, China's Minister of Finance, and for many other prominent men.

The Wu Ping Center and Shanghai Suburbs

Mrs. Ware reports on these as follows:

"Since Mr. Ware and I returned to China in October, 1928, he has concentrated on work with two groups of Christians in the suburbs of Shanghai, namely, Da Zang and Lan Nyi Doo across the Whangpoo, and another in the eastern part of Shanghai, Wu Ping Church. The work has been most encouraging. Mr. Ware was invited by the Chinese in each place and the work is self-supporting aside from his travel and salary.

"Da Zang was organized into a church during the fall of 1929, deacons appointed and Mr. Ware called as pastor. There are thirteen resident members there, eight having been baptized this year. Mr. Ware preaches there every Sunday afternoon and visits in the homes, holds prayer meetings and inquirers' classes on Thursday. In these classes he and Mrs. Tsaung have successfully used the Gospel reader which Mr. Ware worked out especially to meet his needs with these poor, unlettered inquirers. The book contains twenty-four lessons and the fundamentals of our faith are clearly set forth. While teaching these marvelous truths his idea has also been to stimulate in each one a fruit-bearing desire to enter into the worship services through the knowledge of the 250 or more characters.

"At Lan Nyi Doo the group has been anxious to organize, but they do not work as harmoniously as we could wish and have not succeeded. Two have been added by baptism there this year.

"Our hearts have rejoiced much over Wu Ping. Before we went on furlough one of the regularly attending Christians at Lan Nyi Doo moved to the Yangtsepoo section of Shanghai, and gathered a group of believers about him. Mr. Ware helped them make arrangements with the Municipal Council so that they could start chapel services. They asked him to help further, but at the time he had his hands full. When we returned Mr. Mo at once came, saying, 'Now, you haven't made your schedule, come and help us.' They soon wanted to organize a church, but Mr. Ware told them they must believe what Baptists believe, if they wanted a Baptist church. So for weeks he instructed them on the New Testament church. About March they were organized and called him as pastor. Twenty-nine have been baptized during the year and the membership is about forty. The last five baptized are sons, a son-in-law, and relative of this Mr. Mo who started the chapel, and he is the 'Andrew' who led them to the Saviour. With the help of the Church Building Loan Fund they have been able to purchase a small lot. The members of the church are largely from the poorer people, but they gave something like $130 toward a building fund for their church during the year. In addition, they paid all their current expenses and made a small gift to the Chinese Home Board. The Christians in the other Chinese churches have responded liberally to the call to help them build a church."

THE CENTRAL CHINA SUMMER ASSEMBLY Reported by Miss Kelly

To most of us, one hundred seemed a large number to expect, but to our surprise and thankful gratification, the attendance reached three hundred and sixteen. The men and boys were entertained in the Ming Jang building, women and girls in the Eliza Yates dormitory, admirably suited for such a thing. Sallee Memorial Chapel proved a delightful assembly hall, cool and breezy; the large lobby and rooms on each end were excellent for registration and book stores. This building was used every moment of the day. Two hundred and eighty-six joined in some class work, and every period of the day the bell was rung by the hand of Mrs. Bryan, who so faithfully and efficiently had prayed and planned and worked for this meeting. At 6:45 a.m. each morning, the bell sounded a glad call for the Morning Watch, but even before that one could see that many were wending their way to the chapel where they quietly gathered to pray and read God's Word.

Miss Dora Yui and Dr. Katherine Bushnell (author of "God's Word to Women") took turns in leading. Their messages were plain and simple; some received their greatest blessing from this service.

Then all had breakfast in the E. Y. S. dining hall, and by 8:45 all were busy in classes. Bible, Sunday school work, conferences, primary school teachers' lectures, W.M.U., B.Y.P.U., all came in the morning, and the afternoons the whole compound resounded with music and singing classes. Early in the afternoons, those hot days, the orchestra, led by Mrs. Bryan, practiced until four o'clock, after which inspiring messages were given by different pastors, and one must not fail to report eight lectures at 11 a.m. given by Miss Ruth Paxon. Her subject was: "Life on the Highest Plane." These messages were ably translated by Mr. Tsen Toz Yui, an Episcopalian.

There were hours for recreation, and these were ably planned by Mr. Chun Tsing Pou, of the North Gate Ming Tuh School. The success of this meeting was largely due to his able and efficient planning.

At the close of this most inspiring and successful meeting a committee was appointed to prepare for another assembly in 1930.

One outstanding hour of the assembly was the last day, when in a consecration service (led by our great evangelist, Mr. McMillan), twenty-four of our finest young men and women walked down to the front and dedicated their lives to the Lord. Of course, to those of you who are used to large numbers, this may seem a small number, but to us here it seemed very large. How we rejoiced that God saw the labors of servants and sent us this reward.

REPORT OF SHANGHAI COLLEGE By Herman C. E. Liu

Everything is going on well at the college. Both the faculty and student body have shown excellent spirit. Our teachers have taken keen interest in the religious work.

After leaving America, I visited England and France. Then I attended the World Educational Conference at Geneva, Switzerland, as a delegate from China. I was deeply impressed by the earnestness of the educators for "World Peace Through Education." I returned home via Suez, reaching Shanghai on Septemebr 13.

Upon my return I found the college in good condition. Dean T. K. Van, as acting president, has rendered excellent service. Mr. Victor Hanson, as acting treasurer, and Mr. Y. C. Tu, as acting business manager, and other members of the faculty have assisted in many ways. The college has opened with record enrollment, 505 in the college, 388 in the middle school, 69 in the kindergarten and elementary school, and 669 in the Good Will Center schools. The spirit of the faculty and students is fine. The faculty had a retreat recently to consider ways of improving the religious life of the institution. Considerable interest has been shown, and we are hopeful that the new plan of small, intimate groups for spiritual cultivation, led by Christian teachers, may prove very successful.

As indicated by the number enrolled in its classes, our Good Will Center is doing excellent work under Mr. D. Y. Tsien's guidance. The present building facilities are highly inadequate. We are planning to put on a campaign to raise $10,000 for buildings there.

The general outlook for Christian work in China is very encouraging. As a whole our people have a friendly attitude toward missionaries and are eager for the Christian message. Politically, China is more united now than ever before. To be sure, there are always dissatisfied elements, though we are inclined to think they are not very serious. Both our government and people do not want to have war with Soviet Russia, and we are hoping that the excitement will soon quiet down.

At a recent educational conference, statistics showed that we have the largest percentage of Christian students among the Christian institutions of higher learning in East China. Forty-six per cent of our students are Christians. We have more than twenty-five Bible classes, or fellowship groups, organized with more than two hundred and fifty students enrolled in them. The attendance at chapel and the Sunday service is very good. More students have elected religious courses this term. We had a special evangelistic campaign last term, and six persons on the campus were baptized. We are planning for evangelistic services again this term. We hope that the results will be very good.

It has been the desire of the college not to turn away any poor but really worthy Christian youth. Several of our friends in America, England and China have sent us a number of scholarships. These gifts have been a great blessing to our students. With the assistance of the Woman's Auxiliary on the Campus, we are developing a project for student self-help. One student is serving as a barber, several as waiters and gardeners, and a large number as clerks and attendants in the offices and library.

At the fall meeting of the board of directors, several important actions were taken, among them a decision to secure the twelve mow of land near our front gate. They voted to build another terrace of houses similar to the one just completed, one-half to be used as a teachers' club house. They approved the raising of scholarship funds to help poor but worthy students. They also discussed the need for a college chapel, men's dining hall, and women's gymnasium and dining hall.

CHINA BAPTIST PUBLICATION SOCIETY

In September 1929 the society completed thirty years of continuous work, active operations having been commenced in September 1899.

In point of service the oldest Chinese connected with our society is Mr. T. M. Yeung, now superintendent of our printing. When still a lad in his teens he came to us in October 1899 as an apprentice in the Chinese composing room. He was steadily advanced until he became foreman of our Canton printing works. Now in Shanghai he looks after our printing of Bibles, Testaments, books, tracts and periodicals, assisting in letting contracts among the numerous printing establishments in this great metropolis. He is familiar with every branch of the business. His heart is in his work. With only a few days holiday, he carried on right through 1929.

Next in length of service stands Mr. Chang Wen-kai, editor of our Chinese magazine, True Light, who has a quarter of a century of faithful work to his credit. The twelve issues of the magazine for 1929 have been possibly the most valuable of the twenty-eight years of its publication. It circulates now in every province in China and in twenty-two foreign countries. 366 paid up new subscribers were added to our list during 1929.

Other Chinese who have been on our staff for between ten and twenty years are Rev. Ue Yik-shan and Mr. S. N. Chang, who work with Rev. W. H. Tipton in the preparation of our Sunday school literature, Mr. Y. F. Yeung (known to many friends in America as A. Fong Yeung), manager of our Shanghai book store and business manager of the society, and Mr. Jong S. Lowe, manager of our Canton book store.

Space permits only mention of the American members of our staff. Dr. J. T. Williams, Sunday school secretary since 1920, Rev. W. H. Tipton, editor of our Sunday school literature, who began to give part time to this work in 1913, Miss Lila F. Watson, Secretary of Woman's work, latest addition to our staff, coming to us in the spring of 1929, Miss Catharine Bryan, giving part time to editing our young people's paper, Kind Words, Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Bryan and Mrs. W. H. Tipton, assisting in the preparation of our Sunday school and W. M. U. and B. Y. P. U. literature, and Miss Annie M. Sandlin who is doing valuable work translating material suitable especially for Junior students. Both of our Editorial Secretaries, Rev. Jacob Speicher and Rev. E. L. Morgan, D.D., were out of China during 1929, but Rev. Jacob Speicher has returned and we hope that Dr. and Mrs. Morgan will return this year. Fully to report the work of all named above would occupy many times the space that can be allotted to this summary. It may be glimpsed in the statistics that follow. R. E. Chambers as corresponding secretary and treasurer of the society has given most of his time during 1929 to its work.

Our Distribution Centers, and Summary of Circulation

- 1. The China Baptist Book Store, Shanghai. Mr. Y. F. Yeung, manager, reports total receipts in all departments, $23,068.58. Books and tracts sold and put into circulation, 504,330. Sunday school literature, quarterly issues, 131,864, sent to a total of 726 different addresses, churches, Sunday schools, etc. Periodicals, including True Light, Kind Words and New East, a total of over 30,000 copies. Of Sunday School Golden Text cards alone 613,568 were sent out. A total of several thousand B. Y. P. U. quarterlies, W. M. U. and Y. W. A. manuals and Sunbeam programs were printed and sold. Thus every department of church work has been touched and strengthened by the literature issued during 1929. Team work by Chinese and Americans has made this possible.
- 2. The South China Christian Book Co. Mr. Jong S. Lowe, manager, reports the most successful year that our South China distribution center has ever had. The total business was $38,395.35. Much of our Sunday school literature and many of our periodicals, as well as our books and tracts, are distributed from the Canton Branch. The store is in the Missions Building, on the Bund, Canton, and is one of the most useful Christian institutions in the city.

After years of searching and much fruitless negotiating, finally in December 1929 we consummated the purchase of a most valuable lot in the central district of Shanghai. At the Annual Meeting of the Board of Directors of the society held February 7 and 8, 1930, plans were made to erect on this lot a seven storied building that will house all our departments, provide working premises for the Chinese and American members of our staff, and give us a place where we can carry on with greatly increased efficiency and with room to expand as our resources increase. We want all our friends to enter into the joy we have already in this newly acquired property, and we earnestly desire the prayers of all that we may be guided to make the wisest possible use of it.

INTERIOR CHINA MISSION

ANNUAL REPORT

By Olive A. Lawton

When Joshua was bidden to lead Israel up to possess Canaan, Jehovah's repeated counsel to him was, "Only be strong and very courageous!" The workers of the Interior Mission have harkened to this counsel as they have returned to stations unoccupied for months since the 1927 trouble.

From Kweiteh the Townsends write: "We have had the years of the Dispersion and the Return, and we may certainly call this present year the year of the Rebuilding the walls of this small 'Jerusalem.' We have had, like Nehemiah of old, to take the sword and the trowel, ever watching, fighting, and at least trying to build up the broken down place and even go forward to new conquests for our gracious Lord and Saviour. For many months our lives were a misery through having to contend with the "Nationalist" soldiers who wanted to occupy, and in some cases succeeded in occupying Mission premises. In one out-station after the premise had been used as a stable for horses several times, the last straw was the occupation of them by a camel corps. Only half our force is in the station now as Mr. and Mrs. White are still in America. Consequently some strain has been felt, but we have much to be thankful for.

We started the New Year with a call to special prayer for at least 100 converts and the opening of work in two new places. We believe we know, that this was according to his will and so we can say we know that we have the petition that we asked of him. Work has been started in the two new centers.

The writer of this report felt very keenly that while the work was spreading out in the country districts, the city people, and especially the shopkeepers and merchants, were being neglected. We have comparatively few city church members. There was, and is, a longing desire to say with the apostle, "I am free from the blood of all men," and so personal visitation was begun. Much encouragement has been given, and especially in this way, that the more one does of this work the more one realizes the need of it. From one year's end to another, also from morning till night, they are tied to their counters. They have no time to attend services nor to read for themselves.

Classes for illiterates have also been carried on in the city and suburbs and about 60 enrolled. A special effort for the women has also been made. Visiting in the homes, street chapel work, and Sunday school work among the children have also been revived and stressed. The total number of church members and enrolled regular inquirers is now 530, nearly 300 of whom are baptized. Our total attendance each Sunday would be nearer 1,000 altogether.

Winter and summer Bible classes for workers and others were held (the former at Pochow), and considerable interest shown.

At our autumn meetings thirteen were accepted for baptism and five baptized, two men and three women. The first regular meeting of the Kweiteh Association was held during these meetings and a budget for $204 was approved and contributions to that amount promised.

At each out-station a week of special evangelistic meetings was held in the spring. At one place we had to arrange special meetings for the children, they came in such numbers. We had two meetings daily with 200 children each time, keen to learn.

One church has been organized at Chan Li Tsih, and two others are ready when we can get out to them.

Everything in this year's experiences has tended to strengthen the writer's conviction that the time when the Chinese in our Interior Mission can dispense with the foreign missionary's help and counsel, is still far in the future.

COME OVER AND HELP US

The Pochow report begins with Dr. King's hospital work, in which she is rejoicing for the small group who give splendid co-operation.

"We began the year with the conviction that we had been brought together by our Master and, desiring to acknowledge him in all things, we have tried to keep evangelism as the main object. We have made many calls in the homes, besides the daily clinics and daily attention to the in-patients. Some of these were with us for months at a time. Perhaps one-fourth of attention and medicines has been given free. No one has been turned away because of inability to pay. Two men were brought in wounded by bandits. One man nearly lost his arm from the bite of a mule. One woman had several gashes through her scalp from an insane brother-in-law's knife. Other cases were children with visical stone, one dislocated hip, three different ones with fingers cut off, several cancers, gangrene of the mouth and cheek, broken ribs, abdominal cysts and ascites cellulitis, erysipelas, smallpox, measles, diphtheria, suicide, and four cases of true cholera. Three old cases of hip joint diseases were greatly improved and there were several bad burns and very many abcesses. We attended twelve obstetrical patients, all in the homes. Yet by far the greater numbers came for digestive troubles and various eye diseases. One case of fistula was successfully operated upon and the abdomen tapped six times. Over thirty intravenous injections for syphilis have been given, some of them free. For these and others our prayers have been heard. Running expenses, including salary of Wu and Sun, have been $932, income from fees $785.75. Dispensary treatments alone numbered 3,570."

Miss Riddell and Mr. Strother have had charge of the country work in the Pochow field. Two Bible women and a number of voluntary workers have helped Miss Riddell to carry on the regular course of study prepared for women. She writes: "There is much faithful witnessing and teaching done by our Christian women among their neighbors. During the spring months Pastor Tung and I traveled to all the nine out-stations and many other villages where there are groups of believers. At all these places the women helpers and I held classes for women. After wheat harvest, I arranged a summer class for women who could read. In spite of excitement over soldiers, 14 women came from the country and 11 enrolled from Pochow. Again this fall Pastor Tung and I have made the rounds of the out-stations. We placed the emphasis more upon enlisting church members for service, weekly offerings and Bible study."

Brother Strother writes: "This year at Pochow has been a time of reviving from the awful depression of 1927-28, a like condition may God never again allow.

"At the beginning of this year, the writer, who was sent here to take up the work of the late lamented G. P. Bostick, was ready to settle down to his first year of real work. God has been very gracious to give good health to Mrs. Strother, the babies and myself, when hundreds all about us have died of every form of contagion. Mrs. Strother has not been able to take an active part in the work due to home duties, but has been a quiet co-operator in every movement, and will doubtless be able to do more as time goes on.

"For a beginner, thrown in at the end of a chaotic period, there must be much experimentation, walking by faith. The first experiment was to gather all the preachers and colporters, varying in number from ten to sixteen, in an eight weeks' concerted evangelistic campaign, aiming at preaching the gospel in every village of a large section of the southeast. In this campaign there were 228 professions of faith, 560 villages reached, 12,000 Gospel portions sold, and I was able to get well acquainted with the workers. This was all done with an extra cost to the Board of $29.33.

"A campaign could not be carried on thus indefinitely without injury to local work. With this is mind we decided to broaden the activities of the evangelists from one local congregation to two, three or four places in order to care for the new work without taking on new material. After the above shift had been made, we had four men who could be spared for constant evangelism. With these we made an extended tour through virgin territory along the border between our field and that of the China Inland Mission. Thousands of soldiers, hostile to our work, ruined our proposed campaign in Pochow.

"The next innovation was a program covering several years in Bible study for our evangelists. We have been having summer and winter classes, but heretofore without an extended program. The summer class was very profitable, and we are soon to enter upon the winter class.

"In the spring, when laying plans for the fall campaign, we determined to send the colporters ahead to designated market towns to preach and sell Gospel portions in all the surrounding villages. In the fall we came to these same market towns for a week's meeting in each. This gave the people in all that section an opportunity to hear the gospel, and our effort was attended with considerable success. Bandit outbreaks have hindered us much, but we plan to follow the same method, with little alteration, in the future.

"All applicants for baptism have formerly come to Pochow for examination and baptism. This year we moved the fall meeting to a more accessible church. Here we baptized nine, and received fifty-four for baptism in the spring. We left the church and surrounding places greatly revived.

"To adjust the difference between workers and missionaries regarding control, we have organized the Christians into churches and committed to them the work of the Master. We have just organized one church of fifty members, and there are three or four other groups which we hope to see organized in the next year.

"Taking the reports of seven of the evangelists for the month of November we have the following: 698 miles traveled, 171 sermons preached, 176 homes visited, 221 personal visitations, 251 professions, 267 hours of devotion.

"With the coming of winter we have returned to Pochow City and rented a large burned out building with a mat roof, in the busiest center, where we hope to make an intensive effort to bring this great city a knowledge of the gospel.

"'A great door and effectual is opened unto me, and there are many adversaries. . . . Brethren, pray for us.'"

Miss Barratt returned in September from America. She has a Christian woman to help in her work. She writes: "We have regular weekly meetings in the homes of three of the Christians. We have a reading class every Tuesday afternoon to teach the women to read. Wednesday night we have the Sunday school teachers' meeting, and Thursday the women meet to prepare the Sunday school lesson for the following Sunday. The W.M.S. is doing good work. The early morning Bible reading, prayer, and memorizing of Scripture is having a good effect on all who take part. The Lord is blessing our efforts and we are constantly reminded that we have a God who hears and answers prayer."

From Chengchow Mr. Lawton writes:

"The beginning of the year 1929 saw Chengchow station manned by Mr. and Mrs. Koon and Mr. Lawton with a fairly full staff of Chinese workers. On February 22, Mrs. Lawton and Miss Olive Lawton reached here, and on September 17, Mr. and Mrs. Fielder, Wilson, Jr., Golda Jean, Byron, and Gerald, and Miss Murray arrived. How our hearts rejoice at the coming of these recruits!

"Four of our seven foreign residences are now occupied by missionaries—one by a Methodist family, and the other three by our Baptist missionaries. Of the unoccupied residences, one has been used for a school for poor girls, one for a kindergarten, and one for women's classes, but these three are now occupied by a military base hospital in which there are many wounded soldiers. The hospital and school building on the compound have been in use most of the year. The school building is loaned for a school for poor boys. It is largely financed by the Chinese.

"In Chengchow we have four centers of work. During the year we have changed from one in the city to another outside in a growing part of the town. A glance at each center will be interesting. At the West Gate Chapel the work suffered for part of the year for lack of a leader, but about a month ago Mrs. Fielder and Miss Murray went in with some of our Chinese sisters and, working from house to house, they brought in women and children and taught them hymns and portions of Scripture for a week or more, then urged them to come to the Friday and Sunday meetings that Mrs. Fielder and some of the Chinese women are holding.

"At the San Ma Lou Chapel, Mrs. Lawton and Mrs. Hu have worked up an interesting Sunday afternoon service among the wives and children of ricksha coolies and other laboring people. In a week's meeting just held there Pastor Chang reports that 15 men and women indicated their desire to know more of the gospel of Christ.

"At the Religious Life Center, Mr. Koon has been waging a successful fight against the many odds which beset the work there. During the summer a Vacation Bible school was run with three teachers and 90 pupils. For the last two months a school has been running with two teachers and 40 pupils. A reading room on an important street is well patronized, and besides the weekly night services, there have been several services running for a week or more.

"At our Hwa Ti Kang Central Church, Pastor Chang is beginning to find his way into the work. Mrs. Ma and other of the women have been doing good work among the women and children. Mr. Han has been working among the men both at the church and at the Religious Life Center. At our four days' autumn meeting, Mr. Fielder brought a message to the church each day. Pastor Chang has begun a men's Sunday afternoon Bible class which gives promise of helpful development. Our church has a good location and a fine opportunity. With the coming of Pastor Chang, we are looking to a real advancement in our work.

"Something must be said about our school for poor children, our hospital, our kindergarten, and our women's Bible class. These have all been here on our central compound. The two schools for poor children have now been running about ten months. At one time there were 150 children. At present there are 90. These schools were begun because of famine conditions. A local committee is in charge and most of the money comes from the Chinese. The teachers, so far as I recall, have all been Christians, and the two who are now in charge are quite efficient Christian women.

"Our hospital was loaned to a Chinese Christian doctor, Dr. J. H. Kao. He, with his staff, ran it for ten months until it was taken over by the military as one of their base hospitals. There have been many opportunities to distribute tracts, and to talk to those who are sick or injured. Often the call has come for a foreign doctor to help. We hope that if it is our Father's will we shall soon see our Chengchow hospital again running under our Mission auspices.

"Miss Lawton opened the kindergarten soon after she returned from America. She also began a women's Bible class at the same time. One of the residences that was vacant at that time was fitted out with tables, benches, and scrolls. The work with the women and children was interesting and inspiring. Mrs. Lawton helped with the women. Since the close of the summer, Miss Lawton has been in Shanghai teaching in Eliza Yates Academy. Mrs. Lawton and Mr. Yang have been working with the women and children here on the compound.

"As interesting as the work may be in Chengchow, yet there are many who feel that our most encouraging and hopeful work is in the country around here. To the north, south, east, and west we have work and workers, and boundless opportunities. During the past year, in addition to our workers in the different centers, we have had an evangelistic band which has been visiting each outstation, and from there has been working among the nearby villages. Although some of the out-stations seem cold and indifferent, yet in others there has been a hopeful response to these special evangelistic efforts. In one village, a piece of land was offered free for a cite for a chapel, and voluntary contributions were made for the building. The band was loathe to leave this place as there seemed to be no one to carry on the work there.

"Miss Murray and Mrs. Shong left for Shuih Tien a week after the former had arrived from the States. Since that time they have spent most of the time in four of our regular out-stations, and in a new place. She reports the people eager to hear the message. Doors are open on every hand and a hearty welcome awaits these evangels of Light.

"The six churches in and around Chengchow have formed an Association during the year, for mutual help and work.

"On Tuesday, May 21, at 8:30 p.m., the spirit of our oldest evangelist, Mr. Cheo Yu Shen, left its earthly tabernacle to take its place before the Great White Throne. As we looked on his face in death we could see that same calm, determined expression which was his in life. From an opium smoker, gambler, extortioner, vile-mouthed man, he had been, by God's grace, brought into the fold to be a real power for righteousness, in the home, the church, and in his neighborhood. He had no 'book learning,' but as a carter he had traveled far and wide. He was observant and genial, and was at home with rich and poor. He was a worker in the Master's vineyard whom we shall greatly miss."

Kaifeng has been bravely "manned" by five ladies and Dr. and Mrs. Sallee for the year 1929. During the summer, when soldiers forced their entrance onto the compound, the ladies were compelled to cope with a situation which would have been difficult for an experienced man. How the people at home can blindly burn up their gallons of gasoline, while young women are burning out their lives as representatives of "the people at home" on far frontiers of the Lord's battle line,—this is a question that shall be made clear when the Master returns.

Miss Hare writes: "We lift our hearts to our Father in deep gratitude that he has permitted our school to stay open one more year. We never know just when we shall have to close, but this, perhaps, is a blessing because it keeps ever before us the thought that we must 'work while it is yet day, for the night cometh when no man can work."

The boys' school can say the same thing. Though Dr. Sallee and the dean, Mr. Li Hao San, left for the United States early last spring, the work went on until nearly the end of the term in the summer, when disturbed conditions made an earlier closing seem advisable. Miss Josephine Ward had taken over the treasurership.

Again in Miss Hare's report we read: "The fall term has been most satisfactory, for his blessings have been upon us. The student body has not been large—only eighty, including the kindergarten, first, and second grades, but the spirit of the girls has been fine. Practically all of them were Christians, or were from Christian homes. We had only four who were not professed Christians, and all of them are now saved. The Y.W.A.'s and G.A.'s have taken the responsibility of the prayer meetings, the Sunbeam Bands, and the Beginners and Primary departments in Sunday school. The little kindergartners have been real helpers for Jesus by leading their parents and grandparents to church, and sometimes in reading them gospel messages. Our hearts are continually singing praises to him for the opportunity of moulding and training these young lives for him."

Dr. and Mrs. Sallee have been able to do a great deal of country work since their return from the States this summer. They have made extensive visits to many of the out-stations during the fall.

Miss Cox writes of the work: "Our country evangelistic work seems still in the seed-sowing stage. 'One soweth and another reapeth,' the Master said. We have endeavored to heed the advice of the preacher, 'In the morning sow thy seed and in the evening withhold not thy hand,' and to remember the words of the prophet, 'Blessed are ye that sow beside all waters.' Often we have started out in the early morning and spent the entire day preaching in the villages. On one occasion we closed a meeting just at noon, and there were two other places in the day's itinerary. 'Shall we stop and eat lunch?' asked someone. 'No, it isn't early and we must reach our destination which is 15 li away,' replied the evangelist. So we journeyed on, each one eating bread while walking along the dusty road. Several hundred people heard the Word that day. Another early morning opportunity was found before breakfast when those who came to market were returning home. At each gate of the town stood two zealous Christians. Every person who passed by was given a tract if he could read, or else an invitation to church. Those who were interested stopped to hear more, and thus we evangelized a number who might not have otherwise heard of the Saviour. Night services at the chapels have helped us heed the command, 'In the evening withhold not thy hand.' Taking the figure literally, we have almost 'sown beside all waters.' For example, we went to a village one day that had never before been visited by a foreigner. Word went out that a meeting would be held on the threshing floor by the big well. And what a crowd came to see and hear! One day we were travelling by donkey and stopped at a village near the river crossing where we had to wait for a boat to carry us 'Preach to us!' the people said, and, as we complied with the request, they furnished an attentive audience. We arrived at a village just at noon one day, and the people came out with their bowls and chopsticks to listen while they ate. As we proceeded along the street the crowd followed until we reached a pond surrounded by beautiful shade trees. 'This is the best place to preach,' they said, and then came our chance to sow beside that lovely pool. In travelling we have frequently stopped at a tea house to give the muleteer time to feed the team, or the wheelbarrow men time to eat their noon meal, and while waiting have spoken to the curious crowd that gathered to see the for-eigner. In November, it was my privilege to spend several days in a new village, and to do some follow-up work after Dr. and Mrs. Sallee had held a tent meeting.

"Miss Alexander was with us for a month after school closed in the spring. She used her violin with great effectiveness, drawing the crowds, and then telling them of Jesus and his love. She and her music made a deep impression on the village people. According to our estimate, our audiences during the year numbered 20,150, besides innumerable children, some of whom may have understood the vital message for their souls' salvation. Miss Walker was with us for a Bible class in the spring, and another during the first two weeks in October. Those who attended were especially blessed, and drawn closer to the Master. Her spiritual teaching enriched the lives of us all.

"Miss Walker has been busy with her work in the city, especially among the women, helping the Christians to gain a fuller knowledge of the Christ life, and telling the message to numbers who have never heard it before.

Miss Walker reports:

"What word of Drum Tower Church for 1929? Joys and not-joys; but joys abounding. How many members? Fifteen men, of whom 12 are tithers; 26 women, of whom 24 are tithers. From June to December, 1929, these 36 members gave $290.55 in tithes and $80.23 in love-offerings, a total of $370.78, for the seven months. How small this may look to you, yet how nice this little church child looks to me! Only two men were baptized, but there is now a large group of inquirers to be received into the church.

"Dr. Sallee and Pastor Lee held two blessed meetings for us during the year.

"How are we serving at Drum Tower? Two flourishing departments in Sunday school—Adult and Primary—a delightful Sunbeam Band and a W.M.S. that has gone beyond goals on Standard of Excellence. Several family altars and Wednesday evening prayer meeting well attended by both young and old. Pastor Ding has called us together for Bible classes each week and the members have worked faithfully both winter and summer at the Street Chapel. Hundreds of people have heard of Jesus there and received tracts to read at home. The members are busy at the church or street chapel six evenings of each week.

"God has given you and us some wonderful answers to prayer for his work at Drum Tower Church this year. The prayer for a doctor to hold clinic at our street chapel has not been answered in just that way, but he has given us far better than that, we feel."

W. E. Sallee writes:

"In our spring and fall campaign it has been possible to hold meetings in our out-stations without hindrance while battles were being fought within fifty or sixty miles of us. Again and again Mrs. Sallee and I left our home this fall to hold tent meetings in the country not knowing but that when we returned we should find both our own home and the school buildings occupied by soldiers. While there was feverish excitement along the railroads and in the capital city thirty or forty miles in the country we would find all quiet. The people's minds were disturbed neither by newspaper nor radio reports of the battles raging in the western part of the province, nor did they care very much which side won, so long as they were left undisturbed.

"In the spring I visited many of the out-stations, holding meetings and conferences and trying to encourage the evangelists and pastors. This fall I helped in one meeting in our main city church on Drum Tower Street and in a meeting in our church here on the school campus, besides eight tent meetings and one conference for workers. In some of the tent meetings Miss Cox was with us and always some four or five Chinese co-workers, both men and women. Mrs. Sallee and I spent from six to eight hours a day under the tent singing, preaching, and teaching. Great numbers of men, women and children heard the gospel in these meetings and the little bands of Christians in these places were encouraged in the faith.

"In the out-station work there is much to encourage. The gospel seed is being sown broadcast by the pastors, evangelists, and Bible women. A number of the tent meetings this fall were in villages some distance from the outstations where small companies of believers meet weekly for prayer and worship. In such places the people are furnishing their own places of worship and often some local man acts as leader of the group. It is by the multiplication of such groups of believers that we hope to see the countless thousands of villages and towns reached by the gospel.

"We are deeply grateful to God that during these difficult and trying times when almost all Mission schools in the interior of China have been forced to remain closed, both our boys' and girls' schools have been enabled to carry on successfully throughout the year. We have never had a finer spirit in the two schools. A large number were converted in the fall meeting. But we have been even more encouraged that there have been conversions from week to week, both in the Sunday services and during the week days, as the result of personal work done by the teachers. Dr. Charles Pong and Miss Zemma Hare as deans of the two schools have done efficient work and have been loyally supported by teachers who love the schools and share the Christian ideals of the schools."

"After a stay at home on a visit for a year," writes Mrs. Sallee, "I was back in Kaifeng for work in September. Life in China never grows monotonous, for changes come so suddenly and unexpectedly that we scarcely recover from one innovation until another has come. War is always attended by much nervous excitement and disturbed plans. One almost feels that the Chinese have become so used to war and its attendant evils that they go along with their accustomed work callous to their surroundings.

"Notwithstanding so many drawbacks, Mr. Sallee and I have had a very successful time in the country. We could be spared from the daily routine of the classroom this year, so we have been all the fall in the country. We have gone each Tuesday and came back Friday or Saturday. This made it possible to keep the work going here and giving Mr. Sallee some time for looking after the school affairs here, preaching on Sundays and looking after the church, while I helped with the women and kept the home running at the odd times I was at home.

"Being constantly with the women in the country, eating their steamed potatoes, boiled millet, sitting on the threshing floor with them, or walking several miles with them to see a friend or relative to try to lead her to Christ, gives one access to them that one never has in the city with the city women. The hearts of the country women are cheered and warmed as we come to them and one has many opportunities to help them with spiritual problems as well as their home problems. At all times it is a joy to pray with them as they bring their sorrows and sick, their wayward sons and husbands, for they have such faith, that if they can but 'touch the hem of his garment' they shall be made whole."

THE BAPTIST SCHOOL, KAIFENG, CHINA

Dean Charles Pong writes:

"With the closing of the fall term, we have the occasion to feel thankful that, although the country has been overwhelmed by war distractions, we have been able to quietly accomplish much of the work we had set out to do. All along the battle front of our work for Christ and his kingdom progress has been made and reasonable encouragement has been increased. The cause of Christian Education has been singularly blessed.

"The enrollment is quite satisfactory, especially in the time of war. This term the enrollment is 90, which is double the number we had in the spring term. One-third of them are Christian and many of them come from Christian homes. Of this enrollment, there are 73 boarder and 17 day pupils. Notwithstanding the fact that the schools of other denominations have been closed down ever since the revolution started three years ago, there are many Christian boys from four different denominations studying in our school. Our school is not large but very important, because it is the only Christian school in operation at this time in the province.

"There are six classes from fifth grade up to eleventh grade, and also a Bible Training Class which adds a new life to our school. The Bible Training Class is for the training of evangelists and church workers. The man who is in charge of this work has had special training. He is a faithful and energetic worker. All the students in this class take an active part in field work during the course of their studies. They preach, distribute Christian literature, teach Sunday schools, and do personal work. This term there have been seven bright boys in this class.

"The faculty this term has been greatly strengthened. There have been three new teachers who have been selected with extreme care added to the faculty. There are now ten teachers, eight Chinese and two missionaries. Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Sallee came to us at the opening of this term, and they are spending most of their time in visiting the out-stations. The teachers who teach at this school are trained not only for class work, but for Christian training as well. Their lives are an inspiration to the students who come under their teaching. All the teachers are active Christians except one.

The religious life of the school is wholesome, despite the destructive forces which are abroad in the land. Every day all the students assemble in the chapel for worship. The teachers lead by turns in the absence of Dr. Sallee. The mid-week prayer meeting is not compulsory, but when the time comes there is always a crowd of earnest boys gathered to pray. The Sunday school is graded and is approaching an A-1 Sunday school grade. There are nine boys working and teaching in helping the different departments of the Sunday school. Many of the teachers teach Sunday school classes on Sunday. We also have three B.Y.P.U.'s which meet on Sunday night. In each union there are two teachers to help direct activities. Every student who boards in the school is a member of the B.Y.P.U.. Every student in the school belongs to a Sunday school class. The classes in Bible are among the most popular in the school. During our revival meetings, which were conducted by Dr. Sallee, there were a large number of professions. The rest who were old enough said they believed but are to wait for profession until they learn more about Christianity and the Bible."

THE NORTH CHINA MISSION

ANNUAL REPORT

By Mrs. J. M. Gaston

CHEFOO STATION

In spite of all the disturbing and uncertain conditions that have been experienced in Chefoo during 1929, the work has gone steadily forward without a break. Many rumors of opposition and some ugly things were printed in the papers, but no actual peresecution was experienced.

The spiritual condition of the church has been most encouraging and the native pastor, Rev. An Shou San, has proven himself to be a worthy and faithful shepherd. Some of the older members have been scattered for various reasons, but others have been added, and all branches of the church life are active.

The women have done most splendid and fruitful evangelistic work in the city. For the most part it has not been possible to do much in the country on account of war and bandits, but in spite of all this the old county site of Fu San has opened after more than fifty years of effort and a chapel is being opened there.

The return of Miss Rachel Newton to the Williams Memorial Girls' School has put new life into that institution. The teachers are loyal and, perhaps, the school has never enjoyed better harmony and a deeper spiritual life than it now enjoys.

The Hwa Wen Boys' School has had a full attendance and has not had one single discord during the year. The teachers are splendid Christian men and most every boy in the school has accepted Christ. Just before closing we had a special meeting in the school and forty-two boys took a definite stand for the Lord.

HWANGHSIEN STATION

For the first half of the year our evangelistic work was brought practically to a stand-still on account of political unrest. Gen. Chang Tsung Chang's attempt to regain a foothold in Shantung began early in the year and was not thwarted until April. The final remnants of his troops were defeated in Hwanghsien city about the middle of May, only after a terrific battle. This turmoil gave rise to lawless groups ravaging the country. On account of persecution by these insurgents, hundreds of people from the eastern section of this county fled to us on two different occasions. Thus the Lord brought a wonderful evangelistic opportunity to our very doors. Hundreds of men and women heard the gospel during this period of forced evacuation from their homes. The men were assembled in the compound where they were quartered and the women were assembled in the church daily to hear the message of life. Many listened with hungry hearts and we hope that some found the Saviour in the forgiveness of sins. Behold the hand of God! Our workers were unable to go into the country to preach, but God sent these people to us here, that we might break the Bread of Life to them.

During the last half of the year, we have had peace and our work has gone on in a remarkable way. Our seminary students have been organized into preaching bands, that went regularly to two preaching places, and occasionally to other villages. Usually a member of the faculty accompanied each band as they went out. Numbers were brought under conviction of sin, while some confessed their sins and found pardon and peace. This preaching brought a blessing to these communities, gave the students experience in preaching and soul-winning, and brought the teachers and students into closer fellowship. Thus God richly blessed our labors.

In the autumn we decided to put up the gospel tent for a week or ten days in Hwanghsien city. At first it seemed that we could not find sufficient native evangelists to bear the burden while the students were in classes. After a day or two the Lord sent in two workers who could give most of their time to this work. Instead of taking the tent down after ten days, we moved it to two other places because of insistent invitations from a neighboring Christian. One man, who is in business in Mukden, Manchuria, was born again, while others were interviewed about their personal salvation as a reult of the first week's work. For the next two weeks hundreds of people thronged the tent daily to hear the gospel, coming in throngs of two and three hundred at a time and listening attentively to the message of salvation for hours. The people were so friendly that they hated to see us move the tent to another place. Our campaign continued until interrupted by a heavy snowfall. There were many blessed results of these meetings.

The two Good Will Centers, one in Hwanghsien and one in Tengchow, went forward in their work by leaps and bounds.

The work of the Bible women out in the country has been carried on with difficulty, yet with great courage and faithfulness.

The teaching of reading to illiterates every Sunday afternoon, with bimonthly examinations and reward of certificates and seals has been carried on with considerable enthusiasm. The advanced Bible readers have also taken public examinations and been awarded certificates for amount read. They follow a definite course by which even an illiterate, if faithful and persistent, may read the Bible through in six years. The literates read it in a year, and one of our native sisters became so enthusiastic she read the whole Bible through in four months. "The entrance of thy word giveth light."

North China Baptist Institute. These years of revolution have brought difficulties in all work, both secular and religious. In the year just passed perhaps our school work has encountered as many of these as any other enterprise here in China. Sometimes on account of the presence of soldiers it has been impossible to go on at all, and sometimes we could have the boys but not the girls.

It was inevitable that our student body should be smaller. In our palmiest days our numbers were well over a thousand. Now we have scarcely half that number. Strange to say, we rejoice that it is so. For the larger body would give more room for political propagandism when our religious work would be hindered.

Throughout the nation those studying for the ministry these few years have been greatly reduced in number. Our seminary has fewer students, but those who have come have devoted themselves ardently to work. At the end of the school year we had two full graduates.

Another unit that deserves special mention is our Industrial Department. It is composed of women and girls who are dependent upon their daily labor to carry on their studies. Of these there are about thirty. They have by their handiwork turned out a large number of useful and ornamental articles. Of these, some are sold locally, and some forwarded to the former principal, Miss Clifforde Hunter, Fort Valley, Ga., to be sold to friends in America. A number of these students are young widows who have no one at all to depend on for their living. And we are truly glad of this touch with the homeland. Almost all the rest of the students bring money from their homes for board, tuition and textbooks.

I should like to call attention to the fact that the reduced numbers have secured to us a larger proportion of students from Christian families. This is with us exceedingly important since we feel that as things are now we cannot register the school with the government. We are permitted to carry on a purely Christian school without registration.

Warren Memorial Hospital. Early in February, after there had been fighting in this vicinity many soldiers came as well as local people for treatment, taxing our 72-bed institution with more than its capacity. As time went on many got well and left, lightening up on the work a lot. But before we reached normal, and after we thought the war was over, we had the worst battle of all, and there came to us more than two hundred sick and wounded. They were put in beds until the beds were full, then they were put on quilts on the floor until all the floor space was occupied, even the dispensary and bath room, and a mat shed had to be erected in the courtyard to give the rest a place to stay.

To square the hospital bill for these soldiers one of the generals sent us 100 bags of flour, which was enough to last 25-30 days. Other foodstuffs had to be purchased, extra help had to be employed, medicines had to be bought. I did not see how the bills could be cared for, as the soldiers would not pay any money, so I talked to the Lord about it, and he graciously supplied our needs. For when the bills came in there was always sufficient means to care for them. Thus God encouraged us greatly. Later the Hwanghsien Red Cross helped out by giving almost half of the soldiers' bill. With that they left owing about $2,400, which we had to just strike off the books.

Our doctors and nurses worked faithfully under these very trying circumstances. Girls from the schools came to help make bandages and dressings, for our White Cross supplies had about given out, and we had to buy our own material here where we could. And some men, too, came in from the outside to help.

There was a great opportunity to preach and much of it was done. Ninety-five became Christians while in the hospital.

LAICHOWFU STATION

Evangelistic Work. Twenty-nine have been baptized into the fellowship of the churches of the Laichow field during the past year. This is not a very notable gain in numbers, to be sure, but the quality has been substantial and good. It is gratifying to see the extreme care that is being taken in receiving people into the churches at the present time; our Christian workers now realize that it is better to go more slowly in this matter, and thus not run the risk of receiving into the fellowship of the churches those who have not been born from above.

Near the city of Laichowfu there are several villages that formerly closed their doors to the gospel, but during the past year or two they have opened wide these doors to the preaching of Jesus Christ, and are receiving the evangelists with open arms, so to speak. Many of these people have been greatly impressed with the fact that the churches are the only stable organizations in their midst, and upon investigation they have found the reason. Thus, step by step, they have been led to see the difference between the true and the false. They have come to realize that superstition and age-long customs must make way before the advance of modern civilization. The Nationalist Government is instituting many reforms, and many people in the outlying villages do not understand what it is all about. Many of them are turning to the preachers of the gospel for a solution of their problems. One of our evangelists was approached by the officials of a Red Spear society and asked to be an arbiter in their disputes. The reason they gave for asking him to act in this capacity was that he was a Christian and would give fair judgment in all matters. In some of the villages that have become friendly to the gospel, there are men and women of some influence and ability who have become Christians. They are of their own accord holding Bible classes in their homes and inviting their neighbors in to learn of Jesus Christ and his doctrine. Thus is personal evangalism being carried on by our new Christians. The pastor frequently goes out to these villages and holds special services, and great is the joy when he sees souls turning from heathen darkness to the light of Jesus Christ!

Laichowfu Girls' School. Good work has been done by the majority of the pupils, though the attendance has been smaller than in former years, some students having been lost by pressure from those who are working for the government schools, making pupils believe that patriotism demands their attending the government institutions.

Our most advanced classes we are sending to Hwanghsien next year and will use our best teachers to do better foundation work in the grammar grades. The principal, who has been substituting for two years in Chefoo, returned to her regular work in the autumn and plans to go forward with a more select number of worthy girls.

Murphy Memorial School. The number of pupils in our Murphy Memorial Evangelistic School for Women this year has not been as many as formerly, but they have been of a better class and younger than heretofore. Two young women finished the course of six years last spring. One returned in the autumn for some special work in Bible, and hopes to enter the Training School for Bible Women in 1930 along with another young woman who expects to finish this course and enter Bible Training School in the autumn of 1930.

There have been seven to confess Christ as Saviour in the school during 1929, and five of these have already been baptized, and one has dedicated her life to Christ for special service in whatever way he may choose to use her.

Woman's Bible Training School. There has been very little to report from the school for the last two or three years. Owing to the distracted conditions of the country the attendance was never smaller than during the spring term—this autumn there has been an enrollment of ten students. Nearly all of these are earnest, capable, promising women, and we feel greatly encouraged.

Regular school activities, such as work in church, Sabbath school, missions for non-Christian women and children, leading meetings and the like have been kept up.

Mayfield-Tyzzer Hospital. The year has not been so strenuous in a military way as 1928, yet many soldiers have been treated, and the authorities have paid more adequately for this than previously. One soldier boy left over from '28, with paralysis from gun-shot wound, is still with us, and though the care of him is wholly a charity service, it has been rendered cheerfully by all in the hospital, because of his sweet spirit of resignation, and his ready witness for Jesus.

For harmony in all departments of service we are most thankful. Our Chinese interne, who has been with us four years, and rendered good service, has now returned to the university for further study and graduation.

Miss Grayson returned from furlough at the beginning of 1929, and has put in a full year of teaching the young men nurses. Two, having finished the three years' hospital course, were graduated in August, and have returned to their homes. Four new nurses, who are exceptionally promising, work well under a Mayfield-Tyzzer graduate of 1927. The government now requires examination of all who enter any form of medical or drug business, and we are glad to hear that Mayfield-Tyzzer graduates have received the highest grades given in this and adjoining counties.

A student who is looking forward to the ministry, has given his vacations to evangelistic service in the hospital, and has been most helpful and encouraging to all. At all other times the daily worship and Bible teaching have been done by the nursing and medical staffs, and many have been led to put their trust in Jesus. Bibles and tracts are given to all who can read.

One nurse, on night duty, recorded at midnight, "This patient very sad. I talked to him about Jesus and he is more happy."

The Kathleen Mallory Hospital. The work has gone on about the same this year. The political situation has been fairly quiet. Only for about ten days have we needed to open our gates to refugees. For this short time patients and nurses were put upstairs and the whole of the downstairs was turned over to neighbor women and children. But as there was no fighting the soldiers soon passed on and the women could return to their homes. During the summer and fall the work has been able to follow the regular routine. We feel that God has blessed our work and are hoping that next year may bring greater opportunities to serve him.

A young married woman who after the loss of her baby, tried to kill herself. She was brought to us and after an operation she began to improve. The family were anxious for her to go home, so she left before she should have gone. In about two weeks she was brought back unconscious and for several days there was very little hope for her recovery. But God heard our prayers and has raised her up. While here she has been gloriously converted. She had gone to school when she was young, so was able to read well enough to read her Bible. It has been a joy to point out precious passages in the Bible for her to read. How her face glowed when she read John fourteen for the first time! When she started home several times she said to her sister, "Are you sure that you have my Testament? I must not fail to take it home with me."

PINGTU STATION

Our hearts greatly rejoice in the return of Mr. and Mrs. Parker from furlough, who threw their lives into the evangelistic work of this densely populated county. Another cause for rejoicing and thanksgiving is that Mr. and Mrs. Jacob were sent to us for work in the Pingtu Christian Institute. Mr. Jacob is well prepared for this work, and in this time of uncertainty in school work, it is good to have a strong school man.

For the last half of the year, Miss Hou Siu Ying, product of our Effie Sears Memorial School, and graduate of Nanking Bible School, has been with us. Our county is blessed indeed in having this consecrated young woman to work in our midst, truly both her faith and works are unusual.

Our pastors, evangelist and Bible women, though still working on half-salaries, because of lack of funds from home, remain faithful at their posts in the 32 churches. They report more inquirers, more souls saved and more baptisms than we have had in past several years.

The city work, too, has grown. A goodly number of homes gladly open their doors to weekly meetings where women and girls are gathered and taught to read his Word and to know him. They are now following the Sunday school lessons and using Matthew as textbook. Some who knew not one character now read Bibles quite well.

The Daily Vacation Bible Schools, of which there were five in the city and many throughout the county, did their part in spreading the glad tidings.

We were especially pleased with and thankful for the Christmas offerings this year. These offerings go to our orphanage. There was glad giving from many hearts. During the year contributions have gone to famine relief, sick relief, our home mission work and orphanage.

We feel, too, that this has been an outstanding year with our colporters, who report sales of Bibles, Gospels and Scripture portions greatly exceeding former years. They report many interested to know the Way of Life. Too, the sales from our Bible Book Room have increased.

While there is Christian persecution, at the same time idols are being destroyed and the emptied temples being used for government purposes. People are being forbidden to even worship the age-long house gods. In their be-wilderment and blindness, some are feeling for our God the one true and living God.

Surely there was never a time like the present time to witness for our Lord and to hold up Jesus to these distressed, harassed people.

the history of the school. The total enrollment was 280—the largest in the history of the school. The faculty consisted of four men, four young women and the principal. These teachers are all interested in, and part of every activity of the school, and all give a "tenth" of their small salary to their local churches. They help lead morning and evening worship, our prayer meetings and took in Sunday 2012. ings, and teach in Sunday school.

One new feature in the fall was the adding to our school of a kindergarten department—the first real kindergarten in Pingtu. The enrollment was 25, and most gratifying work was accomplished. Bible portions were memorized the demonstration given at the close of the term delighting and amazing all present.

We have required Bible study, and attendance at all church services. school B.Y.P.U. meets regularly every week, and all take an active part in leading and supporting the meetings. Special meetings were held in the fall, when Mr. Wong Ming Tao, of Peking, spoke twice daily, giving us rich spiritual food. At their close, eight girls publicly expressed their faith in Christ, and their decision to take their stand as Christians.

On Christmas Day, a Christmas program was given by the girls to a crowded audience. All the heads of the Government Educational Bureau were present, also a large number of non-Christians. Songs by the little girls, part-songs by the Seniors, songs and a "play" by the kindergarten, and a "play" by the Seniors, all told of the joy brought to the world by the Babe of Bethlehem.

Three young women, having completed the Junior Middle Course, were graduated and given diplomas.

Oxner-Alexander Memorial Hospital. The record for the year 1929 was in several respects above the average, and we have reason to be grateful to our heavenly Father for manifold blessings. We were spared from internal labor troubles, and from external political interference. During the first half of the year, military patients were in the majority, but we are glad to say, they caused us less annoyance than the military patients of the previous year, and we were able to collect practically all of the charges against them for services rendered, and, in addition, received a contribution to our charity fund. The number of civilian patients wounded by the explosion of "home-made" bombs, and by gun fire, was considerably less, while the admissions of women and children patients was an increase over last year. These two facts indicate some improvement in the reign of terror from banditry in the surrounding country. Kala-azar patients are coming for treatment in larger numbers, and the intravenous method, using the latest organic compounds of antimony, has proven very satisfactory. It is estimated that 95 per cent of the untreated cases of this disease die, while over 90 per cent of the treated cases can be The cost of the drug, $4 to $7 U.S. currency, necessary for a cure, is prohibitive to many of the people in this locality, and only the favored son of a family is selected to be treated. In many cases, families have been depleted. The fatal course of this disease, untreated, is from one to three years, while two months is usually sufficient to effect a cure. The receipts from native two months is usually sufficient to effect a cure. The receipts from native sources were larger than in any previous year, and the free will gifts of friends, and the White Cross funds previously received, enabled us to return to the Mission treasurer all but $425 of the yearly appropriation made by the Foreign Mission Board. We did not have the assistance of a native physician during the year, but the additional graduate nurse, Miss Bradley, on the staff, and the timely assistance of the Laichow Station in permitting Dr. and Mrs. Gaston and Dr. Chang, of the Mayfield-Tyzzer Hospital, to relieve the resident physician and family for a two weeks' vacation in September and for the period of the annual Mission meeting in July made it possible for us to accomplish the the annual Mission meeting in July, made it possible for us to accomplish the work of the year. We are indeed grateful for this brotherly assistance, and count it among our richest blessings of the year.

LAIYANG STATION

Think of a district teeming with a million and a half souls, and not a single resident foreign missionary! Think of six struggling churches, and their only pastor sixty miles away! There is no paved highway over which this pastor can travel to these six churches; the road is a mere winding path over and through the high mountains that lie between Laichowfu and Laiyang. The pastor generally makes the trip by bicycle, as this means of travel, though arduous and fatiguing, is the most rapid. On a recent trip to Laiyang, he was overtaken by a severe snow storm. In returning home, much difficulty was encountered; the roads, or paths, were filled with snow to a depth of several feet; and it was necessary to come through fields. It took two days to come thirty-five miles.

There have been very few baptisms into the six Laiyang churches during the past year, but quality rather than quantity has been the order of the day. A staunch Presbyterian of several years' standing was so impressed when he saw others being immersed, that he asked for baptism. With tears in his eyes, he testified that he had been under conviction for twenty years that immersion was the proper form of baptism. He was joyfully received into the membership of the church. The pastor had the blessed privilege of baptizing a grandmother, over eighty years of age, her son, and two grandchildren. Another woman, fifty-one years of age, gave a wonderful testimony of conversion. She said she had been the sort of woman spoken of in John's Gospel, the fourth chapter, but that the dear Lord Jesus had graciously saved her. Since becoming a Christian she has learned to read, and she studies her Bible with great avidity. This good woman's faith in prayer and her trust in God's protecting care are beautiful. When several hundred of Chang Chung Chang's defeated soldiers came through her village last spring, many of her neighbors fled to her home for protection. They said: "We have seen that the true God whom you worship protects and keeps you, and we have come to your home for protection." She told them that if they wished for protection they would have to kneel while she cried out to God. All the other places in the village were looted but the soldiers passed by this woman's gate without disturbing it. Some of them climbed up on the wall, and when they saw the women all down on their knees praying they reverently climbed down and went on. A wonderful deliverance! Yes, quality in Christians, as well as commodities, will stand the test! This is the sort of Christians we crave.

In spite of the fact that the only missionary family connected with the Laiyang field are unable to return to the field because it is necessary for them to help out on the Laichowfu field also, these dear people are going on. They realize their weakness, however, and are crying out to the Lord to open the way for their pastor and his family to return to the field and live among them. Southern Baptists can help answer this prayer by sending more missionaries out to help carry on this wonderful and blessed work.

TSINGTAO STATION

The Baptist church was located by S. E. Stephens on an elevation at what has become the center of city. We have a small group of able and faithful men and women who carry all financial burdens, though adverse conditions have made this more difficult than formerly. The outstanding features of the year were revival meetings conducted by Paul Rader and Leland Wang which were a great blessing to the large crowds that attended. Dr. and Mrs. Pruitt spent a month in Tsingtao and renewed contact with many of their former students. J. W. Lowe has used his auto to advantage, taking his co-workers to the regions about on preaching tours even as far as Pingtu. His work with the Sunday school has resulted in better organization, normal methods and promptness. Mrs. Lowe has taught in the church school, Bible class and visited in homes. Mrs. Stephens has led in women's work which has outgrown that of the men during this period of crisis. Mrs. Newton has divided her time among church, American School, and her home. Miss Edith Newton is principal of the American School and while it is not under our Board, it is under our influence. W. C. Newton is pastor of the four churches of Showkwang field for the station, though most of his time is spent travelling among all churches as associational secretary. Bandits have controlled this field most of the year and our work has suffered terribly, yet most of our baptisms have been in this section, and a careful examination of our Christians shows that they have grown in grace during this period.

School work in this field is all self-supporting. Tsingtao has an elementary school of 155 pupils and six teachers, which has never been more prosperous. Hou Chen has had sixty pupils, but has been closed by the tang. Tung Chia Ying has a school of twenty-five students.

TSINAN STATION

Dr. Evans writes:

"My main work has been, as usual, the teaching in the Medical School, where I am glad to say there are some Baptist students again. For a year or two there were none in the Medical School itself, though there has never been a time when there was not at least one in either the Medical or the Pre-Medical.

"There are now three Baptist students in the Medical School, two women and one man, but all, alas, from the south. There are two Hwanghsien boys, who say they are Christians, but they are not church members.

"I have helped at Ho Dzai, where Mrs. Evans and I have been responsible for the oversight. For the last two years there have been few students there for the English class, but this fall they began to come again, and I reopened the Bible class for them. But lately the propaganda put out by the Tang-Pu has been so strongly anti-foreign and anti-Christian that the students have ceased to come.

"But the young men who have been attending my Sunday afternoon Bible class have kept right on through all these years of trouble. Most of them work in the post office, but two of them are students in Tsinan, who are related to some of the old stand-bys of the class, and so dare to come.

"With all the opposition we are now meeting from the local people, which seems to mean that the Medical School may be closed for some time, I feel that our furlough has come at a most opportune time, and we are glad to be leaving."

Mrs. Evans writes interestingly of chapels, day schools, reading rooms and Good Will Center of Tsinan, but one who has been in her home knows that it is the center of good will that counts most beautifully in her ministry.

While her special mission is to the Baptist students of the university, her sympathy and kindness are by no means limited to these, but every denomination, and those of no Christian affiliation, are made to feel at home with her.

Every Friday evening the Baptist and some other students gather in the Evans home for prayer—simple, informal, helpful—just as parents and their children might gather together to discuss their problems, and go to God in prayer about them.

Beyond the home there has been sympathetic help to bring the "striking" girl nurses back to the path of duty; in the hospital there has been love unfailing to the stranger, sick nigh unto death within its walls, and out on the street help for the crowds of pitiful refugees—all these find sympathy and love according to their need.

Mr. Abernathy reports:

"In many respects this has been one of the best years in the history of the evangelistic work on the Tsinan field. Preaching has been carried on regularly at the four centers in the city with good crowds in attendance. At nearly every service there were those who publicly manifested an interest in the gospel of Christ, either confessing him or enrolling as inquirers. Because of an insufficient number of workers we have had to use a method of rotation among the different centers, holding meetings each evening, though not in the same place. While in many other places the work has been hindered by the anti-Christian group of the Government Party Bureau, we have not been visited once by their representatives and have never had better crowds. It is encouraging to see many from what we term the upper classes attending and showing interest in Christianity. Work in the country out-stations has been carried on uninterruptedly throughout the year. In former years because of so many bandits and soldiers harrassing the people it was hard for them to settle down long enough to listen to the gospel, thus making it hard for us to do much real constructive work. We are happy to say there have been very few hindrances of this sort this year and the people have welcomed the preaching of the gospel, and many have been saved. In the country as well as in the city there are large numbers of inquirers, many of whom we feel will soon accept Christ.

"Evangelistic work among the women has been carried along, in some instances, with that of the men, but at three of the centers here in the city, special classes for women have been carried on for several years. At these classes the women are not only taught the gospel, but at the same time are taught to read their Bibles. During the past few years a large group of women have learned to read their Bibles and are able to teach others the way of salvation. Many new women have been added to these classes during the year. In these classes a regular outlined four-year Bible course is undertaken and it is very encouraging to see so many of the women pressing forward, using their spare time and expecting to finish the course. One special class like this has been organized in one of the country out-stations and we hope to see more as time goes on."

TSINING STATION

It was quite interesting to find that the Chinese pastor who had helped us in the first conference we had ever had in Tsining in '25 had grown so popular with work in several provinces of China that we had to wait several months for the meeting of what has become our annual conference. But the waiting was well worth while, for again our conference became the high point of the year and our hearts were inspired for new efforts through Bible study and prayer.

But the greatest blessing that came to the Tsining field this year was that of the work of Miss Hou, one of our own North China girls from Pingtu. Serving the Master with a "whole heart," her Spirit-filled life was the means of bringing "spiritual gifts" to the Christians and the message of eternal life to many who had never heard before. In some of the villages we could only give one short hour, but during that time we saw idol-worshipers convicted of their sins, and brought to pray to the true God for forgiveness. As we worked in a country chapel, five women and ten men came to us, walking a distance of fifteen miles; after listening to the gospel for the first time, they invited us to go to their village. We could not promise definitely, but an opportunity presenting itself, we hired an ox-cart and journeyed to them. Surprised at our early arrival but equal to the hospitality demanded, they cleared out a donkey and a mill from a long room and gave us living quarters, that we might spend several days with them. We stayed five days with them and never have I seen people learn as much in so short a time. We went back several months later to find the "donkey room" with new mud plastering turned into a permanent meeting room. Although only two in the village can read, men, women, and children could recite every gospel song we had given them. This was only one of many villages visited, but space forbids to give more details. The spirit of those who heard for the first time inspired the missionaries and evangelists to greater efforts in both old and new fields.

Another great blessing which came to Tsining this year was that of a visit from Pastor Lee, of Pingtu, well known to Southern Baptists for his long life of evangelistic work. He was with us only one short month, but did much to strengthen the Christians and bring new hope to us all.

Boys' School. It was reported that our schools would not be allowed to open. However, the government did not interfere with our opening, although the town was placarded with posters urging all parents not to send their pupils to our school. All during the spring term, our school was flooded with pamphlets cursing our school, the teachers and the pupils. The County School Bureau did all in their power to interfere with our work, but didn't succeed. Several times, they sent word that at a certain date they would close our school, but upon the arrival of each date, it would be postponed.

Having decided against registration with the government, we were forced to change the name of our school to an institute instead of a school, that being a government regulation. They will not recognize our pupils in any way in government circles, nor will any of our pupils be open to a government position in the future, according to their regulations. They are doing all in their power to hinder Christianity. Since our definite stand against them, we have not been bothered and persecuted as we were before. We had 120 boys in the spring term and had 80 enrolled this fall. Our work has been excellent.

Tsining Girls' School. During the troubled times, when the government was changing hands, our schools were forced to close, and our older girls were scattered. Many of them marrying, although too young, and not through school, in order to protect themselves from the soldiers; so we started our school again, from the bottom. The younger girls came back, but we have no large girls. We have a number of girls from the country towns, which heard the gospel for the first time this spring. Thus we work hand in hand with the preaching force. They open up a town, giving them the gospel, and we take these girls from the town and teach them, so that they, in their turn, may go back to their homes to carry the message of him who so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son.

Our two teachers are splendid Christian characters and are doing their part in leading the girls to a fuller knowledge of their Saviour. We have about thirty girls this term.

MANCHURIA

There were marvelous opportunities for preaching the Word all spring and during the summer, and evangelism has been pushed where possible during these times of war and great distress, in spite of danger from air raids, looting and banditry. The spring and summer tent meetings on the river front were well attended until high water made these impossible. Numerous special evangelistic meetings during Chinese New Year in the early spring and daily evangelistic meetings at the evangelistic center in the heart of the city resulted in thousands hearing the gospel until martial law this fall and winter discouraged people going on the streets in the evenings.

Fifty were baptized during the year. Progress was also made in self-support.

Many Scriptures Sold. There was a marked increase in the sale of Bibles, New Testaments and Bible portions the past year. The seven colporters associated with us worked far and wide throughout this region, traveling more than four thousand English miles, some making long trips into regions where there were numerous bandits and other dangers. They sold 112,480 copies of the Gospels, Acts, Genesis, Exodus, Psalms, Proverbs and other portions, an increase of 68,750 over last year. Most of these have gone into far out-of-theway places where new settlers have gone, where there is no means of hearing the gospel.

Medical Work. The Harbin Mission Hospital was founded in its beginning upon a spirit of evangelism, and many souls have been saved as a result, but we believe this has been the best year since the departure of Dr. James for America. The Chinese physician now in charge, Dr. Wu Mu Hsun, is a spiritual force, a good preacher and teacher, as well as a doctor well trained and experienced. He is responsible for making the hospital the past year a greater power for righteousness and the gospel. In round numbers, 6,200 patients received 24,000 treatments.

Refugee Relief. Three separate relief expeditions have to date been sent westward to carry relief to the Chinse, Russian, and Korean refugees. For these the Chinese Eastern Railway furnished free of charge special passenger cars. Quantities of bread, flour and clothing, together with money for immediate use, were taken along; also medical supplies and a physician. Our special car was filled with sick and wounded at Pohetu while there during a severe air raid. Local committees were organized at all places where refugees had gathered, and these are still functioning. The writer was asked to head up these expeditions as representative of the American Relief Committee, but on one trip there were also two Chinese pastors, a Korean pastor, Dr. Deming (missionary to the Koreans), and a half dozen representatives of the Russian Relief Committee.

PAKHOI CHINA MISSION

By E. T. Snuggs

With hearty thanks to God, we rejoice to report that conditions in the territory of Pakhoi China Mission during the year have been normal. While other parts of China have been ravaged by internicine warfare, peace and quietness have prevailed in this field.

Unusual opportunities for Christian activities have invited your missionaries and Chinese helpers on every hand, but only a limited amount of work has been accomplished; therefore, we cannot report a year of great things. Hindrances to a large extent for a more fruitful year have been among the missionaries. Furloughs for all three were overdue in 1929, but because of there being no other missionaries to take over the work in their absence, not one planned to leave the field. It is said, "Man proposes, but God disposes," as owing to a run-down condition and a rest being imperative, on March 20, Miss Faith M. Snuggs had to leave for South Carolina, and on July 16, E. T. Snuggs and wife left for South California. Mrs. Snuggs had been ill with sprue for five years, "hoping against hope" she could get well without leaving the field. It was only after an experienced missionary doctor certified it would be "criminal and murder" to detain her longer in the South China climate that she left for the homeland. At this writing all three missionaries have greatly improved in health and hope to be ready to return to their work in the fall of 1930.

With no missionaries on the field, the small band of Chinese helpers had to take charge of the work with the exception that the duties of treasurer were retained by E. T. Snuggs, and he transmits salaries and other funds from America to the Chinese helpers. Under present conditions Christian work, and especially work for schools, is very uncertain. These faithful Chinese Christians have a difficult situation to handle; they are putting up a good fight.

Owing to better communications given us by the new motor roads, one preacher took charge of two stations; he has become greatly discouraged. To meet his appointments, he has to use the public motor car. On one occasion the car was overturned and the preacher very badly wounded. He was carried in a supposedly dying condition to a native doctor that demanded a fairly large sum of money before he would give of his service. At another time the motor car was badly damaged by the firing of lawless soldiers. One passenger was shot dead; the others were wounded, including the preacher; he was also robbed. A few years ago in the same district he was robbed. These dangers and losses are so serious to the young Chinese preacher that he wishes to resign and return to his native village.

Twelve months being too long a time to leave a field without some supervision, therefore, to obviate this, Mr. H. H. Snuggs left his many duties in Wuchow long enough to make a short visit to three of the stations. This meant a journey of about one thousand miles by steamer and motor cars. The Pakhoi Mission appreciated this help from a missionary of the South China Mission, and the more so, as the service was rendered under the handicap of malaria and the heat of summer weather.

SOUTH CHINA MISSION

ANNUAL REPORT

By A. R. Gallimore

All of your missionaries in South China have been able to work in their respective fields throughout the year, even though in some instances serious dangers were sometimes imminent. And from every quarter come tidings of those who have come into the new life in Christ Jesus. From the aboriginal tribes in northern and western Kwangsi, from the Hakkas in northern and eastern Kwangtung, from the valleys and the cities of the plain and the villages and towns of the great delta and the ports and markets of the West River, news has been received of those who have been buried with him in baptism and have risen to newness of life. It is with grateful hearts to the Lord of the harvest that we report more than 600 baptisms during the year, a 10 per cent increase. "There is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth."

You will no doubt be interested in different phases of the work more or less in detail. All of it is evangelistic. If not, we should not be warranted in being here. We shall think of the work in three general divisions as regards territory, language and method of approach. The area of the two provinces in which our South China Mission works is estimated at about 60,000 square miles, with a population of between 35 and 40 million people. These are in turn divided as to the language they speak into Mandarin, Cantonese, and Hakka. As to method of approach we shall think in terms of direct evangelism as such, Christian education and medical missions. Or stated in other terms—preaching, teaching, and healing, in which Jesus himself set the example.

EVANGELISM

"It pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believed." We are also reminded of the Saviour's command to "go." The past year has been one of the best in many for going from place to place in the country districts among the villages, markets and towns, preaching the message of salvation. It was in the villages and on the lake side that Jesus found chose who believed in him and loved him. One can hardly measure the good that is accomplished in itinerating. Mr. Bausum reports some fine opportunities in his visits to the mountain tribes beyond Kweilin. Miss Stallings also spent some time in traveling among the Miau tribes before she left on furlough in the early spring. As usual, Miss Margie Shumate lived about among the women of the villages in the Shiuhing country before she left for a rest in the homeland. And so has Miss Ruth Pettigrew in the North River section of the Hakka field spent many months in one of the old walled cities over beyond the mountains, a hundred miles or more from Canton. Mr. M. W. Rankin joined his wife and young son, who had preceded him on leave, but was able to make an extended trip with two Hakka evangelists before he sailed for America. Two native evangelists visited some places in the East River Hakka field in the fall, but were hindered from making a round of the churches and chapels on account of the prevalence of bandits. Mr. Ray at Wuchow has made two trips into the country during the year, being hindered from further itineration on account of disturbed conditions in political circles. Brother Lake postponed the beginning of his furlough from the spring until the midle of August, traveling a great part of the time in the Sz Yap districts and to the Tai-Kam Leper Colony. Numerous villages and cities of the Kongmoon field were blessed by visits from Mr. Woodward, Misses Clement and Funderburk, and native workers. Later in the year they were joined by Miss Lenors Scarlett, who returned "Let us go into the next towns, that I may preach there also."

We rejoice with the workers in Kweilin in the progress which has been made there. The Kweilin District Association was organized during the year, consisting of churches in and around Kweilin. It is a unit of the Southwest China Baptist Association. The new organization has sent out several preaching bands which have thus far done very good work, according to the report furnished by Rev. C. J. Lowe.

One new church has been organized in the Kweilin field with about 35 members. The new house of worship has been completed and some good work is being done. It is always encouraging to hear of the organization of new churches, for they are indeed lighthouses in places of need.

There were more than one hundred baptisms in the Kweilin field during 1929. The out-stations report gradual progress, but Mr. Lowe says that many Christians dare not return because of the persecution they receive from those who would hurt the cause of Christ. "It is a day of sifting," he says, "and there has been considerable persecution brought on by those who would fight for their own interests. It was brought on by the drastic decrease of funds from the Foreign Mission Board, but it will yet prove a blessing in disguise."

Referring again to the work among the Miau tribes of Kwangsi, also in the Kweilin District, we quote from Mr. Bausum's letter as follows: "The line of work which seems to have been most neglected in this field is that among the thousands of aborigines within easy distance of Kweilin. They stretch from the south, around to the west, and also to the northwest of the city. There may be half a million, even a million, within what we call our field. A beginning had been made in one end of the fields by Miss Stallings. I had the privilege of making two visits to the field and baptized a total of 43. This was by far the largest single ingathering in any part of the Kweilin field during the year. They are wonderful Christians, independent, virile and zealous."

Miss Reba C. Stewart has continued her work of witnessing and leading the women of the Kweilin field in a most fruitful way. She has distributed many thousands of Scripture portions and tracts among the women and also among the students and others.

The only missionary working in the Shiuhing field is Miss Margie Shumate, who left in May for a year of change and rest in her Virginia home. The native evangelistic workers have been carrying on since she left. The Bible women report that more than 40 women were baptized during the year.

Rev. John Lake, who this year rounded out 25 years of faithful service in South China, left these few words about his work just before he sailed for America on furlough: "I am leaving the work that I am trying to do in better condition than for years." Mr. Lake's first love is the great Sz Yap, the Four Counties, but he helps in the work in Canton and in some of the counties or districts to the northeast also. "There is real church life," he says, "under Pastor Shek at Lung Moon City. A meeting of a presbytery was called to formally organize the church there, but the boats stopped running, which interfered; but they have in reality a live church, which also looks after a leper congregation near the city. The Tsung Fa Church is truly a wonderful church, with several out-stations, each owning its own house of worship, and with preachers who do real evangelistic work—going on long journeys, on foot, regularly. The same is true of Pai Tam in Tsang Sheng County. The work in these three districts to the northeast of Canton is very encouraging.

Leaving what Brother Lake says of his part of the work in Canton until later, we pass on to the few lines about the work in the Sz Yap. Mr. Lake's plan has always been to work in close co-operation with his Chinese brethren, and it is truly characteristic of him to say, "The best of all is that I leave all the work, including churches, out-stations and schools, in the hands of faithful Chinese committees. That, to my mind, is ideal, after a quarter of a century's work with them. Including the work on Tai-Kam Island (the Leper Colony), I have had the joy in these 25 years of seeing nearly 60 buildings go up."

Since Mr. M. W. Rankin went on furlough A. R. Gallimore has been the missionary in charge of the men's evangelistic work of both the North and East River sections of the Hakka field. Two church buildings have been erected and there has been steady progress. One of the churches celebrated its 35th anniversary, being one of the first which was organized in the nineties when Dr. E. Z Simmons began to make visits to the Hakka districts. It has been not quite 30 years since the first missionary, Rev. S. T. Williams, who lived only two or three years after arriving, was appointed as a special missionary to the field, and stationed at Yingtak.

Miss Ruth Pettigrew has been the only woman actually working in the Hakka field throughout the year. Miss Nell Putney left for furlough in July, and Miss Annie M. Sandlin is detained in Canton where she is doing translating for Kind Words, the Sunday school paper published in Chinese. Miss Pettigrew says, "There were several women awaiting baptism in the Yung Yen Church at the end of the year, but there had been no ordained preacher there during the latter months." She says also, "The two Bible women in Shiuchow have been very faithful this year. Every morning at ten o'clock they, with any others who will join them, meet to pray earnestly and in detail for the work in general, and then they go out over the city into the homes to help the Christian women and to give the message of life in Christ to the lost. At two o'clock they are back at the church to teach a Bible class for women and girls. There have been several conversions as a result of these meetings."

A young Hakka evangelist who works independently has done some very effective service in both the North and East River fields. He is doing a work that so few are willing to do, and the Lord is blessing him in it. Encouraging it is to see young Chinese preachers venture out on faith, trusting the Lord to supply their needs. These willing workers need our prayers.

The work at Wuchow, on the great West River, has gone on, even though interruptions came. In the late fall the city was raided by airplanes with bombs, but all of our missionaries stayed by through it all. The members of the Wuchow Station, one and all, are a faithful group and they are keenly alive to their evangelistic opportunities. A faithful corps of workers, foreigners and Chinese, minister to the needs in the local church and to the patients in the Stout Memorial Hospital. The Girls' School and the kindergarten are also effective evangelistic agencies.

The work in Macao is never disturbed by civil wars and disturbances as is the case in other places, since it is under the Portuguese Government. Thus it is more capable of conserving the progress which is made from year to year. There is a real working church in Macao where great spiritual results are attained. The First Baptist Church in Macao is a real lighthouse under the shadow of the ruins of old Saint Paul's Cathedral, the cross surmounting the top of which inspired the writing of the hymn, "In the Cross of Christ I Glory." Rev. John L. and Mrs. Galloway are the faithful workers in this Monte Carlo of China, a stronghold of nominal Catholicism.

At Kong Moon, situated at the mouth of the great West River, there has been an unusually fruitful year. Mr. F. T. Woodward says the opportunities have been greater than last year. We quote from his letter just here: "All of the churches and chapels have been visited regularly and the Lord's Supper observed. It has been an inspiration to see how the members have carried on in the services of several of the churches which have no preachers. There have been more baptisms than last year, and it has been a real pleasure to see the whole-hearted response of the Christians. We have tried to carry out Christ's command to go into the highways and hedges and compel them to come in, and it has been most encouraging to see how those in all walks of life show an interest in the gospel. As a fitting climax to the year we were glad to have Evangelist Leland Wong with us for a week in November. Mr. Wong was a real blessing to the work. He is the most capable native evangelist we have seen in China and his time is in great demand."

The work among women in the Kong Moon field is never neglected, as Miss Clement, Miss Scarlett and Miss Funderburk are always faithfully at work at the task. Miss Funderburk says the past year has been the best of all the eleven she has been in China, "the greatest," she says, "in that we have had the privilege to speak to more lost souls than we have in any previous year. Five country trips have been made. The first one, made early in the year, was signally blessed of God in building up spiritually and encouraging a group of earnest, faithful Christian women who meet regularly in the home of one member. The one member of the group who can read conducts the service." She tells something of the experiences of the other trips also, all rich in news of rejoicing, but space forbids quoting in detail. Miss Funderburk also adds a sentence or two about Mrs. Woodward's influence in the work, "and especially of her prayerful interest in the work among the children and the W.M.S."

We have written about the work farther in interior first, and now we come to that in Canton and vicinity. It is the oldest and, of course, ought to be farther advanced. No doubt it comes nearer being indigenous than any in China. About half of the ten Baptist churches in Canton and suburbs are self-supporting. The others are still receiving some aid from our Foreign Mission Board through the local association.

The First Baptist Church in Canton, known as Graves Memorial, celebrated its sixtieth anniversary at the present site during the year. Twenty-five years might be added to its history, however, since it actually began its career in 1845. It had to move about several times before it finally settled in its home on one of the best streets of the city, now a broad thoroughfare alive with motor cars and teeming with the throngs of the great city. Ministered to by J. L. Shuck, I. J. Roberts, and later by Dr. R. H. Graves, it is still vigorous and is honored as the mother church of practically all others in South China.

As an efficient church organization, perhaps, none would surpass the Tungshan Baptist Church in Canton. The church observed its twentieth anniversary during the year. There are more than thirteen hundred members of this great church. The large auditorium is practically filled every Sunday morning and at special evangelistic services, which are held from time to time. The Tungshan Church is the great student church of Canton. Not only does this church support itself, but it gives liberally to objects beyond its own work. On one Sunday during the year 53 were buried with Christ in baptism at one service. An inspiring spectacle it was. Other smaller numbers have been baptized from time to time. It is nothing unusual to see from two or three to four or five hundred members at the Lord's Supper each first Sunday.

The Hing Wah Church also has many students and teachers from Pui Ching Academy, the pastor being a graduate of a seminary in the United States. Tung Shek Church, originally started by I. J. Roberts, has several laymen who are bankers in its congregation and is thus able to take care of itself financially. On the island of Hoh Nam, a section of Greater Canton, there are two churches and a chapel. Brother Lake writes thus about these: "On Hoh Nam the Tsim Heu Church is in fine condition. The Hoh Nam Church has a full-time pastor and the work is improving, but once the labor troubles in Canton and the ugly feeling led away the factory people, and the church suffered greatly, but there is now great improvement."

Brother Bausum makes a striking statement about his experience in our farthest interior field, Kweilin: "Persecution has sprung up among them (the Miaus)—it always does where the gospel gets a foothold. Only in the places where it is making no advance is persecution dormant. An obviously live issue will certainly arouse opposition. This is, therefore, not discouraging. Rather is it cause for humble gratitude to the Lord of the harvest."

Christ is among his churches just as he has always been and he is still our leader. If there are changes he will lead us in them. His presence is a challenge for us to go forward.

Sunday schools have maintained a fair average, as the statistics will show. There were in the two provinces last year 1,500 pupils enrolled in all departments of the Sunday schools. Too little emphasis is laid on the Sunday schools as helpers of the churches. Dr. J. T. Williams is Sunday School Secretary for all China, and Rev. W. H. Tipton is editor of Sunday school periodicals. General conditions, however, keep them from traveling as much as they would like. Brother Tipton had to give up a visit to South China just at the end of the year on account of local fighting. Lack of trained teachers and the necessary equipment also makes it difficult to reach any set standard in Sunday school work, though the churches in China are hardly able just yet to maintain the organization of what we think of as modern Sunday schools, when at the same time some of the dangers of too much organization should be avoided.

The work of the Woman's Missionary Union is not as old as the Sunday school work, but it is a valuable asset to the work in China as it is elsewhere. We are indebted to Miss Mary C. Alexander for some account of its activities. Though it has been difficult to find just how many members of W.M.U. societies there are in South China, it seems that we are correct in saying there are 24 unions. But let us hear what Miss Alexander has to say: "Our dream is for a fultime worker for the promotion of the W.M.U. and Young People's work in South China. According to plans recently made, one of the W.M.U. Bible women will be sent inland, some days' journey from Canton, to Lung Wa, a large market town, where there are only two Christians. Two more faithful workers than our president and corresponding secretary-treasurer, Misses Helen Huen and M. Y. Yim, could hardly be found. Three Bible women were, by means of the offerings of our missionary societies, kept in the field at a total cost of more than seven hundred dollars (Mex.). New impetus and new vision were given to the work by the visit of Miss Lila Watson, W.M.U. secretary for all China, from Shanghai."

"In B.Y.P.U. work, the past decade has been one of seed sowing," says Miss Alexander, to whom we are indebted for this account of work among the young people. It has not been possible to carry on this work in the out-stations or among the churches of the interior consecutively, since they are not so well developed as those with the larger number of students in Canton. So at times they have flourished and then for a time faded away, but there is a B.Y.P.U. consciousness gradually being developed. In Canton there are three Senior B.Y.P.U.'s with a membership of 75; one Intermediate union of 20; one Junior organization with more than 40; also a Primary union with a hundred or more, though the latter is a mixture of Primary B.Y.P.U., Sunbeams and Junior Church.

Quoting from the report: "During the spring of 1929 a group of workers, men and women, Chinese and foreign, were called together by the Executive Committee of the W.M.U. to consider the best means of unitedly going forward with the work for the children and the young people. There seemed to be a decided opinion that, if possible, a multiplicity of organizations, such as we have in America, be avoided. The committee reported to the South China W.M.U. and the Leung Kwong Baptist Association, and recommendations were made for adopting the graded B.Y.P.U. as the best all-round organization for the training of our Baptist young people." The Senior Quarterly has been published for a number of years by the China Baptist Publication Society in Shanghai. Plans are now being completed for issuing the Junior and Intermediate Quarterlies also.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

It is fitting that what has been said about work with young people should lead further into the training of them. We are sorry to report that fewer young men are offering themselves for the ministry than formerly. But we need not be discouraged just here, for we feel that those who do offer themselves are more geniune. When we consider the forces that operate against such a call we can well rejoice that even a few come for the special training. First and foremost in the task of Christian education should come the cultivation of the spiritual life of the young men and women who have felt the special call to service in leading their fellows in the quest of Christ the Lord, and in the proper interpretation of the Scriptures to them that they may so present the truths that make free that those who will may accept the Saviour in pardon and faith. For nearly fifty years, from the time "the class" began to meet with Dr. R. H. Graves in his dining room, what has now become the Graves Theological Seminary, has led in this important work.

The work of that institution has gone on through the year in an encouraging way with Rev. M. T. Rankin as president, in co-operation with Rev. W. D. King and Mr. G. W. Greene and the Chinese faculty.

We copy a paragraph or two from Mr. Rankin's written report: "We are attempting to develop the spiritual life of the students also through our evangelistic band. Every Monday morning the students go out to some nearby village to preach the gospel to the people on the streets. In this way we hope not only to give the students practice in preaching, but to help create within them a passion for telling the gospel to people wherever they meet them."

In regard to the type of men the institution would reach, Mr. Rankin says the first need is to provide training for men who have had less than a full senior high school course. Next comes the need for training men who are graduates of standard senior high schools. However much we deplore the low standard, we must face the fact that more than three-fourths of our chapels and churches are dependent on this type of preachers. But he adds: "The kingdom work among Baptists in South China will suffer more and more as time goes on if we fail to train men of higher grade for the ministry. A joint committee from our Mission and the Leung Kwang Baptist Association has been asked to study this need and make suggestions for plans to meet it."

During the past year some new courses have been added and other courses have been strengthened. The teaching force has profited by the coming of Rev. Paul Lyn to the faculty.

The Southwest China Baptist Bible Training School is located at Kweilin, of which Rev. C. J. Lowe is principal. It has an excellent plant for carrying on its work in the buildings which were provided by Mrs. J. L. Durham, of Georgia, erected in honor of her son who gave up his earthly life in the World War.

Brother Lowe writes concerning the work of the Bible School at Kweilin: "The Bible School has gone forward in the training of young men for the gospel ministry. Our funds will not allow us to have a large number of students, but this year we have fourteen young men who have come from different sections of the province of Kwangsi. They seem to be a faithful group and we look forward to their getting into the service to which they have consecrated their lives."

The Pui In Women's Bible Training School has been preparing women for special service for twenty years. Formal recognition of this was observed during the past year when appropriate exercises were held in the school.

Mrs. Valeria Page Greene, who founded the school and has been connected with it all along, continues as principal. She is assisted by her daughter, Mrs. M. T. Rankin, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. William Greene. For these many years women have been trained to go out into the towns and villages telling the gospel to the women and boys and girls who have never heard of the Saviour. Many wives of preachers have also been trained to become real companions of their husbands in the work, and many children have been brought up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord through the nursery which is maintained by the school to help the mothers who come. This school has never been in better condition than it is now. The course of study has been raised to meet the needs of women and girls who have received their earlier education in other schools. A preparatory department for women of lower grade is still carried on. From this department come many of the workers for the country districts. About twenty students are doing some work in the school in order to pay part of their expenses.

The conflict in South China between Christian schools and the governmental authorities has been growing since 1924. At times the conservative element in the government educational department has held the balance of power, making it possible for mission schools to carry on. Now the balance of power seems to have shifted and a radical anti-mission school element is making the regulations stricter. None of our schools have registered; first, on account of opposition from our missionaries and also because our Foreign Mission Board has not been favorable to such a move. Nor have any of our schools closed on account of this until this fall. In some places where schools are supported entirely by local churches silent acquiescence in the matter of voluntary versus required Bible study has kept the matter from becoming an open issue. In Kweilin it seems that the matter has not been pressed, so the Pei Tsen Girls' School has gone on. Miss Mattie Vie Summer has been faithfully at her post as principal and working with her Chinese associates. In the Boys' School there, Mr. Bausum has carried on the best he could. Since the decrease in funds three years ago our Mission has not attempted to keep up the work of schools for boys. But Mr. Bausum has succeeded in working with a local church committee to make a start at reorganizing the old institution for boys which was looted while he was away on furlough. With a contribution of thirty dollars from the local church and with personal donations, he has been able to keep going. Provision was made for some special classes in English for students in the government schools, so most of the financing has come from fees paid by the students. The funds thus received make it possible to pay other teachers who carry on classes of lower grade. Mr. Bausum says they had from twenty to thirty boys last year. He teaches Bible and a little English and the boys attend the Sunday school and church services. Then he adds: "This is a wonderful evangelistic opportunity."

In Wuchow the Waang To Girls' School has gone on without serious hindrances. In fact, the name was changed several years ago to avoid complications with the government, so it has been recognized so far as a legitimate denominational institution. With Miss Pearl Johnson in charge, working with some faithful Chinese teachers, the school has been doing excellent work. Mrs. Harold H. Snuggs has taught music in the school. There have been more than a hundred girls who have taken advantage of the training it gives. The school is a distinct evangelistic force, and there have been several baptisms from the student body. Waang To won the G.A. banner of the Association, also the reward for memorizing Bible verses. The girls of the school do a valuable service in connection with the Sunday school work. Someone said at Mission meeting: "If anyone thinks that school work is not evangelistic, let them come to Waang To and find out."

The most serious situation in school work during the year was that at Shiuchow. Miss Nell Putney gave of her time and strength to the work until the physicians urged her to take her furlough which was already due. In the case of this school the civil and educational authorities combined together, and in spite of all that could be done, forcibly closed the school. After a time, however, the school was able to open under a new name. The local Christians took a firm stand all the way through, and one of the Bible women was heard to exclaim: "What a victory! Our enemies wanted us to hide away the Bible, and lo, now our very name tells the people what we stand for. Outsiders say that we have been helped rather than hindered." The Girls' Day School at Wung Yen was forced to close also, though the circumstances attending it were not so drastic.

Pui Ching Academy, the great school conducted by Chinese Baptists for boys in Canton, and recently opening its classes to girls (though in separate buildings), has registered. This school celebrated its fortieth anniversary during the year with brilliant exercises. A beautiful new building also stands on the large campus as a material reminder of the school's forty years of work. This school has indeed had a struggle during the turmoil of the last few years, but it has weathered the storm. Even though it has submitted in the matter of registration, there is some real Christian work of a voluntary nature carried on in the school. Pui Ching and Pooi To (the school for girls) united their efforts on two occasions in special evangelistic meetings. Pui Ching has a special director of religious activities. It is inspiring to see students from Pui Ching in the congregations of several of the churches in Canton City and often we see them take definite steps in influencing their fellow students to accept the Saviour. Mr. Wong Kai Ming, who has many friends in America, is president of the school.

Pooi To Academy, the central school for girls of our South China Mission, still maintains its high standard of work. While Pui Ching has been developed entirely by the Chinese Baptist Association, Pooi To has grown up under the care of our Mission. During the last several years, however, it has been under the direction of a joint board of trustees, consisting of six missionaries and six representatives appointed by the Chinese Association. The fortieth anniversary building was made ready for use during the fall session of the school. Only the central section of the building has been erected at a cost of forty thousand dollars. When the two wings are added it will represent an outlay of sixty thousand (Mex.). It seems that Pooi To is just meeting the crisis and her situation is a serious one. We shall not attempt any predictions or make any presuppositions, but the prayers of those who read this mere preliminary statement will help much in meeting the problem. The sacrifice of this great school would be a real one. Pooi To is recognized as one among the greatest institutions in all South China. Her forty years of achievement justify her right to live, but if she must cease to be a "polished jewel" in winning Chinese girls to the Lord, there is not anything to be gained in compromise. May the Lord China.

Miss Lydia Greene, of the Pooi Ling Kindergarten, kindly furnishes an excellent report of Pooi To for the year. But we can only make some quotations. "As we look back over the year we rejoice because of the good things that have come to Pooi To Academy. The year has passed peaceably without a break in the work, and this has aided in the general atmosphere of the school. The annual budget is fifty thousand dollars Mex, but only $6,500.00 of this is appropriated by the Mission. The remainder is obtained from tuition fees. Two hundred students have been enrolled. Thirty part and full-time teachers and officers have co-operated in directing the class work and the various activities of the student body. Of this number, twenty-four are Chinese. The members of the Mission who are giving all or part time to teaching are Miss Alexander, Miss Flora Dodson, Miss Lydia Greene, Mrs. W. D. King and Mr. G. W. Greene. We are thankful also for the coming of Miss Floy Hawkins. She is a valuable addition to the English and Bible departments, working as an independent missionary.

"The religious life of the school is quite up to the usual high standard. We are thankful for the interest which is manifested by the girls who are Christians and for the way in which they assume the responsibility for the religious organizations. The Y.W.A. continues to be a stronghold in fostering personal service. In addition to a special student B.Y.P.U. with Mrs. King as adviser, a number of girls are members of a B.Y.P.U. which is composed of Pooi To and Pui Ching students. Misses Alexander and Lung-Chow are advisers in this. The White Cross Band, composed of students who have dedicated their lives to definite Christian service, has had twelve members during the year."

We shall turn aside from the general report of Pooi To to give an account of the work that is being done in the Yi Hok, or School for Poor Children. This school is carried on by the students of Pooi To Academy as a religious activity of the school and at the same time serves as a practice school for students in the normal department. Since Miss Flora Dodson is director of this estimable work we shall let her speak for herself. "The Y.W.A. has established two schools for poor children, located in Tungshan. One of them is a demonstration school for the educational work in Pooi To Academy. The purpose of the school is to help in a three-fold way in the development of poor children and to make them Christian citizens. The first school has had thirty-two pupils and one teacher; the second 103 students, with four regular teachers and six practice teachers. There were six graduates of the Yi Hok in the spring, of which four entered junior high school. There were fifty-two baptisms from the school."

The Pooi Ling Kindergarten has had a good year, according to the report of Miss Greene. Financially this work is self-supporting, the tuition fees providing for teachers' salaries, equipment and all other expenses. There are 120 children enrolled and two regular teachers. Fourteen Normal Training students of Pooi To Academy are studying to be kindergarten teachers. Eight of these expect to graduate next June. Miss Greene says: "We are especially glad to report a decided growth in the Kindergarten Normal Department. And, further, two hundred visits have been made into the homes of the children and we feel that much has been accomplished by this personal touch. The Kindergarten Sunday school has had an average attendance of about eighty. We are encouraged in the increased interest in the Sunday school, for we believe this is one of the most important phases of the work for little children."

Kindergarten work has been carried on in Shiuchow and Wuchow also. The Shiuchow school has been interrupted on account of conditions already mentioned. There were sixty children in the Wuchow Kindergarten, with Mrs. Leavell and a consecrated Chinese lady in charge. The school is supported by unsolicited funds. As someone has said: "It is like a little Sunday school every day in the week."

The Leung Kwang Baptist Orphanage is not a school, but it is a home for the fifty and more boys and girls under its roof. When this institution was waited on and a demand that the Bible could not be taught, those in authority had the courage to inform those making this requirement, that it was a home and not a school and the right to teach the Bible was maintained. The children of the orphanage attend school and the best religious influences are brought to bear upon them. In this ministry of the Leung Kwang Association to the needy children, Chinese Christians meet one of the marks of "true religion" as we find it in the epistle of James.

MEDICAL MISSIONS

A little boy was hoping that the world would not be evangelized before he grew up, because he wanted to be a medical missionary. And a great work it is. When one's body is healed it is an easy step toward reaching the soul. Christis still the Great Physician who can do a mighty work through a Christian doctor. There are only three medical missionaries now in our South China Mission. Dr. Charles A. Hayes is working with the Leung Kwong Baptist Hospital in Canton; Dr. George W. Leavell continues with the Stout Memorial Hospital in Wuchow; and Dr. J. Mansfield Bailey has been with the Kweilin Baptist Hospital since the fall of 1928.

An old lady sold her daughter that she might come to Leung Kwang Hospital to have her eyes treated. Dr. Hayes performed an operation on one eye and the woman was able to see again. And in her simple way she was exceedingly grateful to the "heavenly Father" for the healing. The other eye ought to be attended to later, and it will. In the meantime the old lady is back at her home working and saving her money in order that she may redeem her daughter. Then the second eye will be treated and we trust that she may yet see spiritually through this contact with a medical missionary.

The Leung Kwong Baptist Hospital has one of the most commanding buildings in the great city of Canton. It has a competent staff of doctors and nurses, and during the year there were 1,580 patients in the hospital, and 19,698 people came to the dispensary. Dr. Charles A. Hayes, who has just recently returned from furlough, has resumed his work with the institution and he is the only foreigner connected with it. His services are given to the hospital for the small missionary salary he receives through our Foreign Mission Board, one among thousands who would be willing to work thus, compared with what a physician and specialist would receive at home. The hospital is completely self-supporting beyond that, having been built and maintained by the Chinese Christian constituency through the Leung Kwong Baptist Association. A fine example of indigenous Christian work. Mrs. Hayes, also a doctor, directs the work of a dispensary at one of the churches in the city with some private funds. A branch hospital is also provided for in a central section of Canton. But, from all over the province and the neighboring province of Kwangsi, the people come to this Christian hospital.

Now, we shall say something about the most successful hospital connected with our mission work in a direct way, though the institution is self-supporting with the exception of the missionary doctor's salary. Not a cent comes from our Foreign Mission Board for carrying on the work. Furthermore, the hospital very often has a balance which is in many cases used to help or supplement some worthy object. The beautiful building was made possible with funds from the homeland, though many fine donations came from local sources. Dr. George W. Leavell continues as superintendent. Mr. Harold H. Snuggs has for several years been business manager, along with other work he has done in the schools. Although the hospital suffered greatly during the days of boycott and anti-Christian feeling, it has about regained its former position of usefulness and is going forward in a great way. Reports come of the many soldiers who have received the benefits of the Wuchow Hospital after "the last conflict." Very often the hospital receives little or nothing for caring for the unfortunate soldiers who come for help. But if some of them receive the message of life unto salvation the expense and the trouble are not in vain.

The Kweilin Baptist Hospital has had a good year notwithstanding many handicaps. Dr. J. Mansfield Bailey was in charge as superintendent until the latter part of the year, when he and Mrs. Bailey came to the coast preparatory to leaving on furlough. Since the Chinese physician went into private practice, a Chinese woman doctor has been with the hospital. Dr. Bailey says: "The hospital has served a larger number of people during this year of uninterrupted work than were cared for the previous year. Evangelistic work has had a more prominent place this year and souls have been saved and multitudes have heard the message of love and life. More than nine hundred religious services were held and nearly seven thousand tracts and portions of Scripture were distributed."

The Ramseur Memorial Hospital at Yingtak remains closed on account of having no physician, foreign or Chinese, and also lack of funds. This hospital ought to be reopened.

It is very difficult to secure competent Chinese physicians for the work. Those who are prepared for service demand such salaries as it is almost impossible to meet them. They demand larger salaries than missionaries receive, which would indicate that missionary doctors do not come for money and certainly not for their health. "The Lord is the best paymaster," remarked our own Dr. Hayes a few days after he returned to the field.

WORK AMONG LEPERS

The year 1929 has seen the culmination of many years of faithful work on the part of Rev. John Lake and his lamented companion. The last trip Mrs. Lake made on this earth was to see the little white leper village in the north bay of Tai-Kam Island, though it was not permitted her to see the lepers settled there. Her beautiful spirit left her frail body several months before, in 1928. During the present year there have been more than one hundred lepers living in the colony. The resident doctor resigned and it was not until the end of the year that his successor was secured. The faithful nurse, who gives the injections, was therefore very much overworked, and while caring for the lepers during a siege of typhoid, he, too, became ill and, fortunate for the little colony, it was that his life was spared. He was faithful to the task.

No help is being received from any of the organizations for lepers in the United States or England, the main responsibility being left with the Chinese Committee, under the sponsorship of the Five Districts Baptist Association. Several consecrated laymen in Canton are under the load in a wonderful way. Gifts are received voluntarily from friends of the work wherever they may be. Friends of the work in China have subscribed more than two hundred and fifty thousand dollars (Mex.).

The roof has now been completed on the Carrie Lake Memorial House of Worship for the women, which makes the eighteenth building on the island. Work has already started on the second unit of fifteen buildings, also. And thus what was once a pirate island has now become a refuge for men and women cast "without the camp" by their fellows, and a Christian community. But it has cost many years of prayer and peril and toil and pain. The friends of this work will not let it fail.

OTHER BENEVOLENT ENDEAVORS

In every land there are those who are deprived of their natural powers, and in China there are many who are blind from one cause or another. Mrs. Graves continues to lend a helping hand to nearly fifty girls in the Home for the Blind, which is made possible by gifts from the alumnae of Blue Mountain College in Mississippi. Eventually this work will be taken care of by the Tungshan Baptist Church in Canton, where the girls from the Home may be seen at any service of the church.

The Leung Kwong Association does not fail to consider its old people, especially the old women who are no longer able to care for themselves, in furnishing a home for a number of them in the Old People's Home.

SOME THINGS PERSONAL

This report of the year would not be complete without a few items concerning those who are your representatives in the work here in Southern China.

"You share our mutual woes, our mutual burdens bear; And often for each other flows the sympathizing tear."

Twice has the Lord blessed the homes of our missionaries in leaving to their care precious lives from his infinite hand. On the eleventh of July Mary Lee Rankin came to bless the home of her parents, Rev. M. T. and Mrs. Rankin. Earlier in the year the home of Rev. and Mrs. Rex Ray, of Wuchow, was made happier by the coming of little Miss Lois Ellen in January.

Cupid has been at work also in bringing together two lives to make a perfect whole in the marriage of Miss Euva Majors to Rev. Robert L. Bausum, July 23, both of the Kweilin Station.

We have called attention to the coming and going of our people in another connection, but we shall name them again in quick succession: We welcomed "back home" Dr. and Mrs. Charles A. Hayes, Miss Lenora Scarlett and Miss Euva Majors, who is now Mrs. Bausum. We said good-bye to Miss Hattie Stallings, Miss Margie Shumate, Miss Nell Putney, Mr. M. W. Rankin and Rev. John Lake, who went on furlough.

Certainly we would not forget to remind you that we celebrated the seventy-fifth anniversary of our dear "young" Mrs. Graves, who is ever active and alert and an inspiration to us all.

HUNGARY

THE HUNGARIAN BAPTIST UNION

By Everett Gill

Andras Udvarnoki, President; Mihaly Baranyay, Secretary

The work of the Hungarian Baptists for 1929 made progress, but it was not their best year. Yet God has blessed them in this decade, for in 1920 they numbered scarcely more than 7,000, while they have grown to a membership of over 12,000.

The acute economic and financial situation of the Hungarian people was reflected in our Baptist work. The people are discouraged that after ten years of peace they should not be in a better position as to their economic life. One of the pressing needs of our Baptist work is for a secretary who can give all his time to the care and help of the churches. Up to this time it has been impossible, since the secretary has been the pastor of one of the largest churches of the Union which requires his time and services. The finances of the Union have not been such as to make it possible for an all-time secretary.

During the year special meetings and institutes were held for the deepening of the spiritual life of the churches. The Sunday School and B.Y.P.U. Boards did the same for their special departments. The annual course for the training of choir-leaders was used, also, for the spiritual quickening of those who lead the music in the local churches. The W.M.U. "carried on" as usual, and were faithful amid discouragements.

The door of missionary opportunity is still open in most sections of the land for our message. While in some local fields the work is rather at a standstill, in many others it is encouraging. The harvest is white, but the laborers are few for lack of means.

The Hungarian secretary writes that they are not satisfied with the results of the past year, but look hopefully toward the future. They wish the writer to convey to the Southern Baptists their thanks for their co-operation in the past, and their hope for our help in the days to come.

ITALIAN MISSION

MISSIONARIES

Rome-D. G. Whittinghill, Mrs. Whittinghill, via Del Babuino, 107.

ANNUAL REPORT

By D. G. Whittinghill

Italy, from a material standpoint, is undergoing great changes due to the indomitable will of Mussolini and to the enthusiasm which he has been enabled to create in his followers and admirers, numbered by the millions. Mussolini's position as a supreme ruler in Italy seems to grow stronger each year. Coercive methods are not so much in evidence as at the beginning. The Italians as a whole seemed to be pleased with his rule, although taxes are very high and personal liberty is still limited. No political newspaper, which is not favorable to the present regime, is permitted to exist, and long since opposition in Parliament has vanished from public life.

THE RECONCILIATION OF THE CHURCH WITH THE STATE

The "Roman Question" has agitated the Italian people more or less since the fall of the temporal power of the popes in 1870. Mussolini has had in his mind from the beginning of his rule a peaceful settlement of this vexed question which finally came to a conclusion in February of 1929. Ever since the signature of the famous treaty and concordat between Mussolini and Cardinal Gasparri, there has existed a discord of opinion as to the advisability of such a settlement. There are millions, especially in Italy, who consider this pact a great victory for the Vatican, and there are other millions who believe it to be a greater victory for Mussolini. Roman Catholics in foreign countries seem to be of the opinion that the Papacy has made a bad deal and that the Church has taken a step backward toward the Middle Ages, assuming again, after sixty years of rest, temporal power. Only time will be able to decide whether it was a good or bad bargain for the Church.

The reconciliation between church and state, greatly disturbed non-Catholics throughout Italy, especially during the first days, as their position seemed obscure and there were vague rumors that the Inquisition had returned once more, and that we should be subjected to great persecutions and injustice. All these things turned out to be false rumors and groundless fears. Shortly after the signature of the above mentioned pact, the Italian Government very justly enacted a law in favor of non-Catholics, which really put them in a better position before the Italian people than ever before. All non-Catholics are greatly pleased with the new state of affairs. At the present time, ministers of non-Catholic churches are recognized by the State as legally authorized to perform marriage ceremonies. Religious discussions are free both in the press and from pulpits. Religious instruction in public schools is no longer compulsory to non-Catholics. In fact, on the subject of the training of youth, there is a wide difference of opinion between the Pope and Mussolini, who have had sharp discussions in the public press. There seems little hope of mutual understanding between these two eminent personages regarding this matter. In the meantime non-Catholics have nothing to lose and all to gain by this conflict.

REGIONAL CONFERENCES

For want of sufficient means we have not been able to hold our annual assemblies for several years, the lack of which has been seriously felt by our pastors, and by myself. Our Executive Committee thought the time had come to make some compensation to our pastors for this serious loss. Consequently, three conferences have been held recently—in Bari, Naples and Turin, representing various sections of our Italian field. In these meetings each pastor was given sufficient time to tell of his own difficulties, success and hopes, after which his colleagues were free to make observations, give counsel or criticize. In addition to these illuminating reports of our pastors, some very vital matters were discussed, such as the subject of baptism, the spiritual life of the churches and pastors, the importance and methods of evangelization, and similar topics. These meetings brought great good to all who attended, including the missionary himself. Without exception every pastor returned to his field of labor with renewed hope and faith in God, and a determined will to do more than ever for the furtherance of the kingdom. The result of these conferences in our churches has already been seen, in larger congregations, more evangelistic preaching on the part of the pastors, and a consoling number of conversions and baptisms. Our pastors, especially those in smaller towns and in country districts, are isolated and as a rule much persecuted. They greatly need human sympathy and fellowship in order to keep them fitted for their difficult tasks. Our American friends will do well to remember these pastors by giving them their sympathy and all the material help which they need.

CHURCH WORK

I am happy to report that 1929 records the best year's work I have ever known in the Italian Mission. All of our churches did not equally flourish. Two of our Rome churches are passing through a serious crisis owing to the disloyal conduct and bad behavior of their former pastors.

Four of our churches have procured for themselves considerable honor in the progress they have made towards self-support. Mompantero, in northern Italy, a church of only 35 members, has about completed a chapel which the members built largely themselves, making great sacrifices in the matter of time, money and labor. It really is a great achievement for a country like Italy. The church at Chiavari has been lately blessed with another gift of 10,000 liras from the same man who gave 20,000 liras last year. At the present time this little church has nearly 43,000 liras in the bank for the purchase of a lot and the prospects are that we shall soon have a chapel of our own in this important center. The church at Turin, of which our beloved brother, Lodovico Paschetto, is pastor, has made great progress both spiritually and materially. The brethren of this church have given outright or loaned 23,005 liras for the purchase of a lot in the suburbs of this growing city for the erection of a mission chapel. A deacon in a little church in the province of Potenza, converted in America, has returned to his native town and is building a chapel at his own expense for his church. He has a son in the pastorate in Italy, for whose call to the ministry he prayed before this boy was born. These four above mentioned churches, which are making efforts to build chapels for their own use, would seem to prove that our Mission is seriously taking hold of the hearts and consciences of our Italian brethren.

I am happy to report the foundation of three new churches, none of which is large, but the prospects are that they will become strong centers of spiritual influence in the near future. The names of these churches are—Bussoleno, on the border between France and Italy; Campodimele, a town near Gaeta on the Mediterranean Sea; and Ascoli Piceno, a picturesque city near the Adriatic, which is the center of an immense territory where there is no other Protestant church. In this city there is a very beautiful baptistry of the twelfth century, which is a constant witness to the truthfulness of our principles. Fermo is a nearby station where there are already sixteen candidates for baptism.

As already intimated in this report, our churches have made the finest showing of any previous year in our history. At Turin there is a marvelous spiritual awakening, not only in the church itself, but among the people who live in the neighborhood of our chapel. Professor Paschetto has had the good fortune to arouse the membership to their sense of duty in the matter of soul saving. By means of house-to-house prayer meetings and through the printed page, a great deal of work has been done. During the year 30 baptisms were reported and there are at present 40 inquirers, most of whom will probably be baptized during 1930. This church has also developed a missionary spirit.

The church at Florence has also been blessed with 30 baptisms and there is a goodly number of candidates in preparation for baptism during the coming year. Pastor Rivera not only looks after this important work, but has charge of our Young People's Movement which requires both time and energy. The church at Naples, our largest numerically, has been blessed with 35 baptisms, some of which were performed by the actual pastor, and the others by his predecessor, Signor Prisinzano. The Via Teatro Valle Church in Rome, of which Dr. Fasulo is pastor, has likewise made great progress during the year, not so much numerically as on other lines. This church had a generous gift of $200, from friends in America, through Dr. Mangano, of Rochester, N. Y., which will be used to enlarge the seating capacity of the building.

There are other churches and pastors worthy of "honorable mention" who possibly deserve as much praise as any of the others, but space forbids me to mention them all by name. The total number of baptisms for the year were 294, an increase of 49 per cent, which is nearly three times as many baptisms per church member as the great Baptist state of Georgia had in 1929! Possibly our greatest gain during the year among the churches was a new sense of personal responsibility on the part of the membership for soul-saving and a greater reliance on the Spirit of God for Christian work. Collections amounted to Lire 187,265.51 which far exceeded those of any other year, by an increase of nearly 30 per cent.

THEOLOGICAL SCHOOL

During the year we were compelled to make a change in the faculty, owing to the departure of Dr. Chiminelli for America. Professor Francesco Prisinzano has taken his place in the faculty, where he teaches homilectics and pastoral theology. He is admirably fitted for his position, having studied as a young man four years in the Free Church College at Glasgow under some of Scotland's greatest teachers. Professor Prisinzano is a man of great piety, intellectual poise and culture. The other members of the faculty remain as last year, viz.: Prof. Mario Rossi, Dr. Aristarco Fasulo and myself.

The students have made a very satisfactory record. Altogether we have eight of them this year, two of whom will be sent out into the work in July. On the whole we are quite well satisfied with our young men and we are praying that God may greatly bless them and make them useful instruments for the coming of the kingdom of God in this country.

PUBLICATIONS

Owing to a crisis in the publication work and owing to a limited amount of liberty, no great progress has been made in the matter of our literature. However, we are holding our own, which is saying a great deal in these trying times. Our three periodical publications—"Bilychnis," "II Testimonio," and "II Seminatore"—continue their work of illumination and propaganda throughout Italy and even in foreign countries. Baptists still hold the pre-eminence in publication work, which, of course, reflects honor on us and puts us in a privileged position to influence the intellectual classes.

In addition to periodical publications, we have been enabled to issue two small volumes: one by Dr. Fasulo, entitled "Doctrinal and Historical Outlines Concerning the Baptists," and the other by Mario Piacentini, a noted lawyer, entitled "The Law of June 24th Enacted by the Italian Government for the Worship of non-Catholic Churches," which last sets off briefly and in chronological order the various steps which culminated in the Reconciliation Pact between the Italian Government and the Roman Catholic hierarchy. This volume has had a wide circulation and we have had many compliments from eminent authorities in governmental and educational spheres. And what is unusual, we have actually made money on this publication, which is a rare thing in a country like Italy.

ORPHANAGE

The story of our orphanage for the year 1929 is not altogether pleasant. We have had great difficulty with the director who, to our great surprise, has proved himself to be utterly unworthy of the confidence which we had placed in him for the past three years. He was dismissed from his position as director of the orphanage and pastor of the church, and was thrown out of the Mission where he had been a pastor for more than twenty years. His case has been a scandal to many people, but I feel sure that the Mission will be far better off without such a man and that his church will flourish again.

The orphans numbering twenty, as well as the theological students, who live in the same building, suffered no little from this state of affairs. Since the new director has taken charge of the institution, things are greatly improved.

Seven of our orphans were baptized by me in one of our churches in the month of December. The Lord in the midst of our trials has, therefore, comforted our hearts.

Our girl-orphans at Spezia are still under the care of Mr. Pullen, who has charge of an independent English Baptist Mission in that city. My wife and I had the pleasure of visiting them in September and found them well cared for and receiving instruction, both literary and religious, according to their needs.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S MOVEMENT

Mr. Rivera, who has had charge of this branch of our work for the past few years, continues to give to it much of his time, energy and thought. His periodical communications to "Il Testimonio" are generally full of very practical and wise things. The numbers of young people belonging to our various circles have somewhat diminished, owing to the difficulties in two of our churches, but otherwise the work remains on a stable basis. More and more our young people are becoming alive to their responsibilities for the progress of our church work which they show by increased contributions and more activity toward soul-winning. As an illustration of what our young people are trying to do, in various churches they have pledged themselves to aim for a certain number of conversions. In the church at Turin the young people have pledged themselves to bring to Christ, during the coming year, 60, which is indeed a big undertaking, but if they succeed it will be a testimony to their faith in God and in themselves.

IN CONCLUSION

Allow me to insist once more on the great importance of preaching the This is indeed a great field for the preaching of pure gospel in this country. the gospel of Christ in its simplicity and purity and there is no reason why we should not reap an abundant harvest in Italy as in other parts of the world. The gospel has already made a great impression in Italy and the Roman Church itself, strange as it may seem, has been influenced by our propaganda. During the past few months the Vatican has decided to issue a new translation of the Bible in the Italian language for the use of the laity of the Roman Church! This same church has imitated evangelical publications in order to combat the work that we have been doing for years. A Roman Catholic edition of Pil-wirk. Progress has also been trained in the Knights of Columbus grim's Progress has also been put into circulation, and the Knights of Columbus have established in Rome and other Italian cities institutions very similar to the Y.M.C.A. Sometimes one sees in Roman Catholic publications in Italy the work of Protestants, especially our missionary operations, held up to Catholics as worthy of imitation!

ANNUAL REPORT

By E. N. Walne and Miss Florence Walne

I. INTRODUCTION. THE WHOLE FIELD

The Japan Advertiser (the best-known secular daily published in the Far East) on May 15, 1929, had an editorial, "Has Christianity Failed in Japan?" Noting the comparatively small number of church members, the writer asserts: "The truth is that the question is essentially moral and only incidentally numerical. . . . The influence of Christian teaching in Japan cannot be measured but no one can live in the country without becoming conscious of it. It is doing more than anything else to raise the status of women from an Oriental to a modern level. It has put new life into the religious consciousness of the nation, and has taught the Japanese people the dignity of service for the weak. Innumerable Japanese who never embraced the Christian faith have absorbed its influence. The Japanese Christians are the salt of the nation. . . The Japanese have quickly learnt the lessons of the West's material power; it is all the more necessary that they should become acquainted with the moral sources from which everything worth having in Western civilization springs.

"Their (the missionaries) great feat has not been the conversion of a certain number of Japanese but the foundation of a vigorous native church. . . . It is the test of Christianity that it can adapt itself to all civilizations and inprove all, and the future lies with the native church in Japan. That church is the child of the West's half-century of missionary effort—and who measures a child's worth by his size?"

"Verily the wind bloweth where it listeth and thou canst not tell whence it cometh or whither it goeth." Yea, verily, and, to change the figure, who has ever charted the progress of the leaven as it works in the dough, or who has observed the hidden processes in the growth of a seed? Christianity is at work in Japan. Bishop Baker, newly appointed Methodist bishop to the diocese of Japan and Korea, after several months of thoughtful survey is quoted as saying, "My sober and considered judgment is that nowhere in all the world is there a more important and far-reaching work than the Christian enterprise in Japan."

The unprecedentedly large gathering of Japanese Christians who filled the new public auditorium (seating capacity, 4,000) in Tokyo on the evening of the sixth of November, testified, both in numbers and in spirit, to the efficacy of seventy years of Protestant evangelism, the glad anniversary of whose birth they were bidden to celebrate.

IN MEMORIAM

John Hansford Rowe

Died of pneumonia, in Ni no Oka, Gotemba, August 12, 1929 (After twenty-three years of consecrated labor in this mission field)

The burdens he laid down at his death, his own immediate responsibilities: Principalship of a growing school; charge of a great evangelistic field, great in area, in population, in difficulties, in promise; chairmanship of the Mission; and all of the innumerable tasks and duties that devolve upon able and faithful members of undermanned mission bodies! Small wonder that he should have selected as his text for the opening devotional meeting of the conference, the words of One who better than anyone else understood the limitations of our strength—"Come ye apart and rest a while." Small wonder that a fellow-missionary and seminary classmate should call to mind the athlete he was in the early years, the great strong body to be too soon used up in unstinted service. Small wonder that a Japanese colleague should have referred to him as one who had gone to a "martyr's death," adding that he had "walked to that death by a path more difficult than many that were more spectacular."

So quiet was his going, so unheralded was the final journey from that summer retreat in the mountains to a grave in a hillside cemetery in Yokohama, that only a few people, comparatively speaking, marked his passing. But for those of us to whom it was given to know the measure of his soul, it is not difficult to imagine the splendor of the reception accorded him by the Great King!

In the lives of Virginia, Harper, Melvin, John and Mary Elizabeth, his five children; in the lives of hundreds of Japanese girls who will go out from the school which (God grant!) will always bear the impress of his character; in churches from whose pulpits, on innumerable occasions, his voice rang out in glad proclamation of the saving gospel; in these, and in other ways, so many ways, will he live and speak through the years.

But we miss him in our small Mission family! Our throats are choked and our eyes are blind with tears as we recall the sweetness of his smile, the warmth of his hand-clasp, the brotherliness he always radiated! We lay upon the hearts of our friends in America the burden of our loneliness and our need. We dare you to forget, if you can, the three words last heard from the lips of John Rowe—they were these, "The Evangelistic Work."

Doubtless he would say, as do the dead in another cause,

"To you from falling hands we throw the torch, Be yours to hold it high—" and hold it high we must for none of us dare

"Break with those who die!"

KOKURA

It was in Kokura that forty years ago the Brunsons and McCollums located, to be joined a year later by the Walnes. It was into this field that the Maynards, the Willinghams and the Rowes put the best years of their lives, with results which now gladden the heart of the sympathetic observer.

Beginning with a little wayside chapel in Kokura, with one entire side open to the street, there are now six churches, three of which support their own pastors. Connected with two of the churches are flourishing kindergartens.

When we began work on this field Kokura was but little more than a village, located in the midst of an agricultural district. It is now the center of one of Japan's most flourishing industrial communities. Around it have grown up great cities which have spread until their borders have joined, making a densely populated community extending for a distance of twenty or more miles along the coast of the Sea of Japan.

Located in the middle of this field and drawing its patronage from all parts of it is our flourishing Girls' School, with a matriculation of 400 and sending out every year in its graduating classes from 30 to 40 Christian girls. During the past year 54 of the students of this school were received by baptism into Baptist churches and 13 united with churches of other denominations, making a total for the year of 67 converts. Twenty-one of the 23 faculty members are earnest Christians.

The home-going of Brother Rowe, referred to elsewhere in this report, not only deprived this school of its head, but also the North Kyushiu field of its resident missionary-in-charge. At the request of the board of trustees, Mrs. Rowe bravely undertook to serve the school as principal, but the depleted personnel of the Mission made it necessary to intrust the oversight of the evangelistic work of the field to a member of the Mission who was already overburdened with duties in connection with another department of the work.

Among the workers on this field is Pastor Sugano. He is the only one still living of the faithful few who were with us from the beginning. About two years ago he was bedridden for months, as the result of a stroke of apoplexy. He began preaching again as soon as he could stand, propped in a corner of the room. Shuichi Ozaki will locate as an evangelist on this field, after graduating from the college and theological departments of our Boys' School at Fukuoka. He is the oldest son of Pastor Ozaki, of Nagasaki, and is the first of the sons of our pastors to enter the ministry.

The unique opportunities for evangelistic work offered by this field, especially along social lines, appealed so strongly to Miss Naomi Schell that she sought and obtained the approval of the Mission to make a beginning in a small way last September. With no equipment save the small native house in which she and her helper are living, she has undertaken a task which, in view of the limited means at her command, might well appall the stoutest heart.

TOKYO

By W. H. Clarke

In Tokyo we have maintained two churches, Koishikawa and Sugamo, and one preaching station, Nishigahara, where regular services have been held and 12 souls have been born into the kingdom. In our impatience for large increase, the results seem small, but it is ours to plant and water, and God's to give the increase.

Pastor Tomita has led the Sugamo church in faithful and harmonious service during the year, and the young people have done very earnest work in the Sunday school. Several have been baptized and others are seeking the way and asking for baptism. Our great need is better equipment, and we are praying and working for a chapel, parsonage and kindergarten to accommodate this important work located in a very strategic section of the city.

The Koishikawa church has been without a pastor for the latter half of the year, since the former pastor, Amano, went to Brazil, and Dr. Chiba and the missionary in charge have been doing the preaching, aided by some of the faithful members. The church has continued its independent support, and some of the members have been faithful under difficult circumstances. Several have been baptized at different times, and the work of the Sunday school has grown in interest. We are hoping soon to secure a pastor and enlarge the work next year.

The Christmas celebrations at each of the churches were all exceptionally good this year. The large attendance, interesting exercises and permanent increase in the first Sundays of the New Year show that the children are really becoming interested in Sunday school work, and the former opposition of parents is gradually declining.

Mrs. Clarke reports that the regular W.M.S. and mothers' meetings have kept up their usual attendance, besides meetings for young women. The two kindergartens at Koishikawa and Sugamo have done good work, not only in leading little children to know about Jesus, but also in bringing mothers to Christian services, and in helping to shed the light of the gospel in this part of the city.

The work of rebuilding the city since the great earthquake and fire has lasted seven years, and will be finished in the spring of 1930 with a great celebration. The projected extension of the city will make Tokyo the third largest city in the world, with a population of over four millions. This is more than the entire population of Georgia, and Southern Baptists are represented by only one missionary family and two small churches. We plead for more help and better equipment, that God may have a fairer representation in this metropolis from our great denomination.

If, seven years ago, the destitute condition of this city, from fire and earthquake, called forth millions of dollars from sympathetic people in America, how much more should the spiritual destitution of the people in pagan darkness call forth the support of God's people in giving them the gospel of light and salvation.

HIROSHIMA—KURE By J. F. Ray

Our Baptist work in Hiroshima is now ten years old. It began in rented quarters used as the residence of the missionary family. It was necessary to move to another house after two years. We have had to change meeting places five times during those years, because of not having a permanent lot and building.

It goes without saying that we have sustained losses with each move, for we cannot transfer all those who attend our Sunday school and church services in any given locality when we move to another community with our work. Our present quarters are too small and we are obliged to move again. We sincerely hope that our new place will prove to be a permanent church home, only a few blocks from the Mission residence and in the same ward where our meetings have been held for the past few years.

This does not mean that we own the lot and house of worship, or home for the native pastor, but that we rent a lot with the promise that we may keep it if we raise the funds to pay for it during the next five years. Our building fund has grown during the past seven years, little by little, until we now have nearly fifteen hundred dollars in bank. Rents and building materials are expensive, but we must have a more suitable place for building up a permanent, self-supporting church, in this city of 270,000 pepulation.

Recently, we have found a house for sale at a great sacrifice which we have decided to buy and rebuild on the rented lot, thus securing a home for our work and fellow-workers where we hope to build a permanent church house in the future and stop paying out house rent as soon as possible. If it had not been for the big debt at home, our Board might have made it possible this year for us to own a lot and meeting house from the funds realized by selling a lot on another field. The sum we asked for had to be applied on that debt and we are having to wait for more favorable conditions.

Twelve new members were added to our list, besides several "guest or visitor members" from other cities attending school here. Every year student members come and go, making our church their religious home while in school. Ten were baptized and two others are waiting, while two were received by letter. The contributions averaged about fifty yen per month toward self-support and an increase over the past year was registered for other benevolences. The Sunday school has necessarily been small because we have not had room to allow for many. A spirit of harmony and a growth in grace has characterized the year's work.

Much of our own time during the spring and autumn months was spent in giving the gospel to the people by distributing 25,000 tracts and selling 7,500 books, including Bibles, New Testaments, hymn books and other good literature, especially the large edition of "New Life through God" by Kagawa, which sold at ten sen per copy. One volunteer colporter sold over 1,000 books from house to house in Hiroshima and then went to Kure and began there. This work is still going on and bearing fruit. Street preaching and personal work grow out of the public and private contacts made in selling Christian books.

The Kure Kindergarten has been full and the teachers seem to have won the little children to a loyalty which is hopeful for the future. They learn more readily about Jesus and the heavenly Father at this age than they do when older.

Much of our time as missionaries has been given to the effort of training leaders in the past to become winners of new converts and to the establishment of an active church membership, developed in giving and in a knowledge of the scriptures. Today we have even a harder task because so much false teaching has fallen into the hands of our would-be leaders. How we need to pray for wisdom from God to become at all sufficient for the task before us. May "Thy kingdom come" be our constant prayer.

SHIMONOSEKI

This field presents a problem which always arises when it becomes necessary for the same personnel to become responsible for two entirely separate departments of the work. It is like trying to serve two masters who, though working toward the same ends, are constantly making demands that are hard to reconcile. This is especially true should both departments become prosperous, as they have in Shimonoseki during the past year. The evangelistic work has shown marked growth, especially in the number of meetings held and in the number of visitors received in the home. The increase in attendance upon Bible classes and young people's meetings is filling our church, our home, and our hearts to capacity every week, and our desperate need is for more time in which to try to be "all things" to the many who come seeking our help!

The Shimonoseki church is rejoicing over the assurance which came with the close of the year, that the realization of its long cherished hope for a new church home was at hand. The church had been working on a building fund for twelve years, but it was still far from the goal when the city authorities announced a street-widening project which would appropriate most of the land upon which the present dilapidated building stands. The imperative need has been provided for, partly by the women of North Carolina who generously contributed for the new church building the $2,114.66 raised for the Heck Memorial in 1929, and partly by a grant from the Board. The effort which the church has made to help itself is indicated by the fact that for the past two years the average per capita contribution of the resident membership has been above $40.00 per member. With an adequate church home as the center of the work, the possibilities for widespread evangelism in this city of 100,000 people, and in the outlying towns and villages will be increased a thousandfold. The first direct result will be, we have faith to predict, a self-supporting church family.

PUBLICATION WORK

Our Publication House is located in Shimonoseki and most of its staff is also connected with the evangelistic work of the station. Statistics do not often afford interesting reading, but there should be a thrill in the literature statistics appended to this report of the Foreign Mission Board. These statistics reveal the fact that, in the amount of its output, our Japan publication work has risen from the last to the first place among the agencies supported by the Board.

During the year 1,750,000 tracts and 250,000 books were published, making a total of 66,576,000 pages. This means double the number of tracts, three times the number of books and within less than five million of the total number of pages published in 1928 by the Board's agencies in the five countries in which it is doing this kind of work. This enormous increase in circulation was made possible by the co-operation of Japan's well-known Christian writer and evangelist, Toyohiko Kagawa, who wrote for us a book and a series of evangelistic tracts with an appeal strong enough to enlist the interest of most of the Christian community of the country.

FUKUOKA

By G. W. Bouldin

Our work in Fukuoka is all evangelistic as we believe, and in some sense is all educational, and we hope it is all philanthropic, but for convenience I will follow the conventional style and report it briefly under the two heads, Evangelistic and Educational.

I. Churches, Chapels, Sunday Schools

The mother church has put out to sea depending on its own resources. That is, it is paying all its expenses. Pastor Shimose has been pastor for nineteen years, his two oldest children died here and his present three daughters were all born here. There are no rich people in this church and none high and mighty, and it has given many of its best members to establish the Seinan Gakuin Church, so it has really grown two churches and not just one.

The Seinan Gakuin Church made progress, too. It has been too easy for it to get a pastor from among the seminary teachers, and for that reason it has not had to try its strength along financial lines. But it made progress. It called a regular pastor who began work in May and was ordained in June. It built a comfortable home for its pastor on the fine corner lot opposite the entrance to our college. Of course, the splendid gift from the late Mr. Seki went far toward making this site and residence possible. The church is slowly raising money for a church house. The B.Y.P.U. in this church has done good work and out of it will now come at least two or three promising candidates for the ministry.

When Miss Florence Conrad was here she bought a piece of land and built a little chapel at Fujisaki, west of our school. This work continues steadily and offers a good field of work for several of our students and graduates and university students.

Our newest center in Fukuoka City (a city of over 200,000 people now) where regular work is carried on is in Yoshizuka near the great statues and near the Imperial University with its 2,500 students. Mr. Nakamichi, a graduate of our seminary last year, is in charge of this work and it starts off in an encouraging way. The night we opened the work there about 300 children attended.

II. Kindergarten and School

Maizuru Kindergarten has also become two. Mrs. Furuzawa, a former teacher of our kindergarten, now has her own and is making a success of it as a self-supporting, indigenous Christian enterprise. She has our good will, but it does raise a question as to whether we ought not move ours into a more needy district where the people are not able to help themselves. But our kindergarten has done good work and there is a splendid group of intelligent mothers who work together faithfully and loyally to help the kindergarten do its work and get what it needs. It is an evangelistic center, too, with seed-sowing going on all the time in many directions.

Seinan Gakuin (school for boys) will be fourteen years old in April. It was such a vigorous seed and fell into such fruitful soil that it has kept all hands busy to keep up with its growth.

But if it needed some chilling winds to help it take better root, those winds have come, especially in the hard times that have been coming on Japan for some years. The attendance has fallen off in our Middle School because many parents had to put their boys to work as soon as they got through the primary school. So our maximum attendance this past year has been only about 700, somewhat less than the year before. This would seem to be enough, but we had teachers for the larger number, and the falling off in income makes it impossible to keep all the teachers without reducing salaries.

The whole school has employed 54 Japanese teachers, including part-time teachers. And there have been four American teachers the whole year. Mr. and Mrs. Dozier went on furlough in July, but Miss Baker returned from furlough and Miss Elizabeth Watkins came from America, and these two have added much to the teaching force as well as to the religious life of the school. Still, missionary teachers are teaching just under one hour in twelve of the total hours taught in the regular courses of the school. It would seem that we ought to have more of our young people from home in this strategic work, especially so since the time has come when a good Japanese teacher has to be paid a higher salary than a missionary, and not many of them are as zealous in Christian work as a missionary teacher.

There are abundant signs that Seinan Gakuin is taking root in local soil. To mention only two or three examples: We have a new gymnasium with 4,500 square feet of floor space, just finished and newly painted, which did not cost the Board anything. It was the gift of parents of our boys and local friends. Also we have under way a movement to add about 3,500 square yards to our athletic grounds, the money for which is being raised locally. We confidently expect that the sum of money now in the bank and steadily growing will by the end of March be sufficient to enable us to register a good part of the amount spoken for. The hard times make this an uphill task, but in spite of the hard times some progress is being made.

We expect to send out about 149 graduates on March 11; from the Middle School, 93; from the College, 53; and from the Seminary, 3. We are finding our graduates already in every corner of Japan and in almost every walk of life, and usually doing well. And they have a fine spirit of loyalty toward their Alma Mater.

Our groups in Fukuoka received 40 by baptism in 1929, and no doubt many of our school boys joined other churches.

NAGASAKI By E. O. Mills

In this field we now have three churches, two out-stations, six Sunday schools; twenty-two baptisms.

Nagasaki Church, Pastor Ozaki, has steadily developed a stable membership. Of the thirty-five resident members, thirty are contributing regularly and all pledges were paid up. Consequently finances are in good condition, the church paying nearly half the pastor's salary. Much good work has been done during the year. Though only two baptisms are reported fine progress has been made.

Hirado, Pastor Shibata, is a small town on an island and the church is continually losing by removals. But the offerings for the fifteen resident members averages thirty-four yen each, which is splendid. Three baptisms. Some good special meetings were held. The missionary can visit the place only two or three times during the year; distance and funds prevent more frequent trips.

Goto Islands, Evangelist Fujimoto, are fifty-five miles from Nagasaki. Shore steamers make regular trips but the missionary can make only infrequent visits. The evangelist and family were quarantined several weeks during the year and opposition was rather severe in one place. We are glad to report seven baptisms. At Tomiye the membership is fairly stable, and a fine nucleus at Fukue.

Sasebo, Pastor M. Fujimoto, Sasebo has had ten baptisms, but removals have also cut down the number of members. The young people promise much for the future, and the outlook is good for the coming year.

Mrs. Mills reports four organized W.M.U.'s on the Nagasaki field, which hold regular monthly meetings. With these there are two young women's organizations. Two Children's Garden Clubs meet weekly on the compound of the Mission residence. In these clubs we have two periods of supervised play, one for Bible lessons and one for music, Sunday school songs. In spite of the fact that we are almost next door to Buddhist temples, our numbers have kept at about 100 during the past seven years. This year the Sasebo young women are conducting a special class in Bible and American cooking, with the help of Mrs. Mills, for those who have not yet heard the gospel.

KUMAMOTO-KAGOSHIMA

This field has been without a resident missionary since 1928, when the Williamsons were compelled by the urgent need of the theological school to move to Fukuoka. A heavy schedule of teaching does not leave much time for the travel, etc., required for the supervision of a field as large as this. Brother Williamson has had his hands full. The Japanese pastors are doing faithful work and the results, especially in Kumamoto, are indicative of progress.

W.M.U. OF JAPAN

This report would not be complete without a reference to the progress and welfare of the work of our fine W.M.S. and Y.W.A. (A full account will appear in the W.M.U. reports.) Mrs. Bouldin, who as vice-president has had the chief responsibility of working with the well-organized group of Japanese executives, tells of the "splendid, deeply spiritual meeting of the annual convention in October. With the exception of $20.00 the women were able to finance the meeting themselves. More than this, they added $110.37—their thank-offering—to their scholarship fund. They support a boy and girl in school. As their tenth anniversary work they pledged their help to Miss Schell, who is opening a new evangelistic center in North Kyushu, at Tobata. As the second phase of their anniversary work, they pledged themselves to a "win-one" campaign. We ask your prayers for these Baptist women of Japan.

The Y.W. organization is taking shape splendidly under the able leadership of Misses Schell and Nakanishi. The annual summer conference, each year, surpasses the one of the previous year in attendance and in spiritual enrichment. Our young women are getting a vision of service which bids fair to make the Y.W.A. one of the chief agents for vitalizing our churches.

JUGOSLAVIA

REV. VINCENT VACEK, GENERAL MISSIONARY

By Everett Gill

In spite of the winter of the first part of 1929 being the worst known in seventy years, the work of the Lord kept alive and warm. During the year there were baptisms in nearly all parts of the country. New fields are opening up constantly and the general missionary is invited to more places than he can go to.

In the month of May, the first B.Y.P.U. Convention was held at Macrovac. The railway authorities gave a 50 per cent reduction and furnished a special coach for the Baptist delegates. This enabled a larger delegation to attend, though no help was given from mission funds for travel expenses. This meeting was marked by great rejoicings. The incoming delegates were met at the station by a brass band and escorted through the streets and out along the country road to the place of meeting. Such occasions are always made use of by the Baptists for tract distribution, singing of gospel hymns and testimony. At Zagreb, the policeman seeing a Baptist distributing a tract that said something about blood, arrested the offender, thinking him to be a Bolshevist and revolutionist. When the general missionary intervened and explained that it was a gospel tract about the blood of Christ, the volunteer missionary was dismissed, while Brother Vacek seized the opportunity for speaking of the salvation in Christ.

During the year, the third Croatian Baptist chapel was erected at great sacrifice on the part of the local Baptists and with but small help from without. The Slovak group, also, added two chapels to their numbers, besides issuing a new hymn book. These are small matters to us at home, but matters of major interest to these brethren who love their "prayer-houses" and hymn books with a peculiar love.

Forty thousand tracts were printed and largely distributed during the year, besides Bibles and New Testaments. Their paper, "The Voice of the Gospel," continues its really splendid service in extending the work among the people.

The Jugoslav Baptists, through their general missionary, send their thanks to the Southern Baptists for their interest and help in giving the gospel to their land. When we began work there in 1922 there were all together about 600 Baptists in the country. By the blessing of the Lord they number now 1,148. These are the days of small things in this land with a big future.

ANNUAL REPORT

By D. H. LeSueur

The country has been in a state of excitement and struggle practically all the year. Religious fanatics in the southern and central portions of the republic, and political tricksters and "would-be revolutionists" in the north and west, have kept the people generally in a state of turmoil and commotion, and have greatly hindered the government in its efforts to care for the welfare of the people. These conditions have also interfered with our Mission work considerably. But in spite of all the difficulties a fair measure of success has been ours, and we can truthfully say "hitherto hath the Lord helped us." The Printery reports a good year's work accomplished, all of our schools report a considerable increase in attendance, and our fields and churches a fairly good number of conversions and baptisms.

The National Baptist Convention, which is constituted of messengers from all the Baptist churches in the republic, met at Saltillo on Missionary Marrs' field, and as he was present, the writer will let him tell of the Convention and its work as he saw it: "The sessions were well attended. Good reports were received from the churches and from the Indian work, which is carried on entirely by the churches, with the Board of the Convention outlining and directbeing the work. Several Indian tribes in the southern portion of the republic are being reached with the gospel message. Three or four chapels have been constructed by the contributions of the churches, augmented by many individual gifts. The Convention also maintains its own periodical, La Luz (The Light). While for the present this is issued only as a monthly, it is hoped by another year to make it at least a semi-monthly, possibly a weekly." Brother M. also touches on a rather serious problem for which he also offers a solution, in all of which the writer fully concurs: "We are sure that our pressing need on this field is more or less that of all other mission fields-more work and workers. Were the laws of the country a little less restrictive as to the kind of work a foreigner might do we would urge that other missionaries be sent out to help evangelize this wonderful Aztec land." This writer also ventures to express the hope that ere long our Board may find itself in financial condition to send out a few at least of the numerous volunteers who are offering themselves and pleading to be sent, that they may help some in the work where they are needed, and at the same time be learning and preparing themselves to take up the work when the "Veteran Class," as Brother Marrs calls them, shall be compelled to lay their burdens down.

All of our missionaries, practically, make earnest and pathetic appeals to our people whom we are trying to worthily represent on the foreign field to come up in a worthy way to the help of our Board; that the Board in turn may be enabled to make increased appropriations for our work, to the end that more and better work may be done in the name of our great and gracious Lord. Shall their appeals go unanswered?

Here follow the detailed reports, in some cases somewhat abridged.

MEXICAN BAPTIST PUBLISHING HOUSE By J. E. Davis

Periodicals. We have kept our Sunday school publications (seven in number), our B.Y.P.U. quarterly and our denominational magazine (El Atalaya Bautista) going without interruption during the year. We have published a total of 608,350 copies of these quarterlies, leaflets and magazines, a total of about ten million pages. This literature circulates in practically all Spanish-speaking countries. Our Expositor Biblico, Senior and Adult quarterly for the Sunday school, completed its XXXVIII volume. It was founded by Dr. David A. Wilson, at that time a missionary of our Board in Mexico.

Books. We have not been able to publish as many books as we did the year before, yet we have issued the following: "Judson, the Pioneer"; "Testimony of a Catholic Lady"; "John Bunyan"; "Heroines of Our Faith"; "Thirty Years among the Cannibals"; and a second edition of "The Pastor." The Biography of John Bunyan was written by Rev. A. S. Rodriguez, of Cuba, as was also "Heroines of Our Faith," which is a collection of about thirty biographical sketches of notable Baptist women of different epochs of our history. We have a number of other books about ready for the press.

Teacher Training. During the time we have been fostering in Latin America this training course of our Sunday School Board of Nashville, we have issued to date 684 King's Teachers Diplomas, 73 Red Seals and 44 Blue Seals. We now have Blue Seal teachers in Mexico, Argentine, Chile, Cuba and United States. There is renewed interest manifested in this study and we hope for even greater results in this department of our work. Our course of study is practically identical with that of the Sunday School Board and is approved by it.

Free Literature. We have sent out many tracts and papers free, especially to Porto Rico. Our churches there were badly crippled in their work by the cyclone and were unable to purchase literature for the Sunday schools. We supplied all that asked for it, without denominational distinction, during the year. Also we sent to the pastors who had lost their libraries books of more than $250 value.

THE MEXICAN BAPTIST THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY By Missionary Chester W. Branch

On account of the Mexican law which refuses recognition to a preparatory school that is run in connection with a seminary it was necessary to separate the schools. So the seminary was moved to Monterrey. Here we have a fine brick building with plenty of porches. Monterrey is a fine place for the seminary because there is such a large field for work in which the Seminary students can take part.

We have a student body of fourteen, six being married and have their families with them. There are three in the graduating class, one from the fields of the Southern Board and two from those of the Northern Board. The Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention and the Home Mission Board of the Northern Baptist Convention co-operate in the seminary. Of the fourteen students, five belong to the Northern Board and nine to the Southern.

The seminary has five teachers—two from the Northern Board—President Alejandro Treviño and Professor Arthur T. Derry; two from the Southern Board—C. L. Neal and Chester W. Branch—and one supported by the two Boards in conjunction, Prof. Alfredo Lerin. It may appear that we are over supplied with teachers according to the number of students, but we have a three-year course and there are students for every class—so we all have plenty of work to do.

Besides the two Mission Boards that co-operate, the Mexican Baptist Convention assists with about $500.00 a year. The seminary is under the control of a board of trustees, two from the Northern Board, two from the Southern Board and two from the Mexican Baptist Convention.

The seminary has always had a course in Evangelism, but this year it has been made the Department of Evangelism with Brother C. L. Neal as director. Besides giving a two-year course, one in General Evangelism and one on Personal Evangelism, he is also to organize extension work, conducting Schools of Evangelism in churches, associations, etc., thus carrying the benefits of the seminary to all parts of Mexico.

As a part of the work of the Department of Evangelism the student body is organized into groups of two that they may go out every Sunday and visit the villages and ranches near by and do personal work. Some of the reports are very encouraging. Much interest is shown by people who have heard the gospel for the first time.

INSTITUTO CENTRAL By Missionary E. J. Gregory

The year 1929 was a good one in the life of school work here on the Western Coast. The enrollment was better than usual, reaching 148 in all departments, and with 11 finishing the sixth grade. This is the best class that the school has turned out since coming to Culiacan. The school naturally suffered some during the revolution as we were in rebel territory for one month, March. The other schools, especially the state schools, were forced to close during this time, but we missed only three afternoons. The attendance was reduced somewhat, but there was no disturbance of serious nature.

Our boarding department had its best year in numbers and character of pupils. Through the religious activities in the dormitories we have been able to reach some of our own boys and girls as well as some from Catholic families. One young girl of fifteen is now a candidate for baptism but will be forced to disobey her parents if she joins the church. She says that she has resolved to obey Christ first. Such experiences strengthen the faith of the missionaries.

At the beginning of the fall term in October we were forced to be away for several weeks. That, with the general financial distress of the people, has brought down our enrollment somewhat this year. Up to the present we have only 121 in all departments. Our work, however, is better organized and our teachers, who are the same as the year before, all Christians, are well prepared to help in our work. Our Bible work is better organized also and we hope to see some definite results this year. Among our boarding boys and girls there are three who are awaiting baptism.

THE SALTILLO SCHOOLS By G. H. Lacy, Missionary

The Preparatory School

This school is something more than a preparatory or high school. We have our high school course, and in addition work provided for two of the remaining three years of our National University Course. When we get the pupils and a little more money to employ the professors necessary for another year we will have a complete high school and university course according to the plan of education in Mexico.

At present we have magnificent and commodious buildings for our school near the city of Saltillo. In our literary work we are fully affiliated and incorporated in the best recognized system of instruction given in the republic.

We have regular daily Bible instruction in the school, and religious services in the chapel near the school. In this way our young men are getting a sane Christian education. Our evangelical young men take advantage of this opportunity. Since we cannot make the religious activities of the school compulsory, all of the students do not attend the services, but there is a constant appeal to them which will have its effect upon their lives.

Instituto Madero, Primary School for Instruction in the First Six Grades

This school is the continuation of the old historic Madero Institute of Saltillo.

While this school is principally for boys, yet quite a number of girls are in attendance. The school at present is almost self-supporting. Thus far this has been one of our best school years. The attendance has been good, and there has been no serious cases of discipline.

Our greatest need in connection with this school is money to reform our old antiquated building in which we have been doing good work for the last 45 years. If we could have the old building reformed we could easily double our attendance.

As always the greatest need for our work are a large number of real intercessors before the throne of grace for blessings, guidance and means to press forward as opportunities are presented.

COLEGIO ANAHUAC, CHIHUAHUA, NORMAL SCHOOL FOR GIRLS By Director D. H. LeSueur

In spite of "revolutions" and other difficulties we gratefully report a very good year's work. Our attendance in all departments has been considerably increased, although we increased somewhat the tuition. We have enrolled 274 in all departments, and we have a somewhat better grade of pupils than we have ever had. Our enrollment, in fact, has almost reached the capacity of our buildings, both in the day school and in the boarding department.

The government authorities still continue friendly. There are some persons who, if they had the power, would promptly put us "out of business." But, fortunately, that class is not in power. The new officials are all comparatively young and progressive, and they appreciate the efficient work that we are doing.

We now have twenty graduates from our Normal department. A few of these are employed in our own school: the rest have been taken up by the educational authorities of this and other states, and put to work in their schools on the same terms as their own Normal graduates. Of course, this is very gratifying to us; and as these, for the most part, are "making good," they are helping to advertise our institution, and give to it a good name and standing. Many parents, though Catholics or non-Christians themselves, who desire that their daughters shall be educated under the best and most ideal conditions morally, are sending them to us.

A constant effort is made to enlist all of our boarders in the service of the Master, and to prepare those already enlisted for more efficient service. Our daily Bible classes are faithfully kept up, though not in the school building. All attend regularly our religious services, such as Sunday school and B.Y.P.U., as well as the more formal preaching services. In these different ways we endeavor to keep before every unconverted student the question, "what shall I do with Jesus who is called Christ?" And before every one of those who has accepted Christ as Saviour the question, "how can I make my life count most for him who loved me and gave himself for me?" It has been very gratifying to see this year as in other years a goodly number take their position on the side of the loving Master, and consecrate themselves to his service. These take the message to their homes and people. They thus serve to break down prejudice of the ill-informed, and form a nucleus of a little group to hear and accept the message of a crucified Redeemer.

CHIHUAHUA-PACIFIC COAST FIELD By Missionary W. F. Hatchell

The early part of the year 1929 brought us another revolution in Mexico. Especially was the work hindered in the states included in this field. I am glad to report, however, that all our people were spared personal injury. But the country is suffering the natural effects of war. Poverty, while always prevalent in Mexico, is more pronounced, and among the very poor there is dire need.

Notwithstanding the turmoil and suffering of the people, it is gratifying to be able to report an increase in the membership of the churches by baptism over the previous year. Thus our work moves on in spite of the difficulties.

There are two district associations in the bounds of this field. One comprising the churches in the state of Chihuahua, and the other including the churches in the states of Sonora, Sinaloa and Nayarit. While the churches are separated by great distances, there is a strong bond of fellowship and cooperation which is helpful in developing the churches and extending the work in the bounds of the associations.

Not only has there been an increase in the membership of the churches, but the churches themselves are being developed in efficiency and self-reliance. Of course, this is one of the chief objectives of mission work. But before the membership of the churches can be developed we must have trained, consecrated pastors to lead the churches. Here is encouragement also. Some strong leaders are being developed in Mexico.

However, there are too few pastors to supply the needs. There are several churches on this field pastorless at the present time because these churches are not able to find pastors. While church houses are sorely needed, as well as money with which to open more schools, right now it seems to me that our greatest need is men—men called of God, prepared and consecrated men, to preach his Word. Then, there are constant calls into new and untouched territory, and we have to say, "We can do nothing for you, because there is no one to go."

COAHUILA-DURANGO-ZACATECAS FIELD By Missionary Frank Marrs

The writer finds himself preparing his twenty-eighth annual report from the Foreign field nearest to the United States.

Some Unusual Obstacles. First, we might mention the usual revolution that thrust itself almost unheralded on the government in the early part of the year. While not participated in to any great extent by our Baptist people, yet it all led to confusion, timidity in the work of propaganda, and disturbed that calm and repose that are needed for a people to do their best work along any line.

Second, after the revolution there was a prolonged drouth. Even while we write word is received of intense suffering in some portions of the drouth-stricken section—in the vast Laguna cotton district, for instance, from which just a few weeks ago several thousands of laborers were transported by the government to portions of Lower California where labor was needed, leaving, however, in the Laguna country where are located several of our churches, congregations greatly depleted and those remaining very much depressed.

Third, a spirit of indifference to religion seems to have followed the last years of religious struggle between the Catholics and the government. During the present period, or incumbency of the newly elected President, Senor Rubio Ortiz, it is hoped that many perplexing civil and religious questions may be amicably settled.

Some Causes for Rejoicing. First, we are happy to report 107 baptisms on this field during the year just closed, and scores and scores of others that have found the Saviour, but are not yet fully connected with a church. Our pastors and their people plan and carry on each spring—and many in the fall of the year—a simultaneous evangelistic campaign in which great spiritual blessings are received. The evangelistic work in many parts of our field, including the out-stations which are maintained throughout the year by the local pastors, is greatly augmented by the efforts of our young seminary students, who, fresh from their classes, throw much energy and animation into this very difficult work.

Second, during the year a nice chapel has been constructed at Rosita, a large mining, smelting and concentration camp of the Guginheim interests, located sixty miles south of Eagle Pass, Texas. This was brought about in the main through the instrumentality of a loan fund placed in the hands of our Foreign Board by Miss Sarah Hale, for many years a missionary to Mexico, now living in Monterrey, and through an inheritance has been enabled to extend material help to many phases of mission work. We have also aided a new congregation just recently organized at Villa Acuña (situated across the river from Del Rio, Texas), in arranging a nice large room, which will suffice for services for some time. We lament that our Board's financial condition will not permit extensive chapel building, as we were doing for some years up to three years ago when a great reduction along all lines had to be made by the Board. A recent ruling by the Mexican Supreme Court allows a private home to be used by its owner for certain kinds of religious meetings. We have the hope, however, that the needed chapels are going to be provided.

SOUTH MEXICAN FIELD

The year of 1929 was one of mixed results, hard fights, uphill, discouraging work, and yet steady progress. Baptisms were less than I had hoped, though not as few as I feared for a while. Progress in self-support was less than I had hoped, though some progress was made, and that in a time of financial stress as has been the last couple of years. Some progress was made in teacher training, the number of blue seal holders doubling in this field during the year. Daily Vacation Bible schools were held in several places, and practically all the pastors have learned the main ideas of this work. We hope for a larger number of these schools this next vacation.

This last year the missionary offered several prizes to pastors whose fields had the largest number of diplomas and awards on Baptist study courses in a three months' campaign, and other prizes to the individuals who took the largest number of courses. Considerable study was done, though not quite as much as had been hoped. It is planned to hold another similar campaign this year.

At the Asociacion de Michoacan y Guanajuato Mrs. Susan J. Arevalo was asked to take the task of fomenting W. M. U. and D. V. B. S. work, and is doing it.

During the year there were two new churches organized, one in Villa Jimenez, Mich., a mission of Panindicuaro, and in February, one at La Union, Gro., where Miss Hale's donation has been supporting the work for some time. This latter seems an especially virile church. Another church was organized also at the beginning of 1930, at Zacapu, where the work was started as a mission of this field and then turned over to the National Convention, and is not, therefore, counted as a church of this field. There are now four churches in this territory which are attended by the National Convention workers. Three of these were started originally as work of our Southern Baptist workers.

At Nocupetero, where a church existed years ago, and where many of the members still live, the old church came to life, meeting occasionally, and one person was baptized last year when Brother Arevalo passed on an evangelistic trip to Huetamo. Since then Brother Gregorio Ramirez has gone there to live, and as he is an ordained minister I helped him get started. He works and does preaching week ends to the church.

We hope to see a revival of training and also evangelism this next year.

ROUMANIA

MISSIONARIES

Rev. and Mrs. D. T. Hurley, Bucharest; Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Craighead, Bessarabia.

ANNUAL REPORT

By Everett Gill

The past year has been marked by several matters of interest and importance for our Roumanian Baptist denomination. Rev. and Mrs. D. T. Hurley early in the year returned to the homeland for their first furlough. The writer and Mrs. Gill made Bucharest their headquarters for the year, and in addition to other duties, assisted the faculties of the two schools, and acted as treasurer of the Mission during Brother Hurley's absence.

Much progress was made toward the completion of the James Memorial Building, though the end is not yet. However, enough was done to enable us to open the training school for young women for a short session, with a limited number, in the last half of the school term.

The event of major importance for our work among our Baptist girls and women, was the coming of Miss Earl Hester to be directress of the James Memorial Training School. She gave up her position as head of the Young People's department of the W.M.U. of Oklahoma, and comes to a work that has in it the greatest possibilities for good for our Roumanian Baptist women and girls, of whom there are approximately 20,000. And, though the training school building has a capacity of only fifty students, we hope that by a careful selection of young women we may be able to touch and train the leaders of the rising generation. During the year, the women of the four language groups organized a Woman's Missionary Union which we hope marks a new era for our Roumanian Baptist women.

God has continued his showers of blessings on our Roumanian work. The revival, in spite of persecutions, has lasted now for ten years. We were fearing that 1929 would mark a decrease and a slowing-down in the Baptist advance. But, to our great joy, we can report the greatest number of baptisms of all the years. There were 4,925 baptisms in Roumania during 1929! What hath God wrought! When we came into relations with the Roumanian Baptists a decade ago, they numbered approximately 15,000 and in this short period they have grown to a denomination of 43,763! Thus God has been pleased to set his mark of approval upon this evangelical movement that may have historic significance in the years to come. For, if any section of Europe and the world needs the gospel of the Prince of Peace, it is in Eastern Europe where international complications arise.

Persecution has largely ceased, though there are local infractions of the new law granting recognition and liberty to Baptists. For example, the writer and Mrs. Gill, in company with several leaders of the Roumanian Union, last summer in Bucovina, were mobbed just as we arrived on the bank of a beautiful stream for a baptismal service. The situation was very tense for a considerable time, and any resistance would have undoubtedly led to bloodshed. For, doubtless by the collusion of the authorities, there were no police near or in sight for the protection of the citizens at a peaceful public meeting. But we moved slowly away and returned to the chapel where we had a service. Later, all the candidates were baptized under more peaceful circumstances. There was, also, another and similar case in Transylvania of an outdoor baptismal service being attacked by a mob, this time there being bloodshed. The former case resulted in law suits that brought to the knowledge of the people and the Roumanian legal fraternity the new legal status of Baptists.

The greatest advance among Roumanian Baptists continues to be among the Russian-speaking (largely) Bessarabians. This Baptist group began at the close of the war with only a hundred or two, and now numbers about 7,000. Last year alone there were 1,555 baptisms, with hundreds on the waiting list, for these are John-the-Baptist Baptists, they require "fruits for repentance" before baptism. The fact is that the Bessarabian Baptist movement is growing so rapidly that there is constant danger of disaster for lack of trained leaders. We are doing our best to meet this need in the Bucharest Seminary; and plans are being made for the holding of training institutes for pastors and local workers in the larger centers. Just across the river Dniester is Soviet Russia where our Baptist brethren are suffering the horrors of one of the worst persecutions of all history, and we can do nothing. There is no communication between the two countries, and yet Kishineff, the capital of Bessarabia, is only a few hours by rail from Odessa, southern Russia.

We are hoping and praying that the faculty of our Bucharest Seminary may be enlarged and strengthened and an enlarged program for institute work among the Roumanian-speaking groups may be carried out. The work already done in the last ten years along this line has been nothing less than remarkable.

Southern Baptists must push the battle here in Roumania where the Lord is giving us the greatest victories. We are looking forward to another year of triumph.

SPAIN

MISSIONARIES

BARCELONA—Rev. and Mrs. V. L. David, Theological School. Rev. and Mrs. Nils J. Bengtson, Publishing Work. Don Ambrosio Celma, Secretary Executive Committee and of Evangelism. Don Julio Nogal, President.

ANNUAL REPORT

By Everett Gill

In spite of the fact that there was appreciable progress in our Spanish Mission, taken as a whole, the statistics indicate a falling off in membership. Where the diminution was actual, it was due to the fact that several churches are pastorless and are gradually disintegrating. In other cases, the decrease was due to overhauling of the church registers.

One event of notable importance was the dedication of another chapel built largely by the Spanish brethren. It is located in Carlet, province of Valencia, and the occasion was celebrated with great rejoicings. This evidence of the increase of the spirit of self-support is very encouraging and bodes well for the future of our work in Spain.

Another very important event in the life of our Spanish brethren was the organization of the Spanish Baptist Convention at Barcelona. Though Spain is a large country and the distances great, the Spanish Baptists expect to hold their annual gatherings without help from the outside for traveling expenses.

But, of even greater importance, was that during the sessions of the Convention they decided to raise funds for the maintenance of their own worker. Later, the Committee on Evangelism decided to increase the number to two workers to be supported by the Convention. This is really a great step forward, and we confidently expect it to have a most wholesome effect on the work in general. The Spanish brethren are beginning to realize that no land has ever been evangelized by foreigners. Missionaries can only begin the work; the nationals must carry it on to a conclusion.

General Secretary Don Ambrosio reports, also, an increase in the contributions of the churches. The organized work among the women, though still a modest one, proceeds encouragingly and gives great hopes for the future.

During the year it was decided to suspend the theological school in Barcelona, the director, Don Leroy David, dedicating himself to the more general work of education by means of institutes and inspirational meetings. His present headquarters are at Valencia, the center of what were the operations of the largest Baptist church in Spain.

The publication work, under the direction of Don Nicholas Bengtson, has shown a greater activity than formerly. The church paper has maintained its high standard; various tracts have been issued; but the crowning work of the year was the publication of Dr. W. J. McGlothlin's "History of Christianity." This achievement places the Spanish Baptists in the ranks of serious publishers and will add dignity to our work.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA

of the

HOME MISSION BOARD

to the

SOUTHERN BAPTIST CONVENTION

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

1930

The work of the Home Mission Board for the past Conventional year has been very difficult and trying. To begin with, the members of the Board, with only one exception, were new to their task. They faced, without the special experience and knowledge that come with years of service, the Herculean task of working out the complicated affairs of a board that was not only tremendously involved, but also handicapped by decreasing receipts. Last year at the convention your Board was able to report hundreds of thousands of dollars received for debt from special offerings, but this year with the debt pressing as heavily as ever, nothing has been received from special offerings for the debt. Without this special help your Board has been greatly handicapped in trying to carry on its mission work. Some at the last convention might have thought that when the debts were adjusted with the banks that the problems of the Board were solved, but not so, that was only the beginning of the solution of the problems. The debts had to be paid. The Board had to work itself out of a very complex and difficult situation arising because of the defalcation of its treasurer. Its mission work had to be readjusted so as to come within its income after two-fifths of its receipts were allocated to the debt. This has been a very delicate and difficult task. Your Board comes now to bring you a report of its stewardship. It craves the sympathetic consideration of the Convention and the united prayers of the Denomination.

I. THE YEAR'S WORK

Your Board faced three major tasks: (1) The election of a secretary-treasurer; (2) the reduction of its budget for mission work so as to come within its receipts; (3) the handling of its debt.

1. The Election of a Secretary-Treasurer

No task received such earnest, prayerful thought as did the election of an executive secretary. It was not simply a question of finding a man, but it was the problem of finding the man for the position. For two days the members of the board sought to know the will of God. On the last night of the last day of the meeting, after a long season of prayer, the vote was taken and J. B. Lawrence, general superintendent of the executive board of the General Association in Missouri, was, in spite of his protest, unanimously elected. Believing that it was led of the heavenly Father, your Board put the matter up to Brother Lawrence as a draft to service, and rejoice that he was led of the Lord to accept. We believe his selection and acceptance an answer to prayer. He comes to the Board richly endowed for his task. Through years of denominational service in various positions of responsibility, he has shown himself to be a wise, efficient, aggressive leader. Under his direction your Board looks to the future with hope and courage.

2. The Budget for the Year

In laying out the work for the year, your Board has followed implicitly the instructions given by this convention. These instructions stipulated that the budget of mission work for the year should not exceed the cash receipts of the year before. Out of this budget provision was to be made for the debt. The receipts for the convention year May 1, 1928, to May 1, 1929, for current work were $415,870.21. The work was laid out on this basis, with $240,000 for mission work and $175,000 for interest and debt. On account of certain items of expense which could not be accurately estimated in advance, and on account of some institutions not being able to operate on the inside of the budget fixed for them, the actual expenditures of your Board for mission work for the convention year just closed were $259,119.77. The auditors' report will give an itemized statement of expenditures by departments.

3. The Provision for the Debt

The debt of your board as set up by the auditors May 1, 1929, was as follows:

Bonded Indebtedness

Mountain School Bonds$420,000.00

Cuban Bonds 380,000.00 Sanatorium Bonds 288,000.00
Total Bonded Indebtedness	$1,088,000.00
Notes Payable To Banks
Total Notes Payable	882,981.19
Total Indebtedness	.$1,970,981.19

This does not include $126,254.86, the amount remaining of the $226,126.86 stolen from the church building loan fund after transferring $99,872.00 from the Honor Day Offering for the Home Board debt to this fund. Nor does it include the $100,000.00 accumulated interest from the Crowell-Spencer Lumber Company stock given by Mrs. Bottoms which is to be turned into the Bottoms Trust. Nor does it include the $70,000 unpaid on the appropriation made by the Southern Baptist Convention to the National Memorial Church,

Washington, D. C. These are not, strictly speaking, Home Board debts. They are obligations which the Board can handle as its financial condition will permit.

The agreement made with the bankers in adjusting accounts with them was that the Board would set said two-fifths of its receipts for its obligations and do its mission work with the remaining three-fifths. The Board is adhering strictly to this agreement. When it renewed the notes with the banks in September, 1929, it applied two-fifths of its receipts up to that date on interest and principal. When the notes are renewed the 15th of May, 1930, the same thing will be done. The auditors' report will show that we have, up to May 1, 1930, paid $168,183.00 on interest and principal on the debt. We have in hand to be paid May the 15th, the date for the renewal of our notes at the bank, $63,450.00 in interest and principal. This will make a total payment on debt, interest and principal, of $231,633.00.

4. Budget for Next Year

In making out our budget for the next conventional year, it will be necessary, on account of the insistency of our creditors, to set aside a definite amount, not less than $250,000, to be paid on interest and principal. Unless some provision can be made by this convention for the retirement of the debt, this amount will have to be taken out of the Co-operative Program receipts and taken out first. What this will mean to the mission work of your board is evident from a brief survey of the facts. We have received for the conventional year just closed on the Co-operative Program, including designated gifts, $407,357.58. Our instructions are to lay out our work on the basis of the cash receipts of the year before and if there is a debt on the past year's work to make that debt the first appropriation out of the new year's budget. Our budget for the next conventional year will have to be the same as our cash receipts for the year just closed which is $407,-357.58. The fixed charges to come out of this budget before any mission work can be done are as follows: Principal and interest on bonded indebtedness $93,000.00; the interest and principal on notes payable $157,000.00; total $250,000.00. These amounts, which must be provided, taken from $407,357.58, our budget for the year, leave $157,-357.58 as the amount available for mission work this next conventional year.

We bring the problem to this convention. Your Board is an agency of this convention and has no authority beyond the action of the convention. We must pay our debts. We want to do an increased amount of mission work. But we can neither pay debts nor do mission work without money, and we have no way of getting money apart from the program projected by this convention. We state the facts as they are. Unless some provision can be made by which the receipts of the Board can be increased there is nothing left for your Board to do but reduce its work. We will have to abandon some fields which we now occupy, discharge some of the missionaries now at work, close some of the mission stations or leave them inadequately manned, and, all of this at a time when the fields were never so ripe for harvest and the needs for enlargement so great. We would like, however, to assure the denomination that it is not our wish to retrench, but without increased receipts for our work there is nothing else for us to do. We must not, we will not go further in debt; we cannot carry on without money.

II. CONVENTION RECOMMENDATIONS

Your board brought to the convention last year in Memphis several recommendations with reference to certain departments and features of the work it is doing. These recommendations, through the report of a special committee, were approved by the convention, and during the past year have been followed by your Board in prosecuting its work.

1. The Mountain Schools

The recommendation for the mountain schools provided for the "gradual elimination of some of the mountain schools with the purpose of continuing and strengthening a limited number of the more strategically located institutions." This is being done. At the annual meeting in May the Board found that if it would "continue and strengthen a limited number" of these schools it must, on account of its financial condition, select at once the schools which it felt had the most direct claim upon the board and which were most strategically located as mission enterprises. Most of the schools dropped by the Board were receiving very little support from the Board anyhow. All of them, as Dr. O'Hara's report will show, have been running without the help of the Board and some, if not all, have shown an improvement in operation both as to finances and number of students enrolled over the previous year. The policy of the Board in the future will be to make a careful survey of each mountain school and territory served by the school and then on the basis of the facts shown by the survey, determine what should be done. These surveys will be for the purpose of discovering the missionary and evangelistic opportunities open to each school as well as the character and amount of mission work done by the school.

2. El Paso Sanatorium

The recommendation of the convention last year provided that the Board continue for the present to operate the El Paso Sanatorium "under a re-organized budget and program until it is brought to the point of a going concern with the purpose of then either selling or transferring the institution." Your Board is trying to bring the sanatorium to self-support. It has also, as directed by the convention, carried on negotiations with the hospital commission relative to transferring the operation of the sanatorium to the commission. The hospital commission, however, because of a lack of funds, is unwilling to undertake the responsibility of operating the sanatorium unless the Home Mission Board will assume liability for any deficit incurred. Under these conditions your board does not think it advisable to make the transfer.

It is of the opinion, however, that unless the institution can be made a "going" concern, it should be disposed of in some way.

The contract with the El Paso Chamber of Commerce in so far as it binds the Home Mission Board to operate in perpetuity a sanatorium, reported to this convention last year by this Board, has been abrogated by the Chamber of Commerce of El Paso. There is now no legal restraint from that source preventing either the closing of the sanatorium or the disposing of it. It is the purpose of your Board to do all within its power to make the El Paso Sanatorium self-supporting. One of the reasons the sanatorium has not been self-supporting in the past is that it has done a very large amount of charity work. Under present financial conditions, your Board feels that charity work should be reduced to the minimum, and if it becomes necessary, in order to make the sanatorium self-supporting, eliminated for the present entirely. We are glad to report that the deficit for operation during the past conventional year is smaller than heretofore.

3. Work in the Canal Zone

It was recommended last year that the work in Panama be continued for at least a year, with the suggestion that it be re-organized as an independent Baptist mission. We have made a careful survey of the work in Panama and feel that it would not be advisable at this time to abandon the field. The churches outside of Balboa Heights Church are unable to support themselves and there is no Baptist organization doing work in Panama to which this work could be turned. Therefore, if the Home Board should withdraw from the field, all that has been done through the years might be lost. It is the judgment of your Board that for the present the work in Panama should be continued with such adjustments as will reduce the appropriations to the minimum.

4. Evangelism

Under present conditions the Board will not be able to enter the evangelistic field with a corps of general evangelists. The Board does not, however, intend to abandon this field altogether. There are many things it can do to stimulate the work of evangelism. There should be an adequate series of evangelistic tracts made available for our pastors and personal workers. Evangelistic conferences might be held. It might be that a clearing-house for evangelists and evangelistic singers could be established so that our pastors and churches that wanted the assistance of evangelists might be able to secure the help of those who could be depended upon. The Home Board might act as a commission on evangelism rendering all possible service to the denomination in promoting evangelism until it is in a financial position to enter again the field with an evangelistic force. This it proposes to do as soon as possible.

III. SPECIAL ITEMS

There are several items which should receive special mention in the report of your board.

1. The March Week of Prayer Offering

To every dark cloud there is a silver lining. Our dark cloud of decreasing receipts has the silver lining of the March Week of Prayer and offering by the Woman's Missionary Union. The women this year, for the first time, took specific designations for their Home Mission offering. The goal was set at $50,000, and in their enthusiasm they went far beyond that mark. The amount received up to the first of May was $73,045.00, all of which will go into specific mission work. All honor to our women! The various state organizations manifested the most enthusiastic interest, and from every section there was a hearty and liberal response. Women were first in their devotion to our blessed Lord when he was here upon earth, and today, as then, they are breaking their alabaster boxes of priceless service in anointing him whom they love as Lord of lords and King of kings.

2. The Bottoms Trust

At the last meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention the Home Mission Board reported a gift from Mrs. Bottoms for the building of a school in Cuba. The terms of this gift stipulated a contract between the Home Mission Board and Mrs. Bottoms, of Texarkana, Arkansas, which contract was to be and was ratified by the convention, page 102 Minutes, 1929.

After the meeting of the convention, Mrs. Bottoms changed the form of her gift and established, in lieu of the contract accepted by this convention, a trust, with the Texarkana National Bank, of Texarkana, Texas, as trustee. In this trust Mrs. Bottoms placed a gift of two hundred (200) shares of stock in the Meridian Lumber Company, Meridian, La., and $50,000 in cash. The Home Mission Board returned to Mrs. Bottoms, to be placed in this trust, the one thousand (1,000) shares of stock of the Crowell-Spencer Lumber Company given by Mrs. Bottoms and her husband to the Home Board some years ago, and $50,000 in cash, which amount had been received as accrued interest on the Crowell-Spencer Lumber Company stock. The Home Mission Board is to return, also, $100,000 interest accrued from the Crowell-Spencer Lumber Company stock during the years it has been in the possession of the board, which $100,000 is to be paid into this fund at the convenience of the Home Mission Board without injury to its work. The dividends received from all the stock placed in the trust and all monies included in the trust are to be turned over by the trustee to the Home Mission Board to be used in the building of two dormitories and an administration building on property owned by the Home Mission Board in Havana, Cuba; the Administration Building to cost approximately $250,000 and the two dormitories approximately $50,000 each. The balance, should there be any balance from this trust, to be used as an endowment for the operation of the college.

This trust will be ample to construct the college buildings and furnish at least $100,000 endowment provided the dividends on the stock placed in the Trust continue in the future as heretofore.

The plans for the dormitories have been prepared by Mr. Hunt as specified in the Trust, and application has been made to the Cuban Government for permit to build. There has been delay, however, in granting the building permit. So far nothing has been done towards the construction of either of the buildings. It will not be possible now to begin operations before the first of September. When completed, the college proposed by Mrs. Bottoms in this Trust will be one of the most valuable missionary assets Baptists have in any mission field. Mrs. Bottoms' gift is one of the greatest ever made by a Southern Baptist to mission work.

IV. THE FUTURE POLICY OF THE BOARD

Your board has no recommendations to make to this convention, but we desire to suggest the following general principles as to future programs, policies, and operations in Home Mission work.

1. An Agency for Administration and Study

Your Board recognizes that it is an agency of this convention and has no prerogatives or powers apart from those delegated to it by this convention. It feels, however, unless it has misunderstood the purpose for which it was created, that its task is larger than that of administering the money given to it for the various fields and projects generally understood and accepted as Home Mission work. Its task includes also a study of religious conditions and needs in the bounds of the convention with the purpose of keeping the convention informed as to its task as a missionary agency in evangelizing the homeland. It stands to reason that in a changing social and economic order there must be constantly arising new fields for mission activity and new conditions which would necessitate changes in methods of approach and types of work, and, possibly in some instances, a complete readjustment, if not an abandonment, of certain projects in the fields now occupied. Southern Baptists must meet in their mission work the needs of a growing civilization. Nothing should be done simply because it has been done through all the years heretofore; it should be done because it is needed in the evangelization of the This will necessitate the making of surveys, and the gathering of data on the Home Mission tasks of this convention, and we want you to know that we consider ourselves a board of investigation and study on Home Mission work as well as a board for the administration of Home Mission funds.

2. A Strategic Pause

Your Board is facing its task seriously. It recognizes the handicaps under which it now labors. Its debts must be paid. This for the present will necessitate some reduction in the mission work done, but we do not propose a policy of retreat. The temporary recession is only a strategic pause which has as its purpose the consolidation of the Home Board's position for an aggressive advance. This pause may not be altogether unprofitable, for it will afford the opportunity for accurate surveys of Home Mission fields, which surveys are necessary before we can launch, with assurance, an efficient and effective Home Mission program.

3. Getting Back to the Churches

The churches of Christ are the divinely appointed agents for the bringing in of the kingdom. Christ our Lord gave the Great Commission to them and not to conventions and boards. Hence, the primary responsibility for preaching the gospel at home and abroad rests upon the churches. This is their glorious privilege as well as their solemn duty. Your Board as an agency of this convention is a servant of the churches in their co-operative mission task. We must, therefore, seek to root missions in the life of the churches. Our mission work, to become vital, must seat itself in the faith and affection of our people. The denominational program, if it would not be merely a valley of dry bones, must have the breath of life breathed into it from the churches. We must put the local church back in the center of gravity in our denominational life. Here is our big problem. Our supreme task is to grow New Testament churches. If we can develop in our Southern Zion strong, virile, vital, vigorous, functioning New Testament churches, every denominational problem is The evangelization of the world awaits this achievement. In helping to accomplish this task your Board commits itself.

At a very dark hour in Israel's history Jehovah said to Moses, his servant, "Speak unto the Children of Israel that they go forward." Their only hope was in a forward march. Their faces were Canaanward and to Canaan they must go. Has God ever changed his marching orders? We think not. Therefore, we face the eternal, unfolding, revealing, challenging future, and, looking to the hills from whence cometh our strength, we gird our loins for a forward-looking program of Home Mission work.

10. Summary of Work for the Year

1. Independent and Direct Missions

INDEPENDENT AND DIRECT MISSIONS

J. W. BEAGLE, SUPERINTENDENT

The budget for this department was fixed at $71,250.00 by the board at its anual meeting, May 30, 1929. Our budget obligations at that time were on the basis of $78,966.00. This necessitated a reduction of $7,716.00 and compelled the board to reduce the working force.

At the December meeting of the board, because of the shortage in receipts, the board instructed that where workers resigned from fields for any cause, these fields be left vacant.

This left this department with seventy-eight paid workers. The work is now on the basis of $67,200.00 per year which is $4,050.00 under the budget allocated at the annual meeting, May, 1929.

FOREIGNERS

In the Statistical Table we report thirty workers, part of these served only a short time. We have only twenty-four who served the entire year.

SCHOOLS AND GOOD-WILL CENTERS

In this important phase of our work we include twenty-one workers but three have resigned and their report for part of the year appears in the Statistical Table.

The Mexican Baptist Institute, Bastrop, Texas, under the leadership of Rev. Paul C. Bell, has forty-seven students, the most of these are preparing for Christian service. There are four teachers that give all their time to this Institute and mission work.

At El Paso, Texas, we have 151 students; Prof. Valez, and two women teachers.

At Church Point, Louisiana, in Acadia Academy, there are ninetyeight students, fifty-six of whom are preparing for the ministry or for mission work. Prof. Thomas E. Mixon and six other teachers carry on this important plant.

Our Good-Will Centers are located at Birmingham, Alabama; West Frankfort, Illinois; Christopher, Illinois, and mission work in East St. Louis, Illinois, and Tampa, Florida, are included.

WORK AMONG THE INDIANS

We report seventeen workers, although the work among the Indians at Pembroke and Cherokee, North Carolina, was turned over to the North Carolina State Convention on January 1, 1930; then Brethren Robert Hamilton and William Burgess have resigned, which now leaves us with thirteen workers, five of whom are Indians and their work is very commendable. NUYAKA-LEVERING INDIAN SCHOOL AND ORPHANAGE

J. M. WILEY, SUPERINTENDENT

This is the only Indian school and orphanage owned by the Southern Baptist Convention. It is located twelve miles from Okmulgee, Oklahoma. They feed seventy people, three meals a day, and the capacity of the institution is taxed to the limit. We present below Superintendent Wiley's report:

"The school was operated under the direction of the executive committee of the Southern Baptist Convention, up to June 1, 1929. On June 1st, the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention took charge. At the request of Dr. J. W. Beagle, superintendent of independent and direct missions, a meeting of the board of trustees was called at the school on June the 20th. Dr. Beagle attended and counselled with the trustees on plans for the year.

"The trustees were unanimous in expressing their appreciation to Dr. Austin Crouch and the executive committee for their most excellent co-operation. Every possible encouragement was offered at all times."

WORK AMONG THE NEGROES

Our work with our Negro brethren is in co-operation with the National Baptist Convention, Home Mission Board, Dr. A. D. Williams, corresponding secretary, 239 Auburn Avenue, Atlanta, Georgia. Also we aid in the salaries of special workers at Selma University, Selma, Alabama; Morris College, Sumter, South Carolina, and schools at Macon and Rome, Georgia, and a general worker in Missouri.

Southern Baptists are not doing their part toward aiding our Baptist Negro brethren to solve their own problems. We must enlarge our work in co-operation with the National Baptist Convention Home Mission Board, until we have a competent representative in each state of the Southland.

We need, also, competent Negro women to work with the Negro women of the South, for this has been neglected too long already. God grant that this year we may be able to engage in this task in this important field.

WORK AMONG THE DEAF MUTES

The Lord has greatly blessed the labors of Rev. J. W. Michaels and Rev. A. O. Wilson, our two workers.

Many of the deaf have been converted and joined Baptist churches. A number of new Sunday school classes have been organized, while some have disbanded for lack of proper leaders yet progress has been made for we have more classes at the close of this year than ever before. We are sorry to note that in spite of all our pleading and even publishing a handbook of the sign-language for the purpose of enlisting our hearing brethren, few have come in to help us. The deaf people everywhere look up to our hearing people to help them in religious matters.

We are grateful to the hearing friends who are helping in this work at Little Rock, Arkansas, Dallas, Waco, and Houston, Texas, Knoxville, Tennessee, Raleigh, North Carolina, and Atlanta, Georgia. In these places the deaf not only have flourishing Sunday school classes but Baptist Young People's Unions and some one to interpret the pastors' sermons.

A revision of our sign-language book is greatly needed with some 600 pictures illustrating the words used. This is our greatest need and we hope the Board at the annual meeting will make provision for this.

Other denominations are sending out missionaries to the deaf. The Episcopalians have seventeen workers among the deaf in the Northern states and are rapidly entering the South. Their workers seem to be working with the aim of breaking up the work of Baptists.

The field is so large that two workers cannot visit the many places where work has been started to keep it going without local help. If each state board could only see this need and aid us with a colporter for the deaf in his state, it would help in a measure to solve this problem, for in the western states alone there are 437 communities where there are deaf people that do not have preachers or missionaries to reach them.

BAPTIST RESCUE MISSION 740 ESPLANADE AVENUE, NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Dr. J. W. Newbrough, superintendent, reports that this Rescue Mission work has grown steadily. All this fall and winter we have had more men every night than we could properly care for as we have beds for only a little more than eighty men, often fully that number were allowed to lie in a warm room but without beds.

The Lord has graciously bestowed his favor on this work and we now see clearly that we must enlarge and make provision to care for not less than 150 men per night during the coming fall and winter, and this means almost to double our present facilities.

Our friends throughout the South are looking with interest on the progress of this work. To the Lord and to these friends we are grateful for the ability to care for these thousands of homeless and moneyless men, many hundreds of whom have found the Saviour.

SEAMEN'S INSTITUTE

CAPTAIN W. Y. EVERTON, JACKSONVILLE, FLA., SUPERINTENDENT

The decrease in receipts for the past year is due to the slump in shipping. All ocean-going steamships have felt the effect of this general slump in business, and because of this condition we have more idle seamen. Our relief department has been taxed to the utmost capacity to care for those in need. To do this we have been compelled to reduce our operating expenses to meet the need of the relief department and also reduce our budget so as to create no debt.

To the good women of the South, we express our deep appreciation of the many valuable articles in bedding and clothing received from the various W.M.U.'s and other organizations. Also we wish to express our thanks to Miss Rebecca Naomi Rhodes, of Washington, D. C., director of the Soldiers and Seamen's Department of the National W. C. T. U., for the deep interest manifested and many valuable articles received from her and the many unions she has interested in Pennsylvania and other states, which have enabled us to supply the needs of worthy seamen out of employment. We feel that these packages she has sent us are as "Bread cast upon the waters" that will bring returns to the glory of God after many days.

REPORT OF CUBAN WORK

M. N. McCALL, D.D., Superintendent

This report is for a year of eleven months, due to the fact that we have changed our conventional year, closing a month earlier in order to have reports in hand in ample time for the annual meeting. Notwithstanding this fact, the totals show an encouraging increase over last year along most lines. Contributions are larger, as is also the number of baptisms.

Great emphasis has been placed on evangelism during the year. During the dry months between October, 1929, and March, 1930, special evangelistic services have been held in all except three of the native churches. These have been attended by large crowds and gratifying interest. It has been impossible to respond to all the calls that have come to us. Conditions seem to be ripe for a more extended evangelism, with a better organized force. With the good roads now being completed throughout the Island, a gospel car would be a very great aid in reaching the unevangelized towns and villages along the several hundred miles of highway. Three new churches have been organized during the year.

The annual meeting of the West Cuba Baptist Convention was of unusual interest and enthusiasm. It was held in Havana, April 14-18. More than two hundred delegates were enrolled, and the Temple was too small to accommodate the crowds that attended the night sessions. This year's meeting marks the close of the first quarter century of the convention's existence. For the first time the daily press of Havana gave ample space to the proceedings of each day.

School work has been good, but without any appreciable advance. Eleven day schools reported 576 pupils enrolled. The Cuban-American College enrolled 163. Preparations are being made to begin construction on the new plant made possible by the Bottoms' Foundation, but it is not contemplated that this will be ready for opening this year.

There has been an increased interest in Sunday school and Young People's work. A larger number of Sunday School Normal awards have been granted than in any previous year.

The present condition of the work is most encouraging, and while our needs never seemed so great, there is reason to believe that a largely increasing harvest may be expected in the not distant future.

MOUNTAIN MISSIONS AND SCHOOLS

J. W. O'HARA, D.D., SUPERINTENDENT

The past conventional year in the Mountain School Department has been one of struggle and difficulty, yet fraught with glorious results. Deficits of last year, due to cutting of appropriations in middle of session after contracts were made, have been liquidated in the main. Some deficit is reported for this session, but much of it will be liquidated ere the annual meeting of the Board. Faculties have sacrificed without complaint. Trustees have risen to the occasion, and have done everything possible to carry on. Hope, optimism and courage characterize their attitude at present. The eight schools supported by the Board have had an inadequate appropriation. However, friends have rallied to these and other mountain schools valiantly.

Transfer of Schools

At the annual meeting of the Board in June, 1928, the following schools were transferred to other agencies, arrangement having been made prior to the meeting of the board:

Smoky Mountain Academy, Sevierville, Tennessee, to the Woman's Missionary Union of Knox County Association and the Sevier County Association.

Mountain Home College, Arkansas, to the Arkansas State Baptist Board. The school failed to open its doors last fall, but will open in June.

Armo Baptist Academy, Blue Eye, Missouri, to Carroll County Association, Arkansas, and Stone Association, Missouri.

Southwest Baptist College, Bolivar, Missouri, to the Missouri State Mission Board.

Mars Hill College, Mars Hill, North Carolina, to the North Carolina State Mission Board.

The superintendent has remained in an advisory relation to these schools and rendered them every possible assistance during the year.

School Receiving no Appropriation

Six schools, where title to the property was held by the trustees, had no appropriation made for them at the annual meeting of the Board in June. The trustees, however, after much deliberation, planned to continue the schools. With the help of your superintendent, they have operated successfully. They are as follows:

Cosby Academy, Cosby, Tennessee.

Harrison-Chilhowee Institute, Seymour, Tennessee.

Lee Baptist Institute, Pennington Gap, Virginia.

Alexander Schools, Inc., Union Mills, North Carolina.

Newton County Academy, Parthenon, Arkansas.

North Greenville Baptist Academy, Tigerville, South Carolina.

These have all continued their work during the year. They, and also the schools transferred, wish to be listed in the Mountain School Department, and receive the counsel and assistance of the superintendent.

During the spring the Newton County Trustees have negotiated a sale of their property to the Newton County Board of Education, and the school will be operated as a county high school. It, however, will adhere in the main to standards and principles set heretofore, and Baptist teachers will be employed.

Petition for Reinstatement

Cosby Academy, Cosby, Tennessee, asks to be reinstated and given support by the Home Mission Board. Other schools in the same condition have indicated a desire for reinstatement.

Needy Students

During the session eighty-eight have been helped by the Opdyke Fund. Seven hundred fifty-six have paid part or all of their expenses in work. Notwithstanding this large number assisted, we have turned away 637 who had no money to pay expenses. We had no more work to assign. There are other hundreds of bright-minded, strong, capable young people in the mountains without an opportunity of an education. Shall we continue to turn them away?

Designated Gifts

During the session $2,533.39 has been forwarded to the superintendent with instructions to send to certain schools or apply in helping needy students. This has been promptly forwarded, and complete record kept in the superintendent's office.

Special Mention

The total income from all the schools is $195,793.00 as shown in statement attached to this report. Of this, $138,795.55 is from tuition and fees, $15,587.82 from State Mission Boards and Associations, and $6,800.00 from the Baptist Home Mission Board, leaving $34,609.63 as gifts from friends and the local constituency. Your superintendent has secured in cash and pledges approximately $10,000.00 of this, and set up organizations which have secured much of the remainder.

Evangelistic and Missionary

Evangelism and missions have been stressed for more than quarter of a century. Pupils going back to rural communities are church workers and soul-winners. The large force of teachers and preachers who have gone from these institutions are a mighty corps of New Testament evangelists. Rarely does a session close with an unconverted boy or girl in one of our schools. During the session there have been 181 conversions and 104 volunteers. The 103 ministerial students have been flaming heralds of the gospel message. The light of the gospel has been carried by them into the dark corners of the mountains.

Statistics

Statistics are as follows: Schools eighteen, of which eight are supported by the Home Mission Board, teachers 144, students 3,286, ministerial students 103, conversions 181, graduates 369, volunteers 104, total income $195,793.00, of which the Home Mission Board paid $6,800.00, value of improvements and equipment $11,808.00, paid out of school income, and total value of property $1,727,000.00.

Bible Course Record

The Bible Course requires one year in the Bible and one year in denominational text books. The record for the year is as follows:

Number in Old and New Testament 1,223, number in teacher training 545, number Sunday school diplomas 254, number B.Y.P.U. diplomas 379, number in doctrine, missions and miscellaneous books 1,361. This course grounds students in the faith, strengthens character, and fits for every good work.

Aims

Our aim is to train for service. Saved to serve is our motto. Christian leadership must be supplied for social, civic, religious, educational and commercial life. We seek to give a clear comprehension of life's responsibilities to boys and girls, prepare them to assume these obligations, and build character with which they may stand against encroaching evils in modern times, and boldly proclaim by life and lip our risen and exalted Lord.

REPORT OF WORK IN PANAMA

REV. STEPHEN WITT

This has been a very difficult year yet in spite of many hindrances we have made some progress. The outstanding event of the year has been the visit of our Home Board secretary, Dr. J. B. Lawrence. He was able to give one service to our colored congregation on each side of the Isthmus. These services were very heartening to our people and made them feel that they were a part of the great Baptist family.

Rev. Ed Carpenter is doing a marvelous work at Balboa Heights. He, however, finds time to help us and comes to our aid at practically all our special services.

We have made distinct progress in our campaign for self-support. The Colon Church seeks a colored pastor who is right in the fundamentals, our people have no use for modernism. This church is holding its own but as soon as it has its own pastor there will be a great ingathering.

We are surrounded at all our churches with Spanish-speaking Panamanians. We are able to reach some of these, just now we have a goodly number in our Chorrillo Sunday school. Our trouble is to find Spanish-speaking teachers.

Summary of Results

Figures can tell but a small bit of the work done on the Canal Zone these past twenty-five years, and yet they tell a story that is encouraging indeed. To sum up, we have seven churches with 558 members, 850 in Sunday school, not counting Balboa Heights Church with 130 members, 397 in the B.Y.P.U.'s, 70 in the Woman's Missionary Societies, 112 in the girls' clubs, and 28 in the Boy Scouts. This has been accomplished by, and is the permanent fruits, of an outlay of money very much less than that spent by the average church of 500 members in the states.

Day Schools Operated

In addition to the church work we have also three schools, one at Colon; one at Chorillo; and one at Caledonia. The average attendance in these schools is about 100 each. To understand the importance of these schools one has to know something of the school situation in Panama. There is no well-organized, efficient government school system. There are a few schools, but they are of low grade and dominated entirely by the Catholic Church. The members of our churches do not want to send their children to the Government schools where they will be taught Catholicism, and hence, where they are able, they have organized schools of their own, and are running them in connection with the church work. All of the schools are self-supporting. They are also religious. The Bible is taught. As a result, they become feeders for the churches. They are very valuable missionary assets.

The Balboa Heights Church

There is a real sure enough, vital, vigorous, functioning white Baptist church on the Canal Zone. This church is located on the Pacific side at Balboa Heights, the capital of the Canal Zone, a city with about 5,000 population, all of them from the states.

Rev. Alfred Carpenter, a graduate of Oklahoma Baptist University and of the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, is the pastor. He came to Balboa Heights Church in July, 1929, and since his coming he has received eighty-four into the church membership, forty-six by letter and thirty-eight by baptism. The church under his leadership has come to be a live, active, aggressive organization. It has now 130 members, 255 in Sunday school, 50 in the Woman's Missionary Society, 100 in the B.Y.P.U.'s, and a financial budget that averages $132.00 per week. The church is now self-supporting.

Outlook for the Future

The Canal Zone presents a great mission opportunity for our Baptist people. There are more than a hundred thousand people living in and around the Zone. About ten thousand of these live in the Zone and the others in the cities of Colon and Panama, on Panamanian territory.

The Canal Zone holds a unique place in world affairs. The commerce of the world is finding its way through the Canal. A steady stream of ships to and from every port pass and repass here on their journey. As flows the commerce of the world, so flows world interest and world activity. This makes the Canal Zone a very important place for Baptists. In the future, the Gulf of Mexico, the Carribbean Sea and the Panama Canal will hold a place of constantly increasing importance in world affairs. Panama is one of the links in the chain girdling the Gulf of Mexico. Religious strategy requires strong entrenchment here. Baptists must hold on to these places if they would hold a dominant place in the religious development of the Western Hemisphere, and as the Western Hemisphere goes religiously, so goes the world.

The money spent in the Zone has not been spent in vain. The results justify in every way the expenditures. The Balboa Heights Church of itself, if nothing else had been done, is a fruitage sufficient to justify the work done by the Home Mission Board in the Zone. We have not done all that we should have done, but apart from the souls that have been saved by the preaching of the gospel, we have planted in the Isthmus a work that will not pass away even though Southern Baptists should withdraw from the territory.

REPORT OF THE DEPARTMENT OF CHURCH EXTENSION ARTHUR J. BARTON, D.D., SUPERINTENDENT

The work of this department has gone steadily forward and has made progress throughout the year, especially with reference to collecting and adjusting long standing and long past-due loans. The administration of a purely business department is always necessarily attended by the difficulties that come from contingencies in the business world. In spite of all our best efforts contingencies arise and difficulties come and have to be met.

As a general proposition Baptist churches ought to be prompt and faithful in meeting their obligations. For sundry reasons, some of which were discussed in our last annual report, in many instances, through the years, churches to which loans have been made have not met promptly and regularly their payments. Many loans were made during the period of inflation following the World War and were for larger amounts perhaps than they should have been. In some instances churches were seriously affected by the deflation; in some few cases the towns which have grown up as war villages have dwindled or almost disappeared. In many cases, even when no serious handicap exists, it has been difficult to get churches to face frankly and meet promptly their business obligations. This is not true of all the churches, of course; it ought not to be true of any.

When the present superintendent assumed his duties August 1, 1927, there were outstanding 145 loans, representing a total investment of $838,632.59 in loans with the churches. On these loans the sum of $50,324.72 in interest was past due and unpaid. Of the 145 loans 42 were in satisfactory condition. That is, they were either new loans on which the first payment had not matured, or they were loans on which all payments had been met. These 42 loans represented one-third of the total amount of $838,632.59. One hundred and three loans were in arrears either on interest or principal, or both. These 103 loans represented two-thirds of the amount then invested in loans. Many of these loans were eight or ten years old, with little or nothing either on principal or interest.

The efforts of the department since August 1, 1927, have been directed to the two-fold task of getting as nearly as possible the total assets of the department invested in loans with the churches and to the collection, or reorganization, in some cases the salvaging, of these long over-due loans. Good progress has been made. In some cases it has been necessary for the Board to make some concession in the matter of long past-due interest, but in nearly every case the principal has been saved or the loan reorganized on a basis providing for the payment of the principal and interest hereafter to accrue. Only in two or three cases has it been necessary to salvage the loan on the basis of the loss of a part of the principal.

In view of the fact that so many loans were of such long standing and so long past due and in view of the large amount of work incident to the administration of a fund of over a million dollars invested in loans scattered over all the Southern states, and in view of the further fact that many of the churches seemed slow to recognize and meet promptly their obligations, it was quite impossible for one individual to do all that ought to be done in this department. Hence, on January 14, 1929, the Board took action, authorizing the superintendent of the department to employ a man to assist in collecting outstanding loans. In pursuance of this action the superintendent employed Rev. George F. Austin, formerly official representative of the board as superintendent of mission work in the Canal Zone. Since that time Brother Austin has rendered most faithful and efficient service.

In spite of the fact that we could lend many times as much money as we have in the Church Building Loan Fund, and in spite of the fact that we receive many more applications than we can grant, it sometimes happens that we have considerable cash balance in the banks. This is due to the time required for the preparation and examination of abstracts, some time for perfecting titles, and other details incident to closing up loans after they have been authorized, and to the further fact that some of the churches to which loans are granted are slow in getting ready and qualifying for their loans. While the superintendnet of this department was acting executive secretary-treasurer of the Board for the brief period of six weeks and had the authority to deal with the financial affairs of the Board, he took up with the banks the matter of an interest allowance on our daily averages and got an agreement with the banks by which they allowed 2½%.

The expenses of the department as shown in the treasurer's report are larger this year than usual. This is due to two facts, namely:

(1) We have been making diligent and persistent effort to collect and adjust long-standing and long past-due loans; (2) the Board decided that it was right and proper to charge to the Church Building Loan Fund one-half of the heavy auditing expense made necessary by the defalcation of the then treasurer in 1928.

By patient and persistent effort in collecting the loans outstanding, and by wisdom and care in the administration of all the affairs and the conservation of all the resources of this department, the Church Building Loan Fund can be made to grow from year to year and made to render an increasingly large and fruitful service, even on on the basis of the present capital, though it is utterly inadequate to the pressing needs of the churches. In our last annual report we gave the number of the churches which are homeless and the number having inadequate houses of worship. The figures would not be materially changed and it is hardly necessary to repeat them here. We also gave the figures showing what other denominations are doing in their departments of church extension. In comparison with what others are doing Southern Baptists are doing very little, indeed.

There is no place perhaps in our denominational life where the investment of money will count for more than in this department. Many of our people with means could well afford to buy the annuity bonds of this department. This would give them a good income on their money while they live and would guarantee that their money would continue in the Lord's work after their death. Those interested in any phase of the work of the department and those desiring to invest in annuity bonds should address the superintendent at 804 Mortgage Guarantee Building, Atlanta, Georgia.

SOUTHERN BAPTIST SANATORIUM EL PASO, TEXAS

H. F. VERMILLION, D.D., SUPERINTENDENT

In the great day of judgment Jesus will say to those on his right hand "I was sick and ye visited me." To those on his left hand he will say "I was sick and ye visited me not." Southern Baptist Sanatorium is the only distinctively Baptist door of mercy that the tuberculous sick can enter. It affords the only distinctively Baptist opportunity for serving the tuberculous sick. The needy sick appeal to us in far greater numbers than we are able to serve.

This is the eleventh annual report of the operation of the sanatorium and the twelfth year of service for the superintendent. There is much to be grateful for in the work of the year, although the denomination furnished a smaller measure of financial support than ever before. Income from patients was $4,523.20 greater than last year.

Our treatment of tuberculosis becomes more successful each year. More cases come to us in the earlier stages and fewer far advanced cases.

Each year shows a marked advance toward self-support. Owing to the long period of hospitalization required, few tuberculous patients can pay the full cost of their care. This makes self-support difficult for a tuberculosis hospital.

On account of rumors that the sanatorium is about to change management or be closed a number of patients left the sanatorium and Dr. J. D. Riley, medical director, resigned. His resignation became effective March 15th. These events caused a considerable financial loss on account of reduced patronage. Discussions about changes in ownership or management have invariably caused loss of some patronage with consequent financial loss to the Home Mission Board.

Dr. Riley had been with us about nine years, seven of which he had served as medical director. He was faithful, co-operative and efficient and we keenly regretted his going.

Fortunately we have secured the services of Dr. W. W. Britton, a tuberculosis specialist of high standing and a fine Christian gentleman. He served on the staff of one of our best El Paso sanatoriums for twelve years preceding his acceptance of our work and on the staff of another good sanatorium for two years previously. He is employed here for a nominal salary giving half of his working day to the sanatorium and deriving most of his income from private practice.

In view of the above arrangement we have made a considerable saving by discontinuing our out-patient department and our city office. Dr. Britton brings certain of his private patients to our laboratories for certain services for which services we are paid fixed fees.

The urgent need for this institution is evidenced continually by hundreds of appeals from ministers and others whose families are financially unable to pay the cost of treatment elsewhere and who feel that the denomination should provide a way to save the lives of their loved ones.

Several thousands of dollars in small gifts ranging from one dollar to one thousand dollars each have been added to our permanent endowment. This endowment fund is our main hope for self-support but at its present rate of growth it will be several years before the fund will be of substantial help.

JEWISH WORK JACOB GARTENHAUS

"As thou goest step by step, I will open up the way before thee." Proverbs 4: 12. Hebrew translation.

Again I am permitted to review briefly my labors among his ancient people Israel, and whilst the pathway has been beset with many difficulties and trials this past year, my labors have not been in vain in him. The work, as in former years, has been carried on without any material changes, presenting the gospel through personal conversation in homes, in hotels, in shops, on the streets and in public meetings.

There was a time when it was almost impossible to approach the Jews with the gospel. Their doors and hearts were closed to the missionary and he received only abusive language. In this respect vast changes have and are taking place. We find the old superstitions, the old prejudices and the old beliefs fading away. A new day is dawning. Jews now are carefully studying the teachings of Christ as never before. They are found in our public meetings eagerly listening to the inspiring messages. For example:

In Richmond, Virginia, a cordial invitation was extended through the local press to the Jewish citizens. According to one of the church officials, more than fifty were present at the morning service and about the same number at the evening service. Although the hour was late, many remained to meet the speaker and to learn more of the truth expounded. In Wilmington, North Carolina, when the hour arrived for the evening service, although the rain was coming down in torrents, a large number of the Jewish citizens were in the church, and, imagine my surprise when the pastor whispered, "The rabbi is present!" Perhaps he expected to be the sole representative of his people—as it was, he might have been in his own temple. After the service the rabbi lingered, and on the invitation of the pastor, the rabbi and I went to the pastorium where we engaged in pleasant conversation. Dear reader, do you realize the significance of this change that is coming over Jewry!

In a South Georgia town, I was informed that all the Jewish citizens had promised to come to the church with the exception of one, who declared he would never enter a Christian church. He might hear me, he said, if I were going to speak in another place. A visit to him was made by the pastor and myself. We found him, like so many of his co-religionists, sadly ignorant of the religion of his Christian friends. To him, the persecuting Roman Church in Europe with its idolatrous worship and the Baptist church, were one and the same. Explaining that Baptists have less in common with the Catholic church than his people, and in visiting the church he would not be required to make a sign of the cross or kneel before any image, but it would be like taking a seat in the synagogue where he would find the God Abraham worshiped and the Jewish Bible held sacred, he finally said, "I may come." Picture the surprise of many when this Jewish brother came in accompanied by his wife.

Filling an engagement at the First Baptist Church, Bristow, Oklahoma, during one of the severest blizzards in years, nearly every Jewish citizen was present. In the evening, speaking at Sapulpa, about thirty miles away, again a number of Jews attended, among them an elderly Hebrew who had come to the church for the first time in my friend's pastorate of more than twenty years. While Baptists were huddled by their warm firesides, the Jews were in church listening to the gospel. Of interest is the fact that one Jewish man came forward with a contribution saying, a long distance call from his sister in Bristow, urged him to be sure to hear the Jewish evangelist.

In co-operation with all our Baptist churches, citywide meetings were held in Newport News and Lynchburg, Virginia, and St. Louis, Missouri. Through these meetings by personal visitation and in public we actually touched the lives of hundreds of my people. For instance, in Newport News, before the week had passed, practically every adult Jew had heard the gospel preached. In connection therewith we conducted classes for Christian workers, training them in the best methods of approach to their Jewish neighbors. In St. Louis, for the first time, there was united effort on the part of the thirty-five Baptist churches to witness to the 80,000 Jewish people, when it could truly be said that the Lord's command to begin at Jerusalem was literally executed. Night after night capacity audiences filled the church. The interest and attendance was beyond our fondest expectations. The last two days no available space could be found. We had the assistance of men of God, veterans in this great field of missionary activity, who presented to the Jews the irrefutable arguments of the Messiaship of Jesus Christ and laid upon the hearts of Christians their debt long overdue to Israel.

To record the many expressions of appreciation heard of these meetings would require more space than we are allotted. Resolutions, unanimously passed by the churches and ministers, respectively, endorsing our efforts and inviting us back, speak for themselves.

Great demands have been made upon the Board for literature concerning this work through which we have disseminated his truth to limitless numbers. We have been greatly assisted in this by our faithful women, and others, who have furnished us the names and addresses of their Jewish friends as well as requested literature for personal distribution. These silent messages have traveled the length and breadth of our Southland, provoking much earnest thought and have been the means of directing many an Israelite to his Messiah.

In response to many calls, your servant has visited many cities, addressing missionary societies, district meetings and assemblies, and coming into direct contact with his own people, many of whom were found faithfully serving the Lord and giving evidence in their lives of his saving grace.

Your missionary is still laboring under many handicaps, among them, the lack of financial support. His plea to Southern Baptists is, that they will give more adequately to the support of this work, so worthy of their name. He wishes again to express his heartfelt gratitude to the Home Mission Board, the Woman's Missionary Union, and the many faithful servants of the Lord who are making it possible for him to carry on this deserving work the Lord has committed to his hands. A work so mightily blessed should be able to enlist all under its banner who call themselves followers of Jesus Christ, remembering his words, "Go tell my brethren."

ANNUAL REPORT OF

UNA ROBERTS LAWRENCE, MISSION STUDY EDITOR HOME MISSION BOARD

The year 1929-30 has been one of marked increase in interest in the study of Home Missions. There has been a decided increase in the demand for articles on Home Missions. The requests from editors cannot be met by the limited force now trying to do this work. I am never entirely "caught up" on the requests for articles. The far-flung use of the two little booklets circulated during the Week of Prayer for Home Missions in March was most encouraging. Together they provided a survey of all our Home Mission Fields and story material to illustrate, adaptable for every age. They have been investments well worth while.

We have been very fortunate this year in the Home Mission study books available. Never before have the Missionary Education Movement books been more usable. The books for Primaries and Juniors were on the subject of the Mexican in the United States, and were charmingly and effectively written. These were Rafael and Consuelo by Means, and Jumping Beans by McLean. For Intermediates a book of biography Pioneers of Good Will by Hunting presented the pioneer home missionaries, while a book of helps Good News Across the Continent by Jenness was especially fine. The book for Senior young people was not so usable for us, but our own publication Pioneer Women has been widely used among young people, filling this need effectively.

For all these books we have sadly needed auxiliary helps, giving leaders the facts about our own Baptist Mexican work, picture sheets of the work and workers, and project programs that would suggest helpful co-operation with our missionaries and the board.

For adult study we have had two books published late last year, Pioneer Women by Lawrence and Signal Fires upon the Mountains by O'Hara and one new book, off the press of the Sunday School Board in January, 1930, The Gospel Among the Red Men, by our veteran Indian missionary, Robert Hamilton. It is proving a very popular book. The booklet Look upon the Fields has supplied the need for a complete survey of all Home Mission Board work. We have had the most cordial relations with the Sunday School Board in carrying out our plans for publication and gladly record our hope that we will be able to continue this partnership with them in publishing books of increasing value in both literary finish and interest of content.

Our greatest need is for a well-correlated plan for home mission study looking through a period of years, that we may plan well for the production of worth-while books on Home Missions by the best writers available on the subject. Along with this there must be more helps for teachers such as maps, story leaflets and picture sheets for posters and project plans with young people. We have had the cordial co-operation of Home and Foreign Fields in the loan of the cuts on Home Missions for our use in picture sheets and in the "Big Tract" on Home Missions.

The tract, being issued approximately quarterly, has filled a long felt need for getting the intimate news of the work of the Board into the hands of the pastors and other leaders in the churches. It has been so much in demand that reprints have had to be made repeatedly of every issue. It is planned to make its publication fill the need for leaflets and tracts during those periods of the year when special emphasis is being given missions in the states.

The other general agency at our service in telling the people about the work of the Board is Home and Foreign Fields. This missionary monthly is one of the best edited denominational magazines in America. Its present circulation is entirely too small for a healthly growth of the missionary spirit of our people, and it should be a matter of vital concern to this board to lend its best efforts to an endeavor to increase its circulation as quickly as possible. At present it has only 13,000 paid subscriptions. It should be no less than 30,000 and can be if we will unite in a determined effort to bring it to that figure during this present year. We have been giving to this magazine the most significant of our feature articles for the past four years.

The state papers are another vital factor in our missionary educational work. Their needs are different from those of any other of our publications, being able to use only brief current items of interest from our fields as a rule. With our present limited force it is impossible to carry out any definite schedule of sending regular items to these papers since many of them do not accept syndicated material. We can hope, however, to get occasional news items to them, and feature stories for all that will use them. The Baptist Messenger, Western Recorder and Baptist Advance have been especially generous in giving space to Home Mission articles this year. The Missouri Baptist Bulletin had a most attractive special Home Mission number in March.

We need to lay out a definite program of Home Mission study, inclusive of all these features now being carried on:

- 1. Adequate presentation of Home Mission fields, needs, work and workers in all current periodicals.
- 2. Survey studies of mission fields in the Southland presented preferably through Home and Foreign Fields.
- 3. A booklet each year giving brief survey of all the work of the Board, suitable for use by all organizations and as basis for programs, study classes, and as source for talks. This should be published by the board as publicity material.
- 4. One book presenting a detailed study of a definite field of Home Missions, at least every two years, published as study course book by Sunday School Board.
- 5. Well correlated group of books for young people, graded and built to conform to modern educational ideas, published by Sunday School Board.
- 6. Helps for leaders of organizations and mission study teachers, such as picture sheets, project programs and maps to accompany the general books of mission study published by the M. E. M. and other non-denominational agencies.
- 7. Slide lectures revised each year to suit the missionary topics and books for the year.
- 8. Fostering of church schools of missions, and provision of helps and literature for their promotion.
- 9. Use of the Exhibit at Assemblies, and other general gatherings between conventions.
- 10. Co-operation with schools, colleges and seminaries in providing suitable helps for adequate vivid presentation of Home Missions through all courses dealing with missions and related subjects.

This is an outline of the larger phases of missionary education which Home Mission Board should foster through its mission study department. It is a program of arresting interest for it is fundamental in the building of an intelligent missionary spirit among our people.

In furtherance of this program, your mission study editor has during this year written 51 articles for periodicals and magazines of southwide circulation, regular contributions being made to Home and Foreign Fields, World Comrades, and The B.Y.P.U. Magazine. Practically every magazine published by Southern Baptists has been reached by one or more articles during the year.

In addition, 34 articles of varying length have been sent to the State papers during the year, either directly to the editors or to the W.M.U. secretaries for use on their pages in the papers during the time of the W.M.U. Home Mission Week of Prayer. Four articles written by others have been edited and sent to the State papers. Every article sent to the magazines of Southwide circulation has been used, while only about 20 per cent of those sent to State papers were used.

During the year 2,144 letters concerning the work have been written, 52 programs prepared for various organizations, plans made for a year-round program of mission study for the B.S.U. of one university campus, and suggested programs outlined for near a score of Church Schools of Missions. One comprehensive book list of home mission books has been prepared and many book lists arranged in answer to special requests.

Two pageants have been prepared for the 1930 Southern W.M.U. Convention in New Orleans, the book review pages prepared for Home and Foreign Fields and The Window for the major part of the year, and two booklets on Home Missions, Look Upon the Fields, for W.M.S., and The Candy Kid, for Young People, prepared for use by W.M.U. during the March Week of Prayer and Self Denial Offering for Home Missions. Fourteen slide lectures have been revised, and eight slide lectures written on four new fields of Home Missions. Other program editors have been supplied with material for programs on Home Missions, and six leaflets prepared for printing by Southern W.M.U.

The exhibit prepared for the 1929 Southern Baptist Convention has been used during the entire year, the whole being set up at Ridgecrest for the Y.W.A. Camp and Student Retreat, and sections being sent during the year to assemblies and mission study classes in Texas, Virginia, Louisiana, Kentucky, Tennessee and two assemblies in Missouri. Many packets of pictures of Home Mission fields have been sent to mission study class teachers in Missouri, Georgia, Virginia, South Carolina, Tennessee and Texas. Pictures have also been supplied the Mission Department of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, and sent in abundance to the editors of Home and Foreign Fields, World Comrades, The Window, Baptist Student, B.Y.P.U. Magazine, Church Administration, and all the State papers that could use them.

During the year your mission study editor has spent 227 days of the year at her desk and 122 on the field, traveling 11,069 miles in order to speak 70 times in nine of the states of the convention. She has attended seven state conventions, taught in three Church Schools of Missions, one assembly, and visited six colleges and seminaries. She has visited eight of the mission fields of the Home Mission Board and six unoccupied mission fields, securing pictures and material for articles from all. The results of these survey trips have been crystallized in articles, new slide lectures and the 1930 Exhibit.

It has been a year of glorious hard work, but the joys have far outweighed the hardships as the days have brought evidences of the increasing interest of the people in the fundamental mission task in the Homeland.

Of all the journeying mercies, ministries of gracious friends and heart-warming cooperation of pastors, W.M.U., Sunday school and B.Y.P.U. workers, seminary professors and all who have contributed to the furtherance of our work during the year—there is not space to tell. A faithful workmate at the typewriter who was more than a stenographer has made the whole year's work easier. Here must be recorded my gratitude for every grace of hospitality and friendship shown me for the work's sake.

REPORT OF MISS EMMA LEACHMAN

On September 1, 1930, I will have been on the field as Home Mission Board representative nine years. It rejoices my heart to say that never during the nine years has the Home Mission Board message been received with greater appreciation, interest and sympathy than during this closing year. I have had the privilege of touching the heart life and of feeling the pulse of Southern Baptists as few have.

In my travels of more than 13,000 miles by train and more than 4,000 miles by bus and auto, in over three hundred different Baptist churches, taking part in every sort of program Southern Baptists put on, I feel I can say that Southern Baptists have decided to put first things first—and that first thing is to introduce Jesus Christ to the whole wide world. Southern Baptists I find more eager for first-hand information and more willing to study missions than ever before.

In my thirty-six Mission Study Classes I had 1,739 enrolled for real class work, while many hundreds attended the open class but did not take examinations. Over 900 mission study books were sold through these classes, besides placing in the hands of individuals many thousands of tracts.

No more hopeful sign could I find anywhere for the future of Southern Baptists than in the five Baptist colleges where it was my privilege to speak and teach, to see how eagerly the youth of today listened to the first-hand message of the Home Mission task. The same spirit was manifest in the twenty-six high schools in which I spoke, in the eight State schools, in the forty-three Sunday schools, in the State W.M.U. Convention, in State Assemblies, Divisional Meetings, Quarterly Meetings, in 114 local Woman's Missionary Societies, in Associational Conferences, in G.A. House Parties, and Ridgecrest Encampment—everywhere the message of the Home Mission task was well received.

It is my prayer that we may take courage and move forward with faith.

SUMMARY OF THE WORK OF THE HOME MISSION BOARD FOR THE FISCAL YEAR 1929-1930

This summary gives an epitome of the work of the various Home Board Departments, so far as may be done in terms common to all. The further activities of all departments will be found in detail in the proper place in the report.

The larger part of the service in cities is included under the heads "Foreigners," "Camp Work," "Good Will Centers," and "Seamen's Institute." In order to show the activities of teachers and Good Will Centers in work among Foreigners and Indians, we have separated their reports from the missionary pastors and a detailed statement of their work will be found under the report of "Independent and Direct Missions."

*Except in the case of "Mountain Schools" and "Cuba," the teachers are included in the first figures at the top of each column, showing the number of workers. For explanation of the teachers in Cuba, see the report on Cuba. ALCOHOLD TOOLS

THE SOUTHERN BAPTIST HOSPITAL, NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA

OF THE

SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD

(To the Southern Baptist Convention, New Orleans, Louisiana.)

I. J. VAN NESS, Executive Secretary Nashville, Tenn.

During the past year we have suffered two notable losses, Dr. G. C. Savage, who, with the exception of one year when he voluntarily retired from the Board, served continuously from the time of the Board's establishment. Dr. Savage rendered notable service as a scientist and physician, as a citizen and an active church member. He was always interested in the work of our Board and faithful to all obligations which it imposed.

Equally notable is the death of Mr. Landrum P. Leavell, who began his work with the Sunday School Board as a field secretary in 1904, serving first as a Sunday school secretary and later representing the B.Y.P.U. work. At the time of his death he was the head of our B.Y.P.U. Department. He was one of the little group of pioneers who made Sunday school and B.Y.P.U. work a reality to Southern Baptists. With great charm of personality, eloquent speech, and farreaching intelligence, he made an impress upon a generation such as has been made by few people.

The Board elected to succeed Dr. Savage, Rev. R. Kelly White, pastor of the Belmont Heights Baptist Church, and Mr. J. E. Lambdin, who had been associated with the B.Y.P.U. Department before Mr. Leavell's death, was elected to succeed him.

Our business for the year has maintained a steady level, but has not increased materially over the preceding period. It will be remembered that our receipts for the 1928-29 convention period fell off some $45,000.00 over the preceding year, practically all of this being from our book stores. For the present year, however, our receipts from all sources have gone to $1,873,823.38, recording a slight gain over the preceding year. Under all the existing conditions we regard this as a most excellent result.

It may be of interest to have a comprehensive view of the Sunday School Board's business during the last five years and to see how this business has been divided among the various departments. Attached to it is a statement of the Sunday school and B.Y.P.U. enrollments for each of the years. An examination will show that our increase in business has naturally followed the increase in enrollment and in development. We have had larger sales because we have had more people to sell to. It has sometimes been argued that our receipts indicated that we were over-taxing our people. This table shows much more accurately that our receipts have increased because we have been growing both in Sunday school and B.Y.P.U. enrollment. It will be interesting also to notice how our merchandise receipts have increased with the organization of our chain of book stores. There is also a notable shift to the graded lessons. Indeed by far the largest proportion of our gains has been in the sales of merchandise, which includes our book stores.

DISPOSITION OF OUR EARNINGS

Although our receipts have increased only slightly over the preceding year we have been enabled to carry the promotion work of the Board, with slightly larger contributions to the various denominational interests, particularly the Sunday School and B.Y.P.U. work in the States. The total contributions to various lines of denominational work amount to $519,051.79.

Attention is called to the new statement of the distribution of these appropriations presented in this report, which illustrates more exactly the direction which our appropriations have taken. It will be seen from this table that by far the greater part of these denominational contributions were given to aid other agencies, rather than expended upon our own direct lines of work. We have maintained our departments which are non-productive and do no business, but render free service to the denomination, at about the same rate as in previous years. Notable among these appropriations are those directly given to helping the state boards. As was reported last year, we reached a new basis for our relations with the state boards and have given them much larger sums and left to them to a greater extent the distribution of this help. A careful examination of this table will show how vitally the earnings of the Board are entering into our denominational life, and especially how they ultimately touch the churches, through the state organizations in the vital work of their local development. It has been seriously proposed that these earnings should go to pay the debts on other boards, but are not these dividends going where they belong, namely, to the local churches and through the state mission boards, and thus to the members in these schools, who are helped by our field departments?

DISPOSITION OF OUR EARNINGS

NEW PROPERTY

We recently had presented to us a proposition to purchase property on Ninth Avenue immediately adjoining that which we already own and connecting with the Printing Building which is also our property. This property has a frontage of 60 feet on Ninth Avenue and continues along an alley to another alley at the depth of 160 feet. We bought this property for the fixed price of $27,500.00, paying $1,000.00 down and the remainder in five years at 4% interest, with the privilege of paying for it at any time during that period. The property is well worth in the average market conditions at least half as much again as we paid for it. While we have no present need for this property it enables us to protect ourselves from disagreeable neighbors, and as it is free from taxation it will present not only a good form of investment, but as has been said, a protection to us.

OUR STUDENT WORK

We expect to hold in the fall of 1930 the second of our Southwide Student Conferences under the direction of our Department of Student Work. Our plan has been to hold state conferences of the students for a period of three years and then every fourth year to hold a Southwide meeting. This brings one Southwide meeting in each student generation. We are now planning for this Southwide Conference in Atlanta, October 30-November 2. At this conference we expect to gather students from all over the Convention territory.

The second Essay Contest for college students was held during the year. The topic assigned was "The Proper Relationship of Church and State as Viewed and Held by Baptists." The contest created more interest than in the previous year and some very fine papers were sent in. The first prize was awarded to Miss Blanche Mays, Ouachita College, Arkadelphia, Ark. Similar essay prizes will be given this year, and the topic suggested is "The Precepts and Principles of the Christian Life as Portrayed by John Bunyan in Pilgrim's Progress, Grace Abounding, and Holy War." The offering of these prizes has awakened widespread interest and their effect upon the student body is farreaching. It should be borne in mind that this department of student activities, the latest of our departments, was passed on to us by the Convention itself.

RURAL WORK

Brief mention must be made of our continued efforts to reach the rural churches and Sunday schools. We have been conducting these campaigns now for a long time, operating always upon the simple principle that Baptist churches could find a way to do Sunday school and Young People's work according to their circumstances if their attention was called to it and some help given. The response, as would be expected, has been gradual and yet far-reaching. We have made little boasting but with the co-operation of the state organizations we are little by little helping rural churches to do their own work in the best possible way. Innumerable instances could be related. surprising attainments could be related by rural churches, some big and some little, who have organized themselves for more effective work along these lines. One of the last developments is to work through Associational leaders, these leaders being grouped for conference and instruction, and then assuming the oversight of a whole association, visiting church after church. Our work is practical and is based upon the assumption that the Sunday school is a religious institution and that Baptist churches must continue to use it as a religious help rather than to secularize both church and school. We have also held that Baptist churches have as much right to continue as Baptist churches, in the country as in the city, and that there is no need for a denial of religious convictions and to form union enterprises, in order to succeed. We can point to thousands of schools proving the contrary.

CHANGES IN OUR PAPERS

As reported last year, the Board has readjusted the publication of its weekly papers. The most striking change was in the adoption of the term KIND WORDS SERIES and abandoning this as a title for our young people's paper, which was renamed The Challenge. A new weekly paper was introduced under the name of The Intermediate Weekly. These changes have been successfully carried through to the satisfaction of our people and have resulted in some little increase in the totals of our circulations. We hear nothing but favorable comments for these changes.

RIDGECREST

The Convention gave its approval at its last session to our assuming charge, for a period of three years, of the summer program at Ridgecrest, acceding to the request of the Executive Committee as previously made. As stated then, our purpose in assuming this new obligation was a sense of duty to the denomination. With a heavy obligation resting upon it, it seemed out of keeping with our Baptist credit and honor to close an institution of this kind until its indebtedness had been readjusted. We maintained at Ridgecrest last summer an interesting program and had a good attendance. The receipts covered the general administrative work of the assembly, but additional expenditures had to be made by us in taking care of the property and adjusting it to meet the new conditions. For the present year we are making some improvements in the grounds, not only beautifying the property but doing many things necessary to its maintenance and so that it would not deteriorate. We are hoping that the attendance will so increase that during this and the succeeding year we will be reimbursed for these expenditures.

Among other features, we are planning a Boys' Camp for two months during the summer. Mr. Chas. W. Burts will be in charge of this camp. He has had five years' experience in various camps and is a young man of high character. We are hoping very much to establish a camp this year on a basis which will prove to be permanent and make it a lasting contribution. The provisional program for Ridgecrest, so far as outlined, is as follows:

- June 17-26—Y.W.A. Camp. Under direction of Miss Pearle Bourne, Associate Young People's Secretary, Woman's Missionary Union.
- June 27-July 4—Baptist Student Retreat. Under direction of Department of Student Work, Frank H. Leavell, Secretary.
- July 1—Aug. 26—Boys' Camp. Under direction of Mr. Chas. W. Burts.
- July 5-11—Meeting of "Murchison Clan" and Ridgecrest Reunion.
- July 13-19—Social Service Week. Baptist Hospitals, Orphanages and Good Will Centers.
- July 20-26—North Carolina Week. Under direction of Dr. Chas E. Maddry and Baptist State Mission Board Workers; Dr. W. F. Powell preaching each day.
- July 27-Aug. 2—Adult Class Teachers' Week. Dr. John R. Sampey will lecture each night on one of the Sunday school lessons, and this will be discussed by various adult class teachers from the standpoint of presentation in class work.
- Aug. 3-6—Dr. W. L. Poteat "Christian Principles as Applied to Civic Duties."

Aug. 7-16—Church Leadership Conference for Pastors, Sunday School and B.Y.P.U. Directors, Pastors' Assistants, Educational Directors, Treasurers, Superintendents, and Class Officers.

Aug. 17-24—Preaching: Dr. M. E. Dodd, Shreveport, La.

Aug. 25-29—Final exercises of Boys' Camp, entertainment by employes, and other exercises.

A PECULIAR SITUATION

We had presented to us during the year an interesting and perplexing situation. The Convention at the session of 1929 appointed brethren from Arizona, who had previously been seated as messengers in the Convention, as members of the Executive Committee, and of the Foreign and Home Boards, thus giving recognition to a constituency in that state. Our workers were asked to give their services to these churches whose affiliation had been recognized by the Convention's action. The Arizona brethren had meanwhile organized and placed an agent in the field to do Sunday school and B.Y.P.U. work, and asked our help in this work. No other convention agency seemed able to assist them. In this emergency we, without precedent to work on, did not feel that it was just to leave them unassisted for the few months remaining until this meeting, so we aided them to keep their organization intact until the Southern Baptist Convention met, but on the express condition that no use should be made of this as in any way pledging Convention action. We now present our action for the Convention's approval.

CRITICISM

The Board has been subjected to some criticism during the year in regard to matters appearing in its periodicals. These matters were laid before the annual meeting of the Board in March and were referred to a committee, which committee reported as follows, the report being adopted unanimously by the Board:

"While we regret any mistakes, either doctrinally or otherwise, that have crept into our literature, and while we believe in the wisdom and doctrinal integrity of our editors, we do urge them to exercise great care in the selection of writers and in editing manuscripts. We reaffirm our approval of the principles set forth by the Executive Secretary, and adopted by the Board at its December, 1929, meeting:

- "1. That the work of the Sunday School Board should be constructive and for the promotion of the generally established views of our denomination, and that all articles should conserve this principle.
- "'2. That our periodicals are not for the exploitation of personal or peculiar views on the part of the individuals who may be selected as writers, but we ask that the writers shall subordinate their views to the principle stated above.
- "'3. That our writers shall avoid the discussion of questions, at any time, which are unsettled and the occasion of sharp issues among our people; our periodicals being for the instruction of children, young people and others in the great fundamental principles of our denomination and their enlightenment in a personal knowledge of the Bible."

ADVERTISEMENTS

In accordance with action taken at the annual meeting of the Board in 1927, our columns were again opened to commercial advertising. It has taken us some time to develop a satisfactory advertising business, but we have now been able to bring it to a place where we can better control it, and at the same time we find it yielding us a comparatively large income. The whole matter was discussed at the annual meeting of the Board and the following resolution was adopted:

"We find the following reasons for these advertisements:

"First, Because of increased obligations imposed by the Convention and the desire not to curtail the regular work of the Board.

"Second, Because of our obligations to firms engaging these advertisements we feel that we must recognize the existing contracts which were made on the authority of the Board. We realize the necessity of continuing the advertising for some time because of contracts now existing, and because of the labor and expense incurred during the last quarter.

"Third, We recommend that advertisements be re-written to eliminate any objectionable features.

"Fourth, We recommend that at the termination of the present contracts, the matter of advertising as now in force be discontinued, if this can be done in justice to all parties concerned; provided also that new contracts of high grade class may be accepted by the management of the Board until the next annual meeting.

"Fifth, We recommend that we ask the Executive Secretary to report on this whole matter in detail at the next annual meeting of the Board."

It will be seen that this leaves the matter for future adjustment by the Board and is based upon the hope that we may secure a quality of advertising which may not be objectionable, and at the same time have the benefit of the comparatively large income which can thus be produced for us.

BOOKS PUBLISHED

We have published twenty-three books during the last year. Most of these have been our own publications and have been manufactured here. We think we have made notable improvement in the quality of books which we have manufactured ourselves. The most notable achievement in the way of publication is the first two volumes of a series of six by Dr. A. T. Robertson on WORD PICTURES IN THE NEW TESTAMENT. This series of books bids fair to be one of the very remarkable religious publications of this period. It will be issued by Richard R. Smith, Incorporated, New York City, a new firm through which we are now operating in securing for our writers a reading beyond our own constituency. We have a number of other books which will be issued through them.

While still convinced that publishing books is not our main business, we believe it to be a part of the service which we should render to our people, in discovering authors and in giving them the widest possible constituency of readers. We make arrangements with an outside publisher who gives exploitation to such books in the wider field. We could set up an agency of our own to do this, but it would be expensive, and while we might attain an added satisfaction from the standpoint of pride, we would have to divert funds which can be used much better for the development of our field work. We do not feel that this arrangement sacrifices anything on the part of our writers, but on the contrary has helped them greatly. At the same time it lets us devote the energies necessary to this nationwide exploitation, to our more important, or at least more direct, task of promoting Sunday school, B.Y.P.U., and student development.

OUR TRACT WORK

We have printed during the year 1,341,700 tracts in our regular and special issues, making a total to date of 19,964,100. The list for tracts which we now have available for free distribution for pastors and other workers is as follows:

THE BAPTIST HYMNAL

It will be recalled that some two years ago we issued in connection with the American Baptist Publication Society the New Baptist Hymnal, a book of superior quality. The earlier edition of this hymnal was printed for us in the East. More recent editions have been printed in Nashville, and we think the appearance of the book and its durability have been greatly increased by this change in manufacture. Because of its joint publication we did not have absolute control of its prices. Recently, however, both parties to the enterprise have agreed to a reduction in price which now presents this standard hymnal for 75 cents a copy. This hymnal will be used by the Convention in New Orleans. It is the first recent attempt to include in a standard hymnal the best specimen of the modern gospel music. Much of the modern gospel music is pleasing, but the poetry does not, as a rule, entitle it to a place of permanence in hymnology. We believed, however, in making this hymn book that the gospel music period, as it may be described, had produced standard hymns which ought to be given permanency in our hymnal. We recommend this book to the attention of our people as the best high-grade book of its kind available.

OUR GENERAL FIELD WORK

We still have a force of general workers available for service in the churches. This force includes: Dr. B. W. Spilman, Dr. Harvey Beauchamp, Dr. W. S. Wiley, Mr. E. E. Lee, Miss Margaret A. Frost and Miss A. L. Williams.

In addition to these we have developed a great force of some two or three hundred qualified workers living in the various states, who are familiar with our methods, and upon whom we can call for special service. This mobile force is a vital part in the effectiveness of our field operations. It is a place at which we can restrict our work temporarily if necessary for purposes of economy, and at the same time gives us a large force, the cost of which is much less than with regularly employed workers. Without this force it would be impossible for us to meet the demands of the churches, and the state Sunday school and B.Y.P.U. men would be almost helpless to meet the demands made upon them.

STATE WORKERS

We give below a list of the general Sunday school and B.Y.P.U. secretaries in the various states, through whose co-operation our great field work is possible:

CO-OPERATION WITH THE WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION AND THE BAPTIST BROTHERHOOD

We have co-operated during the year with the Woman's Missionary Union and have contributed $3,200.00 to their general expenses.

We have continued our distribution of Bibles and Testaments for the year to the amount of $3,611.37, meeting every reasonable request. We received from the W.M.U. for this purpose $1,698.35.

We have also continued our co-operation with the Baptist Brotherhood, carrying a proportionate part of their expenses amounting to $4,705.00 for the past year We have been glad to have a part in the fine work which is being done by Dr. J. T. Henderson and Mr. George J. Burnett, especially in promoting business methods in church management and in systematic giving.

OUR DEPARTMENTS

For some years the Sunday School Board has carried on its general field and promotional work through distinct departments, organized with specialized leadership. A large degree of initiative is given to these departments, within the limits of responsibility to the general organization of the Board. No similar agency in this, or any country, has a superior force of capable leaders. The reports of these departments will be found as a part of this general report, and should be carefully read.

IS OUR WORK DONE?

We have presented such favorable reports for several years, that it now becomes our duty to call attention to less favorable figures. It is true that other religious bodies have suffered losses, but we have been accustomed only to gains. Dr. E. P. Alldredge, however, has presented us with figures that call us to increased activities. The losses are not serious, and they parallel similar losses by other denominations in the same period, but we are planning to immediately go to work in the states showing these losses, seeking to remedy the situation.

The figures for 1930, as compared with those for last year, are as follows: Number of Sunday schools (1929) 21,399, (1930) 20,972, a loss of 427. Enrollment, (1929) 2,797,129, (1930) 2,776,665, a loss of 20,464. Number of B.Y.P.U.'s (1929) 22,850, (1930) 24,273, a gain of 1,423. Enrollment (1929) 500,564, (1930) 501,405, a gain of 841.

EDITORIAL DEPARTMENT

Principles.—The Editorial Department most heartily concurs in the following principles proposed by the Executive Secretary to the local Board in December, 1929, and approved by the full Board in annual meeting in March, 1930, outlining the fundamental of editorial policy of the Board from the beginning and for the future:

- "1. That the work of the Sunday School Board should be constructive and for the promotion of the generally established views of our denomination, and that all articles should conserve this principle.
- "2. That our periodicals are not for the exploitation of personal or peculiar views on the part of individuals who may be selected as writers, but we ask that writers shall subordinate their views to the principle stated above.
- "3. That our writers shall avoid the discussion of questions, at any time, which are unsettled and the occasion of sharp issues among our people; our perodicals being for the instruction of children, young people and others in the great fundamental principles of our denomination and their enlightenment in a personal knowledge of the Bible."

Objectives.—At a conference of our editors and lesson writers on January 28, 1930, the Editorial Secretary proposed for the department the following objectives and tests, with special reference to lesson expositions:

As to content—(1) Biblical: Is it true to the Bible? (2) Baptistic: Is it consistent with the doctrines of our denominaton? (3) Evangelistic: Are people likely to be saved by studying and teaching it? (4) Devotional: Is it calculated to deepen the spiritual life? (5) Developing: Does it animate and equip for Christian service? (6) Missionary: Does it breathe the spirit of the Great Commission? (7) Practical: Does it connect with life?

As to treatment—(1) Adaptable: Does it fit in the lesson series and meet the pupil's need? (2) Pedagogical: Does it provide for suitable outcomes with adequate materials through varied activities and according to well-planned procedure for the lesson period? (3) Literary: Is it expressed in clear and forceful language which teacher and pupil cannot fail to understand? (4) Typographical: Is it printed in the most appealing and effective way?

Circulation.—Thirty-five periodicals are now being issued by the Board: five weeklies, nine monthlies, twenty quarterlies and one annual ("Points for Emphasis," a pocket commentary on the Uniform Lessons, the issue for 1930 being the thirteenth annual volume and having a circulation of 25,000 copies in English, besides editions in Spanish, Portuguese and Chinese). The circulation of these several periodicals during the past Convention year has been as follows:

Editorial Staff.—With Hight C. Moore as editorial secretary, Noble Van Ness as managing editor, and Herman F. Burns, staff artist, our editorial staff is as follows:

Our helps for the Improved Uniform Series include one monthly, eleven quarterlies and one annual. The monthly is The Teacher, edited by Dr. Moore. The Elementary group of quarterlies, including Picture Lesson Cards, Primary Teacher's Quarterly, Children's Quarterly, Junior Quarterly and Junior Teacher's Quarterly, is edited by Miss Robbie Trent, while Dr. Moore edits the Intermediate Quarterly and Lesson Leaf (which is reproduced from the Adult Bible Class Quarterly), Advanced Quarterly, Adult Bible Class Quarterly and Home Department Magazine and prepares the pocket lesson quarterly, On the Wing with the Word, which is rearranged from his annual pocket commentary, "Points for Emphasis." In addition, The Sunday School Builder and Sunday School Young People and Adults carry treatments of the Uniform Lessons of special value to their particular groups of readers.

The Graded Elementary Magazine, a monthly journal of help to those using the Graded Lesson Series, is edited by Miss Robbie Trent.

Our periodicals of training for Young People's Unions and for students include two monthlies and six quarterlies. The monthlies are The Monthly B.Y.P.U. Magazine, under the editorial direction of Secretary J. E. Lambdin of the B.Y.P.U. Department, and The Baptist Student (published monthly for the nine school months of the year), edited by Secretary Frank H. Leavell of the Department of Southern Baptist Student Work. Mr. Lambdin also edits all our B.Y.P.U. quarterlies—The Junior B.Y.P.U. Quarterly, The Junior Leader's B.Y.P.U. Quarterly, The Intermediate B.Y.P.U. Quarterly, The Intermediate B.Y.P.U. Quarterly, Quarterly, The Senior B.Y.P.U. Quarterly, and The B.A.U. Quarterly.

Our five weekly illustrated story papers, with their editors, are: The Challenge, Dr. Moore and Mr. Van Ness; The Intermediate Weekly, Mr. Van Ness and Mrs. Preston; The Junior Girl, Mrs. Novella Dillard Preston; The Junior Boy, Mr. Van Ness; Storytime, Mrs. Ruth Taylor, who also edits our quarterly story paper, The Cradle Roll Home.

Our three monthlies in the field of administration are The Sunday School Builder for pastors, superintendents and all Sunday school officers, edited by Secretary Arthur Flake of the Department of Sunday School Administration; Sunday School Young People and Adults, for officers, teachers, and pupils in the Young People's-Adult and Extension Departments, edited by Secretary William P. Phillips of the Young People's-Adult Department; and Church Administration, for pastors, deacons and other church officers, edited by Secretaries Prince E. Burroughs and Clay I. Hudson of the Department of Church Administration.

Our monthly missionary magazine, Home and Foreign Fields, which is published in co-operation with the Home Mission Board of Atlanta, Georgia, and the Foreign Mission Board, of Richmond, Virginia, is edited by Dr. G. S. Dobbins, professor in the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Kentucky.

Four department periodicals are printed for free distribution: The Elementary Messenger (quarterly), edited by Miss Lilian S. Forbes of the Elementary Department; The Intermediate Counselor (quarterly), edited by Miss Mary Virginia Lee of the Intermediate Department; Hints and Helps (weekly), edited by Dr. Prince E. Burroughs of the Educational Department; and Monthly Book Talk, edited by Dr. John L. Hill, Book Editor.

Kind Words Series.—By authority of the Board at its annual meeting a year ago and with approval of the last Convention, we began the publication of our illustrated weeklies (five papers, one of them new) with the first of October, 1929, all to be known as the "Kind Words Series," newly graded and renamed as follows:

STORYTIME. For children in the Primary department. Ages 6, 7, 8. Succeeding Child's Gem.

THE JUNIOR GIRL. For girls in the Junior department. Ages 9, 10, 11, 12. Succeeding The Girls' Weekly.

THE JUNIOR BOY. For boys in the Junior department. Ages 9, 10, 11, 12. Succeeding The Boys' Weekly.

THE INTERMEDIATE WEEKLY. For boys and girls in the Intermediate department. Ages 13, 14, 15, 16. New paper.

THE CHALLENGE. For all in the Young People's-Adult department. Ages 17 and upward. Succeeding Kind Words.

There is every assurance that these story papers are operating acceptably and effectively, and we are hoping for them a far wider service through a vastly increased circulation.

New Papers.—During the Convention year two new periodicals (one weekly and one quarterly) have been added to our list. The Intermediate Weekly appeared October, 1929, and the B. A. U. Quarterly appeared January, 1930. The name of The Graded Lesson Helper is being changed to Graded Elementary Magazine and some slight changes made in the policy of the paper.

In establishing a new paper we undertake, first, to meet a need that is widespread and urgent; and, secondly, to meet that need at greatest economy to the average school, though sometimes at reduced profits for the Board.

Addition to Staff.—To succeed Miss Willie Jean Stewart, whose entire time has since been devoted to the revision of our Graded Lessons, Miss Robbie Trent, of Louisville, Kentucky, came to us in July, 1929, as editor of the Uniform Lessons for the several grades in the Elementary Department. In the editorial office of the Western Recorder for eight years, she had excellent and extended journalistic experience. Her work evinces good pedagogical judgment and a thorough knowledge of the doctrines of our faith.

Lesson Lists.—The Educational Commission of the International Council of Religious Education through its Committee on Uniform Lessons of which Dr. John R. Sampey is Chairman and Drs. Van Ness and Moore are members, prepares the Uniform Lesson Lists which we use, after making any changes that may seem desirable for our constituency. But since these lists are adapted only for Intermediates, Young People and Adults, we have been preparing and publishing without charge each year "Primary and Junior Adaptations" which have been used extensively by other publishing houses in this country and abroad. In March of this year our staff prepared the "Primary and Junior Adaptations of the Uniform Lessons for 1932" and many copies have been distributed.

Missionary Emphasis.—In accordance with the Convention plan to magnify missions in the spring and autumn of each year, we are arranging for missionary articles, expository notes, applications, stories and verse in our several periodicals for March and October.

Radio Service.—Beginning in January, 1929, the Editorial Secretary, through the courtesy of the National Life and Accident Insurance Company of Nashville, has been giving over Station WSM each Saturday evening a fifteen-minute exposition of the International Sunday School Lesson (Uniform Series) for the next day. Appreciation of this service has come from as far away as North Dakota and Cuba, West Virginia and west Texas.

Budget.—For lesson expositions, special articles, illustrations and unsolicited manuscripts, the Editorial Department has expended a total of $34,529.85 during the year. This amount is somewhat larger than previously owing to the fact that a little more is now being paid for available manuscripts, some new periodicals have been added to our list, and we have had some of our expositions written nearly a year ahead. It is probable that no larger budget will be necessary for the next Convention year.

Revision of Graded Series.—The revision of our closely graded series of lessons begun last year is progressing satisfactorily despite the difficulties of the task. The plan being followed is rather complicated but, we feel, well worthwhile. The lessons are issued, first, in temporary form a year before their final and complete issuance. This temporary form of lessons is sent to a selected list of classes where they are actually used. Each lesson contains a separate sheet of questions upon which the teacher makes any suggestions or criticisms arising from their actual use of these lessons in class.

These questionnaires are then reassembled by the Editorial Department and all usable suggestions are incorporated in the final form.

The final form of Beginner first year; Primary, first year; and Junior, first year, will be ready for use beginning with Part One (October, November, December), 1930. The second year of all lessons through the Junior will be issued beginning with October, 1931. Similarly in October, 1932, will appear the third year from the Primary through the Junior; in October, 1933, will appear the fourth year Junior. The Intermediate course will follow a schedule one year later.

This plan enables all pupils in our Sunday schools to complete their work in the department in which they are now enrolled without a break in the lesson course. In other words, all except the first year pupils of each department will finish the old courses outlined for that department, while all pupils just starting in the first year of any department will find the new course ready for them as they are promoted from year to year.

In addition to this advantage, the year-by-year revision allows the Sunday school to replace the old courses with the new year by year; thus distributing the replacement over a four-year period.

The new series of graded lessons is based on outlines formed after many conferences with some of our workers best qualified to make the decisions. All lessons following this outline are based on the Bible, and are to be known as "Graded Bible Lessons—Southern Baptist Convention Series."

The pupils' books or papers are to be six by nine inches with large type and in the Beginner and Primary Departments the leaflets are to be in color.

All teachers' books in the series are to be eight and a half by twelve inches and to carry most attractive covers.

In this new series we are featuring the age of the pupil for whom the lesson is prepared rather than the department to which he belongs, believing that those who order literature will find it more convenient to order by the "age" of the different classes rather than by the old system.

In connection with the new courses we are discontinuing the old Senior Graded for the Young People's department beginning October, 1930. The Young People's department will therefore use the Uniform Lessons from that time.

We feel that we have used all the human skill at our command in preparing for our churches a very useful course of lessons and one which, if God is willing, will be of great value to our Sunday schools and to the pupils under their influence.

BOOK AND TRACT DEPARTMENT

JOHN L. HILL, Editorial Secretary

The chief problem of this department continues to be one of selection; not yet does the interest of our constituency justify the publication of every worthy manuscript. From the increasing number of manuscripts coming to our office we must select on the basis of merit, availability, and demand those which in our judgment will meet with cordial reception at the hands of our book-buying public. It is gratifying to note the sympathetic attitude of writers on the one hand and the approving vote of buyers on the other. Our list this year is somewhat larger than that of last year and is notable not only for the books of current importance but for those of permanent value; incidentally, the pre-publication sales of several of these volumes was most encouraging. Again we are happy in the fact that the names of eight authors appear for the first time in the group of writers.

DEPARTMENT OF CHURCH ADMINISTRA-TION AND BUILDINGS

P. E. BURROUGHS, SECRETARY CLAY I. HUDSON, ASSOCIATE

In three successive sessions of the Southern Baptist Convention, 1925, 1926, and 1927, the Sunday School Board's suggestion of a new department for church administration was approved and the board was each time authorized to inaugurate the new department. In May, 1927, P. E. Burroughs assumed direction of the new venture under the guidance of executive secretary I. J. Van Ness. In June, 1927, Dr. Clay I. Hudson came from the pastorate of the Pritchard Memorial Baptist Church, Charlotte, North Carolina, to serve as associate secretary.

In offering this third annual report we wish to acknowledge the good hand of God upon us. The pillar of cloud by day and the pillar of fire by night have led steadily on. Here we raise our Ebenezer—Hitherto hath the Lord helped us.

The two secretaries along with secretary Van Ness believed without stint in the popular education offered for the Sunday school, the B.Y.P.U., the W.M.U., and the Brotherhood. The successful extension and development of these ministries seemed to justify and call for a yet further step in popular education which should blend these agencies the more closely together and enable our churches to function smoothly and properly as the units which they really constitute. Our effort everywhere and always has been to strengthen these existing agencies and at the same time to propagate wholesome ideals and helpful methods in our churches.

In our ministries whether on the platform or in the press we have sought to magnify the churches. Assuming loyalty and devotion to the churches on the part of the workers in all departments, we have sought to point the way to a general unified support of the entire church program. The agencies mentioned above had in some measure left the deacons in our churches without the instruction and inspiration which the importance of their office seemed to demand. We have therefore given especial attention to groups of deacons and in our training schools and conferences have sought to bring them the guidance which they need.

Much time during the past year has been given to perfecting and producing the Improved Church Treasurer's Record System. At an expense running into many thousands of dollars the Sunday School Board has prepared this system. The need of the churches from the very small country church to the largest city church has been considered and fairly met. The system is offered in bound book, in loose leaf, and in card forms. It is likewise offered for the single budget and for the double budget. The system has already been introduced into many of our churches and the reports which come to us lead us to believe that in this matter the board has met a real need and offered for a helpful, constructive ministry.

It has seemed wise and even necessary to change the plans long honored and useful in training school work and to devise what we have chosen to call Church Administration Conferences. For these conferences we have no hard and fast methods. Sometimes one man conducts the conference, sometimes two or more men do the work. In some instances we have offered work both morning and evening and in other cases we have held only evening sessions.

We offer the report with gratitude to God for his manifest blessing and with appreciation to our brethren for the doors which they have opened to us.

OUR JOURNAL — CHURCH ADMINISTRATION

The Sunday School Board offers this magazine in the hope and belief that it will serve the churches in cultural and practical ways. In this venture, as in many other ventures which have been undertaken by the board, our Southern Baptist people are pioneering. This is the first journal of its kind ever offered by denominational agency.

Church Administration is a technical journal dealing with methods in church administration. While it is especially designed for pastors, deacons, and other church officers, its mission is to deal with the many problems which affect the functioning of a church. We hope, therefore, that leaders in various departments of church work may find suggestion and inspiration in its monthly messages.

Subscription price of the magazine is one dollar a year when mailed to individual addresses. In clubs of five or more sent to one address the price per year is seventy-five cents each. The expense of this magazine for pastors and officers may well be borne by the church budget, as the expense of the Sunday School Builder and The Teacher for Sunday school workers is usually included in the Sunday school budget.

OUR TRACT AND LEAFLET OFFERINGS

The Church Administration department offers leaflets on Stewardship, Tithing, Church Finances, Duties of Deacons and similar subjects. This offering will be increased and varied from time to time. We list below some of the leaflets which are in wide demand among the churches:

Why I Tithe
How One Church Finances Its Work
How One Church Finances Its Work
A Tested Method of Church Finance
Modern Church Finance Methods
Why I Go to Church
Why I Go to Church
Why I Go to Prayer Meeting
Why I Go to the Sunday Night Service
The Overseer and the Flock
A Bold Program for Deacons Who Want to "Deak"Shannon
The Church Council
The Financial Program of the Church

These and other leaflets are offered without charge for use among the churches. Send in your request indicating what tracts you desire and telling the number you can use.

OUR OFFER OF ARCHITECTURAL SERVICE

The Architectural Department formerly maintained by the Sunday School Board is continued as a part of the Department of Church Administration.

Some Lines of Service

- 1. SMALL CHURCHES. We have developed a number of designs for small church buildings, $2,500 to $20,000. Since the small churches are frequently unable to secure architectural service, we have arranged to offer the necessary plans and specifications with working drawings at a merely nominal cost.
- 2. LARGER BUILDINGS. We are equipped to draw and offer preliminary sketches for church buildings of any type. For this service no charge is made.

The Sunday School Board's staff of competent architects is equipped under certain conditions to render full architectural service making plans and specifications with working drawings.

- 3. REMODELING SMALL CHURCHES. Our booklet, Remodeling Church Buildings, will be sent on request without charge, and additional service will be rendered by our architects as may appear necessary.
- 4. REMODELING LARGER CHURCHES. Our architects develop sketches for the enlarging and remodeling of church buildings.
- 5. CONSTRUCTIVE CRITICISM. We examine preliminary sketches and designs making proposals from the standpoint of construction and of practical arrangement. This service sometimes prevents serious mistakes and leads to better and more serviceable buildings.
- 6. CONSULTATION AND CONFERENCES. Pastors and committees are invited to come to our offices in Nashville, Tennessee, for consultations regarding any phases of church building. The secretary and architects will set aside other things at any time to meet such committees.
- 7. AN INFORMATION BUREAU. We will undertake to answer inquiries concerning seating, furnishings, heating, lighting, or other problems which architects or building committees face.
- 8. PASTORS' HOMES. We will upon request furnish suggestive plans for pastors' homes.
- 9. HELPS FOR THE BUILDING CAMPAIGN. We offer without charge a variety of booklets and a series of wall charts to help in the building campaign.
- 10. PRACTICALLY HELPFUL BOOKS. The Sunday School Board offers, A Complete Guide to Church Building (1923), by Secretary P. E. Burroughs ($2.50), and How to Plan Church Buildings (1926) by P. E. Burroughs ($1.25). These books carry a series of suggestive and carefully studied designs ranging from small to very large, indicating some approved methods of housing modern church activities.

EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT

P. E. BURROUGHS, Secretary

OUR TWENTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT OF TEACHER TRAINING

In June, 1901, the Sunday School Board, Dr. J. M. Frost, secretary, brought to Nashville, Tennessee, Dr. B. W. Spilman, with a view to the establishment of a system of Sunday school teacher training for Southern Baptists. This was the first move made toward denominational teacher training. Prior to this time work of this kind had been conducted under the leadership of the International Sunday School Association.

In September, 1901, Southern Methodists brought Dr. H. M. Hamill from Chicago to Nashville, to lay the foundations for their ministry of teacher training. Dr. Spilman, already in the work nearly four months, was at the Nashville station to welcome Dr. Hamill to the field of denominational teacher training.

There has been some good-natured questioning as to who were first in this special field of endeavor, Southern Baptists or Southern Methodists. The real story is told above. The claims of our Methodist brethren have doubtless grown out of the fact that Dr. Hamill brought with him a finished course in teacher training which he had previously offered in the Cook County (Illinois) Sunday School Association. This course was ready for immediate use, while Dr. Spilmal built a new curriculum especially for the Southern Baptist constituency. As Admiral Schley generously said after the battle of Santiago, "There is glory enough to go round." It is enough that Southern Baptists and Southern Methodists were the first of the denominations to catch the vision and to launch the needed effort. It is even more and better that through the long years these people have led the whole country in teacher training effort.

We offer this, our twenty-ninth annual report of Sunday school education, with sober pride and a sense of devout gratitude. The report speaks for itself. It shows that we have closed the greatest and most successful year in the history of this enterprise. Instead of decreasing in volume, as might have been anticipated in view of the extended development of other kindred types of training, this work has shown through the years a steady increase.

The Sunday school, at first a feeble institution, tolerated rather than appreciated in the churches, has grown until it stands unequaled and unchallenged among all the agencies which make for popular religious education and for instruction in the Bible. Great buildings in all parts of the land have risen to house its ministries and to increase its usefulness. It numbers its constituency by the million. Year by year it attains higher efficiency and roots itself more deeply in the hearts of the people.

In offering this report it is a pleasure to list again the agencies which have made possible the showing offered in these pages. There is such an interlocking of agencies that advance along one line means advance in other lines. The Department of Sunday School Administration in offering and extending its course of study has set forward also the general teacher training effort. Likewise the Elementary and the Intermediate and the Young People's-Adult departments have made marked contributions. The State Sunday School Secretaries have in large measure carried the general teacher training work in their several states. The seminaries and the colleges and academies have co-operated and through their teachers much valuable service has been rendered. Pastors, educational directors and Sunday school leaders in city, town and country have, of course, borne the heat and burden of the day. Indeed a vast company at home and on the foreign field has given itself without stint to the wide co-operative effort to equip and train our Sunday school teachers. To all of these faithful workers and to the thousands who during the past year have sought training and received awards, we send greetings and wish for them the largest measure of success and blessing in their ministry.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHER AND THE WORD

The Sunday school teacher should know the pupils and their needs. An intimate acquaintance with pupil life is essential to the successful teacher. He should also know the Bible and its treasures of wisdom. Whoever really knows the Bible through patient and prayerful study is equipped to minister to all kinds of persons. The lover of the Bible brings out of his treasury things new and old. He is never at a loss for the message his pupils need. God's Word throws light upon all our problems. Happy the teacher who is at home with the Bible. Happy the pupil who studies under such a teacher.—John R. Sampey, President, Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky.

THE TRAINED TEACHER

The trained teacher bears the same relation to the untrained teacher that a watch-spring does to a bar of iron—her value has been tremendously increased. The trained teacher of the Bible should know and love her Bible. She should embody its teachings in her life; she should yield loving obedience to its commands. The trained teacher should have a personal experience with a personal Saviour, and should be able by the use of her Bible to direct people to him.

The trained teacher should know good methods of teaching from bad ones, and should use only the good.

The trained teacher should understand how to deal with people.

The trained teacher should be friendly, interested, approachable, cordial, and true.—HELEN BARRETT MONTGOMERY, Rochester, N. Y.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHER AND EVANGELISM

The Sunday school teacher is first, last and always a soul-winner. The soul must be won to a right relationship to God, to others and to the body. Its unfolding powers must be dominated continuously by the Christian ideal. It is the task of the teacher so to instruct, inspire and guide that these adjusments may be rightly made. This is the highest and most effective kind of evangelism.—J. M. PRICE, Religious Education Department, Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, Texas.

THE TRAINED SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHER AND MISSIONS

I think it reasonable to suppose that the trained teacher will desire to address himself to the most important task possible. The greatest work Jesus did during his earthly ministry was the training of the Twelve. They were to carry on after he had gone—he was to project himself through their ministry into all the world. So with the teacher, his spirit, his zeal, his holy enthusiasm for the salvation of the lost everywhere, must be imparted to his pupils, that they may carry on when the teacher shall have passed away. Our whole missionary problem is wrapped up in our trained teachers. The success or failure of the missionary enterprise during the next generation is largely in their hands.—R. P. Mahon, Department of Modern Languages and Christian Missions, Baptist Bible Institute, New Orleans,

A CHRIST CENTERED TEACHER TRAINING PROGRAM

A new term now being extensively used in the educational world is the word "appetence." Appetence means literally "the capacity for an appetite." Each child has this capacity. It is the business of the teacher to create an appetite for knowledge. It is the glorious privilege of the Sunday school teacher to create an appetite for God's Word. All things being equal, consecrated teachers trained are skillful teachers; skillful workers are enthusiastic; enthusiasm for Christ is contagious. Teachers will be evangelistic-will be missionarywhen they have something to share. Christ at the center of the teacher training program will mean for the teaching force of a Sunday school not only an endowment but an enduement.—WILLIAM HALL PRESTON, Department of Student Work, Baptist Sunday School Board, Southern Baptist Convention, Nashville, Tenn.

DEPARTMENT OF SUNDAY SCHOOL ADMINISTRATION

ARTHUR FLAKE, SECRETARY
HAROLD E. INGRAHAM, ASSOCIATE
J. N. BARNETTE, ASSOCIATE

We herewith submit the tenth annual report of the Department of Sunday School Administration of the Sunday School Board.

To record progress is always pleasant work and as we report the progress of the last year, we are grateful to God for his influence and to the people for their co-operation. We are conscious of great and compelling needs yet to be met and trust that the accompanying report is but indicative of greater progress yet to be attained.

STANDARD SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Literally thousands of testimonies from pastors, Sunday school superintendents, and other Sunday school workers on file in our office are filled with the cumulative evidence of the value of this program to their work. The Standard is not set up as an academic test of pedagogical efficiency but as a simple program of work emphasizing practical and spiritual essentials. Below is a comparative statement of the number of schools reaching the Standard during the first four months of the years indicated. We rejoice in this progress.

ADVANCED STANDARD SUNDAY SCHOOLS

The Advanced Standard of Excellence is the highest test that has been set up for our Sunday schools to meet and includes all of the department Standards. For the year 1930 thus far we have had only two Sunday schools in the entire Convention to make successful application for this high award—

University Baptist Sunday School, Abilene, Texas. Pastor, Charles W. Powell; Superintendent, J. Lee Tarpley.

First Baptist Sunday School, Merkel, Texas. Pastor, Ira L. Parock; Superintendent, W. J. Largent.

A NEW BOOK IN THE COURSE IN SUNDAY SCHOOL ADMINISTRATION

This year there has been added to the Course in Sunday School Administration a new book written by the secretary of this department. Its title is The True Functions of the Sunday School. Having been off the press only a short time, yet this book is in popular demand. It clarifies the place of the Sunday school in the work of the church, controverting many erroneous ideas along this line. It reveals the possibilities of the Sunday school organization in promoting many phases of the work of the church with the greatest possible success.

The Course in Sunday School Administration now consists of six books with The Department Sunday School and The Rural and Village Sunday School optional for Book Three. The books in the course and the circulation to date are listed below:

Book I—"Building a Standard Sunday School"—Flake	65,000

FIELD WORK

From its inception this department has promoted the Sunday School Enlargement Campaign as its major field work. This eight-day campaign carried to the individual church includes a census of the church territory which is carefully checked against both church membership and Sunday school roll. From these three sources is drawn an accurate survey of the possibilities of the church and school. The number of classes, departments, and officers is enlarged and the equipment is adjusted to reach every possibility. This enlarged force of workers is taken through courses of study concerning their particular work. A program of visitation is inaugurated to reach the constituency of the school.

The original plan of going to individual churches has been extended to city-wide and associational-wide enlargement campaigns where most or all of the churches of a given city or association engage simultaneously in Sunday school enlargement campaigns under individual church directors but heading up in central day meetings under the direction of the State Sunday School Secretary and some representative of this department.

Other field work includes associational conferences, district and state Sunday school conventions and conferences and other general meetings.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATIONAL ORGANIZATION

This department is majoring on the matter of leading district associations in a practical and workable plan of Sunday school organization, believing—

First: That if our modern program of Sunday school progress is to be carried to all of our churches, this must be done through district associational organizations.

Second: That the district associational organization as promoted offers the best means for continually increasing the effectivenss of the Sunday school work in all the churches.

To guide and help in this work, this department makes and promotes the following suggestions:

- 1. The organization of all district associations according to the plan contained in the Associational Standard of Excellence issued by this department.
- 2. Division of the association into groups with from five to ten churches in a group.
- 3. The securing of monthly reports from each church through the group superintendent, showing the standing of the individual Sunday school.
- 4. Monthly meetings for the Sunday school workers of the association with a practical program based on the needs of the churches as related to their Sunday school work.

Free literature is available in this connection as follows:

Organizing the Association for Sunday School Work
The Associational Standard of Excellence (leaflet and wall chart)
Application Blank for Standard Associational Award
Leaflet of a Year's Suggested Programs for Associational Meetings
Monthly Report of Associational Superintendent
Monthly Report of Sunday School to Associational Superintendent
Monthly Report of Group Superintendent to Associational Superintendent
Wall Charts showing standing of each school on the Standard of Excellence

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL BUILDER

The Sunday School Builder is the official organ of this department and is a monthly magazine dealing with every phase of Sunday school organization and administration. Since the last report there has been an increase of about a thousand in the circulation of the magazine.

This year new features in the Builder are as follows:

The Sunday School Workers' Spiritual Life Page Straight Wires to Sunday School Superintendents A Monthly Program for District Associational Sunday School Meetings Special Emphasis on Pastor's Relation to Sunday School Work

TWO SERIALS

This year two serials of unusual importance are being carried by this magazine. The first is a series on Emphasizing Bible Teaching, by N. R. Drummond, Professor of Administration of Religious Education, Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Seminary Hill, Texas. This is a significant study of the subject by one who is capable of giving the best in this line. The articles in the series are as follows:

I. The Sunday School Emphasizing Bible Teaching II. The Superintendent's Responsibility for Teachin III. The Pastor's Place in Teaching The Superintendent's Responsibility for Teaching

IV. Relation of Organization to Teaching
V. Records a Help in Teaching
VI. The Value of the Weekly Teachers' Meeting

VII. Supervision of Teaching or Improving the Quality of Teaching VIII. Relation of Teaching to Evangelism
IX. Relation of Teaching to Stewardship and Missions
X. Tests of Teaching

Beginning with the August issue there will be a series of articles on Fundamental Principles of Southern Baptist Sunday School Work written by Dr. L. G. Cleverdon, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, Alexandria, La. This timely study on the trends and relationships of our modern Sunday school movements is produced by one who has had very wide and thorough training and experience on all sides of the subject, as a student and as professor of Religious Education in the Baptist Bible Institute, New Orleans, La., and as pastor. The articles in the series are as follows:

> I. Distinctiveness II. The Pupil III. Objectives IV. Organization V. Grading
> VI. Curriculum
> VII. Teaching
> VIII. Standards
> IX. Promotion
> X. Progress

FREE LITERATURE

This department has free literature prepared and ready for any proper distribution on every phase of Sunday school organization and administration. There are special envelopes on the following divisions of our work:

Package of literature on the Standard of Excellence—12 leaflets Package of literature on work of the Department Sunday School—8 leaflets Package of literature on Sunday School Enlargement—9 leaflets Package of literature on the Work of the Rural and Village Sunday School—

10 leaflets

Package of literature on Six Point Record System containing instructions and samples

Also there are some twenty-five independent leaflets on various phases of the work. Anyone interested may send for special leaflet which shows subject matter of each of the sixty-odd leaflets offered by the department.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLINICS

Our Sunday School Clinic was held during the year with the First Baptist Church of Roanoke, Va. There were some seventy-five clinic students and very successful work was accomplished both with them and with the church which is showing a marked increase in its Sunday school attendance since the clinic was held. The clinic students were from eleven different states and of very high character. personnel was made up of active pastors, educational directors, superintendents, and field workers, together with a group of younger people who are pointing their lives toward this work.

A Southwide Clinic is proposed for January, 1931, to be held in the city of New Orleans, La., in connection with the Department of Religious Education, Baptist Bible Institute, together with one of the New Orleans churches. This clinic will include the entire class of Religious Education in the Institute together with outside clinic members gathered for the work. Full three weeks of intensive textbook and practical work are proposed.

LIBRARIES

This department is continuing its new emphasis upon libraries for every Sunday school. Free literature on how to create and operate a library is available and also lists of books suitable for libraries in different type churches. Some libraries have been installed this past year through our work and we shall continue to press this valuable service.

THE SIX POINT RECORD SYSTEM

One of the greatest instruments for making effective the work of the teachers and officers of the Sunday school is the Six Point Record System, properly installed and operated. This is a program of pupil activity as well as a guide for the officers and teachers in their work. It is adapted for use in all types and sizes of Sunday schools and any superintendent who will study this system, properly install it in his Sunday school and lead his officers to rightly evaluate and use it will find it to be a real aid in Bible teaching and all that a Sunday school is set to accomplish.

DEPARTMENT OF SUNDAY SCHOOL YOUNG PEOPLE'S, ADULT, AND HOME AND EXTENSION ADMINISTRATION

WILLIAM P. PHILLIPS, SECRETARY
W. A. HARRELL, ASSOCIATE SECRETARY

This department is pleased to present the fourteenth annual report of activities and results of the work committed to its direction and promotion.

The year just closed is perhaps the most eventful and significant since the department was established fourteen years ago. As a result of the developments of the past twelve months, the department bids fair to strike its gait and make its real impress on the Sunday schools of the Southern Baptist Convention.

A CHURCH CENTERED EMPHASIS

In all of its plans and programs this department has sought to magnify the idea that Sunday school work is church work, that in all its efforts the initiative lies with the church which delegates authority and provides the necessary organization, for which it is at all times responsible. Because of the nature of their constituency and traditions and developments of the past, particularly is such emphasis necessary with these three departments of the Sunday school.

A REVIEW OF ACTIVITIES

Because of the extent and nature of the constituency of the three departments of the Sunday school promoted by this department, its activities must of necessity be of an extensive and varied nature dealing with all phases of department and class organization and administration. The dominant desire of this department is to co-ordinate properly the work of each of the three departments and thus effect their proper correlation with the school. All of the activities have been ordered with that end in view.

FIELD PROGRAM

The field program of this department includes conferences with individual churches, groups of churches in cities and communities and associations, training schools, enlargement campaigns, conventions and assemblies of all types. During the year just closed the workers of this department have engaged in all phases of field activity indicated, several of which deserve mention.

Rural and Village Conference Tours

As was announced in our last report, this department launched the statewide conference tour in the interest of its work, particularly in our rural and village churches. The response and results of these conferences have been exceedingly gratifying. Where such conferences have been held the ministry of the Sunday school to the three great constituent groups as represented by those departments is better understood both as to the work itself and in its relation to the whole. Six states have been covered during the past year with an aggregate attendance of thousands. Other states will be covered as rapidly as time and plans will permit. The Sunday school leadership in the states has been most cordial and sympathetic toward this work.

Citywide Conferences

During the past year, some of the most effective work accomplished by this department has been through a number of citywide conferences of five days' duration into which were gathered Young People's, Adult, and Home and Extension department workers for conference and demonstration. Through the influence of these conferences, Sunday schools have been able to establish functioning departments which had hitherto been seemingly impossible. Requests for such conferences far exceed the time available for same.

Arizona Conference

Upon invitation of the leaders of our Southern Baptist group in Arizona, in co-operation with Sunday school secretary, S. S. Bussell, of New Mexico, this department was asked to lead in promoting a Sunday school program for several churches in that state. Other departments of this board were invited to co-operate. With their help enlargement campaigns were conducted in two churches and a two-day state-wide conference was held setting out the work of this board, with the purpose of giving form and direction to the Sunday school work for the Baptists of that state. Such effort served to stimulate and encourage that heroic and courageous group of Baptists whose churches are affiliated with the Southern Baptist Convention.

OUR NEW BOOKS

As a result of intensive study, observation and demonstration on the field during the nearly five years of the present leadership of this department, the need for three books in section five of the Convention Normal Course for Sunday school workers, presenting separately the work of each of the three departments, has been conclusively demonstrated. These three major groups of the Sunday school due to their scope and importance demand separate treatment. Therefore, the secretary of this department in company with his associate, Mr. W. A. Harrell, have prepared and submitted for publication a manuscript, "The Young People's Department of the Sunday School." There has also been prepared and submitted a manuscript, "The Adult Department of the Sunday School," by the secretary of this department. At the request of this department, Dr. Jos. T. Watts of Baltimore, Maryland, has prepared and submitted for publication a manuscript, "The Home and Extension Department of the Sunday School." The advent of these three books will mark the complete presentation of the work of all of the departments of the Sunday school in our Normal Course.

For a long time there has been a demand for a definite treatment on the work of teaching young people and adults. Such demand has been greatly accentuated by the growing development and emphasis of the place and importance of the work of these departments in the Southern Baptist Convention. This demand has been admirably met by Dr. G. S. Dobbins of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, who has at our request prepared for publication a manuscript, "How to Teach Young People and Adults in the Sunday School." We dare to hope these four books will be available by July 1.

Suggested Course of Study for Young People's, Adult, and Home and Extension Department Workers

SUNDAY SCHOOL YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULTS

Our monthly magazine, Sunday School Young People and Adults, continues to grow in favor and popularity with our constituency. This magazine is being used to promote definitely the varied phases of work committed to this department, each issue emphasizing some particular phase. New and attractive features are being added regularly. There are yet many of our general and department workers in our Sunday schools who should receive the help this popular periodical brings. It is our aim to enlarge its circulation until it finds its way into the hands of every worker who should receive it.

"THE CHALLENGE" FOR YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULTS

This department is happy to welcome the new weekly paper of our Kind Words Series, produced by the editorial department of this board under the attractive title, The Challenge. It is most attractive both as to design and content. This department desires to lend itself to the enlarging of its already splendid circulation and congratulates its editors on the fine response it is receiving from our constituency.

STANDARDIZATION OF DEPARTMENTS AND CLASSES

During the past year this department has made a substantial gain in progress of standardization. While there has been no undue emphasis, we are pleased to indicate an advance in the number of Young People's and Adult classes attaining the Standard. With the program of this department now clearly outlined and defined it is our purpose to press a program of department and class standardization with vigorous determination. The following table indicates the progress of standardization by states with goals for the past year.

CLASS REGISTRATION CAMPAIGN

We are happy to announce a most successful outcome of our campaign for the enrollment of Young People's and Adult classes with this department. Sixteen years ago when this feature was inaugurated, a total of 287 classes were enrolled the first year. During the year just closed the several state Sunday school secretaries accepted quotas totaling 2,225 classes to be enrolled with this department. At the close of the year, the fine total of 1,430 classes had been enrolled with us, making a grand total from the beginning until now of 11,396 classes with a combined enrollment of 298,625 with whom this department is directly in touch. Twice each year a letter containing helpful suggestions and literature is sent to the teachers of all these classes. Sunday school department of each state is furnished a roll of the names and teachers of all classes that register with this department from his state. This is one of the most effective ministries of this There are yet thousands of classes that should be endepartment. rolled with us. The statement below indicates the standing in the matter of registrations by states with goals for the year.

NEW CLASS SCHEMES

During the past year there have been added to our already large number of class schemes for Young People's and Adult Bible classes 25 new organization schemes, making for both departments a total of 65 which now are classified according to departments and sexes. With the emphasis now upon smaller classes in these departments and the resultant necessity for many classes, additional class names and organization schemes of a wider range were necessary. This need has now been met with addition of the large number of new schemes.

HOME AND EXTENSION DEPARTMENT

One of the most significant accomplishments of the year that deserves special mention is the rebirth of interest in the work of the Home and Extension department. For years little emphasis has been given to this vital department of the Sunday school, its work being left to the rather erratic attention of Young People's and Adult classes. There was no place provided for it on any of our conference or convention programs. Its work was rarely ever presented in any of our training schools, etc. This was largely due to the lack of a text book definitely setting forth its work, together with promotional literature. We are happy to announce that this need has been fully met in the production of the new text book by Dr. Jos. T. Watts, mentioned elsewhere, and a splendid group of new pamphlets detailing the procedure of its organization and administration, listed else-The forms for use in connection with the keeping of the records of the work of this department have all been revised and several new ones added. It is now being given a place on practically all state and Southwide conference programs, and in many training There has been nearly 130 per cent increase in the number of departments enrolling with this board. A number of state approved workers have been designated and before the next 12 months have passed, it is planned to have an approved worker for the Home and Extension department in every state. With our new text book in circulation and the aggressive field program already planned, this vital department of our Sunday schools is to be an important factor and an assured fact.

DEPARTMENT PERSONNEL AND CO-OPERATION

The personnel of this department is the same as last year. In addition to its secretary, are Mr. W. A. Harrell, associate secretary, Miss Verda Von Hagen, office executive and editorial associate, Mrs. Martha Wolfe and Miss Myrtle Scoggin, office assistants. The forces of this department are finely established and working in perfect harmony and accord. We desire that this department should be correlated both in program and effort with every other department of this board and its workers delight in the existing cordial relationship that obtains with our colleagues and associates in all departments of our work.

APPROVED WORKERS

With the promotion of three departments of the Sunday school of such major importance committed to this department, if the work is to have the proper emphasis and definite promotion, we are put to the ultimate necessity of designating an approved worker in each state for each of the three departments, such workers to be chosen in conference and harmony with the state Sunday school leadership. Already a number of such workers have been chosen. It is the purpose during the coming year to complete this trio of workers in each state. Additional workers will be designated for use for these departments as qualified workers, when their services may be desired by state or Southwide leaders.

It is the purpose of this department after these workers are chosen, in co-operation with the state Sunday school secretary to hold a school of training in each state, inviting the co-operation of other departments of this board that are using this type of worker and plan of work. The aim of such schools will be to train and establish these workers in the plans and methods of work and field promotion as advocated by the several interested departments. Several such schools are dated and plans for same are in preparation.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S AND ADULT TEACHERS' WEEK

This department is happy in the opportunity afforded it to present for the first time in the career of this board a program exclusively for teachers of Young People's and Adult Bible classes at the Southern Baptist Summer Assembly at Ridgecrest, North Carolina, July 27-August 3. While this meeting is yet to occur, this department has already completed plans and program for same. It is to deal definitely with the work of teaching and promises to be an event of extraordinary interest.

INTERMEDIATE DEPARTMENT

MISS MARY VIRGINIA LEE, SECRETARY MISS MARY ALICE BIBY, ASSOCIATE

We, herein, present the sixth annual report of the Intermediate Department of the Baptist Sunday School Board.

The past year has been one of gradual growth and progress.

PROMOTIONAL WORK ON THE FIELD

The promotional work has been twofold: on the field and through the office.

Enlargement Campaigns

This department has cooperated in the promotion of local, city and associational Enlargement Campaigns, furnishing for each the required number of Intermediate workers. Results in organization, equipment, enlistment, and training have been most gratifying.

Training Schools

There have been many local and city Training Schools in which we have gladly cooperated. Not only have books been taught, but classes and departments have been organized, rooms have been provided and equipped, and prospects enlisted.

Sunday School Clinic

The secretary of this department cooperated with the Administration Department in the Sunday School Clinic held at Roanoke, Virginia, August 18-September 8, by supervising all Intermediate work, teaching a class, and presenting the Intermediate work before the entire Clinic.

Southwide Sunday School Workers' Camp

For the second consecutive summer this Department has cooperated in the Training Camp held at Arcadia Heights, Missouri, by supervising all Intermediate work. The class work, demonstrations, and posters aroused enthusiasm and an eager response on the part of all present.

Assemblies and Encampments

Intermediate classes have been taught and conferences conducted on invitation of the State Secretary in many of the Assemblies and Encampments. Special Intermediate Day, Tag Day, exhibits, attractive publicity booths, and other promotional matters have been featured at these. Outstanding was the special Intermediate Day promoted by Mrs. Lee MacDonell, Approved State Worker of Florida, at Deland. Every minute of the day was well planned. The Intermediate workers had charge of the Sunrise service, the choir, the surprise hour, and other features. Of unusual interest was the Intermediate Exchange, which was an exchange of practical suggestions, lasting one hour. Fifty-two Intermediate workers who were not attending the Assembly came for this special day. Posters, painted walks, head bands, and numbers of interesting methods advertised the day. Even the places of business cooperated by decorating their windows in the Intermediate colors—blue and gold, and serving "Intermediate Specials." This will be repeated on a larger scale next year.

Citywide Conferences

These special conferences stressing only the one department have proved very valuable. Greater emphasis is placed on the department, and pastors, superintendents, and pupils' parents are reached. No book is taught. Instead, demonstrations, exchanges, and open conferences are featured. Outstanding among these for the past year were: Kansas City, Missouri; Macon, Georgia; Jacksonville, Miami, and Tampa, Florida.

Citywide Intermediate Councils

In the South there are several of these organizations through which sympathetic exchange of practical ideas, comparative reports, constructive criticism, and friendly rivalry help all Intermediate workers of the city, and strengthen the weaker departments.

State Sunday School Conferences

At the invitation of the State Secretary, a representative of this department has supervised the Intermediate division of the various state Sunday school conferences. Practical programs consisting of addresses, demonstrations, and open discussions have been presented. A helpful Intermediate exhibit has been shown at each conference.

Tours

Much promotional work has been done through tours. These are conducted by the Approved Worker of the state, assisted by a representative from this office. These are under the direct supervision of the state Sunday school secretary. The object of the tour is fourfold:

- a. To introduce the Approved Intermediate Worker.
- b. To bring the workers of the state in touch with the Approved Intermediate Worker.
- c. To place the program of this department before the people.
- d. To give opportunity for securing a solution to difficult problems.

Alabama Tour. A three-weeks' tour was held in Alabama during September. Fifteen places were visited. Afternoon and evening conferences were held. There were seventy-five churches represented, 805 people were reached and fifty-three pastors were present. One of the outstanding results of this tour was a special evangelistic campaign of a week's duration. Quoting from a letter from Mrs. D. C. Cooper, Jr., Montgomery, Alabama, "I have just returned from the State Convention. You remember Dr. James Allen Smith, pastor of Central Baptist Church, Decatur, Alabama? He was present and told me that they had recently conducted an intensive Intermediate soul-winning campaign lasting one week. The teachers were first enlisted. On the first night of the campaign all of the teachers met at the church for prayer and assignments of work. Each teacher took the names of his unsaved pupils, visited, prayed and talked with the parents and pupils in every home. They reported back to the church each night for encouragement and help. On the Sunday following every unsaved Intermediate in the department made a profession of faith in Christ."

Maryland Tour. In October a tour of one week was conducted in Maryland. Six conferences were held at the evening hour. There were 312 people attending these conferences.

In writing of the tour, Mr. James R. Rowles, Approved State Intermediate Worker, writes: "The tour was of immeasurable value to the workers. Most everywhere we found consecrated and willing workers, but they lacked knowledge. Our visit seemed to furnish them ideals and vision for greater things. Already applications have been made for information that gives evidence of their sincere desire to go forward. We do not believe that our tour was simply 'a visit' but it was laying constructive foundations on which each church may build an Intermediate organization that will win and hold many Intermediates for his glory. I believe the tour was the biggest thing ever done for Intermediates in our state."

New Mexico Tour. From November 16 to 29 a tour of New Mexico was made. Quoting from State Sunday School Secretary Bussell: "The trip was a most decided success. Twenty churches were reached; there were twenty-two pastors, twenty-three general superintendents, and 1,450 people in attendance.

The people came in spite of distances and bad weather. Pastor J. M. Sibley and a number of his members drove seventy-five miles to the Artesia conference. At Melrose the people came in great numbers in spite of a blinding snow storm and wind. It was very cold at Grady, and at Hayden the people gathered on Saturday afternoon in a snow storm. An unusual piece of work was done for all departments. It will abide."

Texas Tour. In Texas a tour of five days was made beginning December 10. Mrs. R. O. Cawker, who was at that time Approved Intermediate Worker, writes: "The results of our Intermediate Tour were more than gratifying. Five associations were visited with a total attendance of 477. Thirty-eight churches were represented."

South Carolina Tour. The South Carolina Tour was made in February. Mrs. A. J. Foster, Approved Intermediate State Worker, writes: "We visited fourteen churches and held twenty-one conferences. We had seventeen associations represented, ninety-one churches, ninety pastors, thirty-five general superintendents, and thirty-four Intermediate superintendents. I feel so happy over the tour."

Georgia Tour. Mrs. Mary Lee Parker, Approved Intermediate State Worker of Georgia, writes of the tour conducted by her: "I am happy that we reached so many people, and found such splendid response. We had represented in our conferences 102 churches, forty-three pastors, and thirty-three general superintendents. There were 680 people reached.

Exhibits

At all State Conferences, many of the city and associational conferences, some of the assemblies and encampments, and on all tours, an attractive display of posters, booklets, and literature has been shown. These have been inspirational, informational, practical, and very helpful.

Approved Workers

One of the greatest means for the promotional work of this Department has been the Approved Workers. This department now has the following:

Mrs. D. C. Cooper, Jr., Montgomery, Alabama.

Miss Jean Laseter, Hope, Arkansas.

Mrs. Lee MacDonell, Jacksonville, Florida.

Mrs. John Hathaway, Johnston City, Illinois.

Mrs. Maude M. Abner, Louisville, Kentucky.

Mr. James R. Rowles, Baltimore, Maryland. Mrs. H. B. Colter, Jackson, Missouri.

Dr. Cathern P. Crawford, Raton, New Mexico.

Mrs. C. R. Pittard, Apex, North Carolina. Mrs. A. J. Foster, Columbia, South Carolina.

Miss Ella Louise Landress, Chattanooga, Tennessee.

Mrs. J. L. McCutcheon, Modest Town, Va.

Through campaigns, training schools, associational and city conferences, tours, exhibits, and correspondence our Approved Workers have been a potent factor in the promotion of the work.

At the present time, under the supervision of the State Sunday School Secretary each Approved Worker is carefully selecting and training associational Intermediate workers. Writing of the work done by Miss Aretha Stilley, associational Intermediate worker of Williamson County, Illinois, Mrs. John Hathaway says: "Most of Miss Stilley's work has been through personal visits and phone calls. She wrote some and sent some literature to the churches that she has not yet visited. She took as a goal for the association, two standard departments, twenty standard classes and fifty awards. So far she has one standard department, nine standard classes, and thirtynine awards.

There have been four training schools held in the association. Two of them were partially arranged through her. She attended three of them part or all of the time and urged the goals. She talked personally with the teachers and officers about reaching these. She helped to arrange six conferences taking part in five of them. She visited and had charge of the Teachers' Meeting in my own department one night. She has seen that a package of literature and a Standard of Excellence was in the hands of practically all the Intermediate teachers in this association and has either written a letter or explained to them personally how they should be used.

She has recently gotten in touch with the churches concerning the poster exhibit for the state conference. She is gradually building a lasting foundation. She has multiplied the interest in the Intermediate work of the association fourfold."

Goals

Definite goals for reaching a certain number of Standard departments, standard classes, and Teacher Training Awards for the Intermediate book were suggested to each State Secretary and Approved worker. These were graciously accepted.

Banners

Attractive banners are given each year to the states reaching the highest per cent of its goals. The 1928-29 banners were awarded as follows: standard departments, Texas; standard classes, Illinois; Teacher Training Awards, Virginia.

Ridgecrest

The Intermediate Department Baptist Sunday School Board is promoting a special week for teachers, July 27-August 2, 1930, and a special session for leaders, August 7-17, 1930. These are to be at Ridgecrest, North Carolina.

PROMOTIONAL WORK THROUGH THE OFFICE

The office takes care of a large volume of correspondence which is a vital factor in the promotion of the work.

A New Office Force

During the past year, Miss Clara Mae Macke, of Cape Girardeau, Missouri, came to this Department as office secretary, and Miss Louise White, of Nashville, as assistant office secretary.

Literature

Uniform Lessons. Many are the expressions of appreciation for the fine presentation in the Intermediate Quarterly of the Uniform lessons and the lesson treatment in The Teacher, both contributed by Miss Clyde V. White, Portsmouth, Virginia.

Graded Lessons. The Sunday School Board continues to offer a completely graded series for Intermediates. These are under process of revision. The first year revised lessons will be ready next October. The fourth year revised lessons will not be ready until 1934.

The Intermediate Weekly

The Intermediates now have their own paper. The Intermediate Weekly made its first appearance in October, 1929. Twenty-seven thousand copies of this paper are now going out weekly.

The Intermediate Counselor

This thirty-two page quarterly is a potent factor in the promotional work of this Department. It is offered to Intermediate teachers and officers. The following special pages bring practical suggestions: "Editorial," "Have You Thought of This," "Good Times," "Among the Classes," "Illustration Exchange," "Information Please," "Contributions," and "Book Briefs." A suggested program for each Sunday is also given. The Counselor closes with "Additional Helps." Hints for teaching the lesson, the Weekly Teachers' Meeting, and other helpful phases of the work are presented under this. Ten thousand copies go out each quarter.

Contributions

This Department, by contributing a page each month to the Sunday School Builder, appreciates the opportunity of reaching pastors, educational directors, and general superintendents.

Pamphlets

The following free pamphlets are produced for distribution: The Intermediate Organized Class. Class Schemes. Service Activities.

Suggested Books for Intermediates and Intermediate Workers.

The Bridge Builder.

Standard of Excellence for both class and department.

God's Word to the Lost and Saved.

Promotion Day Playlet. Promotion Day Program. How the Bible Came To Me.

Posters-How to Make and Use Them.

Conference Questions on Intermediate Sunday School Work.

Year's Program for Intermediate Superintendents.

Reaching and Maintaining the Standard of Excellence.

Training Course

This Department co-operates with the Educational Department in promoting teacher's training. At present there are two books on Intermediate work, Working with Intermediates, by Dr. Gaines S. Dobbins, and Building the Intermediate Department, by Mary Virginia Lee, for which seal five is given in the Convention Normal Course. It is the purpose of this Department to promote the study of these books through local, city-wide, and associational training schools; Sunday school Enlargement Campaigns; summer assemblies; and home study. It endeavors to arouse an interest in and a desire for studying these books, by: state Intermediate tours; local, city-wide, and associational Intermediate conferences; state Sunday school conventions; district and regional Sunday school meetings. It furthermore encourages the study of these books by requiring that teachers and officers of Standard classes and departments shall hold a Sunday school diploma and a seal for an Intermediate book, and also, by setting definite goals to be attained each year by the several southern states.

THE ELEMENTARY DEPARTMENT

LILIAN S. FORBES, Secretary

The greatest asset of a race is its children.—President Hoover.

A BIT OF HISTORY

We present herewith the tenth annual report of the Elementary Department of the Baptist Sunday School Board. The Juniors of those years are now in the Young People's departments of our Sunday schools. Some are among the teaching forces of our Sunday schools. The Primary children and even the Beginners are on the Intermediate rolls of our Sunday schools. We are watching the growth and development of these departments with something of the love and interest that parents have as they see their children swiftly pass from childhood and its joys to maturity and its burdens and blessings.

Are these children making good? We believe they are. We believe that the first series of Graded Lessons (completed in 1920), the revision of these same lessons in 1930 (largely under new writers) have been a leading factor in the religious development of the children.

For several years prior to 1920 Mr. L. P. Leavell, Miss Annie L. Williams and Miss Margaret A. Frost had been going up and down the breadth of our land like the prophets of old, crying aloud in behalf of the children in the Baptist churches of our Southland. And Dr. I. J. Van Ness—our great-hearted, wise-minded executive secretary, was the great moving factor in it all.

In 1920 the present secretary of the Elementary Department was called from the Elementary work in Alabama and put in charge of this new department at the Sunday School Board. With the cordial and efficient assistance of the leaders named above it was possible to organize and develop the work in a way that could not have been possible without their able cooperation. For a brief time Mrs. Aurora Medford Shumate was with this department and in that time she quickened the people in hundreds of churches to believe in and work for the little child in the Sunday school. In 1927 Miss Mattie C. Leatherwood came to this department from Walnut Street Baptist Church, Louisville, as an associate charged with the work for children five and under. A new impetus has been given to all that pertains to the religious welfare of the little child in the pre-school time of his life.

Because of the constant demands on this department for assistance in enlargement campaigns, Miss Allene Bryan has been given definite charge of the field work in behalf of the Primary children.

The general direction of the whole work with particular attention to the Junior age group is in the hands of the secretary of The Elementary Department.

CO-OPERATIVE WORK AND WORKERS

In cooperation with the various states in our Southern Baptist territory there are a number of Elementary Secretaries, each working under the general direction of the state Sunday School Secretary. We name herewith those who are thus recognized: Georgia, Mrs. O. M. Gerald; Kentucky, Mrs. W. A. Gardiner; Mississippi, Miss Anna Cameron; Missouri, Miss Geane Roop; North Carolina, Miss Gladys Beck; South Carolina, Miss Elizabeth Nuckols; Tennessee, Miss Zella Mai Collie; Virginia, Miss Alberta Jones.

In further cooperation with the states there are others who are known as Qualified Workers in the field of Elementary Sunday School work. These are part time workers selected by the State Sunday School secretary in any given state in cooperation with the secretary of the Elementary Department of the Baptist Sunday School Board. Each is endorsed by the Baptist Sunday School Board. This latter group of earnest-hearted women is doing what is an almost voluntary service, rendering invaluable help each in her own association and state. Their work is in the field of Elementary education with especial emphasis on the teaching of the department textbooks, in conducting conferences in churches, and in associational and southwide campaigns. We list them herewith:

The work has been presented in State Convention and Conference programs in every state and not less than 25,000 people have been reached with our Elementary message.

FOUR SPECIAL DAYS

These are promoted annually by this department. Each has a special objective.

Children's Day in April is planned specifically to arouse the hibernating Sunday schools in our country districts. But programs are so planned that other lovers of children can also keep that happy day. The Best Book, A Children's Day Service, was prepared this past year by Mrs. A. V. Washburn of North Carolina.

Suffer the Children, A Program for Cradle Roll Day, was prepared this past year by Mrs. W. A. Gardiner (Louisville) and Miss Mattie C. Leatherwood.

Last September A Program for Promotion Day was furnished by Mrs. W. H. Bussell of Cliff Temple, Dallas. A new program will be forthcoming for next September. It is to be prepared by Mrs. Myrtle R. Creasman, widely known as a leader in Southern Baptist work.

Home Co-operation Week last year was widely observed. No new pageant was offered. This current year Home Co-operation Week occurs October 12-18. There will be offered a play written by Mrs. Jessie Truett James. The title is A Dream That Came True. The other main feature of the week is the purposeful visitation by the teachers to the homes of the newly promoted boys and girls.

THE ELEMENTARY MESSENGER

This thirty-two-page quarterly continues to be our promotion medium. Its circulation is necessarily limited to the following classes: Superintendents of Elementary departments in Baptist Sunday schools; directors of Religious Education in the churches; presidents of Child Study Clubs in our churches. Its several sections are cared for by the staff of the Elementary Department with the exception of The Child Study Club which is ably edited by Miss Emma Pettey, a public school supervisor and a member of First Church, Dallas, Texas. Elementary leaders owe much to this efficient, consecrated woman who gives her best thought to childhood on Sunday and every day.

Junior Daily Bible Readers

This four year's course of "reading the Bible through in selected passages" will be concluded by October the first of this current year. We leave the outcome with the heavenly Father, knowing that the entrance of his Word giveth light.

We are giving herewith a list of Juniors and Junior workers who have, so far, completed and reported the entire readings as given in our four-year course. We feel sure these have so firmly fixed the habit of reading the Bible every day that as they grow older they will not depart from it.

"A little more of Christ this year than last.

A little more fresh food from his own Word,

A little more glad trust in the dear Lord.

A little more response when he shall speak,

A little more desire the lost to seek.

A little more endurance under trial.

A little more heroic self-denial.

Thus shall the glory light illume our way

Until we reach the realm of perfect day.

And we shall grow betimes from grace to grace

Until we wear the image of his face."

THE B.Y.P.U. DEPARTMENT

J. E. LAMBDIN, SECRETARY AND EDITOR

OUR MARVELOUS EXPANSION

The period since 1918 has been one of marvelous expansion in the B.Y.P.U. work of the Southern Baptist Convention. In 1918 there were 5,850 B.Y.P.U.'s, with 204,750 members. In 1928 there were 22,850 B.Y.P.U.'s, with 500,564 members, according to the report of Dr. E. P. Alldredge. This is a net increase of 1,700 unions and 300,000 members in ten years. This means four and two-thirds new unions per day; 32.7 per cent gain in new unions every week; 141.6 per cent gain in new unions every month; or 1,700 new unions every year. The report this year shows 24,273 B.Y.P.U.'s, with 501,405 members. The gains by states are shown in the table on page 259.

OUR CHALLENGING TASK

In spite of this phenomenal growth we have yet before us a gigantic, challenging task of enlistment and of making increasingly effective our B.Y.P.U. program. Even though we have now 24,273 B.Y.P.U.'s, with 501,405 members, there are 12,674 of our 24,275 Baptist churches which do not yet have B.Y.P.U. work. The distribution of the churches, with and without B.Y.P.U.'s, is shown in the following table compiled by Dr. Alldredge.

TOTALS	24,275	11,601—47.79%

There are in our churches 1,550,864 young Christians of the ages 9-29 inclusive. More than 1,000,000 of these are not in B.Y.P.U.! This is our challenging program of enlistment. We are not one whit downhearted, however, for we know we have the program with which to reach them. Six hundred two of our nine hundred twelve district associations have associational B.Y.P.U.'s. And it is through the associational B.Y.P.U. that we expect ultimately to reach every church. Three thousand five hundred seventy of our churches already have the General B.Y.P.U. Organization plan of supervision and leadership, and it is through this plan that we confidently expect to enlarge the work in every church to enlist all the prospects.

The second part of this challenging task is to make our B.Y.P.U. work increasingly effective in every church. This can be done also through the General B.Y.P.U. Organization, which is a real church program of B.Y.P.U. work.

THE CORRECT CONCEPTION OF B.Y.P.U.

As we grow so rapidly there is a fundamental conception of B.Y.P.U. which we must keep before us in order to avoid dangers and pitfalls along the way. That conception is that the B.Y.P.U. is fundamentally a training organization for young Christians, to develop them in church membership and Christian service. It must not be developed into another Sunday school, in grading, constituency, or method. It has a distinctive place in every Baptist church and its work is not done by any other organization. To enlist large numbers of unsaved young people in B.Y.P.U. activities is to cultivate superficiality, hypocrisy, and many other ills. The Baptist Adult Union is an Adult organization for the training of Adults at the B.Y.P.U. hour, and the Children's Story Hour may be conducted for any children below the age of nine who have to be present. We are promoting B.Y.P.U. on the correct basis.

THE B.A.U. AND THE B.A.U. QUARTERLY

The Baptist Adult Union, conducted under the auspices of the General B.Y.P.U. Organization, is meeting a real need. It accomplishes the following worthwhile results.

- 1. Trains untrained Adults, and enlists them in Christian service in their church.
- 2. Helps the B.Y.P.U.'s by training leaders for them, and enlisting the interest of all the Adults in their welfare.
- 3. Provides a profitable hour of study and training for all parents who bring their boys and girls to B.Y.P.U.
 - 4. Promotes attendance upon the evening preaching service.

The Adult union has grown rapidly, until now we have 1,270 unions.

In response to the demand coming from the churches we began publishing program material for the B.A.U. in January, 1929, in the Monthly B.Y.P.U. Magazine. The demand was insistent that this be put into a quarterly, so the new B.A.U. Quarterly appeared in January, 1930. The circulation of the first issue went to 30,500 copies. The whole field of church membership, denominational life, stewardship and missions, Bible doctrine, and religious problems of Adults is covered in the lessons. Dr. G. S. Dobbins is the lesson writer. The quarterly sells for ten cents the quarter.

THE CHILDREN'S STORY HOUR—ITS PLACE, PURPOSE AND CURRICULUM

The Children's Story Hour has a place in the B.Y.P.U. department only as an emergency measure to care for children below the B.Y.P.U. age who must be present with their parents who are working as leaders or in Adult unions. Its purpose is to provide religious instruction for all such children. It should not be organized, classified or counted as a B.Y.P.U. Suitable program material for the Children's Story Hour will appear in Primary Bible Lessons, Teacher's Book, (Graded Series) age six, beginning in October, 1930. This material, while appearing in the book for age six, is adapted to use in Beginner and Primary mixed age groups. This material is prepared under the direction of Miss Willie Jean Stewart, Editor of the Elementary graded periodicals of the Baptist Sunday School Board. Additional material may also be found in Storyland, the weekly children's story paper. The free tract, The Children's Story Hour, gives further suggestions.

THE CALENDAR OF B.Y.P.U. ACTIVITIES

The Calendar of B.Y.P.U. Activities for 1930, published in wall chart form and in the quarterlies, is proving very popular. Its objective is Growth in Grace, with a different emphasis and approach each month.

THE FIRST SOUTHWIDE B.Y.P.U. CONFERENCE

The First Southwide B.Y.P.U. Conference was held in Memphis, December 31, 1929-January 2, 1930. Its highest attendance was probably 5,000. Approximately 1,500 came from outside of Memphis. The keynote was No Other Name. The program sounded a clarion call to deeper consecration and greater effectiveness in the B.Y.P.U. work in all our churches. Gratifying reports from all over the South testify as to the value of this meeting. The proceedings may be secured in book form for fifty cents.

WORK OF THE B.Y.P.U. DEPARTMENT Editorial Work

Seven periodicals are edited—four quarterlies carrying program materials for Juniors, Intermediates, Seniors and Adults; two quarterlies carrying program helps for Junior and Intermediate leaders; and the Monthly B.Y.P.U. Magazine for the promotion of every phase of B.Y.P.U. work. A complete record system for all unions and the General Organization is published. Materials for daily Bible readers' courses are also supplied. Wall Standards of Excellence, A-1 awards, Bible reading awards, and diplomas and seals for all the study course books are prepared and issued free. Sixty-seven free tracts, covering every phase of B.Y.P.U. principles and methods, are edited and distributed by the department. Special literature is prepared as needed.

Promotion Work

The Southern Baptist program of B.Y.P.U. work is promoted through all our literature and through field work in co-operation with the state B.Y.P.U. forces. Several special means of approach to the churches and associational B.Y.P.U.'s might be mentioned.

- 1. The Monthly B.Y.P.U. Magazine. This magazine gives us a fresh approach to the young people and leaders every month. Through its columns we actively promote standardization, better methods, better programs, better social life, soul-winning, enlargement associational work, Bible reading, denominational loyalty, stewardship and missions, and guidance in choosing life work. It is practical and inspirational in its appeal.
- 2. Special Literature. A special poster for distribution to all the unions, which outlines a Calendar of B.Y.P.U. Activities for 1930, was published in December. This poster presents a program of activities which insures that every B.Y.P.U. following it will be training its members in church membership. The objective for the year is Growth in Grace. Another special poster is prepared and distributed to promote Annual Southwide Study Course Week, beginning the second Sunday in March each year. This special literature is supplied free to all the state B.Y.P.U. secretaries.

- 3. Field Work. The field workers of the B.Y.P.U. Department cooperate with the state B.Y.P.U. departments in conducting training schools, associational and local B.Y.P.U. revivals and enlargement campaigns, conventions and assemblies.
- 4. General B.Y.P.U. Organization. The B.Y.P.U. Department is promoting the establishment of the General B.Y.P.U. Organization in every Baptist church in the Convention. It is the plan we advocate to solve the problems of leadership, grading, enlargement and efficiency. Our book, A General B.Y.P.U. Organization, is the standard textbook on the subject for which we give credit. We also publish free literature on the subject, and a general Standard of Excellence. Our churches everywhere are rapidly coming to this plan.
- 5. Associational B.Y.P.U. The development of the associational B.Y.P.U. is our plan for establishing B.Y.P.U. in every Baptist church. The associational B.Y.P.U. develops a force of volunteer workers in the association who can conduct training schools, enlargement campaigns, conventions and institutes.
- 6. Correspondence. A huge volume of correspondence with B.Y.P.U. workers in the churches is carried on by the B.Y.P.U. Department, and thousands of free tracts and other helps are sent out. In this way hundreds of our churches that cannot be reached by our field workers are helped.

GAINS FOR THE YEAR

Statistics compiled by Dr. E. P. Alldredge show 24,273 unions, with a membership of 501,405. This is a gain of 1,423 unions and 841 in membership.

For the past year the output of the Senior Quarterly was 947,500; the Intermediate was 525,100; the Junior 547,500; the Intermediate Leader was 34,600; and the Junior Leader was 33,500. This shows a loss over the previous year of 100,500 for the Senior; a gain of 9,100 for the Intermediate; of 15,500 for the Junior; a loss of 2,800 for the Intermediate Leader; and a gain of 700 for the Junior Leader. The Monthly B.Y.P.U. Magazine had a circulation of 209,600 for the year, a gain of 24,000 over last year. We now publish a quarterly for Baptist Adult unions entitled The B.A.U. Quarterly. The publication of this quarterly began with first quarter, 1930. The circulation of this first issue was 30,500; circulation up to the present time is 62,000 copies.

Study Course Awards

One hundred sixty-seven thousand four hundred thirty-two study course awards were issued during 1929, a gain of 5,927 over 1928.

Beginning with January 1, 1929, instead of the seal, Senior B.Y.P.U. Administration, given for the completion of the book, Senior B.Y.P.U. Administration, by Flake, a new serial marked, Proficiency in Senior Methods, is granted to all holders of the B.Y.P.U. Administration diploma who have completed both the Senior B.Y.P.U. Manual and Senior B.Y.P.U. Administration. The Administration diploma is still granted for the completion of the book, A General B.Y.P.U. Organization, by Lambdin.

Junior and Intermediate B.Y.P.U. Leaders' Manual—Ina Smith Lambdin. Cloth, 60 cents; paper, 40 cents.

The beautiful B.Y.P.U. administration diploma is given for the completion of A General B.Y.P.U. Organization. It carries spaces for seals on the other books.

A mastery of these books means a thorough technical preparation for leadership in all grades of B.Y.P.U. work and in the General B.Y.P.U. Organization.

THE DAILY VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

HOMER L. GRICE, Secretary

There are probably 10,000 Southern Baptist churches that could conduct a Daily Vacation Bible school each summer. Probably not more than 600 of them had a school in the summer of 1929. It is evident, therefore, that there is plenty of room for growth in this phase of our educational work in the churches. Surely, the challenge is worthy; for, if 10,000 of our churches had conducted Vacation schools last summer and reached the average enrollment of those that reported on their schools, there would have been a total of 1,-310,000 pupils and teachers enrolled in the schools with an average daily attendance of about 1,000,000. A vision of 1,000,000 boys and girls from four to sixteen years of age going daily to 10,000 of our Baptist churches for three hours of school work under the control of the church and the direction of the pastor and his faculty, five days a week, for from one to four weeks in the public-school vacation time, shows what we may do to supplement the splendid training the Beginner, Primary, Junior, and Intermediate pupils are getting in the Sunday school, and what the Juniors and Intermediates are getting in the B.Y.P.U.

There is no way of ascertaining the exact number of Vacation schools held last summer, for there is evidence to show that many schools were conducted but not reported. When the statistical summary of the 1929 schools was completed in March, a total of 401 schools had been located by referring to associational minutes, the denominational press, and the tabulation of reports received. Since that time, perhaps twenty additional schools have been located, but are not made a part of this report. A conservative estimate of the 1929 schools would be between 500 and 600.

A total of 296 reports was received from the schools. Enrollment figures were secured of 387 schools, the total enrollment being 51,079, or an average enrollment per school of 132.

There were 128 schools that held all four departments and gave full information about enrollment, attendance, and so forth. On the basis of these 128 schools, an effort was made to visualize a "composite" Vacation school, or to get at a typical "average" school. The "picture" of this "composite" school follows:

1929 Typical D.V.B.S.

Enrollment:

Beginner Department pupils 28 Primary Department pupils 51 Junior Department pupils 67
Intermediate Department pupils. 27 Faculty 26
Total enrollment	197
Average daily attendance	147
Percentage of enrollment attending daily. Number of days school was in session	47% 14
Cost of the school	$94.64
Cost per person enrolled per day (14 days)	.034

Some people have questioned whether Intermediates would attend a Vacation school. The statistics show that an average of twenty-seven pupils attended this department.

Again, some people have believed that the Vacation schools could not be manned by volunteer teachers. The average faculty last year was composed of twenty-six people. The reports show that about 99 per cent of them were volunteers.

The records show that nearly all of the schools are using the textbooks prepared for the Vacation school by the Sunday School Board.

About 2 per cent of the schools counted in the statistics were interdenominational. There is a tendency on the part of a few churches to combine with other churches in a union school. This element, however, is negligible. Most of the churches feel that the school should be an integral unit in the educational program of the church.

The D.V.B.S. is subject to all of the vicissitudes of any seasonal activity. From year to year many schools do not repeat, the reasons for which are varied, such as change of pastors, new pastor on field, without a pastor, building program, revival meeting, crippling of faculty just before beginning of school by illness and other causes, failure to begin preparation in time, and so on. There were 320 schools that reported in 1928. Of these just about half did not report in 1929. In other words, the mortality rate was about 50 per cent. While this failure to repeat is discouraging, it is nevertheless assuring to know that practically every pastor and principal speak of the value and practicability of a school in the highest terms. No doubt, as time goes on, this mortality rate will decrease. Of course, the ideal is for a church to have its Vacation school every summer as it has its Sunday school every Sunday.

It is safe to assume that the number of our Vacation schools would be vastly larger if it were possible for the state Sunday school secretaries to put on aggressive promotional campaigns in the spring. This they have been unable to do because of lack of funds. Every year since the Board began promoting Vacation schools, the denominational receipts have been shrinking, budgets have been reduced, and workers cut off; and this in view of increasing needs and a growing work. This has meant only such promotion as could be done out of the limited funds available for this purpose from the budget of the D.V.B.S. Department. When the state Sunday school secretaries shall have a larger budget and can give more attention to this phase of the work, there will probably be a rapid increase in the number of schools.

In the meantime, the prospects are bright for a larger number of schools in the summer of 1930 than in 1929. There is a deepening conviction among our people that this is a vital work. A constantly increasing number of our pastors are coming to believe in the Vacation school. Everywhere the children greet it with open arms and happy hearts. Surely, we shall enter this open gate into the hearts of our boys and girls!

There follows a statistical summary made from the reports of the 1929 schools. It should be borne in mind that many of the schools gave incomplete information and that no column is as large as it would have been had all the schools reported fully.

THE DEPARTMENT OF SOUTHERN BAPTIST STUDENT WORK

FRANK H. LEAVELL, Secretary

During the past convention year the Department of Southern Baptist Student Work,—a department of the Sunday School Board, has both lengthened its cords and strengthened its stakes. The lengthening of cords has been manifest through the adoption and extension of our simplified but effective organization,—the Baptist Student Union. This activity has been seen both on local campuses and in the statewide activity. The strengthening of the stakes has manifested itself in the deepening conviction on the part of students, college administrators and denominational leaders of the South. But over and above these earthly gains is that for which we are supremely grateful,—the obvious favor and blessing of our heavenly Father whose will we seek to follow in every advancing project.

This has been the first full year as a department of the Baptist Sunday School Board with office residence in Nashville. The adjustments occasioned by the shift from the Inter-Board Commission to a single board of that Commission have been made with ease and effectiveness. The transfer occasioned no loss. Under the wise direction of the Sunday School Board through its efficient executive secretary, Dr. I. J. Van Ness, the work has forged forward, projecting itself into areas formerly unreached.

FULL TIME STUDENT SECRETARIES

For the first years of our work much time and energy was necessarily invested in crystallizing a sentiment and a consciousness of the need for the work. Much energy was expended in setting up an organization capable of serving our purpose without duplication or friction. With this initial accomplishment the next need in order was an adequate working force to carry forward on local campuses, in the separate states and in the Southwide territory. The full-time Baptist student secretary was the answer. The full-time secretaries now employed are listed below.

In addition to the foregoing full-time secretaries there is a wide range of directed student activity wherein individuals are remunerated for part-time work among students. In many cases educational directors of churches in college centers give part time to student work, these being too many and too varied to list. In other cases local schools aid financially a faculty member or a student, usually a graduate student, to assume special responsibility for directing student religious activity through the B.S.U. Falling in this last category are the following:

Miss Cynthia Siler
J. A. Lovell
Miss Elizabeth Barton	Baylor College, Belton, Texas
Miss Ruth E. Duborg	Averett College, Danville, Va.
Miss Nellie Lee Holt	Stephens College, Columbia, Mo.

Miss Letha Gregory

SUMMER ACTIVITIES INCREASE

Each succeeding summer our work extends itself to a much larger number of campuses. On many campuses a regular B.S.U. is organized for the summer. On other campuses week-end institutes, special addresses, open conference sessions, discussion group programs were promoted. On many campuses there are more students for the summer term than for other terms. The B.S.U. activity is promoted wherever possible in and through the local church and in hearty cooperation with the local pastor.

During the summer months the B.S.U. work has been promoted in a majority of the state Baptist assemblies. The book of B.S.U. methods has been taught, demonstrations have been presented, public presentation of the student work has been made before entire assemblies. Special workers are employed to aid the regular secretarial force in this emphasis. Such work is done in co-operation with the state forces that promote the state summer assemblies.

THE RIDGECREST RETREAT

The Annual Student Retreat at Ridgecrest has become well established and is an annual occasion of outstanding importance. Since the first of these meetings the attendance has grown and practically doubled each succeeding year. Last summer (1929) the attendance went well over the three hundred mark, including a group of fifty or more that came from a nearby school for only one day.

The environment of Ridgecrest lends itself immediately to this effective meeting. The program stresses methods, missions, vocation, student problems, denominational activity, inspirational addresses, recreation and spiritual inspiration. This summer meeting brings together the highly selected leaders of the spiritual life of the campuses of the South,—Baptist, state and privately endowed schools. It is a significant asset in the program of Southern Baptist Student Work.

ANNUAL STATE B.S.U. CONVENTIONS

Under the general slogan "CONQUERING THE CAMPUS WITH CHRIST" there have been conducted sixteen state student conventions, or conferences, in as many separate states. These meetings, with one exception, were held in October and November, 1929. State meetings are held for three successive years while on the fourth year they all blend into one QUADRENNIAL ALL-SOUTHERN CONFERENCE. In the 1929 meetings each convention agreed to cooperate in the one Southwide meeting in October, 1930.

The total attendance at these sixteen 1929 state meetings was in round numbers 2,750. Estimating the number of students reached on campuses where the conventions were held the number would make a surprising total. There follows the dates and places of these conventions with the names of the state Baptist Student Union presidents who were elected for next year.

SOUTHWIDE EVENTS ANNUALLY OBSERVED

The program of the Southern Baptist Student Work contains a number of days, or weeks, of special Southwide emphasis. These annual occasions are promoted jointly by the students themselves, by college administrators of Baptist colleges, by the Baptist pastors and churches at school centers and by the Department of Student Work at Nashville. The co-operation has been increasingly encouraging as the observance of these events has grown in popularity and momentum. These special events are given in the order that they are observed in the calendar of the scholastic year.

STUDENT CHURCH RELATIONSHIP DAY

Early in October—usually the first Sunday—suggestions are circulated for the Southwide observance of this day. While the department offers suggestions for a program it is left with the local church to determine what relationship it will ask students to bear to the church. This day is widely and effectively observed.

STATE STUDENT CONVENTIONS IN OCTOBER AND NOVEMBER

These meetings were quite fully described in a foregoing section of this report.

STUDENT NIGHT AT CHRISTMAS

The emphasis last year upon this event was more widespread and more interest manifested than we have seen in any former year. Students, pastors, parents, churches and communities have learned to know the delight and profit coming from this occasion. This effort is to have the students honored by their home church while at home for the holidays. It utilizes students, it magnifies the local church, it helps the student work at the college center, it magnifies spiritual values, it affords a felicitous occasion, it edifies the home folk, it inspires the students. Literature is sent to all full-time pastors throughout the South.

STUDENT EVANGELISTIC WEEK

During one week in February a sincere effort is made annually to lead students to do personal work with the lost in the college, in the college town, in the surrounding territory. The insistence is upon work with individuals. It is not an evangelistic meeting. Preceding the week of effort a study course is taught on Soul-Winning—preference last year being given to Wisdom in Soul-Winning by W. W. Hamilton. While this week is not observed on every campus it is appreciated by many. There were gratifying written reports from the last year's observance. These reports showed all day prayer meetings, study of soul-winning methods, listing of the unsaved, listing of students agreeing to do personal work, the number approached and the number won.

VOCATIONAL EMPHASIS WEEK

Seeking to lead students to consider wisely the choice of their life work; seeking to show them the Christian approach to selecting their life work; seeking to have them find God's will for their lives; seeking to impress them with the stewardship of life in their life work, literature is prepared for circulation each year for the observance of this week. This problem is a paramount one with students. College courses lack motivation, classes are purposelessly attended, energy is dissipated, time is wasted, kingdom interests are neglected by thousands of students failing to choose their life work and regulate their college course accordingly. The purpose of this emphasis is to properly emphasize God's call to the individual and the claim of the kingdom of God for pre-eminent loyalty in every life, regardless of profession.

THE B.S.U. ORGANIZATION

From the beginning of the work of this department, eight years ago, there has never been a feverish haste for organization. Furthermore, the department has sought the simplest organization consistent with efficiency. We have sought to strengthen the existing Baptist organizations with a desire to neither destroy nor multiply unit organizations. There has been a consistent insistence upon unification, co-operation and co-ordination of unit organizations. This has had the effect of adjusting irregularities or imperfections of organizations on many campuses.

The B.S.U. has found its way to the campuses of a healthy majority of the tax-supported and Baptist schools of the South. The administrative officers of Baptist schools have vested in this organization the authority for the religious life and leadership. The students and local pastors of state school centers have eagerly seized upon this method of unifying and utilizing Baptist students. Some of the methods employed for the expansion of the organization are listed below:

- 1. The Baptist Student Union, the book of methods, used throughout the South.
- 2. An attractive diploma issued to those who finish the book with satisfactory examination requirements.
- 3. The Sunday School Board's plan of sending "Approved Workers" to various campuses to teach methods, unify the students, to perfect the organization.
- 4. The "Visitation by Students" from various campuses for a week-end.
- 5. The B.S.U. organization is stressed at the State B.S.U. Conventions in each state.
- 6. The visitation to campuses by "Student Secretaries," both state and Southwide.
- 7. Promotion by the state forces. The supreme emphasis of the department of student work is, and has always been, that the student work be assumed by the state administrative forces. The Sunday School Board is now participating financially with those states that maintain a statewide student worker. The State Mission forces usually approach the task in one of two ways. Some states support a statewide B.S.U. secretary under the direction of the secretary of missions or the secretary of the executive committee of the state. This method is the most efficient and most effective where only one person can be employed. In other cases the states place a secretary for his full time upon a single campus. A list of the secretaries appears above.

STANDARD OF REQUIREMENTS

Seeking a definite goal by which campuses may know the degree of their efficiency in B.S.U. work there has been adopted a standard of efficiency—the STANDARD OF REQUIREMENTS. A B.S.U. meeting the ten points of this requirement is recognized as FIRST MAGNITUDE. It is a distinction to be first magnitude. Encouraging progress has been made in this effort. Appearing below are the names of the schools having met this standard during the sessions of 1928-29 and 1929-30.

LITERATURE FOR BAPTIST STUDENTS

Progress has been made in building a literature to meet the needs, spiritual and otherwise, of Baptist students. This has consisted largely of pamphlets, placards, bulletin board posters and brochures. These have been distributed on practically all campuses of the South. In the series of "Cap and Gown" pamphlets, there are now nine separate pamphlets. A number of books for courses in Christian culture are now in process of development. This new project anticipates development and enlargement from year to year.

THE MONTHLY MAGAZINE

The magazine, The Baptist Student, has enjoyed its eighth year. This periodical goes to practically all campuses in the South. It is a thirty-two-page magazine, attractively illustrated. Its purpose is to acquaint the students with all phases of the denominational life—missionary, philanthropic, benevolent, cultural, educational, spiritual.

practical. It interprets for them the doctrines of the Baptist and Christian faith. It affords a medium for student expression. It unifies the B.S.U. work of the various campuses and states. It reflects the progress of Christianity both at home and abroad. The magazine has won a worthy place in the affections and the life of Baptist students.

THE PRIZE ESSAY CONTEST

For the third year the student department has conducted for the Baptist Sunday School Board a Southwide Prize Essay Contest for Baptist students. The first year the subject for the thesis was "Our Baptist Principles and the Vital Religious Life of Our Day." A money prize was awarded a student in practically every state. The first Southwide prize that year was awarded to Miss Annie Lorrie Carroll of Judson College, Marion, Alabama. The subject of the essay for the second year was "The Proper Relationship of Church and State as Viewed and Held by Baptists." The first and second Southwide prizes were awarded respectively to Miss Blanche Mays of Ouachita College, Arkadelphia, Arkansas, and to Miss Clyde Merrill, Alabama College, Montevallo, Alabama. The subject for the current year is "The Precepts and Principles of the Christian Life as Portrayed by John Bunyan in Pilgrim's Progress, Grace Abounding, Holy War." The awards have not at the time of this writing been awarded.

THE NEXT QUADRENNIAL ALL-SOUTHERN BAPTIST STUDENT CONFERENCE

All general plans are perfected for the Second Quadrennial Baptist Student Conference. This significant meeting will be in Atlanta, Georgia, October 30 to November 2, 1930. This meeting is to be the supreme spiritual opportunity of the student generation. Atlanta will entertain 2,000 students. Quotas have been allotted each state. The key note emphasis will be "Christ, My Only Necessity." Some of the nation's greatest speakers have been engaged. Interest is keen from border-line to border-line of the territory of the Southern Baptist Convention. Christ will be lifted up that students may be drawn unto him.

THE GENERAL STATUS OF THE STUDENT WORK

The student work of Southern Baptists is now well established and accepted by the denomination. The structure of organization, both on the local campuses and in the various states, is a dependable factor. Thousands of Baptist students have loyally responded to the call and leadership of their denomination. The corps of cultured student secretaries is of the highest type of Christian manhood and womanhood. Basing their efforts uncompromisingly upon the Word of God and upon the precepts and principles of the Baptist and Christian faith they have made their way in the life of the students. These secretaries have established their program of religious emphasis in the heart of the campus life of both Baptist and tax-supported schools. The Bible, per se, is being taught on many campuses. Prayer and church loyalty is made a vital part of the student's life. A perennial program of religious emphasis has been fully developed. The machinery of organization has been tested and is dependable. The possibilities ahead are boundless. Our task is one of intensifying, deepening and expanding. The immediate need is one of additional curriculum on the one hand and, on the other hand, additional support by the denomination affording workers adequate to carry forward the program. The favor of God has been upon the work thus far. In the future his promises will not fail.

DEPARTMENT OF SURVEY, STATISTICS AND INFORMATION

E. P. ALLDREDGE, SECRETARY

The tenth annual report of the department of Survey, Statistics and Information is much like the annual reports of this department covering the years of 1926, 1927 and 1929. Since the denomination has made no distinct call upon this department for special services during the past year, our present report is largely given over to a statement of our achievements along the well-established lines of work fixed for this department.

- 1. Information Assembled and Passed Out. One of the greatest and most costly features of our work is the gathering and passing out of information. We continue to take all the main religious weeklies of all the representative denominations of the world; also all the main magazines which throw light upon the work of Christianity at home and abroad. In addition, we continue to secure copies of the year books of all denominations, and also the best books dealing with religious life and work which are published from time to time. From all these sources we gather and file information along many lines and pass out this information whenever and wherever we have opportunity.
- 2. Preservation of Historical Books and Papers. We have gathered quite a good sized library of historical documents and publications which will prove invaluable to the denomination in future years. We plan to catalogue our entire historical collection some time during the present summer. If, in the meantime, the brethren and sisters over the South who have old papers, association and state convention minutes and books which tell of the early life and work of Southern Baptists in any of the states, will send them to us, we will have them bound and placed away in our fire-proof vault where the Baptists of the future can review them hundreds of years after we have all passed on.
- 3. Revision of the Roster of Southern Baptist Ministers. Owing to the great difficulties involved in the task, as well as the calls upon our time in other directions and the excessive cost of its printing, we have issued but one revised edition of the Roster of Ordained Ministers among Southern Baptists during the past year. We have found that practically 1,000 Southern Baptist ministers change their fields of labor (and their post office addresses) every month in the year, upon the average. Not half of these 12,000 changes each year, moreover, are ever given to the denominational press. Nevertheless, we have made the attempt not only to give the post office addresses of all our ordained ministers, but also to indicate the lines of work in which they are engaged. We trust the list of ministers, as now revised, will be of more actual and definite service than at any time heretofore.

- 4. Publication of the Statistics and Register of the Convention. At a great cost of effort, time and money, we have prepared and published the Statistics and Register of the Southern Baptist Convention covering the year 1929. We have done our best to anticipate the needs of the denomination, and to arrange and publish this information in such form as will be both accessible and understandable by all our people. Copies of this publication, separate from the Convention Annual, will be kept on hand and mailed upon request and without charge to any address in America.
- 5. The 1930 Handbook. The 1930 Handbook will come from the press about August 15, 1930. It will contain a survey of the "Problems and Prospects of Southern Baptists."
- 6. Preparing Special Surveys. The largest single item of service rendered by this department during the past year, has been the working out of special surveys. Some of these surveys dealt with states like Texas, Arkansas, Kentucky, North Carolina, South Carolina and Alabama; while others dealt with the "Enlistment Task of Southern Baptists," "The Enlightment Task of Southern Baptists," "The Stewtardship Task of Southern Baptists," "The Challenge of the Unfinished B.Y.P.U. Task of the South," "The New Movements Among the Negroes of America," etc. Upon the average we prepared more than one such survey for every month in the past year. Placed together, these surveys, most of which were delivered as addresses, would fill an ordinary book. Our statistical report of Southern Baptists appears in a separate section of the Convention Annual.

TWELFTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE RELIEF AND ANNUITY BOARD

THOMAS J. WATTS, Executive Secretary, Dallas, Texas.

The Relief and Annuity Board presents the twelfth annual report of its operations and financial condition, together with recommendations concerning changes in policies and plans for the consideration of the Convention. It is with gratitude to Almighty God and the friends of the great work committed to the Board by the Convention that we record a year of gracious service rendered and a substantial financial progress as well.

It is with sorrow that we report the death of one of the Board's most valued local members, Brother J. M. Moncrief. He was faithful to his responsibility in this connection and seldom missed a meeting of the Board and then only when absent from the city.

I. THE BOARD MINISTERING TO NEED-THE RELIEF FUND

It has been one of the functions of the Board from the beginning of its activities to provide the greatest possible assistance to our aged ministers and to the widows and orphans of deceased ministers. Its efforts have never been relaxed for a moment in this beneficent service. Approximately $1,300-000 has been sent during the past twelve years in bi-monthly and emergency grants to thousands of beneficiaries, all of whom were recommended after careful investigation of their worthiness and need by officials of the State Conventions or by relief committees serving under State Convention appointment. We are confident that few persons have been aided who did not have a just claim upon the denomination for aid. Our chief regret has been and is that the amounts sent to these needy ones has not been more worthy of our denomination. But we have had many evidences of appreciation from the recipients of even the small stipends sent them. And we know that in the majority of cases these small grants have prevented real suffering. In many instances the very bread that our veterans eat has to be bought with the money that the Board sends them. In some cases without the supplementary aid which they receive from the Relief Board the small sums contributed by children, relatives and friends would have been utterly insufficient to prevent hunger and cold. Supplementing the cash payments made to our aged preachers and widows there has been sent many a box of food and clothing by the noble women of the Woman's Missionary and Aid Societies of our churches. In a number of cases special checks have been sent to the Board by Women's Societies for specially named beneficiaries. All such amounts have been sent forward promptly to the beneficiaries designated without in any case reducing the regular grants made to them by the Board. Shall we not make better provision for our veterans who broken in body but strong in faith limp toward the sunset?

"For 'tis harder to be brave When feeble age comes creeping And finds me weeping; Dear ones gone,—
Just a little petting At life's setting;
For I'm old, alone and tired, And my life's work is done."

II. THE BOARD PREVENTING NEED—THE ANNUITY FUND

The Annuity Fund was not designed to minister to need but to prevent need. While the amount paid to a beneficiary of this fund is inadequate for a comfortable support, it does prevent abject need. No man is wholly dependent who has a check coming to him every month in the year in the sum of $41.66. Nor is a widow or orphan wholly indigent who receives a monthly check of $25.00. Who among Southern Baptists after careful consideration of what this department of your Board is doing would prefer to have our ministers and their families thrown upon the fluctuating and uncertain distribution of relief funds if it is at all possible for them to share in a contractual plan in which the minister himself contributes a small part of the cost. Those who benefit from this fund always feel and properly so that they have helped themselves. Self-help contributes to a feeling of independence.

There are many among our preachers who cannot participate in this fund because of their ineligibility due to age or infirmity. Some are financially unable to participate. Most of those who do participate are doing so at real sacrifice. But for those who are eligible and can make the necessary contributions the Annuity Fund has been a great blessing.

"'Twas a dangerous cliff, as they freely confessed,
Though to walk near its crest was so pleasant,
But over its terrible edge there had slipped
A Duke and full many a peasant.
So the people said something would have to be done,
But their projects did not at all tally,
Some one said, 'Put a fence 'round the edge of the cliff'
Some, 'an ambulance down in the valley.'"

The Relief method is "the ambulance down in the valley." The Annuity method is "a fence 'round the edge of the cliff." So long as there are casualties among our preachers which they and the churches could not or did not provide against we shall have need of the ambulance, but who will say that the "ambulance in the valley" is better than the "fence 'round the edge of the cliff?"

III. ANOTHER RECORD YEAR IN BENEFITS PAID

The benefits paid during the past year through the two funds, the Relief and the Annuity, have again surpassed in the aggregate those of any previous year. There has been distributed in relief benefits $126,193.44 and in Annuity benefits $55,101.70. The total from the two funds being $181,295.14. This sum is equivalent to the interest earnings at 6 per cent on over $3,000,000.00 of endowment. The relief benefits, though greater in the aggregate over last year's payments, were paid not because the contributions from the churches justified it, but because the need was so poignant among our preachers and widows. The amount paid entailed a reduction in the Board's Relief Reserve of $54,727.19. Some better provision for this department of the Board's work is imperative. A reduction in relief grants at this time when there is so much unemployment and undependable earnings of many of our burden bearers would be most distressing to our beneficiaries.

The amount paid to our Annuity beneficiaries has increased from $40,821.35 reported last year to $55,101.70 this year. The Annuity benefits will steadily increase year by year as the members of the fund reach their 68th year or as members become totally and permanently disabled. Other increases will come about by reason of the deaths of active members thus increasing the roll of widow and orphan annuitants.

VII. GROWTH IN THE BOARD'S FINANCES

Dr. J. B. Gambrell, more than a decade ago, wrote concerning the Relief and Annuity Board as follows: "Our new board is like a tree. It is now small; but if it is cultivated and watered, some day it will be a giant tree. It will bear fruit to gladden the hearts of multitudes of men and women who have put their all into the work of the Kingdom. It is a thing that every one of us ought to take a turn at—that of cultivating this tree."

And the Board has grown, not by leaps and bounds, but steadily and surely. It is now a dependable financial institution. Its business management has called forth the encomiums of many of our great bankers and captains of industry. It conserves its resources as it ought to conserve them. Its funds are invested in such gilt edged securities as are suitable for trust funds and under the direct supervision of able business men, while at the same time it pays its multiplied thousands of dollars into the hands of worthy ministers, widows and orphans year by year. The total resources of the Board on April 30, 1929 were $3,028,504.93. Its resources as of April 30, 1930 were $3,698,554.74. The unusual increase in the Board's resources during the past year was due to the large gift of Mr. Rockefeller.

MR. ROCKEFELLER'S MUNIFICENT GIFT

Your Board was most gratified to report in December last through the denominational and secular press a munificent gift of $500,000 by that princely giver to many good causes and that friend of Baptist preachers and their wives in the United States and of missionaries at home and abroad, Mr. John D. Rockefeller. The gift was both generous and timely. Mr. Rockefeller made the gift immediately available by providing that it should bear interest from December 24th, 1929, at the rate of 4½ per cent. The actual passing of the cash or securities was left to be arranged between the donor and the Board later. It is also noteworthy that Mr. Rockefeller did not make his gift conditional in any sense, although he expressed the confident hope that the Board would be able to raise at least an equal amount for the same purpose through the churches and individuals of the Convention. The entire amount of the gift was specified to be added to the endowment funds of the Board.

The Board's Executive Committee accepted this splendid gift of Mr. Rockefeller in resolutions adopted under date of December 31, 1929, which action was ratified by the full Board on March 26, 1930. The resolutions adopted by the Executive Committee and ratified by the Board are as follows:

"Whereas, it has pleased John D. Rockefeller to present to the Relief and Annuity Board of the Southern Baptist Convention a sum of $500,000, as a free and unconditional gift to its permanent endowment, and

"Whereas, this noble and noteworthy bequest brings good cheer to the Relief and Annuity Board in the great work to which it is dedicated and will further hearten thousands of churches and millions of Baptists throughout the Southland;

"Now, Therefore, Be it Resolved by the Executive Committee of the Relief and Annuity Board of the Southern Baptist Convention that it accept this timely and generous gift on each and all the terms set out by Mr. Rockefeller in his letter to the Board of December 24, 1929, with the pledge on the part of the Board that this bequest shall be faithfully lived up to alike in letter and in spirit;

"And, Resolved Further, that the Committee voices its deep gratitude to God for this epochal benefaction made in recognition of our deserving Baptist Ministry and its dependents, and its profoundest appreciation to Mr. Rockefeller of his splendid contribution;

"And, Resolved Further, that the Committee further extends to him its abiding good wishes for that continued good health and happiness which his long and useful life so richly deserves and devoutly prays Heaven's choicest blessings upon him to the journey's end.

(Signed) GEORGE W. TRUETT, Chairman, Executive Committee, (Signed) ROBERT H. COLEMAN, Recording Secretary."

VIII. THE DOWNWARD TREND OF CONTRIBUTIONS FROM THE CHURCHES

The Relief and Annuity Board regretfully calls the attention of the Convention to the steady decrease in its receipts from the benevolent contributions of the churches through the twelve years of its operations. The continuance of this downward trend augurs distress for our veterans and our widows. When will this diminution of contributions cease? Surely our people will not permit it to continue. Let it be borne in mind also that the Board is now receiving only 7 per cent of distributable Southwide funds, whereas for the years preceding 1930 the percentage was 9 per cent and for a while it was 10 per cent. Below we set out in tabular form this downward trend:

1919	 	$ 4,545.42
1922
1923	 	255,422.75
1924	 	242,224.57
1925	 	199,661.14
1926
1928	 	, 170,439.60
1929	 	150,881.95

The figures as given above include designated gifts of churches and individuals that were forwarded through the State offices.

The increase in benefits paid year by year has been previously given in this report. The two tables will reveal the fact that while the contributions have steadily diminished the benefits have steadily increased. What would such an institution as the Relief and Annuity Board have done in these days of diminishing receipts had it failed to husband and administer its resources in the most business-like manner? Interest earnings on its reserves and endowments have been the saving factors in the stability of this board. Even though the Board has thus managed its affairs and is without debt some better provision should now be made if it is to "carry on" properly in the two departments of its work. In fact, the need of such provision is now imperative.

IX. RECOMMENDATIONS CONCERNING CHANGES IN POLICIES AND PLANS OF THE BOARD

During the period that has elapsed since the last session of the Convention, when the Convention did not approve the recommendations of your Board as to the Service Annuity Plan, the officers and members of the Board have been giving most careful consideration to the preparation of recommendations to it that would seem to be a solution of the problems of the support of the aged and disabled ministers of the Convention and the families of deceased ministers.

The Board's Executive Committee appointed a sub-committee to prepare plans and recommendations for their consideration. The recommendations of this Committee were considered and approved by the Executive Committee on March 4th, 1930, and then by the whole Board, with thirty of the thirty-six members present, in session in Dallas on Wednesday, March 26, 1930, with such changes as are embodied in the final draft.

Acting upon the instructions of the Board these recommendations were given to the Denominational Press and copies were mailed to all active ministers in the Convention for their consideration.

Under this plan the Board proposes to allocate to the Relief Department the entire receipts from the Co-operative Program, together with the income from the permanent funds of that Department. This will nearly double the income of the Relief Department from the Co-operative Program currently available for grants to relief beneficiaries. It continues this Department as the Denomination-wide Agency for providing for pastors who have already come to age or disability, or who may come in the future without any other means of support. It would also enable the Board to make more liberal provision for widows and orphans of ministers not otherwise provided for.

The present Annuity Department would be closed to new members on September 30, 1930. While this change would cut off the present Annuity Department from a share in the receipts of the Co-operative Program, the Board is assured by its Actuary that it will be able to continue the full annuities to all present beneficiaries and to those who retain their membership in this Department out of the present resources of that Department and such added gifts, legacies and matured annuity bonds as may be available from time to time for this purpose.

The Service Annuity as now proposed, gives every church the opportunity of making larger provision for its ministry than can be made through either the Relief or the Annuity Departments as at present operated. Certainly, no church should be denied the right and privilege of taking such action.

It will be noted that one of the valuable features of the proposed plan is that when men come to age who have been carrying membership under the plan, they may turn to the Service Annuity Department for income either to take the place of their previous support or to supplement their income from other sources.

It is the hope of the Board that this plan will receive the most prayerful and careful thought of the messengers to the Convention. Such plan in the judgment of your Board will help to bring peace, happiness and comfort to those who through age or infirmity are no longer able to continue their active service in the ministry as well as to the families of those who have gone to their last reward. Those who are in active service can be relieved from care and worry as to their future and the future of their loved ones and can give themselves more freely and heartily to their ministerial work, knowing that a grateful church is standing solidly back of them.

The text of the recommendations and resolutions adopted by your Board, which it asks the Convention to consider de novo and not as a reconsideration of certain resolutions offered by it and which failed of adoption last year, are as follows:

I. Changes in Method

That the work of the Board be sub-divided into three departments: (A) Relief Department; (B) Present Annuity Department; (C) Service Annuity Department, to be operated along the following lines:

(A) Relief Department. It is recommended that after the close of the calendar year 1930, all the receipts from the Co-operative Program and any designated receipts for relief would be applied wholly towards providing payments for Relief Beneficiaries.

This would mean that thereafter 45 per cent of the receipts from the Cooperative Program would not be allocated to the present Annuity Department. This action, therefore, would materially increase the income currently available for payments to Relief Beneficiaries. It would make the Relief Department of the Board the denomination-wide agency for providing for pastors who have already come to age or disability, or who would come in the future, without any other means of support. This department would also make provision for the widows and orphans of ministers, not otherwise provided for.

The income from the Permanent Funds of the Relief Department is more than sufficient to offset this department's share of the administrative expenses of the Board and leave the excess amounts of the income available for relief grants, in addition to the receipts from the Co-operative Program.

(B) Present Annuity Department. It is recommended that the present Annuity Department be closed to new members on September 30, 1930, and that the full annuity benefits outlined for members of this department in event of age or disability and for the widows in event of death be financed without a share of the receipts from the Co-operative Program after the close of the year 1930.

In order to complete the financing of the full annuity benefits it may be necessary from time to time to transfer from the Permanent Funds of the Annuity Department to the Reserve Funds so that they may be used, principal and interest, such sums as were not specifically designated by the donors to be held perpetually as endowment funds. In addition to these resources there are other funds available for this purpose resulting from gifts from individuals, legacies and matured annuity bonds; as well as reserve funds that have been accumulated by the members' dues and the shares allocated to the Annuity Department from the Co-operative Program receipts.

It may be necessary to add from time to time to the resources of this department individual gifts and legacies and matured annuity bonds not otherwise designated so as to complete the financing of the full annuities.

It cannot be known at this moment just how many men will take membership in the present Annuity Department before it is closed, nor how many will transfer to the new department when it is opened, but it is the opinion of the Committee, based upon the determination of the liabilities and the analysis of the available resources by the actuary, that with the closing of the present Annuity Department, the Board can confidently assure to those already receiving annuity benefits and to those who continue their memberships and later become eligible for annuity benefits that they would all receive the maximum benefits provided for in the plan.

(C) Service Annuity Department. It is recommended that the Service Annuity Department be put into operation so as to give our ministers, with the co-operation of their churches or other salary-paying organizations, the opportunity of making more adequate provisions for their own future age or disability and to give assistance to their widows and orphans.

The proposed plan of operating the Service Annuity is as follows:

II. Plan of Financing Service Annuity Department

The income of the Service Annuity Department, aside from interest earnings on accumulated funds, would come from three sources: (1) Member's Payments; (2) Church's Payments; (3) Contingent Receipts.

- (1) Member's Payments. The members would pay into the fund in monthly installments, amounts equal to two and one-half per cent of their individual salaries, counting as the equivalent of the free use of a parsonage a 15 per cent addition to the cash salary.
- (2) Church's Payments. The local church or other salary-paying organization would pay into the fund, in monthly installments, on account of the service of a member an amount equivalent to eight per cent of the salary basis as above outlined.
- Of the church's payments three and one-half per cent would be placed to the credit of the individual member on account of whose service the eight per cent payments were made. The three and one-half per cent payments shall be called Service Credits. The remaining four and one-half per cent would be credited to a benefit fund.

If for any reason the eight per cent payments are not made on account of the service of a member for whom they have been previously made and who has continued his two and one-half per cent payments, the Board shall have the right to deduct, with the consent of the member, such eight per cent payments from his accumulated service credits in so far as such accumulated credits will permit so as to provide the member with the full benefits of the plan in the event of disability or death. It is understood that at any time the church or salary-paying organization may resume the eight per cent payments.

(3) Contingent Receipts. There shall be credited to a contingent fund gifts, contributions, legacies, excess interest earnings, and other sums not specially designated for other purposes. From this fund shall be provided this department's share of its administrative expenses of the Board and the supplementary benefits hereinafter provided for.

III. Benefits in Service Annuity Department

The benefits to be provided on account of membership in the Service Annuity Plan would be as follows:

- 1. Age Annuity.
 - 2. Disability Allowance.
 - 3. Death Benefit.
- 4. Widow's Annuity.
 - 5. Withdrawal Benefit.

The rules governing these classes of benefits would be:

- (1) Age Annuity. (a) Member's Annuity: At any time after attaining age 65 the member may elect to discontinue the two and one-half per cent payments and receive an annuity, which shall be the actuarial equivalent, according to tables adopted by the Board for that purpose, of the accumulation of his payments with the interest additions.
- (b) Service Annuity: At any time after attaining age 65 the member may elect to receive an annuity in addition to his member's annuity, which shall be the actuarial equivalent, according to the tables adopted by the Board for that purpose, of the accumulations of his three and one-half per cent service credits with their interest additions.
- (c) Contingent Annuity: Supplementing the Service Annuity, and payable under like conditions, there may be provided an additional annuity out of the Contingent Fund as determined by the Board, from time to time, in accordance with the resources available for that purpose.
- NOTE: The objective of the Board shall be to provide aggregate annuities from all sources approximating one-half the average salary during service over a period of 35 years, with correspondingly greater or lesser annuities according as longer or shorter periods of service may have been rendered.
- (2) Disability Allowance. In the event of the total and permanent disability of a member, while under sixty-five years of age, causing the giving up of ministerial work and the termination of any salary relationship, there shall be provided by the Board a disability allowance as follows:
- (a) Member's Annuity: An annuity which shall be the actuarial equivalent, according to tables adopted by the Board for that purpose, of the accumulations of the member's two and one-half per cent payments with the interest additions as of the date upon which the annuity becomes effective.
- (b) Service Annuity: An additional annuity provided from the accumulations of his service credits determined in a manner similar to that outlined in (a).
- (c) Supplemental Allowance: A supplemental allowance provided out of the benefit fund to which have been credited the four and one-half per cent payments made on account of the service of the member.
- (d) Contingent Allowance: Supplementing the Service Annuity and payable under like conditions, there may be provided an additional annuity out of the Contingent Fund as determined by the Board, from time to time, in accordance with the resources available for that purpose.

In the event of disability the certification of a physician duly accredited by the Board shall be required. The Board shall have the right to call for evidence of continued disability at periods of not less than one year. The resumption of ministerial office and the re-entering of a salary relationship, or the failure to accede to the Board's request for evidence of continued disability would be construed as evidence of recovery from disability and in event of such recovery the Board may reduce or discontinue the disability allowance.

NOTE: The objective of the Board shall be to provide a total disability allowance of 40 per cent of the average salary received during the last three years of service prior to disability. However, the total disability annuity in the early days of the operation of the fund shall not exceed $600.00 yearly payable in monthly installments of $50.00 each. The Board shall have the right to increase the basis of the Service and Contingent disability annuities from time to time as the resources permit.

(3) Widow's Annuity. In the event of the death of a member while receiving an age annuity there shall be provided for his widow an annuity in amount equivalent to one-half the annuity which he was receiving.

In the event of the death of the member before entering upon his age annuity there shall be provided for his widow an annuity determined as follows:

- (a) Member's Annuity: An annuity which shall be the actuarial equivalent, according to tables adopted by the Board for that purpose, of the accumulations of the member's 2½ per cent payments with the interest additions as of the date of the death of the member.
- (b) Service Annuity: An additional annuity provided from the accumulations of his service credits determined in a manner similar to that outlined in (a).
- (c) Supplemental Annuity: A supplemental annuity provided out of the benefit fund to which have been accredited the 4½ per cent payments made on account of the service of the member.
- (d) Contingent Annuity: Supplementing the above provisions, and payable under like conditions an additional annuity may be provided out of the Contingent Fund as determined by the Board, from time to time in accordance with the resources available for that purpose.
- NOTE: The objective of the Board shall be to provide for the widow a minimum annuity of $300.00 and a maximum annuity of half the amount of the age annuity which her husband was receiving or to which he would have become entitled had he continued in service until age 65 on the salary basis at the time of his death.

If the service accumulations to the credit of the member are sufficient to build the member's annuity up to the limit thus provided the Board shall have the right to transfer any excess accumulations to the Contingent Fund.

In the event of the remarriage of a widow all annuity payments which she was receiving shall cease, except those provided by the member's accumulations. Such annuity she may elect to have continued or receive in cash its then actuarial value. In such event, however, the Board shall have the right to continue any service or contingent annuity payments to the minor children, if any, of the deceased member, during their minority.

In the event of the death of the member leaving no widow but minor orphan children, the Board shall have the right to make provision for such children out of the funds provided in the Service Annuity Department.

(4) Death Benefit. In the event of the death of a member while under 65 years of age, whether in active service or while receiving a disability annuity there shall be provided a benefit payable in one sum of $500.00 out of the benefit fund to which have been credited the 4½ per cent payments made on account of the service of the member.

In the event of the death of a member after having attained the age of 65 the amount of this benefit shall be $250.00.

In the event of the death of the member before entering upon an age or disability annuity without leaving surviving him a widow or minor children there shall be paid to a beneficiary previously designated by him, or to his legal representatives, the death benefit herein provided together with an amount equivalent to the accumulation of his 2½ per cent payments with the interest additions, as of the date of the death of the member, without any further claim against the Board, except the death benefit provided in this section.

(5) Withdrawal Benefits. In the event of the withdrawal of a member from the Southern Bapitst Convention before entering upon an age or disability annuity he shall be entitled to receive an amount equivalent to the accumulation of his 2½ per cent payments with interest additions at a rate not to exceed 4 per cent compounded annually.

IV. Eligibility in Service Annuity Department

All ministers of churches and missionaries of accredited Missionary Boards of the Southern Baptist Convention, in good and regular standing, shall be eligible for membership in this Department. Other groups of workers, lay or ordained, may from time to time become eligible for membership upon such terms and conditions as may be approved by the Board and the Southern Baptist Convention.

V. Amendments

The Board shall have the right to adopt rules governing the administration of the Service Annuity Department, but any changes or amendments affecting the basis of member's and church's payments or the classes or amounts of benefits to be provided under the plan shall not become operative until they shall have been approved by the Southern Baptist Convention.

VI. Inauguration

The Relief and Annuity Board upon the advice of its Actuary shall have the right to put into operation the Service Annuity Department at such time and under such conditions as may be determined upon and may be deemed expedient, taking into consideration as the controlling factor the number of ministers and churches, or other salary-paying organizations, as may have agreed to participate in the plan.

The following resolutions concerning the Service Annuity adopted by the Board on March 26, 1930, are herewith appended for the information of the Convention.

RESOLUTIONS

RESOLVED, FIRST: That the Relief and Annuity Board of the Southern Baptist Convention hereby approve and adopt the recommendations of the Executive Committee, with such changes and amendments as have been made during the meeting, looking toward the creation of a Service Annuity Department, and the necessary changes in the other work of the Board.

FOURTH: That the Executive Secretary be authorized and instructed to present the plans as adopted by the Board with such changes as may have been authorized by the Executive Committee, as above outlined, to the Southern Baptist Convention at New Orleans for the consideration and action of that body.

FIFTH: That the Executive Secretary be authorized and instructed to request the Southern Baptist Convention to appoint a committee of thirty-six messengers, composed of one minister and one layman from each State, none of whom are members of the Board, to consider the report and report back to the Convention as early as practicable before final adjournment.

GAINS AND LOSSES OF SOUTHERN BAPTISTS, 1929

FULLEST REPORTS IN TEN YEARS

In presenting the summary of Southern Baptist gains and losses for the year 1929, we take special pleasure in recording the fact that we received the completest reports from the churches and associations that have come into our hands during the past ten years. For example, in spite of six strenuous efforts and many long delays, we received no minutes from 73 of our associations in 1928; whereas in making up of our present report only 38 of the 912 minutes are unaccounted for. Nine of our states sent in all the 1929 minutes, and most of the other states made the best record along this line which we have known. The non-reporting churches, we are sorry to say, remain about the same from year to year—that is, about 1,350—half of which are found in three states, viz: Texas, Oklahoma, and Arkansas. By means of a veritable carload of letters addressed to the churches, however, we were able to complete literally thousands of incomplete reports made by the churches in the minutes of the district associations. So that we have the most nearly complete report on Southern Baptist forces which we have ever been able to compile.

SOURCES OF GREAT LOSSES DISCOVERED

We also congratulate ourselves upon discovering, this year, two sources of great losses which Southern Baptists have suffered for a number of years. For it has been known and lamented among our leaders for some years now, that great losses were taking place among Southern Baptists which were not accounted for or understood. As far back as 1912, for example, Dr. Victor I. Masters called attention to the fact that the net gains of Southern Baptists from year to year, were nothing like what they should be when compared with our large number of baptisms. As is well known also, these losses, during the past five years in particular, have grown to be alarming. For example, here is our record since 1925, when these losses began to be so serious:

In 1925, we had 224,191 baptisms, with only 74,799 net gains.

In 1926, we had 198,544 baptisms, with only 58,923 net gains.

In 1927, we had 202,420 baptisms, with only 56,748 net gains.

In 1928, we had 183,020 baptisms, with only 32,164 net gains.

In 1929, we had 175,631 baptisms, with only 64,769 net gains.

In five years we have had 983,806 baptisms, with only 287,403 net gains.

Now this five-year record is very explicit on two points: (1) Taking the period as a whole we have been losing 70.8% and saving only 29.2% of the gains which should have come to us through our large number of baptisms; whereas, at most, we should have lost not over 30% and had a net gain of 70% of our large number of baptisms. But we ask you to note (2) that our record for 1929 is far and away better, along this line, than the four years previous. This improved showing is due to the fact that, early in the summer of 1929, we determined to discover, if possible, the sources of these great and alarming losses. It occurred to us that a part of the trouble, most likely, would be found in the statistics sent us from the district associations. Accordingly we set on foot the most thorough-going examination of the statistical reports in corporated in the minutes of our district associations ever undertaken in this or perhaps any other similar office. On the average, it cost us twice the effort and time and money to run down and "justify" all the figures furnished us which we have experienced heretofore. We are happy to report, however, that we very soon came upon two classes of errors which thousands of our clerks —both of the churches and the associations—are making and which account for almost half of our serious and mysterious losses. The result, as noted in our record for 1929, is that, although we had 7,389 fewer baptisms in 1929 than in 1928, we are able to report more than twice the net gain in membership which we reported in 1928.

THE LOSS OF 264 CHURCHES

In spite of our fuller reports and our discovery of the sources of some of our serious losses, our 1929 statistical report carries with it many surprising things—some very hopeful and some very painful things.

The first one of the painful surprises is the loss of 264 churches. Last year, for example, we carried a list of 24,274 co-operating churches; whereas this year we number only 24,010 such churches. These losses, however, are not as serious as we might suppose. In the first place, we have carefully taken out of our report several Landmark churches in Louisiana and Mississippi which we have carried heretofore. Then, we wrote letters to practically all the churches which were "non-reporting" and found that scores of them were dead or disbanded, and other scores had consolidated or merged with neighboring churches. We also found that some of our churches in Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Alabama, and Missouri had been temporarily overwhelmed by the great floods of last year, their houses of worship having been washed away, etc., and the congregations forced to temporarily abandon the old places of worship and go to other churches near by.

LARGE GAINS IN ORDAINED MINISTERS

In contrast with the churches, we report a gain of 731 ordained preachers among Southern Baptists. Of course, this gain does not represent newly ordained Baptist ministers altogether. Some of them are names of mature ministers which we have never before listed, while others are those who come to the Southern Baptist Convention from other sections of the United States, year by year. Then, unfortunately, we have no good way of learning of the deaths of our ministers (the names of less than half of the deceased Baptist preachers ever get into the denominational papers) and our lists undoubtedly contain hundreds of names of ordained ministers who have been "with the Lord" for three to five years.

The brethren in the particular localities know about the deaths of our preachers—why shouldn't we and all other Southern Baptists know about them, even though never a word gets into the state Baptist papers about them! So they reason, and so they act! Not only so; but there are good active pastors who are leaders in every state, and who could, by the use of a post card and five minutes' time, greatly help us to avoid carrying the names of the dead and those moved out of the state and those whose names are perhaps duplicated in our lists; but it would surprise the brotherhood to know that almost no such help is ever rendered or even offered to us! So, we must content ourselves with checking and correcting these lists with all the information we can secure, knowing, however, that many changes and deletions, and perhaps large additions should be made—which can never be made until our brethren learn the beautiful art of co-operative service.

BAPTISMS HAVING STEADY DECLINE

We have already called attention to the fact that we are reporting 7,387 fewer baptisms in 1929 than we reported in 1928. Let us also face the fact that since 1921, Southern Baptists have been steadily declining in the number of baptisms reported. The record for the past ten years will illustrate my meaning. It is as follows:

In 1919, we reported 123,069 baptisms. In 1920, we reported 173,595 baptisms. In 1921, we reported 241,462 baptisms. In 1922, we reported 224,844 baptisms. In 1923, we reported 195,864 baptisms. In 1924, we reported 209,676 baptisms. In 1925, we reported 224,191 baptisms. In 1925, we reported 294,191 baptisms. In 1926, we reported 198,544 baptisms. In 1927, we reported 202,420 baptisms. In 1928, we reported 183,020 baptisms. In 1929, we reported 175,631 baptisms.

Some vitally significant facts are set out in this record. In the year 1929, for example, in spite of considerable decline, we reported 52,562 more baptisms than we did the year (1919) we launched the 75 Million Campaign. It would seem, therefore, that we have made some permanent gains in soul-winning, even though it is small, considering the fact that we have larger numbers now than in 1919.

It will be noted also that in the past ten years (from 1920 to 1929 inclusive) we have baptized upon a profession of faith 2,029,247 souls—more than any other two great denominations in America, almost as many as any other three denominations!

Perhaps the most striking fact disclosed in this record, however, is that those years in which we gave most to missions, education and benevolences (1921, 1922 and 1925) were precisely those years when God gave us the largest numbers of baptisms in the history of Southern Baptist work. Does this mean anything to us?

These facts, however welcome, must not, on the contrary, close our eyes to the serious fact that, since 1925 in particular, the number of baptisms has declined from 224,191 to 175,631. We think this situation should present a distinct challenge to Southern Baptists.

BAPTISTS OF THE SOUTH AND NATION

This leads us to take some further note of the net gains in church membership of Southern Baptists. Perhaps we can best bring out the facts by giving the statistics covering church membership among all Baptist groups in the United States. They are as follows:

National Baptist Convention (colored), 3,450,000—net gain of 20,000. Northern Baptist Convention, 1,404,685—net loss of 15,198. Southern Baptist Convention 3,770,645—net gain of 64,769. Miscel. Baptist Groups (15 bodies), . . 430,190—net gain of 235. Foreign Speaking Baptist Groups (12), 80,500—no gain.

Total Baptists in United States in 1929, 9,136,020-net gain of 69,806.

In this connection some statistics covering the gains and losses of other main denominations may be interesting to our people:

Southern Methodists report 2,601,999 members in the United States, with a net gain of 13,131.

Northern Methodists report 4,272,340 members in the United States, with a loss of 56,401.

Northern Presbyterians report 2,004,467 members in the United States, with a net gain of 41,629.

The Disciples report 1,573,245 members in the United States and Canada, with a net gain of 34,553.

SUNDAY SCHOOL AND B.Y.P.U. WORK

We have the most peculiar and painful situation in Sunday School and B.Y.P.U. work to report which we have experienced in fifteen years. For while we are reporting a loss of 264 churches for 1929, we are forced to report a loss of 427 Sunday schools; and, while we are reporting a net gain of 64,769 members to our churches, we are forced to report a net loss of 20,464 in Sunday school enrollment—a situation which Southern Baptists have not known in fifteen years or longer.

In the B.Y.P.U. work, the situation is not so distressing; but it is certainly peculiar and challenging to our B.Y.P.U. leaders. For while we are reporting 24,273 B.Y.P.U.'s (a net gain of 1,423 for the year), we are sorry to add that we can only find 501,405 enrolled in our B.Y.P.U.'s (which represents a net gain of only 841 to the enrollment of our B.Y.P.U.'s).

This situation certainly calls for some explanation. Is it a real situation? Or is it a case of failing to get complete reports? We are sorry to say that the Sunday school losses which we are reporting are genuine losses. For we have not only received more of the minutes of our district associations than ever before in the history of Southern Baptist work, but we have sent out letters to every church and Sunday school we had listed which did not report to their associations this year. In fact we have written and kept on writing until we have literally combed the South for the information we are here presenting.

Four things seem to account for the Sunday school losses which we are reporting. The first is our large loss of churches. In our loss of 264 churches last year, we lost at least 180 Sunday schools. Another loss has come from a failure to follow up the rural Sunday school work which has been done in many states. Special workers have gone out to the rural sections and organized and set going large numbers of new Sunday schools which have been neglected and allowed to disband temporarily. The floods over five of our states also took away both church houses and school houses, and put many rural Sunday schools out of business. All in all, moreover, our country churches and Sunday schools (and these losses have all occurred in the rural sections among our weaker churches) have passed through the hardest year and a half now which has come to them since 1921.

On the other hand, there is no sort of doubt that the enrollment in our larger and better Sunday schools in most of the states of the South has been declining for the last two years; otherwise the loss of several hundred little country Sunday schools would not be seriously felt. In fact, the only reason why the Sunday school enrollment for 1928 and for 1929 has shown much smaller gains (or actual losses) than our church membership is because our people, even in our best churches, have ceased to push this phase of our work. Certain states, like Florida, Georgia, South Carolina, etc., of course, have been hard hit by adverse economic conditions, from which they will soon recover. But in association after association and church after church in other states, where the economic conditions have been quite favorable, there have been serious fall-downs in Sunday school enrollment. Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Kentucky, Maryland, Mississippi, Oklahoma, South Carolina, and Virginia all show losses in Sunday school enrollment—none of them very serious, but taken together they are sufficient to wipe out all the gains of other states.

A part of this same trouble applies to the B.Y.P.U. work of the South—we are growing in B.Y.P.U. organizations; but we have allowed the enrollment in thousands of our best B.Y.P.U.'s to go down and still further down, during the last three years. In some states the average enrollment of all classes of B.Y.P.U.'s has gone down from 28 per union to 20 per union, in the last six years. We believe our people ought to face these facts and go about the task of applying the proper remedy.

GAINS OF W.M.U. WORK

We have never been able to secure (from the associational minutes from which this report is compiled) complete or full reports covering the W.M.U. organizations and contributions. In the reports presented herewith, however, we show a total of 27,690 W.M.U. organizations, or a gain of 324 organizations for the year. The amount of the W.M.U. contributions, on the other hand, shows a decrease from $4,642,957.24 in 1928 to $4,413,726.26 in 1929. For corrected figures see report of the W.M.U. in the Annual of the Southern Baptist Convention.

CHURCH HOUSES AND PASTORS' HOMES

For the first time in ten years, moreover, we are reporting a slight decrease in the number of our church houses, though a healthy gain in the number of pastors' homes. This has come about, of course, by the destruction of the floods, by the merging of small congregations and, in some instances, by the death of the churches. In 1928, for example, we reported 21,491 church houses and 3,526 pastors' homes; whereas in 1929 we had only 21,420 church houses, (a loss of seventy-one houses of worship) and 3,574 pastors' homes (a gain of 48 pastors' homes during the year).

We likewise show the smallest gain in the value of church property which we have experienced in ten years. In 1928, for example, we reported $205,705,949.00 as the total value of Southern Baptist church property; whereas for 1929 we are reporting $213,327,088.00—a net gain of only $7,621,139 in the value of church property. Three things, in particular, account for this small gain in the value of church property: (1) The destruction of many church houses by the great flood which over-ran sections of five of our Southern states, and (2) the merging of two or more small congregations and the consequent abandonment or sale of the houses no longer needed. (3) Then we found country church after country church over the South last year—mostly those without pastors and without Sunday schools—who came together and voted to dissolve the congregations and abandon the houses of worship.

GOOD GAINS IN MISSION CONTRIBUTIONS

Perhaps the greatest and most pleasant surprise which came to us out of the reports of the churches and associations in 1929, was the wholly new turn of affairs in the contributions of our churches. We are very sorry to disturb the program of gloom and melancholy which some of the brethren seem intent in spreading over the South; but, as Dr. Gambrell used to say, "things are getting better." It is true that we are reporting a smaller grand total of contributions than last year—the figures for 1928 stood at $39,927,910.28; whereas for 1929, the grand total of all our contributions stood at $39,337,148.98—a net loss of $590,761.30. But all this loss is found in the gifts for local church expenses. In fact, in 1929, our people gave $829,302.94 less to local church expenses than in 1928; but they gave $238,541.64 more to missions and benevolences than they gave in 1928—a thing which has not happened in five years! That is to say, since 1925 now, Southern Baptists have been giving more and more each year to local church expenses and at the same time giving less and less each year to our great mission and benevolent causes. In fact, beginning with the Houston Convention in 1926, Southern Baptists have been reporting great losses in their gifts to missions and benevolences—losses which averaged over $400,000.00 a year—and some of us wondered if it would be kept up until the sheriff got us all! But now, instead of another loss in mission contributions amounting to $400,000 in 1929, we have the great joy of reporting that our churches gave $238,541.64 more to missions and benevolences than they gave in 1928.

COMPARING OURSELVES WITH SOUTHERN METHODISTS

It will perhaps help us to grasp the significance of the foregoing summary of Southern Baptist gains and losses for 1929, if we compare it with Southern Methodists gains and losses last year. Here is the interesting and illuminating summary of our aggressive neighbors. I should explain that the Woman's Missionary Societies do not include the young women and children's organizations as in the case with Southern Baptists.

SOUTHERN METHODIST GAINS AND LOSSES

This table of statistics was compiled from the 1929 and 1930 General Minutes and Year Book of the M. E. Church, South, except the last three items which were secured from Dr. J. E. Crawford, Stewardship Secretary for Southern Methodists.

NO OCCASION FOR PANIC OR GLOOM

If any one can find in the summary of the gains and losses of Southern Baptists for 1929, as compared with Southern Methodist gains and losses, any occasion or cause for gloom or discouragement, he deserves the profound sympathy of the brotherhood. For ten years now I have sat in my office at Nashwille and studied most intimately everything which pertained to the progress and development of Southern Baptists. I have dug through and poured over the statistics of all our churches, large and small. I have watched with keenest interest all the larger changes which have come to us in these titanic years. And I can say, in the light of it all, and I think can prove to any reasonable mind, that there is every reason to take new heart and hope, and to look for and to work for a better day and a larger day for Southern Baptists.

SOUTHERN BAPTIST SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES 1929-1930

The tabulation of Southern Baptist schools and colleges presented herewith was compiled by Dr. Harry Clark, President Judson College, Marion, Alabama, chairman of the Education Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention. As compared with the report of the Education Board made a year ago, the present report shows a slight falling off all along the line, as the following summary indicates:

ROSTER OF ORDAINED MINISTERS

We are presenting herewith the full list of our Southern Baptist ministers, with all corrections to June 1, 1930, which have come to our attention in any way. There are more names on this list than any list yet published; and yet we dare say there are perhaps 200 not yet included, because we were not able to learn the facts. We will thank our editors in particular if they will have the kindness to note, in their columns, all ministerial changes from week to week; and we will likewise take it as a great favor if all our ministers will notify us by post card when they change their fields of labor and particularly when they change their post office address or even their street address.

CLASSIFICATION OF ORDAINED MINISTERS

In the roster of ordained ministers among Southern Baptists we are attempting to observe the following classifications, viz.:

P. stands for Pastors or Assistant Pastors
E. stands for Evangelists
D. M. stands for District or Association Missionaries
S. M. stands for State Missionaries and State Workers of all types
H. M. stands for Home Missionaries
F. M. Stands for Foreign Missionaries
T. stands for Teachers in Christian Schools
P. S. stands for Principals or Presidents of Schools or Colleges
Ed. stands for Editors
S. H. stands for Superintendents of Hospitals
S. O. stands for Superintendents of Orphanages
S. S. stands for State Executive Secretaries
D. S. stands for Departmental Secretaries
G. S. stands for General or Corresponding Secretaries
St. stands for Student Ministers

Morgan, J. L.Atlanta

We will thank the brotherhood to help us correct this classification. Use a post card and address E. P. Alldredge at 161 Eighth Avenue, North, Nashville, Tenn.

The Convention voted to have all agencies close their bocks at the end of a calendar year and, therefore, hereafter all figures submitted by the various agencies will be for the same date.

The form of financial statement submitted above is in accordance with the statements previously published, but it is recommended by the auditors that hereafter a complete consolidated statement of all assets and all liabilities of the various agencies be published.

Nashville, Tenn., May 23, 1930.

Dr. Austin Crouch, Executive Secretary, Southern Baptist Convention, Nashville, Tennessee.

Dear Sir: In compliance with your instructions, we have audited the books and records of the Executive Committee of the Southern Baptist Convention, Nashville, Tennessee, for the fiscal year ended April 30, 1930, and present herewith our report showing the assets and liabilities at April 30, 1930, together with statements of income and expense for the period under review.

Cash on hand was verified by direct correspondence with the depository bank.

All securities on hand were verified by actual inspection.

The Accounts Receivable for bulletins and literature were added and found to be in balance with the control account in the general ledger.

The inventories of bulletins and literature on hand were priced at actual cost. No verification was made as to the quantities on hand.

Notes Payable to bank were verified by direct correspondence with the bank.

The expenditures of the committee were carefully audited, and all disbursements were supported by adequate vouchers.

The Southern Baptist Convention assumed and became responsible for an issue of $250,000.00 of 6 per cent bonds maturing from 1932 to 1943, and issued for the benefit of the New Mexico State Baptist Convention. These bonds are recorded on the books and are shown in the Balance Sheet under fixed liabilities. They are secured by mortgages on certain denominational property in the State of New Mexico.

This transaction resulted in a deficit of $246,345.96, for if these bonds had not been assumed the balance sheet would have shown a surplus of $3,654.04.

CERTIFICATE OF AUDITORS

We have audited the books and records of account of the Executive Committee of the Southern Baptist Convention for the year ended April 30, 1930, and we hereby certify that the Balance Sheet; the Income and Expense Statement; and the statement of Receipts and Disbursements shown in this report are in agreement with the books of account and, in our opinion, correctly reflect the financial condition of the committee at April 30, 1930, and the result of operations for the year ended on that date.

Respectfully submitted,

[SEAL]

McINTYRE & SHORT,

HOURS WITH THE BIBLE

By GEIKIE

Dr. Cunningham Geikie (1824-1906) wrote four great works any one of which would have entitled him to fame, viz.: The Life of Christ (1876), The English Reformation (1878), Hours With the Bible (8 volumes on Old Testament and 4 on New Testament, 1880-1896) and The Holy Land and the Bible (1887). His best known work, of course, is his Hours With the Bible. He travelled extensively and studied profoundly every section, town and hamlet mentioned in the Bible. He acquired an encyclopedic knowledge of the races, peoples, laws, habits, customs, climates, flowers, fruits, of the Bible lands. Then, period by period, he took up the Bible story and threw all the light he had gathered along all these lines upon every phase of its teachings. So that his Hours With the Bible is in fact a half dozen books in one.

The four volumes on the New Testament are in themselves a small library on each of the four periods covered. Look at some of the titles of Volume I on the New Testament: "Christ's Native Town;" "The Early Home of Our Lord;" "Jerusalem in the Days of Christ;" "The Temple as Christ Saw It;" "The Country Population Round Christ;" "The World as Christ Saw It."

Robertson's Latest

WORD PICTURES IN THE NEW TESTAMENT

Archibald Thomas Robertson

Professor of Interpretation of New Testament Greek, Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Kentucky, since 1895, Assistant Instructor, 1888, Professor Biblical Introduction, 1892. Business Manager REVIEW AND EXPOSITOR since 1904. Author of many books.

Vol. I-Matthew and Mark.

Vol. II-Luke.

Each. $3.50.

This unique work by one of the outstanding Greek scholars of the world does two things: (1) It gives to expert Greek scholars the accepted readings of the text with the latest critical notes and information from the papyri and the monuments, and (2) it gives to the novice in Greek, or the intelligent man who knows no Greek, by the use of trans-literations, the same information in a form easily understood. To the man to whom the Greek Testament is easily available it will give the latest fruits of scholarship; to others who love the English New Testament and know no other, it will bring fresh meanings and new insight. These books will be lifetime helps for the Bible lover.
